KELLY CONFIDENT IT'S BENZINI'S TURN THIS TIME

Benzini will look to add another Queensland victory to his record when he contests the Listed Caloundra Cup tomorrow

Kelly McCulloch might have had a hazy view of Ipswich Cup winner Self Sense (Street Sense) in the distance in front of her aboard Benzini (Tale of The Cat) at the end of that feature, but the Pukekohe jockey's focus is firmly on turning the tables this weekend.

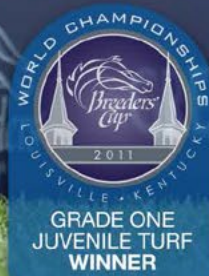

Self Sense went to the line 6 3/4 lengths clear of second-placed Benzini in the Ipswich Cup (2150m) a fortnight ago, but with a 2.5kg swing in the weights in the Adrian and Harry Bull-trained raider's favour and unwavering faith in her mount, McCulloch believes she can get square in Saturday's Listed Caloundra Cup (2400m).

"The winner was pretty dominant, but his run was good on a track that he wasn't ideally suited to and he had that big weight," McCulloch said.

"He has to carry a big weight again but at least he's down half a kilo this time and the other horse goes up a couple of kilos. The winner caught me a bit by surprise - he wasn't a horse I had put in my top two dangers - so hopefully he might have already had his day."

History is against the seven-year-old gelding Benzini as no horse has carried more than 59kg to win the Caloundra Cup, which was first run in 1985.

The Chris Waller-trained Index Linked (Dansili) eclipsed former New Zealand stayer Shenzhou Steeds' (NZ) (Ishiguru) record of 58kg set in 2012 when he carried 59kg to win two years ago.

Asked whether she believed last year's Gr.2 Brisbane Cup winner Benzini could handle the task, McCulloch replied: "I think he can. To my mind, he's the best horse in the race.

"Self Sense has to rate again and Gai [Waterhouse] has one in there [Supply And Demand] that has won his last two and he looks promising. But Benzini's such a genuine horse and he'll try his heart out again."

McCulloch will also team up with the Bull-trained William Wallace (NZ) (Darci Brahma) in the Listed Glasshouse Handicap (1400m) at Caloundra, the Darci Brahma four-year-old going into the race on the back of two impressive wins in Queensland.

"He couldn't have been any more impressive last start. He's always been a pretty decent horse but he'll have to be the real deal this weekend."

ZABEEL'S SON TO TAKE UP RESIDENCE AT BRIGHTHILL

Multiple Group One winner Preferment will stand at Brighthill Farm during the 2017 Breeding season

A champion son of the legendary Zabeel (NZ) has been secured for stud duty by Brighthill Farm.

The four-time Group One winner Preferment (NZ) will be a top-notch addition to Nick and Anne-Marie King's Waikato operation.

"We'd been on the look-out for a stallion since Azamour died, but we were determined to sit it out if necessary to find the right one," Nick King said.

"Preferment fits all our criteria – he was a spectacular racehorse and it's highly likely that he's the last Derby-winning son of the great Zabeel.

"He's a very tidy, athletic type and being a four-time Group One winner says it all. He was a champion Australian stayer and his record, combined with his pedigree, speaks for itself."

Preferment is by the champion sire of sires Zabeel and has the speed influence of both Flying Spur and Canny Lad on his dam's side.

Advice from one of the wisest thoroughbred heads in the game also played a part in securing Australia's champion stayer of the 2015-16 season.

"Last November Sir Patrick Hogan suggested to us that we should try and get Preferment and for him to say that gave us even more confidence," King said.

"There was a broad ownership in Preferment so it's taken a while to sort it out and some of the owners have bought others out and we will be standing the horse on their behalf."

There will also be shares available for breeders to buy.

Sold through Cambridge Stud's 2013 Premier Sale draft at Karaka, Chris Waller went to $190,000 to secure the colt.

Preferment showed an early return on that investment for the champion Sydney trainer when he broke his maiden with victory in the Gr.1 VRC Derby and finished runner-up in the Gr.1 Rosehill Guineas.

The following season he won the Gr.2 Hill Stakes and at his next start claimed top honours in the Gr.1 Turnbull Stakes.

In the autumn of 2016, Preferment returned to Flemington to reign supreme in the Gr.1 Australian Cup and then back to Sydney to add the Gr.1 The BMW to his imposing record. He retired as the winner of five races and more than $3.6 million in stake earnings.

A brother to the Gr.3 SA Fillies' Classic winner Rezoned (NZ), Preferment is a son of the Flying Spur mare Better Alternative, who is a half-sister to the Gr.2 Villiers Stakes winner Dances On Waves (Anabaa). It is also the family of the Gr.1 Salinger Stakes winner Ancient Song (Canny Lad).

