GINGERNUTS RARING TO GO FOR RANDWICK CLASSIC

Dual Group One winner Gingernuts will be seeking to complete an elite level treble at Royal Randwick tomorrow

Co-trainer Jamie Richards can't find any fault with Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) ahead of a third Group One challenge at Randwick on Saturday.

With two down and one to go, the New Zealand Derby and Rosehill Guineas winner will be at the top of his game for the $A2 million Gr.1 Australian Derby.

"Everything has gone according to plan and the horse is super. He did a little bit of work on Tuesday morning where he worked over 1200 metres on the course proper at Randwick with one of Gai Waterhouse's horses.

"It gave him a good look around and he did all that was expected of him. He's not a big, strapping colt who needs a lot of work – he's more of an athletic type."

Gingernuts was dominant in the New Zealand Derby on good ground at Ellerslie before he coasted away with the Rosehill Guineas on heavy footing.

“The track on Saturday isn’t going to worry us at all,” said Richards, who trains the son of Iffraaj with Stephen Autridge.

“They might think he goes better on soft ground here, but he can go on anything.”

Richards is more than familiar with Gingernuts’ Derby rivals and he remains bullish about their three-year-old’s prospects of another Group One trophy.

“I thought Jon Snow was quite impressive last Saturday and he looks like he has improved and Prized Icon also ran very well and he will go in a very fit horse,” Richards said.

“But our horse has been racing very well all the way through against good opposition and I couldn’t be any happier with him.”

Gingernuts, who will face 12 rivals on Saturday, is booked on a Monday flight home to New Zealand.

“He’ll need a break and we’d like to set him for Melbourne in the spring,” Richards said.

NZ DERBY HOLDS UP AS TESTING GROUND

Murray Baker won't compare his other Australian Derby winners to current hope Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj), but a consistent thread is emerging as New Zealand mounts a two-pronged assault on a focal point of The Championships' opening day program.

The three-year-old has made significant strides towards Randwick and the Group One staying feature over 2400m tomorrow by tackling the same distance back home in the New Zealand Derby at Ellerslie on March 4.

Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj), the Australian Derby favourite with the TAB, and Rising Red (NZ) (Redwood) beat Jon Snow to the line that day but for veteran trainer Baker, the New Zealand Derby is tailor made for a successful Randwick raid.

Tavago (NZ) (Tavistock) employed the same strategy before winning the Australian Derby 12 months ago.

Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor), the most recent of Baker's three Australian Derby success stories, achieved the Derby double in 2015 though the prolific It's a Dundeel (NZ) (High Chaparral) spent his build-up in Australia and Nom Du Jeu (NZ) (Montjeu) snuck up on the locals a month after winning at Group Three level at Awapuni.

James Cummings, trainer of Victoria Derby winner Prized Icon (More Than Ready), concedes the New Zealand horses have arrived battle hardened and Baker agrees, describing the NZ Derby as the ideal launch pad.

"It gives you an idea of whether they can stay, and it's become a very tough race in New Zealand since it was shifted from Boxing Day to the start of March (in 2006)," Baker said.

"It means there's more competition. The horses are another couple of months older and a bit stronger."

The benefit of a tough lead-up race was apparent when Gingernuts skipped over the heavy ground to snare the Rosehill Guineas.

Jon Snow then thrived in identical track conditions in the Tulloch Stakes last weekend.

"Obviously it's a lot stronger race this week but we think he's strengthened up, and he doesn't mind wet conditions" Baker said.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Matamata trainers chasing Group One double

The Wexford Stables team know there is a precedent for their tilt at a trans-Tasman two-year-old double this weekend.

The famous Matamata training operation won both the Sires' Produce Stakes in Sydney and the Ellerslie Sires' Produce Stakes on the same day in 1998.

Dave and Paul O'Sullivan produced Alf (NZ) (Masterclass) to win at Randwick while Zola (NZ) (Volksraad) claimed the Ellerslie feature, now known as the Sistema Stakes.

The current Wexford trainers, Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott, are seeking a slightly different but equally prestigious juvenile Group One double on Saturday.

I Am A Star (NZ) (I Am Invincible)

Star filly out to follow Sunline's path in Doncaster

I Am A Star (NZ) (I Am Invincible) will need to emulate the superstar Sunline (NZ) (Desert Sun) if she is to win tomorrow's Gr.1 Doncaster Mile (1600m) at Randwick.

Sunline was the last three-year-old filly to win the Doncaster Mile when she notched the first of her two successes in the great handicap while carrying 52kg in 1999.

