2YO IMPRESSES WITH DEBUT EFFORT

Gallagher (NZ) (Epaulette) delivered a pleasant first-up surprise at Pukekohe for part-owner and trainer Jacob McKay.

The juvenile finished runner-up behind the highly-regarded Valalie (Snitzel) on debut after an interrupted preparation.

“He had to have a week in the paddock with a bit of a snotty nose, he was only really half ready,” McKay said.

“I expected him to blow out the last 200m so it was a really good run and he was beaten by a smart one.”

McKay said Gallagher had progressed well and he was bullish about the youngster’s chances in Saturday’s Gr.3

Phoenix Park 2YO Classic (1200m) at New Plymouth.

“It’s obviously a quick back-up, but he pulled up so well and the Matamata Slipper is his main aim and if he went straight there it would be a month between races.

“He’s definitely improved with his last run, he’s just thriving. He’s still a colt as well so some black type will increase his value.”

A $45,000 Karaka purchase for McKay, the son of Epaulette has impressed from day one.

“I’ve been rapt with him, I really think a lot of him,” McKay said. “He shows a lot of natural ability and he’s going to make a very nice three-year-old as well.

“He’s a very genuine colt and he’s never put a foot wrong.”

Gallagher will be accompanied south by Danger Dee (NZ) (Saperavi), who will contest The Metrotel Handicap (1300m).

“I had to scratch him last week after he kicked himself in the box, but he’s come right,” McKay said.

“He strung a few nice races together before nothing went right for him at Ellerslie on Boxing Day.”

TOP VENDOR STUNNED BY FILLY'S PRICE TAG

Champion vendor Waikato Stud enjoyed another outstanding week at Karaka and met with a welcome pleasant surprise along the way.

The Matamata farm's influential stallion Savabeel was a dominant force at the New Zealand Bloodstock Book 1 Sale while his associates Pins, Ocean Park, Rock'n' Pop and freshman stallion Sacred Falls all offered quality back up.

The leading vendor for the fifth consecutive year, Waikato Stud sold 70 lots for $12,845,000 at an average of $183,500.

"We've had a great sale and there's a massive amount of work gone into it, a great team effort from the staff and I knew we had a really nice draft," stud principal Mark Chittick said.

"Our sires with runners couldn't have done any better in the lead-up and Sacred Falls is doing a fantastic job.

"The chat before the sale on them was enormous, we didn't have to do any talking – it was all coming from the buyers."

It was champion sire Savabeel who provided Waikato Stud with their highest price yearling to ever go through the Karaka ring when his daughter out of Posy (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) was knocked down to Cambridge horseman Dean Hawthorne for $875,000 on Tuesday.

"We were very fortunate as a vendor to have two or three people determined to get her," Chittick said. "I've only ever experienced that twice in my life.

"I thought she would have been a $200,000 or $300,000 filly. Before her, our highest price was $775,000 for Embellish in 2016."

The Savabeel filly's mother Posy is a sister to the farm's former top race mare Daffodil (NZ), winner at Group One level of the Australian Oaks, New Zealand 1000 Guineas and the Windsor Park Plate.

The stud's highlight during the closing session of the Book 1 Sale on Wednesday was the Savabeel filly out of the O'Reilly mare Sitting Pretty (NZ) that went to Yulong Investments for $625,000.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Addictive Nature (Savabeel)

Collett hooked on Addictive Nature

Jason Collett is hooked on smart three-year-old Addictive Nature (Savabeel) who takes on weight for age for the first time in the Gr.2 A$200,000 Expressway Stakes (1200m) at Rosehill on Saturday.

Collett will be having his first race ride on the lightly tried Addictive Nature but did get a feel of the Bjorn Baker trained colt with a two and a half length win in a 900m Rosehill barrier trial on January 22.

"I've had quite a few spins on him in trackwork so it was nice to get on him in a trial and he seems to be coming up really well," Collett said.

