BAKER PONDERES CLASSIC DOUBLE

Bonneval carries the hopes of trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman in tomorrow's Gr. 1 Australian Oaks.

A rare chance to pull off back-to-back Australian Classic wins has Cambridge trainer Murray Baker buzzing.

Baker and co-trainer Andrew Forsman produced Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) to win last Saturday's Gr.1 Australian Derby (2400m) at Randwick and tomorrow the duo has Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) as a leading chance in the Gr.1 Australian Oaks (2400m) at the same venue.

"All you can do is give it a shot, but the filly is healthy and happy and we've had no hold-ups along the way. She's settled in well over here," Baker said from Sydney.

Jon Snow gave Baker his 19th Australian Group One win and fourth Derby triumph in Australia after Nom Du Jeu (NZ) (Montjeu), Lion Tamer (NZ) (Storming Home) and Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor).

His sole Oaks win came through Dowry (NZ) (Bahhare) in the Gr.1 South Australian Oaks (2500m) at Morphettville in 2004.

Baker said Bonneval was just his third Australian Oaks runner after Let's Sgor (NZ) (Creag-An-Sgor) (10th in 1991) and Staring (NZ) (Fiesta Star) (fifth in 1992).

Like Let's Sgor and Staring, Bonneval won the Gr.1 New Zealand Oaks (2400m) at Trentham leading into the Sydney Classic, with only the prospect of a rain-affected track and the right-handed way of going at Randwick giving Baker any cause for concern.

"She's only had one start right-handed and that was when she got pulled out of the Eight Carat Classic when she choked down," Baker said.

"But we've given her a lot of work right-handed so we don't expect any problems there. She does stay. She's out of a Zabeel mare and how she goes just depends on how she handles the track.

"Hugh Bowman rode her in her track gallop on Tuesday and he was happy. She's a nice relaxed filly, quite a good size and I'm sure that if she can handle the conditions, she'll run the trip all right."

Baker is putting his faith in Bonneval's ability to handle a rain-affected track down to her sire Makfi, the sire of last year's Oaks winner Sophia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi), trained by Baker's great adversary and training neighbour Stephen Marsh.

"The Makfi's seem to handle the wet. He left the Oaks winner last year and we train Eleonora, who was third in the Victorian Oaks and she definitely handles a soft track."

Baker and Forsman will also shoot for further feature race spoils on Saturday with Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto) tackling the Gr.2 Arrowfield 3yo Sprint (1200m) at Randwick and classy mares Mime (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) and Charmont (High Chaparral) contesting the Gr.1 Fiber Fresh New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (1600m) at Te Rapa.

"Saracino does like a wet track. He's had three starts right-handed and hasn't gone that well, but he's in form, winning the Wellington Guineas last start," Baker said.

"He's fresh and seems a happy horse. He's got a terrific jockey in Damien Oliver and he's won on him before (in the Gr.2 Danehill Stakes at Flemington last September)."

On Mime and Charmont, Baker said: "Both are really well. They are going to get their chance. Mime has trained on really well since Auckland (second in the Gr.2 Westbury Classic) but there's not a lot between them. Charmont is working well and we're really happy with her."

KIWI STAYER TAKES AIM AT CUP AGAIN

Who Shot Thebarman (NZ) (Yamanin Vital) will continue his remarkable record over the marathon flat trip when the New Zealand-bred and owned stayer fronts up in Saturday's $A2 million Gr.1 Sydney Cup.

It will be the durable gelding's fourth appearance in the Randwick event having finished unplaced in his first attempt in 2014, runner-up the following year and fourth 12 months ago.

Who Shot Thebarman has also run in three Gr.1 Melbourne Cups – third in 2014, unplaced in 2015 and fifth last year – and he won the Gr.1 Auckland Cup in 2014.

"To be having his eighth two mile run is really something," part-owner Dan O'Leary said. "Not many horses can compete like he can."

Trained by Mark Oulaghan for his first two 3200 metre appearances, Who Shot Thebarman has since been in the Sydney stable of Chris Waller.

"He's pretty happy with the horse and everything has gone to plan," O'Leary said. "I was there for the BMW and I thought it was a very good run."

After a first-up third in the Gr.1 Chipping Norton Stakes and sixth in the Gr.3 Sky High Stakes, Who Shot Thebarman then finished fourth in the GR.1 BMW.

"It would be good if the track dries a bit during the week, it would improve his chances," O'Leary said.

