BEAUTY GENERATION SOARS TO EMPHATIC SECOND LONGINES HONG KONG MILE

Beauty Generation cruises home to land his second Gr.1 Longines Hong Kong Mile title (Darryl Sherer)

John Moore has already produced one star miler to grace the highest reaches of the LONGINES World's Best Racehorse Rankings in Able Friend but the trainer was left with no hesitation in proclaiming Beauty Generation (NZ) (Ready To Rock) superior, after Zac Purton steered him to an imperious three-length success.

Japanese-trained mare Vivlos (Deep Impact) ended her career with a sterling effort when running down the outside to claim second from Southern Legend (Not A Single Doubt) but by that stage, Purton was already savouring certain victory, easing Beauty Generation down at the end of a brutal demonstration.

Not that the early portents were good as Purton was held three wide going down the back straight from his outside stall in 12.

But riding with supreme confidence, he eased last year's Mile hero past Comin' Through (Fastnet Rock) and Southern Legend and was able to slot over to the rail before the 800m.

sitting high in the saddle at the 400-metre mark told his pursuers Purton still had plenty of horse under him, and, under a hand ride, Beauty Generation streaked away for one of the easiest victories in recent LONGINES Hong Kong International Races history.

“That’s what we all hoped we’d see today, I’m just happy for the horse that he’s come out and produced it on a big stage,” said Purton, who was making it HKIR win number eight following his Vase triumph with Exultant (Teofilo) earlier. “He has shown everyone how brutally good he can be.”

Purton had been cautious in his pre-race assessments but said his confidence had increased as the race approached.

The winning rider added: “Obviously he had a little bit of a setback and had the feet issues going into his last run, when he ran off the track.

“You never want those things going into a Grand Final or a Group One race so they do play on your mind a little bit. But I worked him late this week and he felt good in his work. John Moore asked me to come in yesterday morning to give him a canter on the big track. When I got off him I felt pretty relaxed and I slept pretty well last night.”

Derek Leung was aboard for Beauty Generation’s breakthrough Group One success in this race 12 months ago but, after completing a perfect fifth win from five starts in tandem, Purton has a pretty good handle on what makes him so hard to beat.

“His best attribute is he has got a very high cruising speed, he’s very comfortable rolling along at that speed and he can kick off it,” said Purton. “For the horses back in the field they’re already struggling to go the pace and when you’ve got to try and reel him in, it’s not an easy thing to do.”

For Moore it was also win number eight in the big four Group Ones at this showpiece meeting and the Hong Kong legend was in no doubt that he and we had witnessed the best of the lot.

“That’s the most impressive by far,” said Moore. “What he did today, he was taken on inside, he had to do it the hard way as far as I was concerned. Once he got to the front he has high RPMs (revs per minute), he got him up and away he went. As far as I could see he wasn’t even hit.”

As a man whose formative years were spent travelling the world with his globetrotting father George, Moore is keen to show Beauty Generation’s brilliance away from Sha Tin and will be doing his best to convince his owner, Patrick Kwok, that this is a horse that needs to light up the biggest meetings around the world, with the G1 Dubai Turf next March the preferred jumping-off point.

“The owner and his father are of the opinion that they don’t come back the same horse when they travel but I’m trying to convince them that that’s not the case with the way that I travel my horses. There’s a few little tricks there to make sure.

“If we’re going to prove him we’re going to have to do it on the world stage: We’ve done it here; home ground; that’s the advantage; he’s done it easily.

“I’d love to travel him, to take him to Dubai where everyone says right, here’s the top three in the world. I’ve won the Shaheen and had a few placings over there.

“I know the venue very well and I believe he could travel. If everything goes to plan he could win there.”

Bred at Greg Tomlinson’s Nearco Stud, Beauty Generation is a graduate of the 2014 New Zealand Bloodstock Yearling Sale series.

