LONGCHAMP LOOKING TO REPEAT AT NEW PLYMOUTH

Defending champion Longchamp is primed for a big effort in the Listed Opunake Cup tomorrow.

Tavistock gelding Longchamp (NZ) will be looking to go back-to-back in the Listed Opunake Cup at New Plymouth on Saturday.

Trainer Andrew Campbell is happy with how the five-year-old has performed during this campaign, placing in both of his starts.

He ran a creditable third at Trentham behind Opunake Cup rival New York Minute (NZ) (Iffraaj), before heading to Awapuni on July 8 where he was pipped at the line by the promising Dolcetto (NZ) (Per Incanto).

"In the first race (at Trentham) he needed a run because he hadn't had a trial at all and he just came to the end of it when he hit the bog up the straight. I was happy with that run, he had a good blow," Campbell said.

"His last start was a good run I thought, he carried a lot more weight than Dolcetto, who is an up and coming horse.

"I'm over the moon with him, he's come through it great and he'll be going in there really happy. His work on Tuesday was super."

Campbell rates New York Minute, who will carry 3.5kg less than Longchamp, the biggest threat in the race. The Iffraaj mare has been impressive after placing in the Gr.3 ISCL Rotorua Stakes and Listed Seeka Tauranga Classic this year.

"It is a good even field, but New York Minute will be hard to beat," Campbell said.

Longchamp will be ridden by leading central districts jockey Johnathan Parkes and Campbell said he is not particularly concerned about the weight or track conditions, which are currently rated a Heavy 10.

"He goes on anything this horse, but he gets through the wet tracks really well, so it doesn't particularly worry us.

"I'm really happy with the weight and that Duffers Creek is in there, otherwise we would be carrying topweight."

Campbell will look toward the Hawke's Bay spring carnival with Longchamp after Saturday, with a possible run in the Gr.2 Lisa Chittick Foxbridge Plate at Te Rapa also an option.

"We'll see how he comes through the race and he may go to Te Rapa for the Foxbridge, we'll just play it by ear with that," he said.

"He'll head to Hastings for the first race (Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy), which has always been his main aim."

Longchamp will be looking to improve in the race from his fourth-placing last year and Campbell said he is contemplating running him in the remaining two feature races at Hastings.

"He's never been over ground, the furthest he has been is once over a mile down in Christchurch when he was a three-year-old.

"I couldn't see why he couldn't get over ground, so we'll have a crack at a couple of them at least."

LEADING JUMPING DUO CELEBRATE DREAM DAY

Paul Nelson and Aaron Kuru dined out on a huge dose of double delight at Hastings where they bagged both prestige jumping events yesterday.

The local trainer and the now Cambridge-based jockey combined with The Shackler (NZ) (Istidaad) to claim the Anuka Smoker Wellington Hurdles and then Amanood Lad (NZ) (Germano) earned top honours in the Grant Plumbing Wellington Steeplechase.

Both races were incorporated into the Hawke's Bay programme following the abandonment of last Saturday's meeting at Trentham.

"It's a great thrill and it's a big thank you to Ben Foote," Nelson said. "We've had a really good association with Ben for many years and when he felt he couldn't do justice to the horse (Amanood Lad) this year he sent him down to us."

Foote, who made that decision to concentrate on younger flat members of his team, prepared the gelding to win five times over the big fences, including the Great Northern Steeplechase and two McGregor Grant Steeplechases.

Amanood Lad was making his third appearance from Nelson's stable and he travelled easily behind the pace before Kuru made his move across the top.

"He stayed switched on throughout and there was a gap at the 600 and he shot through," Kuru said.

"I thought I might have got run down, but to his credit he dug deep and won well. It's very special, I grew up here."

Kuru was having only his third ride on Amanood Lad and his confidence was given a pre-race boost when he laid eyes on the rising 13-year-old in the birdcage.

