FINALIST LINE-UP EMPHASISES 3YO QUALITY

Bonneval is just one of the major contenders announced as a finalist for the Champion Three-Year-Old category at the upcoming New Thoroughbred Horse Of The Year Awards.

The strength of the current three-year-old crop is emphasised in the first release of finalists for the 2016-17 New Zealand Thoroughbred Horse of the Year Awards.

New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing has announced the finalists for five of the six racehorse categories, with the finalists for the Jumper of the Year to be finalised later in the month.

The five finalists for Three-Year-Old of the Year have all been classic winners this season and Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) and Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) were Group One winners on both sides of the Tasman.

Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) was a dual Group One placegetter in New Zealand and a Group One and Group Two winner in Australia, while La Diosa (NZ) (So You Think) was a Group One winner in New Zealand and Group Two winner in Australia.

BUSY WEEKEND FOR MOSELEY

Terry Moseley has a simple motto to explain his eagerness to head north and ride at Ruakaka on Saturday: "You can't ride winners sitting at home."

The Canterbury jockey has a busy couple of days in store, with nine rides at Ashburton today before trekking north to ride five at Ruakaka on Saturday, but the trip north is one he has done successfully in the past.

He rode at Ruakaka at the late August meeting in 2015 and returned home a winner after guiding the Kenny and Lisa Rae-trained Royal Raine (NZ) (Thorn Park) to success in a maiden sprint.

It is the Rae family that is again behind Moseley's northern excursion this weekend, the stable providing the 1000-club member jockey with five rides.

"With a big book at Ashburton and then five at Ruakaka, it makes for a busy weekend, but it will be good to get up there. I haven't been up there for a while," Moseley said.

"At first glance, I've got some handy sorts to ride again. I'm on Kaharau and some form maidens - it's a nice book of rides."

Moseley has formed a formidable partnership with Kaharau (NZ) (Ad Valorem), having ridden the Ad Valorem five-year-old gelding 12 times for four wins and four placings, among those wins last year's Listed Dunedin Gold Cup.

Waikato jockey Samantha Collett was aboard Kaharau for his fresh-up win at Ruakaka, but has opted to ride at Awapuni

Terry Moseley will have a busy 24 hours as he treks to Ashburton for 9 rides today and then on to Ruakaka for racing there on Saturday on Saturday to continue her association with Dolcetto (NZ) (Per Incanto), making way for Moseley to ride in Saturday's Northpine Waipu Cup (1600m).

"I've won four on him and it will good to get back on him on Saturday. It wasn't a big or strong field he beat last time, but he's on the comeback trail after a break from racing over 32000m so to return like he did was very encouraging," Moseley said.

"I haven't done my homework yet but at first glance it seems a similar sort of field, in terms of size and depth, so hopefully he can go as well again."

Joining Moseley on the trip north is premiership-leading jockey Chris Johnson, who has a full book of 10 rides at Ashburton and eight rides at Ruakaka.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Eminent (Frankel)

Jockey change for Eminent

Brazilian jockey Silvestre de Sousa will ride the Sir Peter Vela-owned Eminent (Frankel) in the Gr.1 Eclipse Stakes at Sandown on Saturday.

Reigning champion jockey Jim Crowley has ridden the Frankel colt in all four of his appearances to date, including a last-start fourth in the Gr.1 English Derby at Epsom.

"We don't know for sure whether Jim would be available as obviously he is committed to riding for Sheikh Hamdan (Al Maktoum) and we wanted to have some certainty," trainer Martyn Meade said.

"I discussed it with the owner and we decided that a change might be the way to go."

Moroney looking to add to Winter Championship tally

Mike Moroney will be represented by Rhythm To Spare (NZ) (Pins) in the Listed Winter Championship Series Final (1600m) at Flemington as the trainer bids to win the race for a fourth time.

Moroney won in the late 1990s with Happy Star (NZ) (Fiesta Star) and Ben's Rocket (NZ) (Virginia Privateer) with The Big Ask (NZ) (Bigstone) his most recent winner in 2002.

Rhythm To Spare contested only one heat, his last start at Moonee Valley, where he was held up at crucial stages and finished unplaced.

"If he had held the lead or had a bit more luck he could quite easily have won," Moroney said.

"I know he's getting a bit older but he seems to be going as well as he's ever gone."

Rhythm To Spare has drawn barrier nine with Luke Currie to ride.

