DRY TRACK TO HELP BLANCO CARA IN QUEENSLAND OAKS

Cape Blanco filly Blanco Cara will tackle the Gr. 1 Queensland Oaks at Doomben tomorrow

The prospect of a dry track has boosted the chances of Blanco Cara (NZ) (Cape Blanco) in the Gr.1 Queensland Oaks.

The switch of the race to Doomben means a distance reduction from 2400m to 2200m and fine weather in Brisbane has John Thompson hopeful he can be the trainer holding the Oaks trophy.

Blanco Cara finished midfield in the Gr.2 Adrian Knox on a heavy track during the Sydney autumn carnival and Thompson elected to miss the ATC Australian Oaks because of the prospect of another wet track.

Instead he set Blanco Cara for the Queensland Oaks and hoped for dry conditions.

Blanco Cara has already been to Queensland this winter, finishing fifth in the Gold Coast Bracelet on May 6.

DRY TRACK TO HELP BLANCO CARA IN QUEENSLAND OAKS

Thompson had then intended to run the filly in the traditional Oaks lead-up, the Doomben Roses, on May 20.

“She drew wide and there was a forecast for plenty of rain. She doesn’t like really wet tracks and as it turned out the track was heavy at Doomben,” Thompson said.

“So instead she ran in a race at Newcastle and got the job done with a win.”

Thompson thinks Blanco Cara is well up to a Group One race at this time of the year.

“Her run in the Bracelet was good and she had no luck. To finish as close as she did to the winner Dawn Wall was a nice effort,” he said.

“She has won up to 2300 metres so the distance of 2200 (metres) on Saturday will be no trouble.”

Blanco Cara, who is raced by one of Jamie Walter’s Proven Thoroughbreds syndicates, is by the Galileo stallion Cape Blanco who stands at Cambridge Stud and is gradually building up a reputation as a sire of stayers in Australasia.

LAXON TO RETURN TO NEW ZEALAND TO TRAIN

Training great Laurie Laxon is heading home to continue his career.

The New Zealand Racing Hall of Famer has dominated Singapore racing for the past 17 years, winning nine premierships and more than 1250 races at Kranji Racecourse, but has decided it's time to pull up stumps on the island nation.

He will return to his Maungatautari farm in Waikato, where Stephen Ramsay and Julia Ritchie are currently training, and prepare a team of 30 to 40 horses solely for Sir Peter Vela.

It will be the revival of a once formidable trainer-owner partnership that led to wins in races as important as the Hong Kong International Cup and with a long list of high quality performers, the like of Noble Heights (NZ) (Sir Tristram), Romanee Conti (NZ) (Sir Tristram) and Clear Rose (NZ) (Deputy Governor), that Laxon produced for Sir Peter and his late brother Philip.

"I'll probably be home by September and I'll train from my farm, just for Peter Vela," Laxon said from Singapore.

"I've been in Singapore 17 years and it was just time. I've had a good innings up here and enjoyed a really good income. I'm really proud of what I've been able to achieve here."

Laxon has won every feature race on the Singapore calendar at least once and some as many as six times, most notably winning the Kranji Mile and Chairman's Trophy five times each, four Singapore Guineas, Queen Elizabeth II Cups and Patron's Bowls and twice claiming the Singapore Derby and Singapore Gold Cup.

He has prepared the Singapore Horse of the Year on five occasions and was the first trainer to win 100 races in a season and the first trainer to win 1000 races there.

Laxon, who produced Empire Rose (NZ) (Sir Tristram) to win the 1988 Melbourne Cup, has yet to decide when his stable will close, but still has his eye on upcoming Singapore features and will continue to race horses there with other trainers after he returns to New Zealand.

"I haven't given them a finishing date yet. They asked me to stay, but the time has come for me to move on," Laxon said, adding that he was still hungry to train feature winners.

"Peter has got some lovely fillies to work with back home. I just want to train Group winners."

Ramsay and Ritchie will relocate to a new property owned by Sir Peter Vela and continue to train for the Pencarrow Stud owner as well.

Laurie Laxon will return home from a successful 17 year stint in Singapore later this year

NEWS IN BRIEF

Trainer Ben Currie chasing upset Oaks win

Trainer Ben Currie will be focused on Saturday's Doomben meeting when Isn't She Elegant (NZ) (Trusting) lines up in the Gr.1 Queensland Oaks.