"He looked well, I couldn't believe it," he said. "Paul has done a great job with him. It was only his third run back and he had 70kg over 5500m."

Amanood Lad was dogged to the line to hold Wise Men Say's (NZ) (Yamanin Vital) challenge at bay with Nells Belle (NZ) (Istidaad) taking third in front of The Oysterman (NZ) (Yamanin Vital).

NEWS IN BRIEF

Cruising Speed (NZ) (Savabeel)

Crack Me Up (NZ) (Mossman)

Cruising Speed on track for Tatt's Mile

Cruising Speed (NZ) (Savabeel) can put the icing on a great season for Ontrack Racing syndicates if she wins the Listed Tattersall's Mile at Doomben.

Ontrack Racing manager Grant Morgan said 2016/17 had been outstanding for the group with winners in three states.

"It has been our best season and our horses have been most consistent. I think the Bjorn Baker-trained Test The World, who won four races, is the leading BOBS bonus horse in NSW," Morgan said.

Morgan said Cruising Speed was probably stepping out to her maximum distance at 1600m in Saturday's Tattersall's Mile.

"We have always felt she was more a 1200 to 1400 metre horse but she is honest and won in good company two runs back before having no luck last time," Morgan said.

"The Tatt's Mile is the last black-type race of the season and even if she runs a place it will add to her value as a broodmare."

"She is very well bred on both sides of her pedigree being by Savabeel out of a mare who carries the bloodlines of the champion Emancipation."

Bridget Grylls will ride Cruising Speed as a reward for her work in riding track work.

"She is a natural lightweight and rode a winner for John (Meagher) last Saturday," Morgan said.

Birchley colt set for Crack at Tatt's Mile

Talented three-year-old Crack Me Up (NZ) (Mossman) will be attempting to win his third stakes race when he takes on older horses in the Listed Tattersall's Mile at Doomben tomorrow.

The gelding has run only one bad race in his nine stakes-race starts and that was a 12th placing, beaten 11 lengths in the Gr.3 Fred Best Classic at Eagle Farm on May 27.

His usually easy-going trainer Liam Birchley was so upset he publicly condemned the Eagle Farm track as not fit for metropolitan racing.

Officials eventually agreed and the track has been closed indefinitely.

"I told the owners to completely forget that run as I knew Crack Me Up was much better than that," Birchley said.

Birchley's assessment was proved correct in Crack Me Up's next two starts.

Crack Me Up ran second in the Listed Wayne Wilson Memorial before winning the Gr.3 Sunshine Coast Guineas.

Birchley isn't sure which direction Crack Me Up will take as a four-year-old although he is unlikely to head south this spring.

"He is a Magic Millions horse but there isn't much for him as I think he will be best at 1600 metres to 1800 metres," Birchley said.

Birchley said it was more likely Crack Me Up would attempt to win the Gr.2 Villiers Stakes at Randwick and the Gr.3 Bernborough Handicap at Doomben in December.

Sound Proposition (NZ) (Savabeel)

Randwick the venue for Sound Proposition

Sound Proposition (NZ) (Savabeel) will race in Sydney rather than Brisbane as trainer Kris Lees steps him up to 1800 metres for his second start for the stable.

Formerly trained by Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott, Sound Proposition made an immediate impact at his first start for Lees, winning a 1600m-handicap at Randwick on June 24 on a heavy track.

Lees entered him for the Listed Tattersall's Mile at Doomben on Saturday but said he would race over 1800 metres at Randwick instead.

Sound Proposition is the top-rated horse in the open handicap and will have the benefit of in-form apprentice Rachel King's 1.5kg claim to reduce his weight to 60kg.

"I think he will be fine over 1800 metres," Lees said.

"He will have a freshen-up after Saturday and we will look at some races for him in the spring from 1600 to 2000 metres."