"With his topweight (57kg) on heavy going it would be tough work. The better the track, the better his chances."

Who Shot Thebarman is a rising nine-year-old and some thought has been given to life after Group One company for the son of Yamanin Vital.

"He jumped at home before he went over to Sydney – he's a very good jumper," O'Leary said.

"It remains to be seen what happens, that's in the background as there's still good money on the flat even if it's not at that top level."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Nurse Kitchen (NZ) (Savabeel)

Mister Impatience (Hernando)

Stylish Attack (NZ) (Tavistock)

Nurse Kitchen chases Australian Oaks glory

Victory in the Australian Oaks at Randwick can turn a good Sydney autumn carnival into a great one for Victorian trainer David Brideoake.

The Mornington-based horseman will saddle Nurse Kitchen (NZ) (Savabeel) in the 2400m-Group One race for three-year-old fillies tomorrow.

Brideoake has recorded two Group One placings in recent weeks and is looking forward to Nurse Kitchen giving a good account of herself on Saturday despite the outside draw in the 14-horse field.

He said the barrier was not ideal but getting her into a good position would be Blake Shinn's job.

"What can you do. That's his problem now," Brideoake said.

Nurse Kitchen is coming off a last-start second to Montoya's Secret (High Chaparral) in the traditional Oaks lead-up, the Vinery Stud Stakes at Rosehill on March 25.

Following the Vinery, Nurse Kitchen was floated back to Brideoake's property on the Mornington Peninsula and the filly finalised her Oaks campaign with a pleasing gallop on Tuesday.

"She's been back home for the last two weeks," Brideoake said.

"She's had a bit of a quiet time at the farm and recovered well from the trip and we wound her up again this morning.

"She's as good as gold."

Another two-mile chance for accomplished stayer

Connections of the proven distance performer Mister Impatience (Hernando) aren't letting any two mile chances pass by.

They haven't wasted any time in sending the stayer back to Australia and he will take his place in Saturday's $A2 million Gr.1 Sydney Cup at Randwick.

"He was always going to end up back there and he was doing so well that the owners and Mike (Moroney) decided to have a go," Ballymore Stables racing manager Nick Fairweather said. Full story here.

Hickmott helps Kiwi team ahead of Cup

Jamie Richards has turned to Chance To Dance's (Teofilo) former trainer for advice this week as he continues to familiarise himself with the stable newcomer.

"I had a good chat to Rob (Hickmott) who gave me an indication of what he'd do if he was still getting him ready," said Richards, who trains in partnership at Matamata with Stephen Autridge.

Recently purchased by John Galvin's Fortuna syndication company, Chance To Dance will have his first start for his new connections in Saturday's Gr.1 Sydney Cup at Randwick.

The Irish-bred son of Teofilo last raced when fourth in the Gr.2 Adelaide Cup at Morphettville.

Kiwi mare looking to rise to the occasion

Rising Romance (NZ) (Ekraar) will be looking to build on her improving form in Saturday's Gr.1 Coolmore Legacy Stakes (1600m) at Randwick.

The Lindsay Park-trained mare comes off a last start fifth in the Gr.2 Sunline Stakes (1600m) at Moonee Valley and will jump from barrier 17 with Tommy Berry.

"She has soft to heavy track form and is very fit," said Tom Dabernig who trains in partnership with David and Tom Hayes. "Her last two runs back this preparation have been excellent and although she hasn't won for a while I think she's an each-way hope."

At the opposite end of the barrier draw is Pure Pride (NZ) (Shocking) who will jump from gate one with Jason Collett. Saturday will mark the Sydney debut for the Murray Johnson trained mare who is placed at Group Two level.

Completing the kiwi-bred line-up is the Hawkes trained Euro Angel (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) who will jump from barrier 13 for rider Corey Brown.

Stylish mare ready for Te Rapa opportunity

Stylish Attack (NZ) (Tavistock) is in the right order to make the most of an unexpected Group One chance tomorrow.

The genuine daughter of Tavistock can crown a lucrative campaign with victory in the transferred Fiber Fresh New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes.

"I wasn't going to run her if the race had been at Te Aroha because she doesn't handle bog tracks, but moving it to Te Rapa has helped us out," Cambridge owner and trainer Graeme Hughes said. Full story here.

Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi)

Marsh taking blinkered approach with Group One winner

Stephen Marsh will be hoping a new look Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi) can deliver a sharper performance at Te Rapa on Saturday.

