HAWORTH GUNS TARGET AWAPUNI FEATURES

Endeavour is one of three David and Emma Haworth trained runners with black type intentions at Awapuni tomorrow

A talented trio of David and Emma Haworth-trained gallopers will tackle feature races at Awapuni on Saturday.

Endeavour (NZ) (Faltaat) and Balham (NZ) (Don Eduardo) will contest the Gr.3 Hotel Couchman Manawatu Cup (2300m), while Profile (NZ) (Volksraad) steps up to Group Two company in the Kamada Park Manawatu Challenge Stakes (1400m).

Faltaat six-year-old mare Endeavour shaped well for the Manawatu Cup with a Rating 85 win over 2300m at Otaki two starts back before finishing on for fourth in last Saturday's Cup Prelude (2000m) at Awapuni.

Don Eduardo six-year-old gelding Balham, who won over 2500m at Hastings and 2400m at Te Rapa in consecutive starts last autumn, ran an improved fourth placing at Trentham last start.

"They are both going well. They both worked super this morning," Emma Haworth said.

"Endeavour came through the race last weekend pretty well. The track was just too firm for her but she tried hard and the rain we're getting today will help her.

"Balham has absolutely thrived since Trentham. He hadn't done much in his previous couple of races but the tongue tie helped last time. We think he was just holding his breath."

Balham, to be ridden by Chris Johnson, holds a nomination for next month's Wallaceville Estate Wellington Cup (3200m) at Trentham and while not entered for that race, Endeavour - who has the services of Shaun McKay on Saturday - could yet earn a late nomination with a bold Manawatu Cup performance.

"They are both up to 2300m again on Saturday and that's a positive. A dead track will suit both of them too."

Volksraad mare Profile, bred and raced by Christopher Grace, has a rating of 78 but Haworth is confident of a bold showing in weight-for-age company.

"We think a lot of her," Haworth said.

"I was absolutely gutted she was late scratched at Trentham. It was silly but there was a bit of blood in her nose [after she reared in the barriers] and they took her out.

"Coming back to the birdcage, she flipped over and twisted her stifle. She went back to Christopher's farm for a couple of weeks and we've brought her up slowly and she's now 100 per cent.

"We've got Rosie [Myers] on and she's done everything with her and knows her inside out. You can't get too confident in a big race but we're very happy with her.

"It's a big jump up in class but she's got to step up at some stage and we'll be really interested to see how she measures up."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Hazzabeel back to Sydney

New Zealand-bred six-year-old Hazzabeel (NZ) (Zabeel) has earned himself a return trip to Sydney for Saturday's Gr.2 Villiers Stakes at Randwick.

The Ciaron Maher-trained son of Zabeel was a last-start second in the Gr.3 Festival Stakes at Rosehill and he will again be ridden by Kiwi jockey Michael Dee.

"The extra 100 metres over the mile will suit him and fingers crossed he'll be very competitive," Maher's assistant trainer David Eustace said.

"He was finding the line really well in the Festival Stakes and the post just came too soon really."

La Fille En Jeu (NZ) (Mettre En Jeu)

racers the mare with his wife Adaire.

La Fille En Jeu is a genuine home product being a daughter of Mettre En Jeu, who stands at the family's Letham Thoroughbreds operation on the outskirts of Wanganui.

Cylinder Beach (NZ) (Showcasing)

(1600m) at Doomben.

The Desleigh Forster trained four-year-old is coming off a last start win in the Listed Recognition Stakes in November.

The Eagle Farm trainer said that Cylinder Beach has come through his run in the Recognition Stakes in fine style and Brad Pengelly will be the new rider in the Brisbane Handicap.

"He really has come up well after the Recognition Stakes. He gets 56.5 kilos in the Brisbane Handicap which means Brad Pengelly, who has been riding him work, can reclaim the ride," Forster said.

Forster has earmarked the Listed A$250,000 Bernborough Handicap (1600m) at Eagle Farm on December 31 as Cylinder Beach's main Summer Carnival target.

Iamishwara (NZ) (Keeninsky)

Destiny determines Group One winner's path

Tony Kaye believes fate has played a hand in Iamishwara (NZ) (Keeninsky) contesting Saturday's Gr.2 Kamada Park Manawatu Challenge Stakes at Awapuni.