HONG KONG SPRINT TRIFECTA FOR KARAKA GRADUATES

Mr Stunning holds out D B Pin (inner) and Beat The Clock to win back-to-back Longines Hong Kong Sprint titles (HKJC)

A trio of New Zealand Bloodstock Sale graduates dominated the 2018 edition of the Gr. 1 LONGINES Hong Kong Sprint (1200m) at Sha Tin on Sunday.

In a remarkable repeat of the 2017 edition, Mr Stunning (Exceed And Excel) not only again won the race but also secured the win at the expense of the same horse in a landmark success for his trainer and jockey.

Mr Stunning and D B Pin (NZ) (Darci Brahma), who were both sold out of the 2014 National Yearling Sale repeated their quinella of 2017 with Beat The Clock (Hinchinbrook), a 2015 Ready To Run Sale graduate, finishing in third.

However, the similarities do not extend beyond the deja vu finish order of Mr Stunning and D B Pin as the winner was, last year, trained by John Size but is now in the hands of his one-time disciple Frankie Lor who was able to claim his first Group One win.

It was also a first Group One win in Hong Kong for jockey Karis Teetan who, 12 months earlier, had watched the race from the grandstand and was overwhelmed with his breakthrough at the top level.

"He had a lovely trip through the race and I'm just so happy. It's incredible. I've never felt like this. It's the first time I've heard the crowd shouting like this. I just knew when I pressed the button he was going to go. He felt different today, felt so good," he said.

Mr Stunning was ably handled by the Mauritian jockey, slotted into the stalking trail, but even he conceded the race unfolded perfectly for the defending champion.

"When Ivictory went forward to put some pressure on Hot King Prawn, I was pretty happy about that. My horse never travels too hard in a race but he was really so relaxed underneath me today," Teetan said.

Mr Stunning, last year, held a neck margin over then stablemate D B Pin. Today, he extended the break to three-quarters of a length in Hong Kong's premier sprint race to provide Lor with his first 'major' in his second season of training.

"I'm very happy," Lor said, "Karis did a great job out there. It took me a long time to get a trainer's licence so I need to try my best to keep going and train more Group One winners. I think John (Size) might also be happy because I worked for him and he was a great boss."

Sam Clipperton, who rode the runner-up D B Pin, was so close to his most significant win in Hong Kong and was more than gracious in defeat.

"I just needed that luck and unfortunately, the luck enabled Karis to get a neck start on me and my horse is just held to the line. Well done to Karis, he deserves that win, he works bloody hard. I am very proud of my horse and he has run a cracker only second up," Clipperton said.

Size had both the minor place-getters with Beat The Clock beaten a length and a quarter into third place which maintained his remarkable record of having finished top three at each of his 17 starts.

Mr Stunning was a $250,000 purchase for Magus Equine from the Lyndhurst Farm draft during the Premier session at Karaka 2014 while D B Pin went to the $200,000 bid of John Foote from the Oaks Stud draft during the same session.

Beat The Clock was knocked down to Victoria's B Mitchell for $200,000 out of the Prima Park Ready To Run draft.

AUSTRALIAN VICTORY PROVIDES LIFE-CHANGING MOMENT FOR PHELAN FAMILY

The record-breaking run by (Our) Big Mike (NZ) (Don Eduardo) to win Saturday's rich Listed Pakenham Cup (2500m) has provided a watershed moment for trainer Craig Phelan and his family.

Speaking on behalf of his father, son Shaun was still trying to come to terms with what the team had achieved with their Don Eduardo six-year-old who led all the way to capture the biggest victory of his 24-start career.

"I'm still struggling with it all even now," said Phelan on Sunday afternoon.

"I can't really describe the emotions we have had but I'm sure it will change all of our lives.

"To think a stable like ours could bring a horse over to Australia to line-up against some of the best in the business is unbelievable.

"I was standing in the birdcage looking at people like Darren Weir and thinking this is a long way away from what we're used to.

"To then go out and smash them like that was amazing. I don't think I stopped yelling from the 600m so the voice is a bit shabby today, although that could also be because we celebrated pretty hard last night."

