FORGOTTEN' WERTHER OUT TO CONTINUE MOORE'S PERFECT LION ROCK RECORD

Hong Kong superstar Werther makes his return to racing on Sunday

Trainer John Moore is hopeful that his “forgotten” stable star Werther (NZ) (Tavistock) can defy top-weight fresh in Sunday’s Gr.3 Lion Rock Trophy Handicap (1600m) with a trip to Japan all but confirmed for the former Horse of the Year.

The Lion Rock Trophy is one of Hong Kong’s newest features, having entered the calendar in 2016. Moore is the only winning trainer in the race’s brief history, taking the spoils with Rapper Dragon (Street Boss) in 2016 and Booming Delight (Fastnet Rock) last year.

“Hopefully, it can be another successful Lion Rock Trophy with Werther,” Moore said. “It seems like he’s the forgotten horse in town these days and I really don’t think he should be forgotten on Sunday. He might have to give away 10-plus pounds to most of the field but he will just keep hitting the line first-up at the mile. Don’t make a mistake, he’s going in with a solid chance of winning this, especially from a good gate.”

Werther has not raced since the Gr.1 Citi Hong Kong Gold

Cup (2000m), when he appeared certain to race past the Tony Cruz-trained Time Warp (Archipenko) only to falter in the final strides and finish a half-length second. His time that day of 2m 00.03s would have been enough to lower Jim And Tonic's (Double Bed) 19-year course record on its own, but in producing such an effort, the Tavistock six-year-old bled from both nostrils and incurred an automatic three-month ban from racing.

"The comeback of Werther is sure to be one of the stories of the race," Moore said. "He is one of Hong Kong's top three beyond a mile along with Time Warp and Pakistan Star, and maybe he is still the best here. I think, if he'd been right, he would have won the Gold Cup and beaten Time Warp, while he is one-all with Pakistan Star and neither has raced the other when they've been at the top of their game.

"So even though it's a trip short of his best, I think on class alone he's a squeak."

Werther has been brought along slowly by Moore. He has been given two trials over 1200m on the Sha Tin dirt with new raceday rider Douglas Whyte in the saddle, catching the eye in flashing home for third in his most recent hit out on 25 May.

"He's back on track," Moore said. "He is really working well and his trial was great the other day. He's done everything right, his weight is spot on, he's sound, my French riding boy reports that he is coming along nicely so I'm very happy. A good gate (three) is the cherry on top, he should be able to lay up just off the speed.

"We're taking the blinkers off and putting the hood on him for the first time. We want to make sure, fresh, that he doesn't get too keen. It means that Douglas will probably have to nuzzle him along a little bit, but I think that's better than racing too fiercely coming off the bleed."

The three-month ban meant that Werther missed the Gr.1 Audemars Piguet QEII Cup (2000m), a race he won in 2016 and placed in last year, as well as the Gr.1 Standard Chartered Champions & Cup (2400m), which he won in a canter 12 months ago.

"You want him to be in those big races because you'd know he would be competitive, so it was disappointing," Moore said. "He only has six or seven runs a season so it did throw a spanner in the mix and it caught me off-guard. Sometimes, though, a break can be a blessing – look at Pakistan Star's form now. For us, it's opened up a door that we probably wouldn't have considered otherwise."

That door is the Gr.1 Takarazuka Kinen, one of Japan's premier races and one of two features considered an "all-star" race. The 2200m contest will be run at Osaka's Hanshin racecourse on 24 June.

"It's all been booked," Moore said. "We'll wait and see how he runs on Sunday and, more importantly, he will be scoped afterwards. He's been clean though after his trials and serious gallops this time in so as long as there is no bleed, he'll head to Osaka on the 12th."

RAIN IDEAL FOR KIWI STAYER

Megablast may get the wet track he needs when he races at the Sunshine Coast on Saturday

Nigel Tiley is hoping the Sunshine Coast doesn't live up to its name this weekend.

The Pukekohe Park trainer will produce Megablast (NZ) (Shinko King) there for the second appearance of his Queensland campaign on Saturday when he fronts up in the Gr.2 P. J. O'Shea Stakes (2200m).

"He probably needs give in the ground from where he has got to in the handicap," Tiley said.