Addictive Nature has drawn barrier two in the eight horse Expressway Stakes.

Addictive Nature has already shown glimpses of above average ability with two wins and two placings from four race starts, which includes a win in the Gr.3 Ming Dynasty Quality (1400m) at Rosehill during the 2017 Sydney Spring Carnival.

The Savabeel colt is resuming from a spell after running third to Gold Standard (Sebring) in the Gr.2 Stan Fox Stakes (1500m) at Rosehill in September.

Tommy Tucker (NZ) (Gallant Guru)

Change in conditions could suit Tommy Tucker

A switch to weight-for-age conditions could see Wingatui galloper Tommy Tucker (NZ) (Gallant Guru) finally snare success in the Gr.3 White Robe Lodge Weight For Age (1600m) on Saturday.

Previously run under handicap conditions, the Wingatui feature has attracted the Brian and Shane Anderton-trained Tommy Tucker for a fourth time, the Gallant Guru nine-year-old gelding having finished 11th in 2015 and second in the past two years.

"It's the first time he's meeting these horses on level terms," Shane Anderton said.

Blanco Belle (NZ) (Cape Blanco)

Oaks hope in action on home track

Blanco Belle (NZ) (Cape Blanco) will take another step toward her Group One autumn goal when she makes an appearance at her home meeting on Saturday.

The talented filly has already measured up encouragingly against the best of her age group as she continues on a path toward the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld New Zealand Oaks (2400m) at Trentham on March 17.

"She's going to run in the fillies' race here over 1800m, it's nice and handy for us," said New Plymouth part-owner and trainer Susan Rainford, referring to the Listed Fastrack Insurance Oaks Prelude. Full story here

Bold showing to confirm Derby plans

A Gr.1 New Zealand Derby (2400m) start is on the line for Flying Feet (Ocean Park) at Matamata today.

The son of Ocean Park is currently a $41 chance for the Vodafone-sponsored classic and excitement is mounting in the three-year-old's camp.

"To have a horse of his quality so early in my career is fantastic," trainer Joe Waldron said. Full story here

Splendid Sandown win for NZ bred mare

A drop in both grade and distance has allowed So Splendid (NZ) (Savabeel) return to winning form at Sandown.

Ridden by Michael Dee, the Chris Waller-trained four-year-old produced a dominant performance in Wednesday's United Petroleum Handicap (1800m) to score a 3-3/4 length win, her first since October last year.

Waller's Melbourne representative Johanne Taylor said it was pleasing to see the mare back in winning form.

"She was unlucky at Caulfield in two starts and then last start pulled herself into the ground at Flemington," Taylor said.

"It's good to see her back to what we know she's capable of."

Dee said he was surprised by the margin of the win, insisting So Splendid still wanted to over-race early but was much better than she was at Flemington.

"Today the key was to get her to relax and she was able to come back to me pretty good although she was still a little bit keen early," Dee said.

"I was quite surprised that I won by such a margin at the end."

Sir Peter Vela, Sir Patrick Hogan & Justine Lady Hogan

Sir Patrick Hogan tribute at Karaka

Day four of the 92nd National Yearling Sale started on a poignant note as those present at the Karaka complex saluted the achievements of legendary Cambridge Stud principal Sir Patrick Hogan.

Hogan and wife Lady Justine announced the sale of Cambridge Stud to Brendan and Jo Lindsay, who take ownership in April this year, with their 2018 Karaka yearling consignment to be the last under the Stud's banner.

Hogan and the Cambridge Stud brand are synonymous with excellence and innovation in the breeding and selling of thoroughbred racehorses. During his 32 years of wearing the leading vendor crown at the National Yearling Sale, Hogan was first to introduce many of the features that are now regarded as commonplace among vendors.

Included amongst the many milestones achieved by Hogan in that time are the honour of selling the highest price yearling in the Sales history, a Zabeel colt for $3.6 million in 2000, along with the highest price yearling of the sale on a remarkable 24 occasions.

