SACRED STAR IN GLASSHOUSE

The Tony Pike-trained Sacred Star lines up in the Listed Glasshouse Handicap at the Sunshine Coast tomorrow

Cambridge trainer Tony Pike has been having a whale of a time in Queensland.

Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi) and Provocative (NZ) (Zabeel) provided Pike with a Group One double and a career highlight at Eagle Farm three weeks ago.

At the same meeting Sacred Star (Flying Spur), a dual Group One winner in New Zealand, landed his second consecutive fifth placing in the Gr.1 Stradbroke Handicap.

The Raffles Thoroughbred Racing-owned five-year-old will have another chance at black-type in Saturday's Listed Glasshouse Handicap.

"I have kept him in Queensland because there is nothing in New Zealand for him at this time of year," Pike told The Courier-Mail.

"The Glasshouse looks a good race for him, it is certainly a significant drop back in grade."

Vinnie Colgan retains the ride on Sacred Star and the pair will jump from barrier one.

Depending on Saturday's result Sacred Star may have one more run in Australia this season in the Ramornie Handicap at Grafton on July 13.

Amongst his competitors this Saturday is the Liam Birchley-trained mare Elusive Catch (NZ) (Elusive City) who finished runner up in the Listed Gai Waterhouse Classic at Ipswich two weeks ago.

Elusive Catch is raced by All Black coach Steve Hansen, dairy farmer Grant McKenzie and his former trainer Sabin Kirkland.

She won three races, including the Listed Champagne Stakes, in New Zealand for Kirkland before transferring to Birchley in May 2015 for whom she has won one and placed in three starts.

WIDE DRAW NO BARRIER FOR PUCCINI

New Zealand Derby winner Puccini (NZ) (Encosta De Lago) lines up in the Listed Caloundra Cup on Saturday.

Previously trained in New Zealand by Peter McKay, Puccini is now in the care of Victorian trainer Darren Weir. The rising six-year-old has had 11 starts for the Melbourne Cup winning trainer without a win, but did collect a second placing in the Gr.3 Premier's Cup at Doomben three starts ago.

"He'll just roll forward, I'd say, that's when he runs his best races so he'll be able to do that on Saturday," Weir's racing manager Jeremy Rogers told ANZ Bloodstock News.

"Barrier 13 might not be the worst barrier for him because if he's drawn in he half misses the kick a bit and then he can start pulling.

"I'd say he'll sit outside the leader or be in the first few anyway. He's honest and hopefully he can win a race for his New Zealand owners on Saturday."

Puccini will jump from barrier 13 in the Caloundra Cup and will be ridden by Michael Cahill, replacing John Allen, who partnered Puccini to fourth in the Listed Ipswich Cup last start.

Cambridge trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman have Gesemi (NZ) (Ekraar) in the race, she finished sixth in last weekend's Group 3 Tattersall's Cup and will have a change of jockey with Jeff Lloyd picking up the ride.

The Alistair Lawrence and John Rattray-raced Ekraar five-year-old is in Australia ahead of the breeding season.

Also in the $176,600 feature is the John and Linda Wheeler-owned and Brian Smith-trained My Diamantine (NZ). The daughter of Eighth Wonder is having her second start in Smith's care having finished seventh at Eagle Farm in the Listed M Giles & Co Chartered Accountants open handicap last month.

Amexed (NZ) (Pentire), a last start winner in benchmark 80 company for trainer Tony Gollan is the only other NZ-bred in the race.

Puccini, pictured back in his New Zealand racing days, is looking for his first win for the Darren Weir stable in Saturday's Listed Caloundra Cup

NEWS IN BRIEF

Foreign Prince on trial at 2400 metres

Foreign Prince (NZ) (High Chaparral) will have a change of rider and a change of tactics for his first attempt at 2400 metres in the Winter Cup.

Trainer David Payne has engaged senior rider Jason Collett for the Listed race.

Because Foreign Prince is untried at the distance, Payne will also be hoping he can be ridden a little quieter rather than lead as he has in his recent 1800 and 2000 metre wins.

"I want to give him every chance to get the 2400 metres so I will be telling the stewards we don't want him to lead," Payne said.

"If the horse does prove he can get over the distance we will take him to Grafton."

Foreign Prince's most recent win gained him automatic entry to the Listed Grafton Cup (2350m) on July 14 with the Winter Cup winner also gaining a ballot exemption.

Marenostro to bounce back

Trainer Chris Waller believes Marenostro (NZ) (Duelled) can bounce back from a disappointing sixth last start in Saturday's Listed Civic Stakes (1350m) at Rosehill.

"He was a touch disappointing last start, I think the weight and the 1600 metres tripped him up," said Waller.

"We're dropping him back in distance and he's already been successful on this track at this distance this season."