Currie accepted with Isn't She Elegant in a A$50,000 Three-Year-Old Handicap at Ipswich on Wednesday but decided to raise the bar.

"She has won five races and not many three-year-old fillies have done that. She is suited at Doomben over 2200 metres and she will be up on the pace," Currie said.

"I've got an in-form Group One jockey in Damian Lane. I don't think she will be disgraced."

Currie has had a great winter with more than 20 winners since the start of April including five winners at Toowoomba, his home track, on May 27.

Isn't She Elegant was purchased for $30,000 from Rich Hill Stud's 2015 NZB Select Sale draft.

Splurge (NZ) (Savabeel)

Splurge hoping for redemption in Moreton Cup

Jamie Richards is still scratching his head about the last-start flop of sprinter Splurge (NZ) (Savabeel).

The Te Akau Racing co-trainer, who trains in partnership with Stephen Autridge, admits confidence levels have been dented heading into tomorrow's Gr.2 Moreton Cup (1200m) at Doomben.

Splurge won seven of his first 11 races in New Zealand and started the $3.60 favourite at his Australian debut in the Gr.3 BRC Sprint (1350m) on a heavy Doomben track on May 20.

But he was extremely disappointing, finishing ninth and beaten 11 lengths by Jungle Edge (Dubawi), and a post-race vet inspection did not reveal any problems.

Sportsbet have rated Splurge a $7.50 chance for Saturday's Moreton Cup but Richards is hopeful rather than confident about his winning chances.

"I am still scratching my head about what happened in his last run, he did get a couple of bumps at the 800m mark so the only thing I can think of is maybe he stopped trying after that," Richards said.

"But there were really no excuses, the scope found nothing amiss.

"His work has been good this week and I would like to see him jump cleanly this time and put himself in the race and get his mind on the job.

"But I am hopeful rather than confident."

Preferment (NZ) (Zabeel)

Preferment out for perfect farewell

A small field of six will contest Saturday's Gr.2 PJ O'Shea Stakes (2200m) at Doomben.

Chris Waller's four-time Group One winner Preferment (NZ) (Zabeel) has drawn gate two with Hugh Bowman aboard for the five-year-old Zabeel stallion's swansong start.

Preferment was a last-start fourth in the Gr.2 Hollindale Stakes (1800m) and will be chasing his first win since the Gr.1 The BMW (2400m) in March last year.

The New Zealand-bred Cylinder Beach (NZ) (Showcasing) has drawn barrier five for jockey Jim Byrne in the A$200,00 race.

Bonny O'Reilly (NZ) (O'Reilly)

Bonny O'Reilly steps up

Progressive Bjorn Baker-trained mare Bonny O'Reilly (NZ) (O'Reilly) is set to face 15 rivals in the Listed Helen Coughlan Stakes (1200m) at Doomben this weekend.

The four-year-old has won each of her last four starts, most recently in a Benchmark 85 (1200m) at Rosehill on 20 May, and she has drawn barrier two in a capacity field of 16 runners for Jason Collett.

"We've always had a good opinion of her and she's a bit stronger now. She's going really well but she's got to step up again on Saturday," Baker said.

Slimline (NZ) (Castledale)

Tactics the key for Slimline

A change in race tactics has worked wonders for the Gary Vile-trained mare Slimline (NZ) (Castledale) as she heads into tomorrow's Listed Ag Challenge Stakes at Wanganui.

The decision was made to race her off the pace after her impressive first-up win this campaign and the five-year-old Castledale mare has gone on to record a win and placing in her two subsequent starts.

"Danielle Johnson rode her back when she was fresh-up this year and she stormed home, so I've kept the same tactics and they seem to have worked with her," Vile said.

Stayer in the groove for Wanganui Cup

The prospect of a sticky track holds more concerns for Cambridge trainer Andrew Forsman than Maygrove's (Authorized) 60kg equal topweight when assessing the Group Two winner's chances in Saturday's Listed Wanganui Cup.