In a special presentation led by New Zealand Bloodstock chairman, Joe Walls, Sir Patrick and Justine Lady Hogan were presented with a specially engraved trophy bearing the details of those 24 sale toppers.

In his typical, combative style Hogan had the last say as he reminded those present that the sale wasn't finished and he needed every bid possible to sell his remaining 17 lots.

Lot 179 Ghibellines ex Ears Carol

Ghibellines off to a flyer at Karaka

White Robe Lodge's resident stallion Ghibellines has got off to a roaring start at Karaka, with his first crop of yearlings being in high demand at the Auckland sales complex this week.

The Mosgiel farm brought five yearlings north for New Zealand Bloodstock's National Yearling Sale, offering three yearlings in Book 1 which fetched an average of $80,000.

"It has been really good, he has been well received," White Robe Lodge Stud Manager Wayne Stewart said. Full story here

David Ellis

Te Akau chief completes his dream team
David Ellis settled on three colts for his

Stallions Syndicate before Karaka and on Tuesday he claimed the last of them when he went to $750,000 for Lot 455, a son of Exceed and Excel and an old favourite.

The Te Akau principal purchased the youngster out of the Gr.3 Taranaki Cup (1800m) and Gr.1 New Zealand 1000 Guineas (1600m) placegetter Our Ella Belle (NZ) (Encosta de Lago) from Pencarrow Stud's draft.

"We trained the mother and she was a filly of enormous ability and an absolute tragedy beaten in the 1000 Guineas," Ellis said. "She was in the top two or three fillies that Te Akau has had. Full story here

Ger Beemsterboer and Sarah Green

Owners ride their luck to secure fillies

Ger Beemsterboer has experienced the swings and roundabouts at Karaka during New Zealand Bloodstock's Book 1 Sale.

On Tuesday, he purchased Waikato Stud's Sacred Falls filly out of Nadel Dame (NZ) (Pins) for $210,000 with racing partner Sarah Green and during the final session on Wednesday they went to $650,000 for a daughter of Zoustar out of Landsdowne Park's draft.

"We paid a bit more than we thought for the Sacred Falls and got this one for a bit less, you have to be lucky," Beemsterboer said. Full story here

American specialist enjoying first visit to New Zealand

Google American horseman Kip Elser and it quickly becomes evident the former steeplechase rider has packed a lifetime of experience into his 40 plus years working with thoroughbreds.

Elser, who operates Kirkwood Stables out of Camden, South Carolina is currently in New Zealand attending the New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale as an extension of his world-wide business. Elser specialises in consigning and training young horses while his pin-hooking activity has him selling two-year-olds at various sales around the world.

Elser is here to extend his operation into the New Zealand market with New Zealand Bloodstock's North American representative Joe Miller. Full story here

Wallace sparkles in bidding war

Cambridge agent Michael Wallace wasn't going to be denied another top-quality filly and he went the distance on Wednesday to secure a well-credentialed daughter of Tavistock.

He had been the under-bidder on a number of leading lots before he outlaid $975,000 for the elegant youngster from Cambridge Stud.

"Sir Patrick is putting up world-class pedigrees and when you get these opportunities you have to take them," said Wallace, who bought on behalf of the China Horse Club. Full story here

Agent gets his dream colt

Dean Hawthorne secured his prized lot toward the end of the Book 1 Sale at Karaka on Wednesday.

The Cambridge agent had his heart set on a colt out of Cambridge Stud's draft and he went to $700,000 to secure him.

"We thought he was the best Tavistock in the sale," Hawthorne said. "I bought him for a syndicate in Melbourne and he could be a stallion prospect. Full story here

Double delight for Bluff breeder

Bluff oysterman Willie Calder achieved a result that most thoroughbred breeders can only dream of when he produced a remarkable winning double over the weekend.