The versatile five-year-old won at Rosehill over 1400m on a Good3 track in late May and again on a Heavy10 surface in early June.

Kansas Sunflower out to break drought

Trainer Luke Oliver is hoping Kansas Sunflower (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) can go one better than her recent string of runner-up finishes when the mare chases her first win in more than a year on Saturday.

Kansas Sunflower is nominated for two Caulfield races and Oliver said she will run in the 1200m benchmark-90 for mares, with Craig Williams to ride.

Kansas Sunflower finished second for the third consecutive time, in her most recent start at Bendigo, over 1300m and it was her fifth runner-up finish in 12 starts since she won at Flemington in April last year.

"We've given her a bit of a freshen up since her last run (on June 2)," Oliver said.

Pin Your Hopes chasing back-to-back wins

Pin Your Hopes (NZ) (Pins) is set to race on a quick back up at Caulfield, with connections hoping his recent return to winning form continues.

A victory at Cranbourne on heavy ground last month was Pin Your Hopes' first win since May 2014.

After a Sandown placing he then produced a hard-fought victory in a benchmark-78 over 1600m last Saturday at Flemington after being headed in the straight.

Pin Your Hopes is the early favourite for Saturday's Crown Golden Ale Handicap (1700m) at Caulfield where he is stepping up in grade and also slightly in distance.

"He's come through last Saturday's run quite well," co-trainer Simon Zahra said.

"He's backed up before and won. It was a reasonably quick back up of 10 days between races when he won last week."

Zahra said the soft tracks were aiding Pin Your Hopes at this time of year and also he seems to be enjoying spending his days in one of the small paddocks he and co-trainer Matthew Ellerton have at their stables.

Bally Heights (NZ) (Lord Ballina)

Nelson hunts home track features

Paul Nelson is a little cagey about whether he might possess the firepower to add to his feature jumps record at Hastings this weekend, but he admits his strongest hand is in the Te Whangai Romneys Hawke's Bay Hurdle.

The Hastings trainer has won the Hawke's Bay Steeplechase three times through No Hero (NZ) (Herocity) in 2003 and 2005 and Just A Swagger (NZ) (Just A Dancer) in 2007, but just boasts one previous Hawke's Bay Hurdles win, with Ho Down (NZ) (Victory Dance) in 2010.

Nelson will produce rising 14-year-old Bally Heights (NZ) (Lord Ballina) in Saturday's Animal Health Direct Hawke's Bay Steeplechase (4800m) as he attempts to become the first trainer to win the race on more than three occasions, while San Pedro (NZ) (Colombia) and Ooee (NZ) (Ruff Nipper) give him a strong hand in the Hurdle (3100m). Full story here.

Danza Lad (NZ) (Woodbury Lad)

Trainer sets lofty goal for hurdling newcomer

Rudy Liefiting has an ambitious plan in mind for his freshman jumper Danza Lad (NZ) (Woodbury Lad).

The Pukekohe trainer produced the stakes winning flat performer for an impressive first-up success over the small fences at Te Aroha recently and he's not going to be afraid to pitch him in at the deep end.

"I've been mulling it over and he'll probably have his next jumping start in the Grand National Hurdles if I can get him in the field," Liefiting said.

In the meantime, Danza Lad will head south to Hastings on Saturday for an open 2100 metre handicap. Full story here.

Kevin Gray

Gray closing in on milestone

Kevin Gray is just two victories away from reaching 1000 New Zealand wins in his remarkable career.

The Palmerston North trainer goes into today's Waverley meeting with 998 wins to his credit in New Zealand, accumulated over the 36 years since he first took out his licence at 43.

Gray, who worked closely with Copper Belt (NZ) (Gold Sovereign) during his time working for Brian Deacon and in more recent years has conditioned the likes of Daffodil (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) and Legs (NZ) (Pins), says getting to 1000 wins is recognition for the hard yards he has done in racing over the years.

"It'll be a great thrill. There's not a great many trainers in New Zealand to have done it," said Gray, who turns 79 on Saturday. Full story here.

Te Akau secure top lot

Te Akau Stables' Racing Manager Brad Taylor bid to $90,000 to secure the full brother to the stable's smart juvenile winner Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) in last night's gavelhouse.com June online auction.

The New Zealand Bloodstock subsidiary has been running online auctions since April with this the third occasion it's hit the $90,000 mark with two Tavistock weanling colts making $91,000 and $96,000 respectively in previous months.

Almost $200,000 was traded last night with sales still being made after the auction. Click here to view the results. Entries are now being taken for the site's next sale, to be held on 25 July.

Cassie Anne (NZ) (Castelli)

Step back in grade at Waverley for capable mare

Talented mare Cassie Anne (NZ) (Castelli) will step out at Waverley today ahead of a return to stakes racing.