"There's been a fair bit of rain here so if we get a wet track on Saturday that will suit him."

Megablast sealed his trip with a first-up victory in the Gr.2 Easter Handicap (1600m) and then finished sixth in the Gr.3 Chairman's Handicap (2000m) at Doomben, a race won by the longshot Anton En Avant (Dubawi).

Third was the Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young-trained New Zealand-bred stayer Rising Red (NZ) (Redwood), who won the Gr.2 Premier's Cup (2200m) last Saturday.

Megablast has come through his last race in tip-top order and he will be ridden by Damian Browne.

"It's definitely a step up in grade, but it's our best shot and the horse looks great," Tiley said. "He's right where I want him."

Meanwhile, stablemate The Ice Knight (NZ) (Iffraaj) finished runner-up over 1200m at the Sunshine Coast last Sunday.

"I'll probably look at a 1400m three-year-old race for him on the Gold Coast on June 9," Tiley said.

"If he is competitive I'll set him for the Sunshine Coast Guineas – the Queensland Guineas is probably going to be a bit too rich for him."

The Ice Knight has won twice from 11 appearances and went to Australia off the back of creditable run for sixth in the Gr.3 Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (1200m).

WANGANUI CONDITIONS THE QUERY FOR BAKER-FORSMAN PAIR

A drying Wanganui track and the prospect of a holding surface is Cambridge trainer Andrew Forsman's main reservation with talented mare Tomelilla (NZ) (Tavistock) as she prepares for a shot at successive stakes wins on Saturday.

Fine weather has seen the Wanganui track improve to a heavy 10 rating and further improvement seems likely with no rain forecast before Saturday's Listed Ag Challenge Stakes (1590m).

Tomelilla secured her first stakes win in the Gr.3 Rotorua Stakes (1400m) three weeks ago on a testing heavy 11 track and Forsman reported she had trained on well since.

"She's going great and she's really good in herself," said Forsman, who trains in partnership with Hall of Famer Murray Baker.

"The only worry is the different track conditions and how she copes with that. We've taken horses to Wanganui before thinking they would handle it and came away disappointed.

"At Rotorua, there was rain on the day and it was a loose, heavy track but it's not going to be like that at Wanganui. She's very well, but that's the unknown factor."

A winner of six of her 21 starts, Tavistock filly Tomelilla has won three times at 1600m and Forsman expected the extra distance to suit his mare on Saturday.

"She's been a slow-maturing mare up to now and you'd never know how she'd come through from race to race, but she's much stronger this preparation and she's holding her form really well," he said.

Forsman said no plans for Tomelilla had been made for the rest of the winter.

Accompanying Tomelilla south are exciting two-year-old Qiji Express (NZ) (Shamexpress), who tackles the Listed John Turkington Forestry Castletown Stakes (1200m), and last-start Rotorua runner-up Ambitious Winner (NZ) (Nadeem).

"Qiji Express was impressive last start, but that was a dead track and he faces a wetter track on Saturday," Forsman said.

"It's just a matter of him jumping and putting himself right there on speed and then hopefully getting through the ground. Even if he can run third, it's a black-type placing and hopefully that can set him up for the spring.

"We think he's a Guineas horse for next season so this will probably be his lot for the season because he has to have a break sometime.

"A lot of what we do with him will be determined by how he goes on Saturday and we'll get an idea of where to race him because a lot of those Guineas lead-up races are run on rain-affected tracks."

- NZ Racing Desk.

Tomelilla will strive for successive stakes victories at Wanganui tomorrow

NEWS IN BRIEF

Thunder Down Under (Street Sense)

Well-bred stakes winner to stud

Group performer Thunder Down Under (Street Sense) is preparing for the second stage of his career.

"He's been retired, he damaged the cartilage in his feet and we're going to stand him at stud at our place at Te Kowhai," part-owner and trainer Stephen Ralph said.

"We've been successful at this before and Dad (John) stood Danseur Etoile and Te Puninga, so we know what we're doing. Full story here

El Doute (Redoute's Choice)

El Doute taking owner to another level

Canterbury vet Peter Scholes is expanding his thoroughbred involvement.

He was the major shareholder in the well-related stakes performer El Doute (Redoute's Choice) during the entire's racing days and this season will be standing the son of Redoute's Choice at stud at his Leithfield Lodge operation in North Amberley.