"He's going to stand at an introductory offer of $12,500 + GST," King said. "That's a reflection of announcing him at this later stage and obviously we want him to be well-supported."

"New Zealand is the only place for Preferment. The owners wanted him here and they will all be supporting him with mares."

"He's a truly exciting prospect and we're delighted to have secured a horse of his outstanding quality."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Dontpokethetiger (Beneteau)

Tiger looking for softer kill on Coast

Dontpokethetiger's (Beneteau) connections haven't given up their chase for Australian black type, despite passing up an opportunity tomorrow.

They have opted to start the filly in a $A40,000 Benchmark 85 handicap rather than running for double the money in the Listed Sunshine Coast Guineas.

"We've gone for the weaker option as I felt the Guineas was a very strong field and our horse has only won $50,000 and some of the others have won $350,000," trainer Peter Rudkin said.

"The handicap race we're in has fallen away a bit and she is a very good chance to run in the first three. If she does, we'll stay on and run her in a Listed race in three weeks' time at Doomben, but if she can't then she will come home." Full story here.

Mr Mor (NZ) (Corrupt)

Jumper in good touch despite hiccups

Mr Mor's (NZ) (Corrupt) bid for a third consecutive Hawke's Bay Steeplechase title hasn't gone entirely to plan, but his trainers remain confident of a bold showing tomorrow.

The veteran jumper's most recent race day efforts have been encouraging with a third placing at Hastings followed by a last-start second behind The Big Opal (NZ) (Storm Creek) in the Waikato Steeplechase.

However, it has been events since then that have deviated from the ideal build-up.

Jockey happy to go the extra miles

Cambridge-based rider Will Gordon is prepared to travel far and wide in his pursuit of the jumping jockeys' premiership.

He has 12 winners to his credit in the title race, one behind frontrunner Aaron Kuru, and will head to Wingatui today for one ride and then back up at Hastings on Saturday.

Gordon's southern trip looks likely to be rewarded with the Sean Cameron-owned and trained Go Go Gonzo (NZ) (Golan) a leading chance in the Noel Walsh Memorial.

"He's tough enough and the only slight question mark will be the step up in company, but he should cope with that," he said. Full story here

Thorn Prince (NZ) (Thorn Park)

Hawke's Bay contender in tip top order

Thorn Prince (NZ) (Thorn Park) has trained on well since his bold first-up effort for second in the Listed Ag Challenge Stakes at Wanganui.

The stakes winner will revert to handicap company at Hastings on Saturday in the Taradale Club 2100, in which trainer Fraser Auret will take advantage of the claiming conditions.

"He went a massive race at Wanganui and he's in those sort of races at weight-for-age up to his eyeballs, but in handicaps he pays a price for consistency," he said. "Our apprentice Madan Singh will ride him and get three kilos off and the horse is very well."

Thorn Prince has won nine races, including the Listed Taumarunui Gold Cup.

Yogi strikes again

New Zealand export Yogi (NZ) (Raise The Flag) is proving himself to be an astute purchase for Australian Thoroughbred Bloodstock.

The son of Raise The Flag was purchased out of Mel and Warwick Coles' Washdyke stable and the four-year-old posted his fourth win at Sandown on Wednesday since transferring to Darren Weir's stable.

"He's got all the potential to be a really exciting horse," successful rider Craig Williams said.

"Whatever you see now, you'll have a better horse in the spring and in the autumn after that."

Yogi beat fellow Kiwi import The Willybee (NZ) (Alamosa) in his latest win.

Ocean Jewel (Ocean Park)

Good winner for Ocean Park

Regally bred Ocean Jewel (Ocean Park) lived up to her pedigree when she made a winning debut in Wednesday's Ascend Sales Trophies Handicap (1200m) at Belmont Park in Perth.

The Simon Miller-trained two-year-old, who started a $1.40 favourite, charged home to score by 1 1/2 lengths for jockey Joseph Azzopardi.

"She'll be set for Ascot carnival races," said Miller's racing manager Kyle Nowland. "We gave her time to mature before racing and she's got a lot of potential."

Ocean Jewel is from the first crop of Cox Plate hero Ocean Park, who stands at Waikato Stud.

The filly's dam Markisa, by champion sire Danehill, is a three-quarter sister to prominent stallions Commands and Danewin.

Ocean Jewel is also closely related to former star Octagonal.

"Shin-soreness was a problem for Ocean Jewel," Nowland said. "She's now got no troubles, but her current campaign will be brief. We'll aim her for the carnival."

NEWS IN BRIEF

O'Reilly gelding successful on Perth debut

Trainer Chris Gangemi maintained a run of success when West Fifty Fourth (NZ) (O'Reilly) won Wednesday's Get The Tabtouch Maiden (1000m) at Belmont in Perth.