Count returns in Winter Championship

Gr.3 Hobart Cup (2400m) winner Count Da Vinci (NZ) (Faltaat), who was successful in six of his eight starts for trainer Scott

Brunton, resumes in tomorrow's Listed Winter Championship Final (1600m) at Flemington.

The former New Zealand-trained rising seven-year-old gelding won his first five starts for Brunton before finishing second over 2200 metres at Launceston in January.

He then won the Hobart Cup in February before finishing second in the Gr.3 Launceston Cup (2400m).

Count Da Vinci has won three Hobart barrier trials this preparation and will be ridden by Anthony Darmanin from barrier four on Saturday.

Alibi (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Alibi looking for historic win

Glen Boss will partner Alibi (NZ) (Darci Brahma) in Sunday's Emirates Singapore Derby, attempting to make a historic clean-sweep of the Four-Year-Old Challenge Series.

The Michael Clements trained Alibi has won the first two legs, the Steward's Cup (1400m) and the Patron's Bowl (1600m), though there are doubts if the son of Darci Brahma can step up to the 2000m of the final test.

"I still think the 2000m is a query, but he came through the run (Patron's Bowl) so well that I changed my mind about him not going to the Derby," Boss said.

"He's an up-and-coming horse in a pretty commanding position right now. He's won both Legs and people tend to forget that.

"In the Patron's Bowl, he looked the winner for a big majority of the race. He's got such a will to win. The distance is a query but there are a lot of the other horses who are in the same boat."

"He's drawn a bit wide, but he's got to be in with a big chance anyway," said Clements after being allocated barrier 11.

"He will be looking to settle in with some cover, probably somewhere up behind the leaders.

"He is in the best form of his life. If he doesn't come through, we are still proud of what he's done."

William Wallace (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Kiwis team up at Doomben

Harry Bull has called on a fellow New Zealander to partner William Wallace (NZ) (Darci Brahma) at Doomben on Saturday.

The Hunterville trainer, who operates in partnership with his father Adrian, has booked Bridget Grylls for the ride in the Brett Whalley & Co Handicap.

"I think Bridget rode a couple of times for Dad about five years ago when she was an apprentice in New Zealand," Bull said.

Grylls began her apprenticeship at Awapuni with Lisa Latta and rode her first winner, Princess Lincoln (Lonhro), at Wanganui in June, 2012. She later transferred to Matamata trainers Ken and Bev Kelso.

Stakes focus for Kiwi-bred mare

Bjorn Baker has high hopes of the New Zealand-bred Your Way (NZ) (Thewayyouare) making her mark at stakes level this preparation.

The Warwick Farm trainer had the daughter of Thewayyouare and Fiorenza (NZ) (Stravinsky) in top form before The Championships, but illness halted her progress.

"I wanted to keep her going in the autumn, but she got a bit of a virus and we had to put her out," Baker said.

"She's coming back in good order and if she does everything well we may even consider hitting an early spring black-type race."

The winner of seven of her nine starts, Your Way will resume on her home track tomorrow when she lines up in the Schweppes Handicap.

"She's an exciting prospect," Baker said. "You don't get a record like hers without being a very genuine, capable horse."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Florence Jean (NZ) (Pins)

Trainer has reservations about Ruakaka

John Morell's last trip to Ruakaka with Florence Jean (NZ) (Pins) was a successful one, but he's not overly confident of a similar result on their return this weekend.

The Te Rapa horseman has the filly in Saturday's Tavistock Owners' Syndicate 2YO, her first appearance following an enforced break and he's uncertain about her first-up prospects.

"I haven't done a lot with her," Morell said. "She shows nothing at the track and there's really nothing to gallop her with here at Te Rapa." Full story here.

Stumblin In (NZ) (Makfi)

Trip the making of Waverley mare

Stumblin In's (NZ) (Makfi) current southern sojourn is proving to be a major confidence-boosting exercise for the mare and with financial benefits for her connections.

The Waverley galloper is unbeaten on the trip and she will shoot for a hat-trick of wins when she contests the Gary McCormick Transport & John McCormick Spraying 3 & 4YO at Ashburton today.

"She's going really well so we're pretty happy," part-owner and trainer Bill Thurlow said. Full story here

Moseley hoping for winning start

Terry Moseley believes his first ride will be his best at Ashburton.

He guided Standrews Masonic (NZ) (D'Cash) to victory at Oamaru last month and he's tipping the D'Cash four-year-old to go close again in the opening event, the Smallbone Limited Handicap, today.