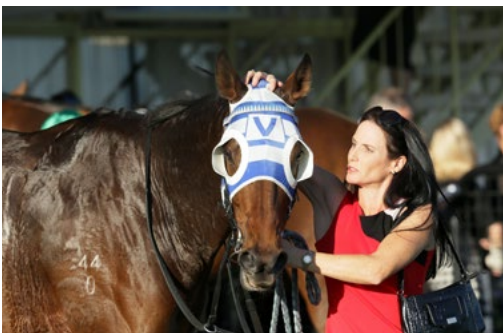

The Group One-winning mare will sport blinkers for the first time when she steps out in the Gr.1 Fiber Fresh New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes.

Last season's Australian Oaks winner pleased Marsh when she worked in the headgear at Cambridge on Tuesday morning. Full story here.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rasa Lila (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Rasa Lila chasing ultimate reward

A first Group One victory for Rasa Lila (NZ) (Darci Brahma) would crown the quality mare's return from a near death experience.

Trainers Steven Ramsay and Julia Ritchie are more than happy with the six-year-old's progress toward a first-up crack – weather permitting – at tomorrow's Fiber Fresh New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes at Te Rapa.

"She's heading to the Group One and she's doing really well now," Ritchie said. "She races well when she's fresh." Full story here.

Hiflyer (NZ) (Tavistock)

Trentham beckons talented 4YO

Hiflyer (NZ) (Tavistock) will make at least one more appearance before he is packed off for his winter holiday.

Trainer Peter Lock said the exciting son of Tavistock will head south this weekend for the Wellington meeting and his performance there will decide if he has another outing this preparation.

"It's a bit weather dependant, but at this stage he will run in the open mile at Trentham and Johnathan Parkes will ride him." Full story here.

Filly chasing stable double

Nikita (NZ) (Shamoline Warrior) will attempt to defend her stable's title in Saturday's Listed NZ Bloodstock Airfreight Stakes at Riccarton on Saturday.

"We won the race with No Pushover last year and this filly races in the same ownership," trainer Shaune Ritchie said.

"I believe she will handle the ground okay, based on her training at home, and the big track will suit her."

No Pushover (NZ) (Pins) went on to finish sixth in the Listed Warstep Stakes and, depending on her performance on Saturday, Nikita will also line up in the 2000 metre event on April 22.

Sequoia Lady on Australasian Oaks path

Trainer Jason Warren has Australasian Oaks ambitions for Sequoia Lady (NZ) (Redwood) who is set to make her city debut on Saturday after winning a maiden by almost five lengths over 1600m at Pakenham at her second start.

Sequoia Lady finished third on debut at Pakenham in a maiden won impressively by subsequent Gr.1 Vinery Stud Stakes winner Montoya's Secret (High Chaparral).

"The form is terrific out of her first start and that's why she was $1.80 favourite last start," Warren said.

"We're hoping that she will measure up as an Oaks filly in Adelaide."

Warren said Saturday's 1600m fillies handicap at Caulfield would be a stepping stone to the traditional Australasian Oaks lead-up, the Gr.3 Auraria Stakes (1800m) on April 22 at Morphettville.

The Gr.1 Australasian Oaks (2000m) is on May 6.

Warren bought Sequoia Lady at the New Zealand Bloodstock Ready-to-Run sale from the draft of Westbury Stud in 2015 and said while she had shown she was a nice horse, he had to turn her out without racing last preparation to give her more time.

"This time in she trialled well once and a little plainly once, so we were a little unsure going into her first start. But we were confident once she put the score on the board on debut."

Chocante (NZ) (Shocking)

Chocante a first-up threat

Chocante's (NZ) (Shocking) quality should make him a force to be reckoned with at Te Rapa.

Trainer Stephen Marsh believes the four-year-old has the class to be prominent when he resumes in tomorrow's Team Wealleans 1400.

"He came back a lot stronger this time in. He was a young, immature stayer in the spring, but still did a good job," Marsh said.

Chocante, whose autumn aim is the Gr.2 Manco Easter Stakes, hasn't raced since he produced an outstanding performance off a wide run to win the Gr.3 Counties Cup in November.

Impressive D B Pin too sharp at Sha Tin

D B Pin (NZ) (Darci Brahma) scotched any doubts about his ability to last 1200 metres and proved the all-weather track to be no barrier to his continuing progress, with an easy victory in the Class 2 Chun Shek Handicap at Sha Tin on Wednesday night.