The Palmerston North horseman had considered a start in the race for his Group One winner, but his primary focus this week was on the stable star's performance at the trials on Tuesday.

"We had contemplated it, but the nominations closed at 12 o'clock and we wanted to see how he went at Foxton first and his trial wasn't until after 1 o'clock," Kaye said.

Iamishwara, who hasn't raced for 19 months following a tendon injury, duly won his open 1000 metre heat. Full story here.

Auret aiming high with promising mare

Nigel Auret is happy to take the tougher option this week with his in-form mare La Fille En Jeu (NZ) (Mettre En Jeu).

He had the five-year-old in the Rating 85 handicap at Otaki on Thursday, but he has instead opted to head to Awapuni tomorrow for the Gr.2 Kamada Park Manawatu Challenge Stakes.

"We're going to have a crack at black type – she deserves a shot at it," said Auret, who

Five To Midnight (NZ) (Domesday)

Barn mates chasing cup honours

Five To Midnight (NZ) (Domesday) and King Kamada (NZ) (Shinko King) will go head to head on their home track on Saturday ahead of another clash in an upcoming northern feature.

The stable mates will firstly give trainer Lisa Latta a strong hand in the Gr.3 Hotel Coachman Manawatu Cup before they head to Ellerslie.

Five To Midnight showed high promise as a stayer last term and the four-year-old has impressed in his three starts this season.

He won fresh-up over 1600m before running third in the Listed Feilding Cup at his open class debut and he was having his first race for five weeks when he comfortably won an open handicap at Trentham last time out. Full story here.

Cylinder Beach looking for further home track honours

Cylinder Beach (NZ) (Showcasing) will start as one of the favoured runners in Saturday's Listed Brisbane Handicap

Kuro (NZ) (Denman)

Kuro hunting Brisbane spoils

The Joe Pride-trained Sydney raider Kuro (NZ) (Denman) will be looking to build on his good form this preparation in Saturday's Listed Lough Neagh Stakes (1350m) at Doomben.

The Denman five-year-old is coming off a win in the Listed Starlight Stakes (1100m) as he races in Brisbane for the first time since his Gr. 2 QTC Cup (1200m) third in May of 2015. Despite a rise of three kilograms (to

NEWS IN BRIEF

58.5kg) from his latest win, Kuro will be well fancied to register his eighth career victory.

Kuro was purchased by Champion Thoroughbreds from the draft of Curraghmore Stud at the 2013 NZB Premier sale for $170,000.

Iggi Pop (NZ) (Savabeel)

Iggi Pop on song for win

Iggi Pop (NZ) (Savabeel) will be looking to rectify a long break from the winner's enclosure when he tackles Saturday's Listed Fugen Christmas Cup (2400m) at Randwick.

Last successful in the Listed Queensland Cup (3200m) in July of 2014, the Peter Robl-trained eight-year-old has finished top three in all but one of his four runs this preparation and will jump from gate three with Tim Clark aboard.

Iggi Pop was last seen earlier this month running third in the ATC Cup (2000m) off the back of a November Topaz (1900m) third at Rosehill.

Jacqui's Joy (NZ) (Real Saga)

Mitchell Beer hoping for Flemington Joy

Mitchell Beer is hoping Jacqui's Joy (NZ) (Real Saga), the horse who played a starring role in launching his training career a year ago, can return to winning ways when she runs at Flemington this weekend.

Beer began his training career in December last year when he formed a partnership with Max Hinton at Mornington, and it didn't take long for Jacqui's Joy to register Beer's first city winner.

That came at Caulfield on Boxing Day and she added another city win a couple of weeks later at the same track to make it three victories from her first three starts for the team after being bought from New Zealand.

Jacqui's Joy has not won since, but Beer is convinced the four-year-old has more metropolitan victories in her and is hoping one of them comes on Saturday in the Beachside Handicap.

"She won her first three and two in town, and was our first runner. She's done an amazing job but I certainly don't think we've seen the end of her.

"She's certainly got some more metropolitan wins in her and looking at that field on Saturday she's certainly a really good each-way chance and it won't shock us to see her back in the winner's stall," Beer said.