The O'Reilly gelding, who was making his race debut, started a $2.60 favourite and got up to score by a short neck.

Gangemi expects West Fifty Fourth, a son of New Zealand St Leger runner-up Striptease (NZ) (Danasinga), to develop into a nice stayer.

"He'll be a lot better when we later increase his distances," Gangemi said. "He's still green and has a lot to learn."

Cool ride earns Allan comeback victory

Melbourne Cup-winning jockey Tony Allan was back in the groove at Waverley yesterday.

The 50-year-old saluted the judge for the first time in a dozen years when he was successful aboard the 20-1 shot Mr Cool Boy (NZ) (Zed) in the Tasman Toyota Hawera 2200.

Allan, who battled alcohol and drugs issues following his early rise to fame, gave away race riding in 2005 and for the next 10 years he worked as a track rider in Japan before a stint with Sydney trainers Peter and Paul Snowden. Full story here deserved to win and we will probably back-up on Saturday at Te Rapa."

For good measure, the Rogerson trained Mutechi (NZ) (Swiss Ace) finished second ahead of the Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained Ladynadel (NZ) (Savabeel).

The favourite was also to the fore in the following race when the lightly raced Pearlescence (NZ) (Bullbars) relished the 1400m of the AT Cook Contracting 3YO.

"She's still learning and she lost her spot at the top of the straight, but I'm impressed with the way she picked up and hit the line," winning co-trainer Andrew Forsman said.

"She's always been quite physically and mentally backward and she will get better as she matures. She's a horse we've got a bit of time for."

Darci Brahma (NZ) (Danehill)

A win would also help Darci Brahma retain his crown as Singapore's champion sire. The Oaks Stud stallion has reigned supreme in recent years, winning the title in four of the last five seasons. Full story here

Rising Romance (NZ) (Ekraar)

Paul Shailer

Brisk business for top New Zealand mares

Group One mares Orinda (NZ) (O'Reilly), Rising Romance (NZ) (Ekraar) and Savaria (NZ) (Savabeel) have all changed hands.

The former, the dam of the ATC Derby winner Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj), has been purchased by Peter Yip, of the Hong Kong Breeders' Club, who also has strong New Zealand ties.

"I bought Orinda on behalf of Peter, my business partner in the farm here," Highview Stud's Brent Gillovic said.

"He's had a share in Snitzel right from the outset so we had to get a mare that justified going to him." Full story here

Darci Brahma progeny to the fore

Alibi (NZ) (Darci Brahma) has turned the spotlight on Danehill stallion Darci Brahma after winning the first two legs of the Singapore four-year-old challenge.

The entire bred by Terry and Vicki Pascoe will attempt a clean sweep of the triple crown when he lines up in the S$1,150,000 Emirates Singapore Derby on July 9.

It is the second richest domestic race for the Island nation, just S$200,000 behind the Singapore Gold Cup.

Shailer back in the Waller fold

A successful New Zealand partnership is joining forces again – this time in Queensland.

Paul Shailer spent a decade in Sydney with champion horseman and fellow Kiwi Chris Waller, graduating to assistant trainer, before he returned home to establish his own business at Matamata and more recently at Levin.

The 38-year-old sent out 57 winners, the bulk of them when training in partnership with brother Kris.

Shailer is now back across the Tasman to link up again with the powerful Waller operation, this time to oversee a satellite stable in Queensland. Full story here

Favourites salute at Rotorua

The Graeme and Debbie Rogerson-trained juvenile Malambo (NZ) (Duelled) notched her first victory when successful in the Atkinson & Donaldson Plumbers 2YO (1230m) at Rotorua on Wednesday.

The daughter of Duelled had finished second in three of her five raceday starts going into the contest and was duly sent out a $1.60 favourite and always looked the winner under a positive Ryan Elliot ride.

"I said to Ryan to see if he could win without knocking her around as we might back her up," Graeme Rogerson said. "She

Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi)

Memsie return likely for star gallopers

Caulfield Cup candidates Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) and Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) are both likely to open their Melbourne spring campaigns in the Gr.1 NZ Bloodstock Memsie Stakes.

"We couldn't be happier at this stage, but there's still a lot of water to go under the bridge," said Andrew Forsman, who trains the Group One-winning pair with Murray Baker.

"We'll probably look at giving them a trial here in early August and then getting them over to Melbourne in the middle of August."

The Memsie will be run for a purse of $A1 million at Caulfield on September 2.

Both Bonneval and Jon Snow returned to their Cambridge quarters at the beginning of this month.

Pinzalot (NZ) (Pins)

Further set-back for gifted Pinzalot

Injury-plagued sprinter Pinzalot (NZ) (Pins) faces another lengthy break.

"He's bowed a tendon so he'll be having nine months off," trainer Mark Forbes said.