Marenostro (NZ) (Duelled)

Marenostro stays home in bid to find form

Chris Waller has opted not to send Marenostro (NZ) (Duelled) north to chase more black-type at Doomben, hoping the durable gelding can find form in the familiar surrounds of Sydney in the Open Handicap (1800m) at Randwick.

"It's not an overly strong race. It's the right race for him and there's no excuses for him on Saturday," Waller said.

Waller said Marenostro may eventually head north to his Gold Coast base which is expected to be operational from August 1.

"That's the idea of opening up the Queensland stable for these horses struggling for form," Waller said.

"A trip away can help invigorate them. It's slightly easier as well to get them into form and then bring them back."

While Marenostro, who has only one placing from four races this campaign, trialled well on Tuesday, Waller said stablemate Liapari (NZ) (Nom Du Jeu) was the pick of his quartet of runners.

"He's a little bit suspect at the 1800 but he's in great form," he said.

Sea King (NZ) (Shinko King)

Sea King ruled out of Mosstrooper

A Victorian rule of racing counted out Sea King's (NZ) (Shinko King) bid for a third consecutive victory in the Mosstrooper Steeplechase at Bendigo on Sunday.

A New Zealand jumper must compete in either a steeplechase race or trial at home during the current campaign before they are allowed to run over the big fences in Australia.

Sea King will instead run in the Brendan Dreschler Hurdle at Bendigo for Wanganui trainer Kevin Myers before he transfers to Patrick Payne's care.

"He's been running in hurdles in New Zealand so he didn't have a chance to qualify," Payne said.

"He's a good hurdler, but he likes the tempo of a steeple. He's quite a slow horse that's got a lot of stamina, but they'll be too dashing for him I'd think."

Addictive Nature (NZ) (Savabeel)

Well-bred colt stars on debut

A high-priced Karaka yearling has made the perfect start to his career in Sydney.

The Savabeel colt Addictive Nature, a $775,000 purchase out of Little Avondale Stud's draft, was successful over 1100m at Warwick Farm in his first appearance from Bjorn Baker's stable.

"It's nice to see him put them away like that," stable representative Jack Bruce said. "He's got the good looks, but he's also got the good manners that are so important for a colt."

Addictive Nature is a brother to the Australian Group Two winner and Group One placegetter Savvy Nature (NZ).

Astor (NZ) (Iffraaj)

Astor too good at Hawke's Bay

Iffraaj two-year-old Astor (NZ) was too strong for her opposition in the NZB Insurance Pearl Series two-year-old race at Hastings yesterday.

Drawn the ace barrier, the Danica Guy-trained runner jumped well and led throughout to win by a length and a half over Kate Louise (NZ) (Swiss Ace) with Eva Dawn (NZ) (Burgundy) back in third.

"Nothing really got near enough to her to test her," Guy said.

"She did get a bit lost in the home straight I thought, she was just waiting on them a little bit. But she was brave and kept up her gallop and got the job done."

Astor will now be set for the Gr.3 Gold Trail Stakes at Hastings on September 23.

"We will probably find another soft run for her and then come back to Hastings for the Gold Trail," Guy said.

"Whether we just take her to a trial leading into the Gold Trail or whether I give her a soft run up around home somewhere we'll just see what fits in the best."

Princess Maryanne (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Debut success rewards patience

Waiting tactics with the strapping mare

Princess Maryanne (NZ) (Darci Brahma) were rewarded when she posted a runaway debut victory at Hastings on Thursday.

Trained by Lisa Latta for Lincoln Farms, the four-year-old daughter of Darci Brahma won both of her trials this preparation before cantering home in the Carrfields Livestock 1200.

"I had the opportunity to ride her at the trials and she's a big, strong mare with a good turn of foot," successful rider Leah Hemi said.

Victory aboard Princess Maryanne was Hemi's 40th for the season and equalled her best ever tally achieved in 2015-16.

The Shackler (NZ) (Istidaad)

Hurdler overcomes late mistakes to complete hat-trick

Dashing jumper The Shackler (NZ) (Istidaad) was his own worst enemy at Hastings, but he was nimble enough to get himself out of trouble to post a memorable home track victory.