Flying two-year-old Avantage (Fastnet Rock) started the ball rolling when she dashed away with the Listed Karaka Million (1200m) at Eilerslie on Saturday evening.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Willie and Karen Calder with their Fastnet Rock-Asavant filly

The Fastnet Rock filly is the daughter of useful race mare Asavant (NZ) (Zabeel) who Calder bred and raced from the South Island stable of John and Karen Parsons.

Asavant is a daughter of Calder's foundation mare Pins 'N' Needles (NZ) (Pins) who was also prepared by the Parsons to win on six occasions including the Gr.3 White Robe Lodge Handicap (1600m). Retired after suffering a racetrack injury, the ill-fated Pins mare provided the second chapter in Calder's weekend of wonder when her fourth foal, Darci Brahma gelding D B Pin (NZ), took out the Gr.1 Centenary Sprint Cup (1200m) in Hong Kong. Nicol secures filly for $725,000

An elegant Fastnet Rock filly will be on her way to Sydney after she was secured by experienced agent Adrian Nicol at Karaka.

Offered by Hallmark Stud, she was purchased on Monday for an international syndicate for $725,000.

"She's a beautiful filly – the best individual I saw here," he said. "I thought she might go for more than $600,000 and less than $800,000, so I was happy to go to $725,000 for her. Full story here

Cambridge Stud produces another Karaka gem

The final draft of yearlings presented by Sir Patrick Hogan under his Cambridge Stud banner at the National Yearling Sale has produced another auction ring gem.

Lot 159, the Tavistock filly from Danehill mare Diamond Like, had been touted as one of the leading individuals at the sale and she did her blueblood family proud as she fetched $750,000 from regular Karaka visitor Peter Moody. Full Story here

Cunningham not surprised by seven figure colt

Gordon Cunningham was expecting something special when Lot 156 entered the Karaka sale ring and the Curraghmore principal wasn't disappointed.

The son of Fastnet Rock was the subject of spirited bidding on Monday from all directions before he was knocked down to Mark Pilkington for $1 million.

"He's a colt with a great pedigree and the looks to match," Cunningham said. "He's got a great mind and attitude as well, he was always going to attract a lot of attention from the bigger players from a stallion point of view." Full story here

Top lot of Day 5 goes to Hong Kong

Upper Bloodstock business partners Andy Lau, Ross Lao and Tristan Hui created sunshine on a rainy day at Karaka when they snapped up a flashy Per Incanto colt for the session's top price.

The partners went to $200,000 to secure the youngster consigned as Lot 885 from the Highden Park draft.

Having secured three colts during the Book 1 sale, the partners had been active inspecting individuals throughout the day despite inclement conditions, including driving rain for long periods, forcing many to seek shelter wherever possible. Full story here

Westbury Club reaps rewards at Karaka

Westbury Stud launched a new pinhooking syndicate under their The Westbury Club banner last year and the inaugural syndicate was rewarded at Karaka this week.

The syndicate's biggest result came when their Holy Roman Emperor colt (lot 615), a A$10,000 Gold Coast weanling purchase, was knocked down to Singapore trainer Cliff Brown for $140,000.

The brainchild of Buffalo & Co's Tim Barry, the syndicate purchased two weanlings from the Gold Coast to sell at Karaka and Westbury Stud General Manager Russell Warwick said syndicate members were delighted with the result. Full story here

Simms Davison

Davison keen on new Karaka format

Mapperley Stud boss Simms Davison is convinced the new format adopted for the annual New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale has directly benefitted his Book 2 draft.

Davison was commenting on the sale of their Proisir colt, Lot 766, that was knocked down to the $160,000 bid of Waterford Bloodstock consultant, Mike Rennie.

Davison had been confident of a good result with the colt, based on the number of pre-sale inspections he had undergone. Full story here

Pike raids Valachi nest for next eagle

Cambridge trainer Tony Pike has enjoyed some remarkable success for Sydney businessman Colin Keane and his horses tagged with the "Eagle" suffix.