Pinzalot, who returned home after suffering a similar injury in his Hong Kong debut, posted three wins and two placings in six appearances for Forbes.

Meanwhile, the talented filly and Gr.3 Mongolian Khan Trophy placegetter Royal Fashion (Snitzel) is back in the stable to chase further black type honours next preparation.

"She'll probably kick off at Ruakaka and then we may have a look at the Foxbridge Plate," Forbes said.

Her performances will determine whether she earns a crack at the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy on the opening day of the Hawke's Bay carnival.

Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock)

Gobstopper looking good

Andrew Campbell hasn't lost faith in the well-related Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock).

The Opaki trainer has the brother to multiple Group One winner Werther (NZ) close to trialling ahead of a fresh campaign.

"He's come back a lot stronger, the breed takes time and he's probably got another 100kg on him this time," Campbell said. "I've still got high hopes for him."

Gobstopper has three wins and four placings from his 16 starts.

Paul Wilcox

New ARC chief appointed

Paul Wilcox is the Auckland Racing Club's new chief executive officer.

He is currently a director of both New Zealand Bloodstock and Pencarrow Thoroughbreds, having held those positions since October, 2013.

ARC chairman Paul Kenny said Wilcox will bring a wealth of business experience to his new role.

"He brings with him both strong commercial expertise and industry knowledge and is coming into the organisation at a time of exciting growth."

Wilcox will commence duties at Auckland Racing Club on August 1.

Popular Kiwi jockey jetting off to India

Robert Hannam is heading for warmer climes and a return to a racing environment he first plied his trade in nearly a quarter of a century ago.

The affable central districts jockey will fly to India next Tuesday to take up a three-month contract, starting on July 13.

Hannam enjoyed a successful first stint there 23 years ago and during his three-year stay he racked up more than 200 winners against world class opposition, including a legend of the turf.

"I rode against Lester Piggott," he said.

"Kieren Fallon, whose contract I took over, was there and Kevin Darley." Full story here

Northern jockeys' ranks thinned down

Space won't be at a premium in northern jockeys' rooms between now and the end of the season.

Michael Coleman is the latest to join the list of senior riders who are unlikely to be in action again in the current racing season, which concludes at the end of July.

The 47-year-old, who rode his 2000th New Zealand winner when successful aboard August Edition (NZ) (Alamosa) on his home track at Matamata last month, recently underwent successful knee surgery. Full story here

Miss Wilson (Stratum)

Early Australian exit option for smart mare

John Bary won't hesitate to bypass the early domestic spring features with his stable star Miss Wilson (Stratum).

The Hastings trainer is keen on a first-up tilt at Group One honours in the Tarzino Trophy, but Melbourne is a very competitive Plan B.

"The first leg of the series here is attractive if the track is okay for her and if she can get in," Bary said.

"She's only won a Group Three for fillies and mares' so she could be borderline.

"If she wasn't going to get a run, I wouldn't think twice about heading straight to Melbourne without a race here. Full story here

Be Bee stings on debut

After an injury setback following a track-work incident trainer Shane Baertschiger finally gave the green light for Be Bee's (NZ) (Showcasing) Kranji debut in Monday's $575,000 Restricted Maiden race over 1100m.

In a close go to the line, Be Bee found enough to edge out the other debutant Augustano (Hard Spun) by a head. It did not matter how he won, to Baertschiger that maiden run was the go-ahead signal he needed to press on towards the race he had long been set for – the Aushorse Golden Horseshoe (1200m) on July 7.

"He ripped his leg around three months ago. He got loose and jumped over a gate at the catching area," said Baertschiger.

"I thought he was home and hosed today, but he just made it by a nostril. He wasn't as brilliant as he was in his trials; when the other horse (Crazy Dreams) crossed in front of him, he got a bit of pressure.

"He's only two but he coped with it quite well. He will now run in the Aushorse Golden Horseshoe in two weeks' time."

Late opening act for Chopin's Fantaisie

Chopin's Fantaisie (NZ) (Pins) overcame a tightly run race to win the $560,000 Class 4 race over 1400m at Kranji on Monday.

Trainer Michael Clements remained unflappable through it all as the even-money favourite had nowhere to go after he was trapped in a pocket on the rails.

When the gap opened and jockey Vlad Duric pushed the button, the galloping machine underneath him could finally roar into life as he burst through in the twinkling of an eye to go and post an impressive half-length win.

"He was always travelling very well. It was just a matter of getting an opening," said Clements who later saddled a double with Arhat (NZ) (Iffraaj) in the penultimate race, the $80,000 Class 3 race over 1700m.

"Fortunately, it came and he did the rest after that. From the way he was still full of running at the end, he is looking to go over further.

"I will probably also step him up to a higher class. Clearly, he is a very competitive horse."