Moseley will also team up with the Jack and Jo-Ann Gordon-trained Shaara (NZ) (Castledale) in the RD Petroleum Ashburton Winter Cup Trial.

"He's raced in a couple of open handicaps and gone well but he comes up against some pretty handy ones in that race and it will be a test for him but hopefully he can be a nice lightweight chance," he said.

Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj)

Melbourne carnival contender thriving

Te Akau's surprise three-year-old packet Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) has spelled exceptionally well ahead of a spring programme revolving around the Gr.1 Caulfield Cup.

The son of Iffraaj, who emerged from humble form beginnings to a headline act for trainers Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards, bulked up during his time away from his Matamata stable.

"I don't think I've seen a horse improve as much as he did," Autridge said. "He was battling away at the easier race meetings, Stratford and Te Teko, but as soon as we stepped him up over ground he found his niche and his confidence grew with it." Full story here

Trainer has high hopes for apprentice

Graeme Rogerson doesn't hide his regard for stable apprentice Ryan Elliot.

"I'll be very disappointed if he's not one of the top jockeys next season," he said.

Elliot rode his 39th winner of the season at Matamata on Wednesday when he was successful aboard Mutechi (NZ) (Swiss Ace) in the Duncan & Ebbett 1200.

"That was a great ride by Ryan, he's just gone to another level," said Rogerson, who trains with his wife Debbie.

A daughter of Swiss Ace, Mutechi boasted a strong form line having finished runner-up at Rotorua last week behind her stablemate

Ryan Elliot

Malambo (Duelled), who won again at Te Rapa three days later.

Danielle Johnson

Bold showing from Johnson

Danielle Johnson has done her country proud at the Lady Jockeys' Thoroughbred World Championships in Sweden.

The Cambridge-based 26-year-old finished third in the series after enjoying a victory in the first of the five races at Bro Park, near Stockholm.

The event was won by the French representative Maryline Eon.

Karaka Million meeting confirmed

The Auckland Racing Club in conjunction with New Zealand Bloodstock has confirmed the six race programme for the Karaka Million twilight meeting on Saturday, January 27, 2018.

"The ARC and NZB are thrilled with the programme for the Karaka Million twilight meeting, which includes two $1 million races plus four Group Races," ARC executive general manager of racing and operations Craig Baker said.

The meeting will feature the Karaka Million ($1,000,000), Karaka Million 3YO Classic ($1,000,000), Gr.2 Westbury Classic, Gr.3 City Of Auckland Cup, Gr.3 Concorde Handicap and the Gr.3 Mr Tiz Trophy.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"The night will be a great prelude to the 92nd National Yearling Sales Series, which commences on Sunday, January 28, 2018," Baker said.

Malih Al Basti

Al Basti Equiworld investment bolsters NZ racing

Al Basti Equiworld, the UAE's leading distributor of horse feeds, supplements and veterinary medicines, is to extend its support for racing in New Zealand.

That will include sponsorship of two feature classic races, the New Zealand 2000 Guineas and the New Zealand Oaks, with each event to carry an extra $100,000 in prize money.

In a three-year agreement, the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld NZ 2000 Guineas held at Riccarton Park in November and the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld NZ Oaks at Trentham in March will be run for $500,000 and $400,000 respectively. Full story here

Il Cavallo (Choisir)

Speedster pencilled in for Te Rapa

Talented sprinter Il Cavallo (Choisir) may return to action on Saturday week.

Stakes placed on both sides of the Tasman, the six-year-old finished third in an open 1000m heat at Te Teko on Tuesday.

"He was gelded last year and he's sound so we'll try him again," said Mark Fraser-Campin, who trains in partnership with his brother Chris Campin. "He's a very fast horse, but realistically he's going to take a couple of runs."

He was originally purchased for stud duties at Chequers Stud, but fertility issues cut short his stallion career.

Il Cavallo won five races under Peter Moody's guidance and was third in the Listed Norman Carlyon Stakes. His New Zealand black type credit came when he was narrowly beaten into second in the 2015 Listed Pegasus Stakes at Riccarton.

Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel)

Early stakes targets for youngster

Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel) will be chasing early black type honours in the new season.

"She's matured and getting through a little bit of work," said Stephen Autridge, who trains with Jamie Richards.

"She's acting as if she's grown up and after trialling on August 15 at Te Rapa, providing we're happy enough, she'll contest the early season fillies' races over 1200 metres."

Gold Fever has won three of her six starts, including the Gr.2 Matamata Breeders' Stakes and she ran third in the Gr.1 Diamond Stakes.