I Am A Star will have to carry the same weight if she is to become the latest three-year-old filly to win the A$3 million event.

I Am A Star's trainer Shane Nichols says his charge is capable of winning the Doncaster Mile but punters needed to decide whether the weight scale will be against the daughter of I Am Invincible.

"She rates close to some pretty nice horses giving them weight and getting weight off some others," Nichols said.

"There are some pretty well-credentialed horses that rate pretty close to her but she's a dam good filly."

The Victorian filly has drawn barrier one for her Doncaster Mile test and will continue her association with Dean Yendall.

"As long as there is no pattern where the inside is off by race nine, personally I think it will be a great draw for her because she won't have to do any work," Nichols said.

"She'll just bounce and travel where she's comfortable and she'll quicken up and finish off strong, which will give her a chance to run in the money."

Anaheim (NZ) (Fastnet Rock)

Trainer admits colt needs a slice of luck

Trent Busuttin is more hopeful than confident of turning the Gr.1 Rosehill Guineas form around.

A fortnight ago, the expatriate Kiwi horseman produced Anaheim (Fastnet Rock) to finish fourth and concedes his colt needs to lift to be a realistic winning chance in Saturday's $A2 million Gr.1 Australian Derby at Randwick.

"There's no question that Gingernuts is a good horse and we might need a bit of luck to beat him," said Busuttin, who trains out of Cranbourne with his partner Natalie Young.

Tivaci (High Chaparral)

Team Tivaci banking on Oliver's experience

Leading rider Damien Oliver will guide the Group One fortunes of the New Zealand-bound four-year-old Tivaci (High Chaparral) in Saturday's $A2.5 million Gr.1 Darley T.J. Smith Stakes at Randwick.

He will replace Patrick Moloney, who won the Listed Kensington Stakes on the entire and partnered the Mike Moroney-trained sprinter into a last-start fifth in the Gr.1 Newmarket Handicap at Flemington.

"We're happy with Tivaci and we think Damien will suit him," said Bruce Perry, who oversees the thoroughbred interests of Wellington part-owner Lib Petagna. Full story here.

Spieth (NZ) (Thorn Park)

Spieth looking to break Group One hoodoo

Spieth (NZ) (Thorn Park) will be out to shake off his Group One jinx when lining up in tomorrow's Gr.1 TJ Smith Stakes (1200m) at Randwick.

The Bryce Heys-trained sprinter has had three starts at Group One level and has had chequered passages in his narrow seconds in the Darley Classic (1200m) and Lightning Stakes (1000m) before running unplaced in the Newmarket Handicap (1000m).

Heys believes getting back on a circle will help Spieth after the frustration of slowly run straight races at Flemington.

"They just seem to go along a bit more around a bend," Heys said. "Even though he has had Group One seconds, I think his best runs were a benchmark win over 1100 metres at Rosehill and his win in the Lightning Handicap at Randwick in the spring.

"He seems to be able to really quicken from a turn, and I think you are going to see that on Saturday."

Stablemates primed for Sires' Produce

Te Akau Racing's quartet of Group One hopefuls have all pleased ahead of Saturday's Courtesy Ford Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes.

Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel), Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands), Summer Monsoon (Stratum) and Swing Note (Encosta De

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gold Fever (NZ) (Savabeel)

Lago) are all in top order for Awapuni, according to co-trainer Stephen Autridge.

Gold Fever won the Gr.2 Matamata Breeders' Stakes before overcoming a rocky run to finish third in the Gr.1 Sistema Stakes while Melody Belle was a comfortable last-start winner of the Karaka Million.

"We think she's improved since the Million," Autridge said. "She wasn't quite right before the Sistema and we decided not to risk her, but she was fantastic in her trial."

Summer Monsoon has also trialled since finishing runner-up to Summer Passage (Snitzel) in Listed company at Matamata. "He's on the improve and his work on Tuesday morning was the best I've seen from him," Autridge said.

Swing Note has been placed in each of her three starts. "She has justified a go at black type. She's going to be better as a three-year-old, but 1400m will suit," Autridge said.

Hasahalo (NZ) (Savabeel)

Wide gate a worry for Hasahalo

Hasahalo (NZ) (Savabeel) will sign off for the season in the Gr.1 Courtesy Ford Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes tomorrow.

The Savabeel filly, who won the Gr.3 Eclipse Stakes before finishing second in the Karaka Million and fifth in the Gr.1 Sistema Stakes, will have to overcome the outside gate if she is to successfully end her campaign on a high at Awapuni.

"It will make it very difficult for her to win from that position," trainer Stephen McKee said.