John Size's charge made an impressive dirt race debut, and despite jockey Zac Purton nursing the four-year-old home through the final half-furlong, recorded a season's fastest at the course and distance.

"It was painless," Purton said. "Obviously, the draw (1) helped tonight – and just being a little bit more patient on him. He tracked up really nicely; the speed was good for him. We had all the breaks go for us but he was impressive – it was a good performance."

The Darci Brahma gelding, who was sold from the 2014 NZB Premier draft of The Oaks Stud, took his career record to five wins from eight starts, having racked up four wins – all at 1000m – from five previous outings this term. The New Zealand-bred had already risen 41 ratings points this season prior to this success.

Andrew Forsman

Forsman steps into the limelight

The win of Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) in last Saturday's Gr.1 ATC Derby in Sydney has raised the international profile of Cambridge-based trainer Andrew Forsman.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Since 2012, the polished 34-year-old has trained in partnership with New Zealand training great Murray Baker and the combination has enjoyed enviable success in that time.

Plundering Australian riches is something Baker has down to a fine art. No New Zealand-based trainer has prepared more Australian Group One winners, with Baker's haul of 19 equal to his great mate John Wheeler. Full story here.

Iffraaj (Zafonic)

Iffraaj fee rises

Off the back of an outstanding month, Iffraaj's 2017 service fee has risen to $25,000 + GST.

The Haunui Farm stallion, who stood last season at $17,500 + GST, has recently been represented by the Group One winners Gingernuts (NZ) and Jon Snow (NZ).

"We have always had every confidence in Iffraaj and for him to have sired a Karaka Million winner, the winner of the New Zealand Derby and the winner of the Australian Derby from the one crop is an outstanding achievement," stud principal Mark Chitty said. "It's finally seeing him get the accolades that he deserves."

Iffraaj's current three-year-old crop features five stakes winners and in total his six Southern Hemisphere crops of racing age have produced 31 stakes performers, including 19 stakes winners.

No stallion fee changes at Waikato Stud

Waikato Stud are making no changes to their 2017 stallion service fees.

"While we are yet to set a fee for our exciting new sire Tivaci, who is still in Australia racing, the rest of our roster of Savabeel, Ocean Park, Sacred Falls, Pins, Rock 'n' Pop and Rios will be staying the same," studmaster Mark Chittick said.

With 15 stakes winners this season and another conceivable clean sweep of the sire awards, Savabeel heads the line-up at $100,000 + GST.

Ocean Park, at $30,000 + GST, has his first crop currently racing while Sacred Falls will also stand at $30,000 + GST with the dual Doncaster winner impressing many with his outstanding first crop, which arrived in 2016.

Pins, who will stand for $25,000 + GST, continues to prove his weight in gold for the stud while Rock 'N' Pop will be available for $9000 + GST and retains his title as the best bred G1 winning son of Fastnet Rock at stud.

At $4000 + GST, Group One producer Rios completes the line-up.

What Choux Want (NZ) (Jimmy Choux)

Smart filly heading offshore

Group performer What Choux Want (NZ) (Jimmy Choux) will do her future racing in Australia.

The daughter of Jimmy Choux has won two races from Andrew Carston's Riccarton stable and last season she also placed in the Gr.2 Matamata Breeders' Stakes, the Listed Welcome Stakes and ran a meritorious fifth in the Karaka Million.

This term, What Choux Want has finished fourth at Listed level in both the Canterbury Belle Stakes and the Gore Guineas before heading north again.

She finished sixth and less than three lengths off Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto) in the Gr.2 Wellington Guineas, but was then undone by the soft footing when unplaced at Awapuni last Saturday.

"She's spelling in Palmerston North now and then she'll go to Perth, the owner comes from there," Carston said.

"She's not very big and she's done a great job here, but she will be better placed over there and I've got no doubt she will be a Saturday class horse."

What Choux Want is raced by Sam Saric, also a part-owner of the recently-retired Group One Australian winner Awesome Rock (Fastnet Rock).

"He supported me when I started up and I've got a couple of nice two-year-olds for him now by Swiss Ace and Jimmy Choux," Carston said.

Journeyman apprentice makes Sydney grade

Perseverance has paid off for Lee Magorrian with the former award-winning New Zealand apprentice celebrating his first Sydney win at Warwick Farm on Wednesday.