Scholes is well-known in racing circles through his veterinary work.

"I graduated in Australia in 1970 and worked in England and the United States before I started the Canterbury Equine Clinic," he said. Full story here

Wet track to help NZ mare in Moreton Cup

A likely soft track rating is expected to help

Aide Memoire (NZ) (Remind)

former New Zealand mare Aide Memoire (NZ) (Remind) return to her best in the Gr.2 Moreton Cup (1200m) at the Sunshine Coast.

The Sunshine Coast is one of the few places in southeast Queensland to have had significant rain in the past two months.

It was rated in the heavy range on Wednesday and is likely to be soft at best on Saturday.

Aide Memoire has failed to run a place in four starts since joining the Kris Lees stable at Newcastle.

The six-year-old mare is a noted wet-track horse having won six races on soft or heavy going with a further nine minor placings.

She won the 2016 Gr.1 Captain Cook Stakes (1600m) at Trentham on a bog track.

Lees said he was looking for a wet track so the mare could show her best on Saturday.

"It was an unusually dry autumn in Sydney. She was disadvantaged because she does need a wet track and hopefully we get that on Saturday," Lees said.

Forsman plumps for Peaceful

Cambridge trainer Andrew Forsman is leaning towards Savabeel filly Peaceful (NZ) as the stable's top seed for Sunday's Listed Ssanyong Auckland Futurity Stakes (1400m) at Te Rapa.

Forsman and training partner Murray Baker will produce Peaceful and stablemate Ole Ole (NZ) (Makfi) in the two-year-old feature that has been supplemented to the Auckland Racing Club meeting after the abandonment of last Saturday's Pukekohe programme.

"Ole Ole really needed the race to be run at Pukekohe last week on the testing track. It will be a completely different race at Te Rapa on a better surface," Forsman said.

"He'll jump out and race on speed and he won't be out of it, but with the better track, Peaceful is probably our better chance. She ran really well in stakes company at Riccarton last time and we freshened her with races like this in mind. She's taken no harm from the trip away."

Kok launches sole Assault on 2YO series

Autumn Assault (NZ) (Rock 'n' Pop) makes his Kranji debut in the second Leg of the Singapore Golden Horseshoe series this Sunday.

Trainer David Kok said that Autumn Assault – his only two-year-old this year – was bought with the juvenile series in mind from the 2017 New Zealand Bloodstock Ready To Run draft of Cypress Point Stables.

"He's the only two-year-old I have. His two trials have been good and he's ready to have his first run," Kok said.

"He was not ready at the first Leg and I set him for the second Leg instead.

"Obviously, we will be going for the last Leg, but let's see how he goes in the earlier Legs first."

The fifth and final Leg is the Golden Horseshoe (1200m) to be run on July 13.

No Need (NZ) (No Excuse Needed)

No Need back in business

Wet track specialist No Need (NZ) (No Excuse Needed) will kick off a new campaign at the Auckland meeting at Te Rapa on Sunday.

"He won very well at the trials and he should go well fresh-up over 1200m," trainer Lee Somervell said.

"He'll run out of his grade, but he will get in with a light weight."

An open 935m heat winner at Cambridge earlier this month, all five of No Need's career successes have come on heavy tracks.

The son of No Excuse Needed will be ridden by Matt Cameron in the Celebrating Melt Handicap (1200m).

Trainer playing guessing game with new recruit

Michael Daly is certain Ballybay (NZ) (Sandtrap) will give a good sight at the Phar Lap Raceway today, but he's unsure for how long.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ballybay (NZ) (Sandtrap)

The Washdyke trainer has recently taken charge of the former North Island sprinter and will know a lot more about the Sandtrap gelding after his southern debut in the Supreme Equine Feeds Handicap (1200m).

"He's an unusual horse – he's won seven races and they've all been over 1000m," Daly said. "The 1200m is the question mark." Full story here

Shimmer And Shine (NZ) (Showcasing)

Millard's three-year-old Shines

Tony Millard prepared a race-to-race double at Sha Tin on Wednesday night, and he could hardly have found two different horses to fill that brace in veteran Cloud Nine (Tapit) and emerging talent Shimmer And Shine (NZ) (Showcasing).