The six-year-old has overcome a recent setback and she should welcome a drop in class when she runs in the Clarendon Hotel Rating 85.

"I was looking forward to the Tauranga Classic, but she got a stone bruise," New Plymouth trainer Tina Egan said.

The sparingly-raced winner of four of her 29 starts, Cassie Anne's autumn campaign was all about black type with four consecutive appearances at the higher level.

Major reward eluded her, but she did acquit herself well with fourth placings in the Listed Rangitikei Gold Cup and the Listed Flying Handicap, a fifth in the Listed Manawatu Anzac Mile and a last-start seventh in the Listed Ag Challenge Stakes.

Lucky Tonight (NZ) (Lucky Unicorn)

Kiwis join forces in jumper's Australian debut
Lucky Tonight (NZ) (Lucky Unicorn) will have a change of rider when he makes his Australian debut on Sunday, but not with a jockey who is unfamiliar with the jumper.

The Cambridge seven-year-old will be reunited with expatriate Kiwi hoop Richard Eynon, who will replace Michael Mitchell, in a 3800 metre steeplechase at Casterton in Victoria.

"Michael will be riding at Te Aroha so it's a bit unfortunate, but Richard is a lovely rider with nice, soft hands and he has ridden him before so I don't think I'm losing anything," trainer Shelley Houston said.

Eynon rode Lucky Tonight in his first hurdle start nearly two years ago when they finished fourth at Ellerslie. Full story here.

Lisa Allpress

Milestones loom for Allpress

Lisa Allpress is now an unbackable favourite to win the national jockeys' premiership, but a second title isn't the only milestone on her radar.

The TAB has her at $1.01 to land the title with a lead of 12 wins over arch-rival Matt Cameron, with less than five weeks of the season remaining. She opened at $6.50 last August.

The 41-year-old Wanganui mum of two is also poised to break her own personal record of wins in a season, currently sitting two short of her previous best season of 159 from 2011-12.

"I've had an amazing season so far and enjoyed great support from owners and trainers the length of the country," Allpress said. Full story here.

Taurus (NZ) (No Excuse Needed)

Taurus chasing down winter features

Taurus (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) will be kept on the fresh side in his chase for consecutive black type victories.

The genuine wet weather performer won the Listed Ag Challenge Stakes on his home track at Wanganui earlier this month and he won't race again before the Listed Powerworx Opunake Cup at New Plymouth on July 23.

"He's come through his last run really well and we may give him a jump-out and he will definitely have a gallop between races at Wanganui (on July 7), most probably with Ginner Hart," said J. J. Rayner, who trains Taurus with her father Evan.

"We'll just keep him ticking over and after Opunake we'll head to Riccarton."

Taurus will be treading a familiar path as he was runner-up in both the Opunake Cup and the Gr.3 Winter Cup in 2013 and two years ago he finished sixth in both events.

Rodrico sold to HK

New Zealand-owned three-year-old Rodrico (High Chaparral) has been sold to Hong Kong interests.

The son of High Chaparral, who was raced by Robin Peel-Walker and Mark Wyborn, will do his future racing out of John Moore's stable

He will be aimed toward the 2017 Hong Kong Derby following his purchase by Johnson Chen, who won this year's edition with the Kiwi-bred Werther (NZ) (Tavistock).

NEWS IN BRIEF

Rodrico (High Chaparral)

Rodrico was trained by Chris Waller to win three races and at his last appearance he finished runner-up in the Gr.1 Queensland Derby.

New steward appointed

Darin Balcombe has been appointed a stipendiary steward with the Racing Integrity Unit.

"Darin's experience and knowledge of the industry will be a real benefit to the organisation," RIU general manager Mike Godber said.

Formerly the general manager of Trentham and Otaki for the RACE group, Balcombe will take up his new role on September 5 and he will be based in the central districts.

Sunline- NZ's mare of the world

This wonderful mare captured the hearts of the public like few other horses in the post-War era. Tough-minded if not bloody-minded, she had a physique to match and was able to race competitively at the elite level in each of her six racing seasons.

Sunline (NZ) (Desert Sun) raced 48 times for 32 wins, nine seconds and three thirds and an Australasian record A$11 million in stakes. She raced in four countries and won in three; she twice won the Southern Hemisphere's weight-for-age championship, the Cox Plate (on the second occasion by a stunning seven lengths) and was narrowly beaten going for a third. She twice won the Doncaster Handicap, and was second on another occasion when conceding 6kg.

At home, where her races were usually in preparation for another overseas campaign, she was unbeaten in seven starts. Sunline was twice elected Australian Racehorse of the Year and four times New Zealand Horse of the Year.