The Irish-born rider steered outsider Pianissimo (Northern Meteor) home ahead of stablemate Pound Sterling (Written Tycoon) to give the 22-year-old renewed confidence after regular battles with weight issues.

Waller's racing manager Charlie Duckworth credited Magorrian, who was the Auckland Apprentice School's premier rider in 2015/16, for his persistence since spending a fortnight with Waller's Rosehill-based operation last October.

"He's here to make a proper go of it. He's got his mental state and weight right," Duckworth said.

Duckworth said Magorrian returned home to New Zealand briefly and a promising ride was enough to convince him to come back.

"He seems in great shape now and hopefully he can make a proper go of it now and when the big boys go up to Queensland he can have a solid attempt at taking on the second-tier jockeys in Sydney," Duckworth said.

Magorrian said Wednesday's win had boosted his confidence.

"I was just training too hard. I had a break for a bit and I've come back a bit stronger. Hopefully I can stay here," he said.

Wet weather causes meeting changes

The Manawatu meeting scheduled for Awapuni today has fallen foul of the weather.

It has been abandoned due to the heavy rainfall and a gloomy forecast, but the Gr.3 Manawatu Breeders' Stakes and the Rating 75 metric mile will be included in tomorrow's programme at Trentham.

Yesterday's abandoned South Canterbury meeting has been rescheduled and will be held on Monday April, 10. The fields will be unchanged, all scratchings re-instated and the first race will be at 12.08pm.

Sprinter-miler future for Kawi

Kawi's (NZ) (Savabeel) future quest for further elite level honours will be over the shorter trips.

Following the six-year-old's last-start fifth in the Gr.1 New Zealand Stakes at Ellerslie, trainer Allan Sharrock has all but dismissed the chances of Savabeel's best son making another appearance over ground.

"I doubt he'll ever run over 2000 metres again," he said. "The ride the other day was good, but he did have that wind operation last year and when the gap came at the 300 he had run out of oxygen."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel)

"He's an explosive sprinter-miler so we'll be keeping him to 1200, 1400 and 1600 metre races."

The winner of six Group One events, Kawi is currently enjoying time in the paddock.

"He's out for six weeks and he'll be back later on and kick off at the Hawke's Bay carnival or in Melbourne," Sharrock said.

Group performer set for Easter

El Pescado (NZ) (El Hermano) is making encouraging progress toward his autumn goal.

The Tauranga talent went close a couple of times during his last preparation and, following a break, he showed he had come back in good order with a last-start third in the Listed Flying Handicap at Awapuni.

El Pescado (NZ) (El Hermano)

"I was happy with him, he went to the line pretty well and he worked nicely again this morning," trainer Stuart Manning said. "His main aim this time up is the Easter Stakes."

The Gr.2 Manco-sponsored set weights and penalties feature will be run at Ellerslie on April 22.

El Pescado has won five of his 21 starts and he also has runner-up finishes in the Gr.1 Makfi Challenge Stakes and Gr.2 Tauranga Stakes to his credit.

Major Godolphin support for CATWALK

The CATWALK's Trust quest to cure Spinal Cord Injury (SCI) has been boosted by a unique and generous gesture by Sheikh Mohammed's Godolphin.

They have gifted a service to Brazen Beau, worth $A44,000, with all proceeds from the sale of the service at the Trust's event in Queenstown next month to fund research projects.

"This is an amazingly generous gift and it demonstrates the very best co-operation," CATWALK founder Catriona Williams said.

"Every single day someone in Australasia is affected by a life changing SCI - a tetraplegic in Australia represents a lifetime cost of $9.4 million dollars and for paraplegics its $5 million dollars.

"This is one race we can't afford to lose, and we can't thank Sheikh Mohammed and Godolphin enough."

Stallion moves across the Tasman

A lack of support has resulted in the relocation to Australia of a sire son of the champion American stallion War Front.

Sweet Orange, whose four career victories included the Gr.1 Hong Kong Classic Mile, stood three seasons at Highview Stud before his recent transfer to Queensland.

"I owned 25 per cent of him with Tony Tong, who raced the horse in Hong Kong and he owned the rest," Highview principal Brent Gillovic said. Full story here.

A big raw-boned gelding from Hawke's Bay, Moifaa gained fame in 1904 as the first "colonial bred" to win England's famous Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree. It would be many years before another New Zealand-bred emulated Moifaa's feat.

Moifaa subsequently raced for King Edward VII and was part of the King's funeral cortege.