While Phelan was feeling a little apprehensive before the event there was an air of confidence that (Our) Big Mike was ready to run the race of his life.

"He really came to it in his last prep and his runs during the Hawkes Bay carnival provided us with the confidence to come over and try him at this level," he said.

"He wasn't really suited by the races at Hastings but he went well and we knew once he got up to 2400m and more he would be at his best.

“He went two good races at his first runs here but the Pakenham Cup had been the target all along, so he was spot on for this race.”

Phelan was quick to praise stand-in rider Jye McNeil who took the mount after Noel Callow was ruled out by a race-fall during the week.

“Jye did a super job and rode him exactly how we wanted,” he said.

“He had studied the videos we showed him and got him travelling in a beautiful rhythm throughout.

“He’s not a horse who quickens much but he just has a fast cruising speed and can go at the same speed for the entire journey.

“It’s a hell of a long way up that Pakenham straight and I think I rode every inch of it with him, but I never thought he would stop.”

The victory has left the team with a quandary about where to go next with the horse although Phelan admits it is a nice problem to have.

“Initially he was coming over for just the three runs but after Saturday we are having a rethink,” he said.

“He has pulled up really well and is thriving. It was so hot on Saturday that there were horses being hosed down before their race as well as afterwards but our fellow took it all in his stride.

“There are a couple of nice races coming up at Flemington so we might stick around and have a go at those.

“He will have a spell at some stage and then we can look at either Sydney or Brisbane but as long as we place him well, I think there are some really good opportunities for him over the next 12 months.”

NEWS IN BRIEF

I Am Queen in line for a Gold Coast trip

Cranbourne-trained mare I Am Queen (Animal Kingdom) will put her credentials on the line for a trip to the Gold Coast with a run up the straight at Flemington.

The Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young-trained sprinter is set to run in a benchmark 84 fillies and mares race over 1100m on Saturday. Her performance will determine whether she heads north to run in the $1 million Magic Millions Fillies & Mares (1300m) at set-weights and penalties on January 12.

After starting her career in New Zealand, I Am Queen has had five starts for the Busuttin and Young stable, winning twice. The latest was at Ballarat on Cup day where she recorded a 2-1/2 length win over 1100m after sitting behind the speed. Busuttin said the mare had trained on well since her victory and her performance on Saturday would determine whether she made the trip north.

“If she can win, or run well on Saturday, she can go up and have a look a fillies and mares race over 1300 metres,” Busuttin said.

“It’s a fillies and mares restricted race and it’s a million-dollar race, so you’ve got to have a go.”

CELEBRITY DREAM KICKS OFF WINNING DOUBLE FOR PIKE

New Zealand bred filly Celebrity Dream (NZ) (Thorn Park) kicked off a winning double for leading rider William Pike when she scored in the Listed Jungle Dawn Classic (1400m) at Ascot on Saturday.

Wearing the familiar colours of owner Bob Peters, Pike produced a copybook effort on the Thorn Park five-year-old as he sat fourth on the outer before issuing a challenge on the home corner.

Celebrity Dream knuckled down well to her task as she dashed past the well fancied Misty Metal in the final 100m to register her ninth career victory at just her 20th start. It was the mare's second win in the event having also claimed the 2017 edition of the race when also ridden by Pike.

Pike, who later took out the day's main event on sensational filly Arcadia Queen (Pierro), admitted he had some doubts early in the race after the mare bounced well from her barrier to land on the speed.

"I was very worried when I landed so close," he said.

"Normally when I'm that close she doesn't finish so well."

Owner Bob Peters was delighted with the result which extended his winning streak in the event to five years in a row.

"She seemed to enjoy that (the 1400m) and William rode her a lot closer than normal," he said.

"He must have been a bit upset about those leaders getting away from him."

Celebrity Dream is the third foal of multiple stakes winner Valpolicella (NZ) (Red Ransom) who has also produced stakes winners Vavasour (NZ) (Redoute's Choice) and Vilanova (NZ) (Commands).