The Authorized six-year-old was sent out a $2.80 favourite in last month's Gr.3 Rotorua Cup (2300m) on a holding heavy track and Forsman was wary that similar conditions could blunt the grey stayer's potency in the Civics @ Cambridge Thoroughbred Lodge-sponsored event.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Maygrove (Authorized)

"He was disappointing at Rotorua. He would have appreciated a bit of rain and a looser track and that's the one concern going into Wanganui," said Forsman, who trains in partnership with Murray Baker. Full story here.

Cup start favoured for mare

Given the opportunity, Tiffany's (NZ) (High Chaparral) will chase a stakes credit at Wanganui.

The six-year-old mare is third on the ballot for the Listed Civics @ Cambridge Thoroughbred Lodge Wanganui Cup and guaranteed a start in the Rating 65 Balance Accountants 2040.

"If she gets a run she'll start in the cup," part-owner and trainer Tony Bambry said. "We want to get some black type with her."

By High Chaparral out of an Encosta de Lago mare, Tiffany's has won five races and is a half-sister to the Gr.2 Wellington Guineas winner Neo (NZ) (One Cool Cat).

War Affair (NZ) (O'Reilly)

War Affair Set For QEII

Trainer Bruce Marsh is quietly confident that War Affair (NZ) (O'Reilly) can run well in Sunday's Queen Elizabeth II Cup at Kranji (1800m).

The 2014 Singapore Horse Of The Year will be racing second up having dead-heated with Storm Troops (Orpen) in the Saas Fee Stakes (1400m) first up this season.

"He's pulled up great after the Saas Fee. I'm very happy with him going into the Queen Elizabeth II Cup," said Marsh.

"I would say he has maintained his condition, though. It's a quality field, but the fact he has only 58 kilograms on his back and is on level terms with the rest is a huge advantage."

Nunes On Well Done

Jockey Manoel Nunes is looking forward to being reunited with the David Kok-trained Well Done (NZ) (Falkirk) in the Queen Elizabeth II Cup (1800m) at Kranji on Sunday, having not ridden the five-year-old gelding since April last year.

Nunes has ridden the Singapore Derby winner (2000m) four times, winning once and finishing third on the other three occasions.

"I galloped him last Saturday and Wednesday. He is as usual very professional, he's a very smart horse and does whatever you ask him to do," said Nunes.

"I am very happy with the way he is going. David does not rush his horses, and he's done a great job to bring him back to this level of fitness."

Famous Seamus (NZ) (Elusive City)

Back to basics for Famous Seamus

Trelawney Stud graduate Famous Seamus (NZ) (Elusive City) is set for a welcome drop in grade when he contests the Octagonal Handicap (1400m) at Rosehill tomorrow.

The last time the veteran of 58 starts ran in a non-stakes race was on June 16, 2012 - almost five years ago to the day.

But perhaps more importantly, trainer Noel Mayfield-Smith has reverted to preparing Famous Seamus as a sprinter after briefly experimenting with him at a mile.

"In his older years, he's given us the indication that he might be looking for a mile but he hasn't really been effective," Mayfield-Smith said.

"He handled all the work well but it just wasn't for him.

"Since I've taken him back in distance and sharpened him up he's enjoying it a lot more."

Mayfield-Smith described Famous Seamus' Tuesday morning gallop as "enormous" but remains concerned about starting from a wide gate with the rail out seven metres.

"So we'll just have to hope for a bit of luck. The good thing is he's at his peak - being an older horse, once you get them fit you don't have to really work them."

Beyond Saturday, Mayfield-Smith has the Listed Civic Stakes (1400m) back at Rosehill in his sights, a race in which Famous Seamus finished runner-up in 2012.

Iggi Pop (NZ) (Savabeel)

Iggi Pop still hitting the right note

Like the ageing rocker of the same name, Iggi Pop (NZ) (Savabeel) shows no sign of hearing the fat lady sing.

The eight-year-old might be in the twilight of his career but could still clock up a half century of starts before retirement.

He will have start number 41 in Saturday's Eremin Handicap (1800m) at Rosehill.

"He's going well. He just had a canter round first-up and he'll probably need this run on Saturday," trainer Peter Robl said.

Providing Iggi Pop puts in a decent run at the weekend he will tackle the Kensei Handicap (2000m) at Rosehill on June 13 and ideally earn himself another trip to Queensland for the Listed Caloundra Cup at the Sunshine Coast in June.