The rising 11-year-old continued his career-best form to triumph in the Anuka Smoker Wellington Hurdles, rescheduled to Hawke's Bay after the abandonment of last Saturday's Trentham meeting.

As is his custom, The Shackler made all the running and after putting the pressure on 1000 metres from home he shook off his closest chaser to be out on his own into the straight. Full story here.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi)

Baker promises to be a spring force to be reckoned with Record-setting trainer Murray Baker is marshalling his most formidable troops for an all-out spring assault in Melbourne.

The Cambridge horseman posted his 20th Group One victory across the Tasman – more than any other New Zealand-based trainer – in the autumn when Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) coasted away with the ATC Oaks.

And now, Makfi's powerhouse daughter is one of three Group One-winning contenders that Baker has in line to contest the Caulfield Cup.

Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) (ATC Derby) and Lizzie l'Amour (NZ) (Zabeel) (New Zealand Stakes) are also in the mix, and an outstanding stable foursome is completed by the Gr.3 Ethereal Stakes winner and Gr.1 VRC Oaks placegetter Eleonora (NZ) (Makfi). Full story here.

Grylls ready for new Singapore challenge

New Zealand jockey Craig Grylls has been well-grounded for his introduction to Singapore racing.

His father Gary rode at the old Bukit Timah course in the late 1980s and he has been one of the push factors toward this current move to a new hunting ground.

"I wasn't born when my Dad rode here, but he's told me all about the place and has always encouraged me to strive to get more riding experience in a different racing jurisdiction, and Singapore was one of them," Grylls told the Singapore Turf Club.

Showmup back in stable

Southern stakes winner Showmup (NZ) (Showcasing) is back in work with her Ascot Park trainer Sally McKay.

"She's doing well and we'll be targeting the Cup meeting at Riccarton with her," she said.

Showmup's main aim is likely to be the

Showmup (NZ) (Showcasing)

Gr.3 Valachi Downs Canterbury Breeders' Stakes.

The Showcasing filly was successful in this season's Listed New Zealand Bloodstock Airfreight Stakes and she also earned black type placings in the Gore and Dunedin Guineas and the New Zealand Bloodstock Warstep Stakes.

Alibi (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Jumbo Jet next target for Alibi

Alibi (NZ) (Darci Brahma), the winner of two legs of the Singapore Four-Year-old Challenge, has pulled up well after running fourth in the Singapore Derby, according to his trainer Michael Clements.

The Darci Brahma entire previously won the Stewards' Cup (1400m) and Patron's Bowl (1600m) before running a brave fourth in the Derby to fellow New Zealand-bred Infantry (NZ) (Tavistock).

"I am really happy with the way that Alibi went in the Derby last Sunday," Clements said. "His run was a great effort, but the 2000m is probably a bit too far for him at this stage.

"He's had a great campaign and is having a short break at the moment. He'll be resuming in the (Singapore) Jumbo Jet Trophy which will be run over 1400m in September."

Good times rolling for Awapuni conditioner

Gary Vile is enjoying a rewarding season having posted a personal best tally on the stakes front.

"We've had five individual black type winners so it's been a really good time for us," the Awapuni trainer said.

They include the now-retired Miss Appleton (NZ) (Align) (Gr.2 Manawatu Challenge Stakes), Jacksstar (NZ) (Zed) (Gr.3 Manawatu Cup), Rock On (NZ) (Road To Rock) (Listed New Zealand St Leger), Hard Merchandize (NZ) (Burgundy) (Listed Castletown Stakes) and Slimline (NZ) (Castledale) (Listed Manawatu Anzac 1600).

El Pescado (NZ) (El Hermano)

Owners hoping move rejuvenates Group One galloper

Frank and Faye Drummond are banking on a change of environment to get their Group One performer El Pescado (NZ) (El Hermano) back to his best.