Take two for talented filly

Sainted Pearl's (NZ) (Power) connections are hoping the highly-regarded filly has got a short memory and she can show her best at Awapuni on Saturday.

A grand-daughter of the Group One winner Saint Cecile (NZ) (Pompeii Court), the daughter of Power was expected to go close on debut at Otaki last month before an incident in the barrier.

Sainted Pearl became fractious and was a late scratching after another horse collapsed and died in the gates.

"I thought she was a huge chance at Otaki," trainer Nigel Auret said. "I hope it hasn't had any lasting effect on her."

Sainted Pearl will be ridden by Leah Hemi in Saturday's Mills Reef Winery 2YO Premier.

Ronchi (NZ) (Stravinsky)

Peard sounds a note of caution

Co-trainer Allan Peard believes there is a touch of vulnerability about Ronchi (NZ) (Stravinsky) at Te Rapa on Saturday.

"It's five weeks between runs and he's a gross type of horse," he said. "He's got to carry a bit of weight, but he should probably still win."

Ronchi's excellent form this preparation has seen him rise to the top of the handicap and he will have to shoulder 60kg in the Lodge City Rentals 1600, although he is opposed by a field of moderate quality, to say the least. Full story here.

Somethings Burning (NZ) (Gallant Guru)

Blinkers key to sprinter's hot run of form

The addition of headgear has set Somethings Burning (NZ) (Gallant Guru) on fire and he is expected to give another strong account of himself at Ashburton today.

"He's doing a really good job and since we put the blinkers on him he's grown another leg," Rangiora trainer Steven Woodsford said.

Somethings Burning is in career-best form and he will shoot for his fourth consecutive win when he steps out in the RD Petroleum Open, in which he will again be ridden by Racha Cuneen.

The Gallant Guru seven-year-old opened his winning streak at Timaru before he added further Rating 85 successes at Oamaru and Wingatui. Full story here.

Xtravagant (NZ) (Pentire)

Xtravagant on target for Trentham

Dual Group One winner Xtravagant (NZ) (Pentire) gave his trainers a pleasant surprise at the Te Aroha trials on Tuesday.

The Pentire four-year-old, who is being set for a first-up tilt at the Gr.1 JR & N Berkett Telegraph at Trentham on January 21, won his 1000 metre trial in the hands of Matt Cameron.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"We didn't think he'd be winning it because we haven't done a lot with him," said Stephen Autridge, who prepares Xtravagant with Jamie Richards.

"We're really happy. He's only half-fit and it was a right-handed trial. He'll have another trial left-handed and then go to Wellington.

"He was here for education. We've just got to put Australia behind us and forget about it because he's shown us he's coming along as well as ever."

Natuzzi (NZ) (Coats Choice)

said Paul Richards, who prepares the son of Coats Choice at Byerley Park with Peter and Dawn Williams.

"We haven't finalised it yet, but that's the way we'll probably go now. The way he performed the other day showed he's going just as well as he was this time last year." Full story here.

Cha Siu Bao (Smart Missile)

Confidence in colt's staying ability

The trainers of Cha Siu Bao (Smart Missile) have high hopes that the smart three-year-old can outrun his pedigree.

"Everything he does has indicated to us that his tendency is to stay so we're cracking on with him toward the longer distances," said Andrew Scott, who prepares the colt at Matamata with Lance O'Sullivan.

By Smart Missile, who was a Group Two winner up to 1200 metres and out of Ballet Society who won up to a mile, Cha Siu Bao was successful in both of his lead-up races to Riccarton where he finished fourth in the Gr.1 New Zealand 2000 Guineas. Full story here.

Natuzzi delivers a strong Group One argument

Durable sprinter Natuzzi (NZ) (Coats Choice) has all but convinced his trainers that he deserves another shot at a Group One title.

The eight-year-old's impressive last-start victory in the Gr.3 Concorde Handicap is almost certain to be rewarded with a return to Ellerslie on New Year's Day for a start in the Sistema Railway.

"It will either be the Newmarket or the Railway, but with the set weights and penalties he does get in well in the Railway,"

Top Prospect (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Guineas next for top 3YO prospect

The ambitiously-named Top Prospect (NZ) (Swiss Ace) is living up to expectations and he will take another step on New Year's Day toward a coveted three-year-old prize.