Randwick-based Robl said Iggi Pop was among the most contented members of his team.

"He's very happy. His work's always good. He certainly seems to enjoy being around the stables and getting looked after," he said.

Robl said there were no plans to put Iggi Pop out to pasture on a permanent basis providing he stayed healthy and enthusiastic.

"There's no reason why a horse like him still wouldn't be competitive in an Albury, Wagga or Grafton Cup," he said.

Michael Coleman

Start Wondering (NZ) (Eighth Wonder)

Packing Pins (NZ) (Pins)

Coleman strikes to spark home town celebration

Michael Coleman's sense of timing was impeccable on Wednesday when the popular Matamata jockey reached a memorable racing milestone on his home turf.

The 47-year-old rode his 2000th New Zealand winner when he guided the Shaun and Emma Clotworthy-trained August Edition (NZ) (Alamosa) to victory in the New Zealand Bloodstock Insurance Pearl Series Race.

"It was nice to get it out of the way early in the day," Coleman said. Full story here.

Te Akau to pay late fees

Te Akau Racing will make late entry fees of $18,000 each to supplement pre-race favourite Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands) into Saturday week's Gr.1 J.J. Atkins and Shocking Luck (NZ) (Shocking) into the Gr.1 Queensland Derby.

Due to a communication misunderstanding, both horses were notable absentees on Wednesday morning from the lists of first acceptances for the Doomben features.

"We will submit late nominations for both horses who, providing all is well, are definite starters. Whilst we are very disappointed, Te Akau accepts full responsibility and has rectified the matter accordingly," they said.

Change of direction for Start Wondering

The Wanganui connections of Start Wondering (NZ) (Eighth Wonder) have been forced to change plans with their multiple Group One winner.

They had intended to run the six-year-old in the $A1.5 million Gr.1 Stradbroke Handicap at Doomben on Saturday week, but an oversight resulted in him being absent from the list of first acceptances.

"We had a problem with our accommodation and while we were sorting that out we missed putting him in," said

Evan Rayner, who trains the gelding with his daughter J.J.

"It's $A45,000 for a late entry, but he won't be running in it. On the same day there's a mile so I think he will run in that instead."

Full story here.

Danza Lad (NZ) (Woodbury Lad)

Versatile performer Danza Lad side-lined
Rudy Liefing was in a philosophical mood after receiving unfortunate news about his Group Three winner Danza Lad (NZ) (Woodbury Lad).

"He had some filling in a leg so I had to take him to the vet for a scan and he's out for the year," the Pukekohe Park trainer said. "It's a tear of the flexor tendon."

The winner of 10 races, including the Gr.3 Thompson Handicap, Danza Lad has won twice over fences and was being prepared for a return to that role.

"I was going to run him in the KS Browne Hurdle next Monday and I thought that race was his for the taking, but that's the way it goes," Liefing said.

He will now be looking to stablemate Just Got Home (NZ) (Storming Home) to lift stable spirits when he runs on Queen's Birthday Monday. He is leaning toward the McGregor Grant Steeplechase over the maiden steeplechase.

"I can't really see the point of running a good horse for $10,000, we might as well have a go at the big one," Liefing said.

Smart Kiwi-bred performer happy to be home

High domestic spring hopes are held for a New Zealand-bred galloper with an impressive overseas racing record.

Racing in Hong Kong as Packing Pins (NZ) (Pins), the six-year-old won six of his 19 starts from the stable of Ricky Yiu and was Group placed before joining the Cambridge operation of Trevor and Martin Cruz.

The brothers' mother Angel now races the gelding, who has reverted to his original name of Packing Eagle, under which he initially won all three of his trials for Matamata trainers Ken and Bev Kelso before heading to Hong Kong. Full story here.

Ugo Foscolo (NZ) (Zacinto)

Guineas winner in fine fettle

Group One-winning three-year-old Ugo Foscolo (NZ) (Zacinto) has thrived during his time off.

The New Zealand-bred and owned son of Zacinto has spelled particularly well and will return to the Randwick quarters of Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott this week.

"He's enjoyed a slow build-up with four weeks at Bell View Park Stud and he'll be back in the stables this week," said part-owner Kevin Hickman's racing manager Jonathan Scully.