She was purchased out of the Haunui Farm draft for $260,000 by John Chalmers Bloodstock during the premier session of the 2014 National Yearling Sale at Karaka.

ELLERSLIE FEATURE SPRINT ON THE CARDS FOR PRINCESS KERERU

Talented Matamata sprinter Princess Kereru (NZ) (Pins) has a Group One target in her sights after she registered her first open class victory when successful over 1200m at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The Pins five-year-old was returning to her favourite track off the back of an unlucky run for fifth in Listed company at Pukekohe where she narrowly missed a placing after being caught in the worst of the ground when finishing the race off strongly.

After being tardily away from the barrier on the weekend, Princess Kereru charged home from near last on the home bend for rider Cameron Lammas to leave no excuses for her beaten rivals as she registered a comfortable two-length victory.

Co-trainer Ken Kelso, who prepares the mare in partnership with his wife Bev and Mark Donoghue, was left a little perplexed about her slow start after the team had applied blinkers to her for the first time to sharpen-up her racing manners.

"I didn't know what to think (at the start), probably the blinkers made her a bit slow," he said.

"She's become a little bit tardy away as she lays on the side a little bit, but I'll have a talk with Cameron to see why she was slow.

"I do think that's the way to ride her as she's better off coming at them late as she's proved that lately.

"She's just had no luck so it's really good to get a win."

Kelso will now lift his sights with the

Cameron Lammas and Princess Kereru have the situation well under control at Ellerslie (Trish Dunell) mare who has the Gr.1 Sistema Railway (1200m) on January 1 as her major summer assignment.

"She's in the Railway and that win puts her in," he said.

"She's exempt from the ballot and I think we might roll the dice and go.

"She loves Ellerslie so she may as well as she's five and has strengthened up. She's flying at the moment so I think we will aim that way and go straight there from here."

Rider Cameron Lammas was frank in his assessment when asked about his charge's slow beginning.

"She was being a little madam in the gates, laying all over the side," he said.

"Every time I moved her, she would lie down more, so that's why she has missed it (the start) a little bit.

"From there I've just sat back and cruised and as soon as I said go, she went go."

The win was Princess Kereru's fifth from 20 career starts, with two of those victories coming at Ellerslie where she has also registered four minor placings.

MARZEMINO CAPS SPECIAL DAY FOR DAWN WILLIAMS

Exciting galloper Marzemino (NZ) (Per Incanto) overcame a tardy start and an interrupted run in the home straight to post her second win of a new campaign at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The Peter and Dawn Williams trained four-year-old had been confidently expected to lead her rivals a merry chase in the rating 72 1200m contest after similar tactics had seen her register a dominant first-up victory at Te Aroha last month.

That plan was immediately thrown out the window when the Per Incanto mare was awkwardly away after charging the gate just prior to the barriers opening.

Rider Andrew Calder didn't panic

as he worked Marzemino into a challenging position behind a wall of horses before she charged through a gap on the inner to score by a head in a blanket finish.

"She has been a little work in progress that we have had to be patient with," co-trainer Dawn Williams said.

"We put her aside as she has been a little bit temperamental, but Andrew (Calder) has really clicked with her.

"She's not a horse that likes to be bullied or bustled but she has got a little bit of ability there."

Williams is prepared to play the waiting game with Marzemino who she believes will be better with more experience and further time to mature.

"I think at this stage we will just be working her through the grades," she said.

"We'll be picking some nice races for her because she still has next season when she will be a lot stronger and will mentally be able to cope with it."

Raced in the colours of Karaka-based breeding heavyweights Haunui Farm, who co-bred and share in her ownership, Marzemino has now won three of her six starts since commencing her career back in April this year.

The victory capped a special day for Dawn Williams who was recognised by the Auckland Racing Club with a race named in her honour to mark her feat of becoming the first Kiwi woman to train 1000 winners. Williams brought up the achievement with a victory by Jip Jip Rock (High Chaparral) on the same day that Marzemino won at Te Aroha.