Duelled (Redoute's Choice)

Duelled's success changes Rogerson's mind

A trio of winners from the Graeme and Debbie Rogerson stable at Te Rapa on Saturday might ensure the Rogerson-owned stallion Duelled is staying put.

Placed in both the VRC Derby and the Spring Champion Stakes, Duelled has been standing at Rogerson's Dormello Stud, near Hamilton, since retiring from the racetrack.

The son of Redoute's Choice is the sire of Rogerson's impressive two-year-old winner Malambo (NZ), in addition to four-time winner Prodigal Son (NZ), who was successful in a Benchmark 65 grade event.

"I was going to sell Duelled, but I think I will keep him now. He owes me nothing," Rogerson said. "He can leave a two-year-old, he's had a Queensland Derby winner in Shootoff, through to successful jumpers, so he is very versatile.

"Malambo is a quality two-year-old and she will head toward the Ryder Stakes and we will look at the 1000 Guineas in the spring."

The veteran trainer also revealed that his grand-daughter Bailey Rogerson had applied for a trainers' license for the forthcoming season with a view to joining the Team Rogerson partnership.

"She's applied, but she's only 16 so we will see what happens now," Rogerson said. "She races horses, she trains them and she's really part of our place. It's a real team effort."

Stolen Dance (NZ) (Alamosa)

Stable change for Group One hopeful

Quality mare Stolen Dance (NZ) (Alamosa) will be chasing an elusive Group One victory from new quarters when she embarks on what is likely to be her final campaign.

The daughter of Alamosa has been ever the bridesmaid thus far at the top level and a broodmare career is beckoning the rising six-year-old.

"She's in work with us and we'll see how she goes, but she is likely to go to stud this spring," said Andrew Forsman, who is preparing Stolen Dance at Cambridge with Murray Baker.

"She has had a change of ownership with Gerald Shand buying out his partners." Full story here

NEWS IN BRIEF

Higher honours await progressive 3YO

Lisa Latta isn't anticipating Almo Street (NZ) (Alamosa) having any trouble making his way through the grades.

"He's a really nice horse with plenty of ability," the Awapuni trainer said.

Almo Street collected a win and a placing in four starts during his initial preparation through the spring and summer and at Hastings on Saturday he made an impressive return to racing.

The Alamosa three-year-old was a clear last out of the gates, but recovered well under a no panic ride from Jonathan Riddell to account for the Rating 65 sprinters. Full story here

Confidence in mare's first-up ability

Fraser Auret is relaxed about Aide Memoire (NZ) (Remind) chasing back to back Group One wins some eight months apart.

The Marton trainer has the lightly-raced five-year-old back in work after a lengthy spell following her breakthrough success at the top level in the Captain Cook Stakes last December.

Aide Memoire (NZ) (Remind)

"She did jar up after the race, not too bad but just a bit scratchy," he said. "We decided to tip her out and give her a really good break.

"She did about six weeks on the water walker and she's been back in the stable for a while now. She's doing well, I'm quite thrilled with her." Full story here

Group One performer back in business

Awapuni warhorse Authentic Paddy (NZ) (Howbaddouwantit) has returned to

Authentic Paddy (NZ) (Howbaddouwantit)

Lisa Latta's Awapuni yard to commence his quest for further top-flight honours.

"He's had a nice break and he's back in now and looking really good," she said.

Authentic Paddy's record features a victory in the Gr.3 Canterbury Gold Cup among his 10 wins and he also has Group One placings in the Herbie Dyke Stakes, Zabeel Classic (twice) and the Captain Cook Stakes (twice).

He has been a regular competitor at Hawke's Bay spring carnivals and will again head toward the Hastings festival.

NEW ZEALAND RACING
HALL OF FAME

Remembering our Hall Of Fame Heroes

Gloaming

Gloaming holds one of the greatest racing records in NZ history, more than 70 years after he ran his last race, the winning sequence of 19 which Gloaming shared with his great contemporary Desert Gold remains the New Zealand record.

By the end of his marvellous career, Gloaming had raced 67 times, winning on 57 occasions, placed second nine times – and taken no part in the only race in which he was unplaced.

Gloaming won the Chelmsford Stakes in Australia in debut by eight lengths. Next up he won the AJC Derby, then returned home to win both the NZ and Great Northern Derby as well, his feat of winning three Derby's unprecedented at that time.

His class thoroughly established, Gloaming was to cross and re-cross the Tasman no fewer than 15 times over the next four seasons.