El Pistola (NZ) (El Hermano)

Group One performer retired

Auckland Cup runner-up El Pistola (NZ) (El Hermano) has been retired after fracturing a fetlock.

Bred by Frank and Faye Drummond and raced on lease by the Hoofit Bros Tokoroa Syndicate, El Pistola won four of her 30 starts and pushed Chenille (NZ) (Pentire) to three-quarters of a length in the Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) at Ellerslie in March.

She was second to Chocante (NZ) (Shocking) in the Gr.3 Counties Cup (2100m) at Pukekohe earlier this season and won the Nathans Memorial (2200m) at Ellerslie last year for Tokoroa trainers Nathan Hanley and Kylie Whiting.

"We extended her racing lease twice. It was great to see her syndicate members having so much fun," said Frank Drummond, who stands El Pistola's sire El Hermano at his Cheval Stud at Pukeatua.

"Scans done yesterday revealed a fractured fetlock so she will return to Cheval Stud to join our broodmare band. Kylie and Nathan did a great job training her from their South Waikato base."

Valuable filly NZ-bound

The first foal of the English-based Silent Achiever (NZ) (O'Reilly) will travel to owner Kevin Hickman's Valachi Downs operation later this year.

"The Frankel filly is a real stunner and she'll be on a flight in a couple of months," stud manager Jonathan Scully said.

"Silent Achiever is back in foal to Frankel and she may even go to him a third time before she comes home."

The O'Reilly mare won 10 races from Roger James' Cambridge stable, including the New Zealand Derby, New Zealand Stakes, Ranvet Stakes and The BMW at Group One level.

Nurse Kitchen (NZ) (Savabeel)

Savabeel mares hit seven figures

A pair of New Zealand-bred daughters of Savabeel have hit dizzy heights on the Gold Coast.

The first day of Tuesday's broodmare sale was topped by the Gr.2 Fillies' Classic winner Nurse Kitchen (NZ) (Savabeel), who was bred by former top trainer Peter Moody and raced by his wife Sarah, when she sold for $A1.7 million to the China Horse Club.

She has since arrived at the stable of top Newcastle trainer Kris Lees.

"She arrived Thursday morning in great order as you'd expect a filly that was just sold for that sort of money," Lees said.

"She's arrived with about two weeks of light pre-training so we'll just continue on that path and learn about her every day."

The former Graeme and Debbie Rogerson-trained Soriano (NZ) (Savabeel), who was the dual Group One winner of the Zabeel Classic and the Herbie Dyke Stakes for Denise Howell, also reached seven figures when she was knocked down to Yulong Investments for $A1.15 million.

A sister to Saturday's Gr.3 Premier's Cup winner Kaiser Franz (NZ), Soriano is in foal to Tavistock.

Thorn Park mare The Party Stand (NZ), winner of the Gr.1 New Zealand Stakes from Roger James' stable, also lit up the ring when she sold for $A1.1 million on Wednesday. In foal to Snitzel, she was purchased by Adrian Nicholl, of the BBA Ireland.

Asian adventure beckons

Samantha Wynne is looking forward to a brief overseas venture next month.

"I got a call last night to go to China and I'll be riding at two meetings over there on the 6th and 8th of July," the Christchurch-based jockey said.

Samantha Wynne

The invitation was extended by the Inner Mongolia Rider Horse Industry principal Lang Lin, commonly known as Mr Wolf.

"It will be nice to have a look around over there and it fits in really well, I'll only miss one meeting here," Wynne said.

O'Shea to link again with McDonald

Former Godolphin trainer John O'Shea is planning to reunite with banned jockey James McDonald once the Kiwi serves an 18-month suspension.

McDonald will be eligible to return to the track in mid-May after being disqualified for placing a $1000 bet on a horse he was riding in 2015.

He has failed twice to have the length of the ban reduced, with a third appeal currently before the Supreme Court.

But O'Shea, who this week confirmed a return to public training at Randwick, said he would again make the 25-year-old his No. 1 jockey.

"My goal is to have a stable strong enough that warrants James and keeps him busy on his return," O'Shea told Sky Sports Radio.

"One of the things that inspired me the most was to make sure I could look after him the best I could and provide him with a significant amount of horses to keep him busy."