The Waikato breeder-owners, who stand his sire El Hermano at their Cheval Stud, have moved last year's Makfi Challenge Stakes runner-up from Stuart Manning's Tauranga stable to Opaki trainer Polly Macdonald.

"The horse has gone off and he's just not racing to what we know he is capable of," Frank Drummond said. Full story here

High Quality (NZ) (Handsome Ransom)

Patience way to go with promising galloper

Group One-winning trainer Geoff Haigh isn't in any rush with his progressive four-year-old High Quality (NZ) (Handsome Ransom).

"I'll just take him through his classes quietly and as he matures he'll hopefully step up and make it in the top grade," the Levin-based horseman said.

"He's game and he really tries hard so he's going the right way." Full story here

Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands)

Filly rated up with the very best

Melody Belle's (NZ) (Commands) deeds this season have placed her in rarefied company.

The Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards'-trained daughter of Commands enjoyed an outstanding campaign that netted her the Gr.1 Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes, the Karaka Million and the Gr.2 Sires' Produce Stakes in Brisbane.

Her overall record stands at four wins and a placing from seven starts with $865,444 in prize money.

"It's not easy to compare horses and we've had champion two-year-olds Darci Brahma, Maroofity, Warhorse and War Affair, but the way Melody Belle won those three big races said to me that in thirty years of buying, syndicating, and training horses that she's as good a two-year-old as we've ever had," Te Akau principal Ellis said. Full story here

La (Bella) Diosa (NZ) (So You Think)

Group One winner staying close to home

Leading southern filly La Diosa (NZ) (So You Think) will be sparingly raced when she returns to competition in the new term.

The Gr.1 New Zealand 1000 Guineas winner has begun her build-up toward a four-year-old campaign after a break following mixed results from her Sydney campaign.

"She's been back for three weeks and she's ticking over nicely," said Matt Brown, who trains the daughter of So You Think with his wife Mandy. Full story here

Rangipo (Stryker)

Pike aiming to scoop the carnival pool

Cambridge trainer Tony Pike is plotting a triple Group One dip into the central districts early next season.

He has his sights set on the Hawke's Bay carnival with his New Zealand Derby winner Rangipo (Stryker), who is likely to be supported by a number of younger stablemates.

"We'll be entering Rangipo for all three of the Group Ones at Hastings," Pike said. Full story here

Danis kicking goals in NZ

Darren Danis is starting to hit his straps in the New Zealand apprentice jockey ranks after what was a frustrating introduction to his riding career for the Malaysian jockey.

The son of former jockey Luke Danis credits his father for his introduction to racing, but said he was a late bloomer to the sport despite his father's profession.

"I never really got a chance to watch Dad ride at the races when I was a child," Danis said. Full story here.

Kalychurun enjoying stint at home

Kevin Kalychurun will be absent from the South Island jockey ranks for a number of weeks.

The 31-year-old has recently been licensed in his native Mauritius and he will be riding there until September.

Kalychurun, who has a career tally of 59 New Zealand winners, enjoyed his first black type success this season when he won the Listed New Zealand Bloodstock Airfreight Stakes at Riccarton aboard Showemup (NZ) (Showcasing).

Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel)

Group winner making right moves

Matamata Breeders' Stakes winner Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel) will trial next month in preparation for her three-year-old debut.

"We're extremely pleased with her at this early stage of her preparation," said Stephen Autridge, who trains with Jamie Richards.

"She's a lot stronger, grown a touch and mentally she has matured for the spell, because at two she could be on the toe and a bit of a tart around the stables and at the track.

"This time in she's a lot better in all respects and we can only hope that it transpires into her race performances as a three-year-old."

Autridge said Gold Fever is scheduled to trial at Te Rapa on August 15 with her first stakes assignment the Gr.3 Hawke's Bay Breeders' Gold Trail Stakes at Hastings on September 23.