New Zealand-bred Shimmer And Shine, ridden by Schofield, backed up a win on turf over the Sha Tin 1000m earlier this month by adding a dirt victory at his maiden attempt at the surface in the first section of the Class 4 Hap Mun Bay Handicap (1200m). Millard believes that the Showcasing three-year-old could be one of a number of young horses to fly the stable banner in the coming years.

"I think this could be a special horse," Millard said. "He's certainly come along the right way and I always thought that we could have an extra option with him in that he's versatile and could run on the dirt. The way he won tonight, though, he could be something special – he did it three-wide, no cover, and he still had a bit at the end. It was a very gutsy win.

"I think we will put him away now and we will look at next season."

Velveteen (NZ) (Makfi)

Tyro trainer strikes early

Claire Simpson hasn't taken long to open her training account.

The Byerley Park-based horsewoman's first representative Velveteen (NZ) (Makfi) finished second at Matamata earlier this month and they returned there on Wednesday to win the New Zealand Bloodstock Insurance Series Race (1600m).

It was a deserved victory for the Cameron Lammas-ridden Makfi mare, whose only other two appearances resulted in second placings from Shaune Ritchie's Cambridge stable.

Waddell taking time out

Talented Cambridge jockey Jason Waddell won't be riding again until the new season.

Jason Waddell with Vin De Dance

He is taking an extended break following the loss of his mother, which was subsequently compounded by his own ill-health.

"I've been struggling to grieve for my Mum and I had health issues and I wasn't too good after the Australian Derby," he said.

Full story here

Live And Free (NZ) (Savabeel)

O'Shea comes up trumps with another Savabeel

Leading Gr.1 Queensland Derby (2200m) contender Live And Free (NZ) (Savabeel) is another example of John O'Shea's eye for an opportunity with a New Zealand-bred son of Savabeel.

The Randwick trainer is a long-time fan of the Waikato Stud stallion and moved quickly to secure his current rising star for clients of his Sydney stable.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"I got in contact with Bruce Perry, who managed the horse, to see if we could buy him," O'Shea said. Full story here

Mazzuro (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle)

Mazzuro to end campaign at Flemington

New Zealand three-year-old Mazzuro (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) will make one more appearance in Victoria before heading home.

The connections' decision to send the son of Rip Van Winkle across the Tasman has proved a masterstroke with the chestnut now the winner of two of his three Australian starts.

Mazzuro finished runner-up in a maiden at Moe before he was successful over 2200m at Geelong and at Sandown on Saturday he won a A$120,000 three-year-old handicap (2100m). Full story here

Hard Merchandize (NZ) (Burgundy)

Guineas winner set for Foxbridge

Hard Merchandize (NZ) (Burgundy) will head north to Te Rapa early in the new season in a bid to double his Group Two winning tally.

"He's back in the stable and not far off having a gallop," trainer Gary Vile said. "We'll keep him ticking over and head toward the Foxbridge Plate."

Winner of the Listed Castletown Stakes (1200m) at two, Hard Merchandize returned this season to win the Gr.2 Hawke's Bay Guineas (1400m) and finished third in the Gr.2 Sarten Memorial (1400m).

The son of Burgundy was sent for a spell after a respectable seventh in the Listed Karaka Million 3YO Classic (1600m).

"He hasn't done anything wrong and he's definitely grown and strengthened, he's the sort of horse whose better off in the stable," Vile said.

Doiknowyou (NZ) (Keeper)

Stayer master of his own destiny

Doiknowyou's (NZ) (Kashani) next two starts will determine the Group performer's winter path.

"We'll probably head to Wanganui this Saturday and then to Tauranga for the Kiwifruit Cup and decide where we go after that," trainer Ben Ropiha said.

"Christchurch is on the cards again, and the Taumarunui Cup is another option." Full story here

Trainers following proven process with import

Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott are following a path with Giovanni Canaletto (Galileo) that has previously earned the stable Group One honours.

The Matamata trainers are hoping to emulate their 2016 efforts with another Irish-bred galloper in Willie Cazals (Teofilo), who came back from serious injury to win the Livamol Classic (2040m).