The son of Swiss Ace is unbeaten in his last three appearances, including the Listed Trevor Eagle Memorial at his most recent start.

"He has come through that in really good order," trainer Richard Collett said. "We'll keep him ticking over and run him next in the Great Northern Guineas.

"We'll probably look at the Karaka 3YO Mile and then aim him toward the Avondale Guineas ahead of the Derby." Full story here.

Top sprinter enjoying a change of scenery

Ryan Mark (NZ) (Thorn Park) is taking in a week at Raglan beach to ready him for the defence of his Gr.1 Railway Stakes title on New Year's Day.

Hard tracks have taken their toll on the leading sprinter, but trainer John Morell is still hopeful of having the six-year-old at Ellerslie for the Sistema-sponsored feature. "At this stage, we're still heading toward the Railway," he said.

Morell has regularly sent Ryan Mark to his friend Pim Blair to work the son of Thorn Park at the beach. Full story here.

Marsh keen on Sydney for smart stayer

Cambridge trainer Stephen Marsh has a long-term Australian plan for his rising staying star Chocante (NZ) (Shocking).

He has been far from surprised by the rapid progress of the four-year-old, who won't be over-taxed through the summer.

"He's always looked like a top cups horse in the making, he's very progressive with a very bright future," Marsh said.

"We'll look after him and he'll probably only have a couple more runs before we give him a break and we could well be looking at Sydney in the autumn." Full story here.

Lorna Moore

Simple approach Lorna's recipe for success

Lorna Moore's breeding philosophy is simple but effective.

"If I really believe in a mating, I try to send the mare at least three times to a stallion," the Matamata owner-breeder explained. "You need to get that right individual.

Moore, who bred Saturday's Gr.3 Waikato Gold Cup winner Lizzie L'Amour (NZ) (Zabeel) and races the mare with her husband Gary, also undertakes due diligence when it comes to selecting the right mares.

"Each week I would study winners from around the world and noticed that a lot of the Group One and Group Two winners in Australia were coming from imported mares," she said. Full story here.

First Group One for Frankel

Frankel won 10 Group One events during his sensational racing career and on Sunday he produced his first Group One winner.

Japanese filly Soul Striking remained undefeated in her third start to claim the Gr.1 Hanshin Juvenile Fillies (1600m).

Soul Striking is the first foal out of the six-time Group One winning Monsun mare Stacelita.

Curraghmore will offer a grey colt bred on this same cross at the New Zealand Bloodstock Premier Yearling Sale in January.

Bred by Raffles Dancers, Lot 181 is out of the multiple Group winning Monsun mare Give Me Five.

Death of Kiwi National winner

Lord Gyllene (NZ) (Ring The Bell), the New Zealand-bred winner of the rescheduled 'bomb scare' Grand National Steeplechase in 1997, has died at the age of 28.

The son of Ring The Bell took the lead at Aintree after the second fence in the hands of Tony Dobbin before going on to triumph by 25 lengths.

Lord Gyllene won two jumps races in New Zealand before being bought and sent to England where he was trained by Steve Brookshaw.

The gelding, who was retired in 2001 because of injury, had just 13 starts with seven of them at Uttoxeter, which was owned by the late Sir Stanley Clarke, in whose colours the horse ran.

Kiwi appeal in current gavelhouse.com catalogue

A daughter of Gr.2 Waikato Gold Cup winner Singing Star (NZ) (Danasinga) is a feature in the latest gavelhouse.com Australia online auction.

Sing Freedom (NZ) (Pins) at Lot 9 is also a half to Gr.3 Lowland Stakes winner and Gr.1 NZ Oaks runner up Miss Selby (NZ) (O'Reilly) and is offered for sale having tested in foal to the precocious Group-winning son of Encosta de Lago, Rubick.

Bidding on the catalogue is currently open and closes from 7pm (AEDT) on Monday 19 December.

Entries for the next gavelhouse.com New Zealand auction close at 7pm (NZ time) on Monday 19 December with the auction dates for this extended over Christmas to close on 28 December.