Pike has prepared quality gallopers for Keane including Allez Eagle (NZ) (Guillotine) who won 8 races and finished runner-up twice at Group One level, along with another Group One placegetter in Huka Eagle (NZ) (Swiss Ace).

He added another Eagle for Keane to his stable on Thursday after purchasing Lot 761, a Zacinto colt from the draft of Matamata nursery Valachi Downs. Full story here

Scott Base (NZ) (Dalghar)

Avondale Guineas next for leading Derby hope

Karaka 3YO Classic (1600m) winner Scott Base (NZ) (Dalghar) hasn't turned a hair since his Ellerslie heroics.

"Everything's all good with him and he's been out to the beach and he's bouncing around," said Johno Benner, who trains the Dalghar gelding with Hollie Wynyard.

"He'll most likely go to the Avondale Guineas and then on to the Derby."

Benner expects Scott Base to be well-suited to a step up in distance.

"You never really know until you try them over ground, but he switches off in his races so it doesn't look an issue," he said.

Scott Base's Ellerslie success elevated him to equal $6 favouritism with Demonetization (All Too Hard) for the Gr.1 Vodafone New Zealand Derby (2400m).

Start Wondering (NZ) (Eighth Wonder)

Top sprinter ready for title defence

Start Wondering (NZ) (Eighth Wonder) is on target to defend his Group One title at Te Rapa next month.

Last season's champion sprinter is heading to the BCD Group Sprint (1400m) on February 10 none the worse for wear after finishing out of the money in the Gr.1 Telegraph (1200m), in which he was narrowly beaten 12 months ago, at Trentham.

"He galloped really well this morning so he's on target," said Wanganui horseman Evan Rayner, who trains with his daughter JJ.

La Diosa (NZ) (So You Think)

Light preparation for Group One winner

The connections of La Diosa (NZ) (So You Think) are determined to keep the valuable mare to a light schedule this season.

"We've always said that we were never going to over-race her as a four-year-old, she's got nothing to prove," said Mandy Brown, who trains the Group One winner with her husband Matt.

"We'll take her through an easy season and then see how she comes up as a five-year-old."

Lisa Allpress

Allpress waiting on specialist visit

Leading jockey Lisa Allpress will get a clearer picture later next month about her return to race-riding.

She suffered severe injuries in a fall at the Hawera jump-outs in October and has subsequently undergone one shoulder operation.

"It's been fairly frustrating and I go back to the specialist on February 28 and then he'll make a decision whether he needs to operate on the other shoulder," Allpress said.

During her time on the side-line, she has been putting her experience to vital use by mentoring central districts apprentices.

Patrick Erin (NZ) (Gallant Guru)

Australia beckons southern stayer

The connections of Patrick Erin (NZ) (Gallant Guru) are looking at their Australian options with the leading southern stayer.

Wingatui trainers Brian and Shane Anderton, who prepare the seven-year-old for long-time Christchurch client Pat Smith, believe the horse's rating of 101 casts a long shadow over his domestic future.

"We've got to discuss it fully with Pat yet, but it's highly unlikely he'll run in New Zealand again," Brian Anderton said.

Vale Northland stalwart

Northland breeding and racing stalwart Les Donaldson has died.

He established Totara Park Stud in the 1960s and, among others, stood Bandmaster with the former champion three-year-old Uncle Remus his most famous son.

He was raced by Donaldson's mother Grace and Kim Clotworthy and was the New Zealand Horse of the Year in 1977-78 to earn his sire Bandmaster and his dam Tusitala leading stallion and broodmare honours.

The stud is now run by his daughter Nicci and her husband Dirk Oberholster.

Donaldson was a committee member of the Whangarei Racing Club and served as president before he was made a life member. He was also patron from 2008 until 2017.

He is survived by his wife, Carolyn, three children and five grandchildren.