Like Giovanni Canaletto, he enjoyed a successful European and Hong Kong career before bowing a tendon and a having lengthy period of recovery in New Zealand. Full story here

Winter credentials looking good

Shaune Ritchie has good reason to think his promising staying mare Princess El Jay (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) can make further progress this winter.

"She's by Rip Van Winkle and a half-sister to Bee Tee Junior so she's got the pedigree to suggest she'll handle the tracks," the Cambridge trainer said.

"She'll go to Te Rapa next. It will be six weeks between runs, but she's not a mare that carries a lot of condition."

Princess El Jay has won three of her 14 starts while sibling Bee Tee Junior (NZ) (Nom Du Jeu) has won eight and will be ready to resume in late July.

"He had a badly bruised heel after the New Zealand Cup," Ritchie said. "The track was too firm for him down there."

"That's the second time we've had a crack at the race with him, the first time he was a bit immature so I don't think we'll be going down that avenue again."

Trainer makes favourable comparison

Addictive Habit (NZ) (Colombia) was an outstanding servant for Lee Somervell and the Cambridge trainer has hopes of a current member of his stable scaling similar heights.

The now-retired son of Colombia won 11 of his 39 starts, including the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m), two editions of the Gr.2 Coupland's Bakeries Mile (1600m) and the Gr.2 Foxbridge Plate (1200m).

He was also successful in the Listed Southbank Stakes (1800m) at the Gold Coast.

Progressive four-year-old One Prize One Goal (NZ) (Ekraar), a last-start winner, has earned a favourable comparison with Addictive Habit.

"I think he can develop into an open grade horse, if not a Group One winner," Somervell said. "For me, he can take over from Addictive Habit."

One Prize One Goal was put aside after success at Hawke's Bay last month with the intention of a return later this year.

"All going well, he'll be going to the Hastings carnival," Somervell said. "The only chink in his armour is going right-handed, but I think I can get him to go that way later on."

Collett bound for Japan

Samantha Collett will be following in family footsteps after accepting an invite to represent New Zealand in the Japan Racing Association's World Allstars Jockeys' Series in August.

The daughter of former successful jockey Jim Collett and Trudy Thornton, who is still riding, has enjoyed an outstanding season and with 111 winners on the board this season she holds a 23-win margin on Chris Johnson in the race for the jockeys' premiership.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Samantha Collett

"It looked pretty exciting to me and after talking it over with Dad I was definitely happy to accept," Collett said.

"Dad rode in the series twice in the 1990s and he took my granddad with him on one trip. He'll be coming with me when we fly to Japan and the four-race series will take place on consecutive days at Saporro racecourse on August 25 and 26."

Plum Ascot ride for McDonald

New Zealand jockey James McDonald has been booked for a Group One ride at the upcoming Royal Ascot festival.

The Sydney-based jockey will be aboard the Charlie Hills-trained last-start winner Equilateral (Equiano) in the Commonwealth Cup (1200m).

"James is going to come over for Royal Ascot and maybe for a couple of days before

as well," Hills said.

"Equilateral is one he can ride and I'll see what else I can put him on, but if the word's out other trainers might want to use him as well.

"I think he's a world-class jockey who has a very cool head on him. We had a good bit of success together in the past – he won the Lennox Stakes on Dutch Connection in 2016 – and it'll be good to link up again. I think he's a great young talent."

China Horse Club digs deep for Diademe

Former top galloper Diademe (NZ) (Savabeel) has again made an impact in the sale ring.

The Savabeel mare, who has been served by Vancouver, was sold for A$1.7 million at the Gold Coast on Wednesday to the China Horse Club.

Diademe (NZ) (Savabeel)

Diademe won the Gr.1 New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (1600m) during her career with trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman and was subsequently sold for A$740,000. Her first foal by Fastnet Rock realised $1 million at Karaka earlier this year.

The powerful China Horse Club also went to A$680,000 to secure the former Danica Guy-trained Capella (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle).

The Rip Van Winkle mare won the Gr.2 Eight Carat Classic (1600m) and has been served by Snitzel.

The New Zealand-bred Fastnet Rock mare Gold And Diamond (NZ), who was unraced, was purchased by Yu Long Investments for A$800,000. She has been served by I Am Invincible.