"On the plus side, tactics will be easy. We can only ride her patiently, but she will have lengths to make up.

"We think 1400 metres will suit her perfectly, she has a terrific turn of foot and premiership leading jockey Danielle Johnson is sticking with her."

Hard Merchandize (NZ) (Burgundy)

Positives around local 2YO's Group One prospects

Improving youngster Hard Merchandize (NZ) (Burgundy) ticks a number of boxes on his trainer's check list ahead of a stiff home track test on the weekend.

The Awapuni-trained representative hasn't missed a beat in his lead up to the Gr.1 Courtesy Ford Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes.

"I'm really happy with him," trainer Gary Vile said. "He's done well since he last raced, his work has been great, the 1400 metres will suit him and he likes a wet track." Full story here.

Rock On (NZ) (Road To Rock)

Rock On happy in new surroundings

Last-start stakes winner Rock On (NZ) (Road to Rock) has settled in well at John Sargent's stable ahead of his Australian debut in the Gr.2 Chairman's Handicap at Randwick.

His trip to Sydney was confirmed by his victory in the Listed New Zealand St Leger at Trentham a fortnight ago.

"John rang me on Tuesday and the horse travelled over well," trainer Gary Vile said.

"There wasn't much else for him here, apart from the Hawke's Bay Cup, and we wanted to give him a trip away. He'll only have the one run there."

The dream long-term goal for Rock On is the Melbourne spring carnival.

Benzini (Tale Of The Cat)

McCulloch keeps Benzini ride in the family

Benzini (Tale of the Cat) is already a family favourite.

Prepared by father-and-son trainers Adrian and Harry Bull, Benzini is the regular ride of Manawatu jockey Rosie Myers, whose current injury situation has fallen in the favour of her big sister, Kelly McCulloch.

Myers broke her leg in a jump-out fall at Wanganui earlier this month which has paved the way for McCulloch to take the ride on Benzini in Saturday's Gr.2 City Of Palmerston North Awapuni Gold Cup (2000m). Full story here.

Rain dilutes strength of Latta team at Awapuni

Unexpected rain that fell in Palmerston North on Wednesday night has thrown a spanner into the works for Lisa Latta ahead of premier day racing on her home track of Awapuni tomorrow.

Latta has nine runners entered for the meeting but said some were now doubtful starters.

Tavidream on trial for Sydney

Smart three-year-old Tavidream (NZ) (Tavistock) is in the running for an early trip to Australia.

Trainers Donna Logan and Chris Gibbs will make a decision on the venture after the impressive son of Tavistock's next domestic appearance.

"We are taking it race by race with him as he's still a bit immature and growing," Logan said.

"We'll give him a run at Ellerslie tomorrow over a mile and see how he goes, we haven't ruled out Sydney for him."

The race they have in mind for the gelding is the Gr.3 Frank Packer Plate over 2000 metres at Randwick on April 15.

Tavidream has won three of his five starts, including dominant victories at Ellerslie in his last two appearances.

Easter Stakes on radar for Hale pair

Tomorrow's racing at Ellerslie should show Cambridge trainer Shelley Hale whether or not she has two Gr.2 Manco Easter Stakes contenders on her hands.

Hale will produce Seventh Up (NZ) (Shinko King) in the Te Akau's Gingernuts, Trans-Tasman Group One Winner 1200 and Go Nicholas (NZ) (Danroad) in the Celebrating Chenille 1500, both gallopers out to prove they are worthy of a spot in the Easter Stakes field.

"It's definitely a race on the radar for them both but whether they can get there or not, we'll just see. But at this stage they are both candidates," Hale said. Full story here.

Just Ishi heads top result for Temperton

Just Ishi (NZ) (Ishiguru) continued the perfect start he has made to his current campaign when he beat his stablemate Nom du Beel (NZ) (Nom Du Jeu) at Wanganui yesterday.

The Gail Temperton-trained nine-year-old, who had won first-up at Hawera earlier this month, was ridden to victory in the Kevin Myers Jumpers Highweight by Gary Walsh.

"I'm very happy with the horse and the ride," Temperton said. "Gary does all the trackwork, jumping and schooling, I'm so pleased for him."

Just Ishi has also won three times over the small fences and he will have one more outing before resuming his jumping career in the Waikato Hurdles.

"There's talk of taking him to Australia later in the season," winning rider Walsh said. "He's beaten Sea King and Who Shot Thebarman previously so he deserves his chance over there."

Brendon Hawtin & Stephen Donald

All Blacks legend joins racing syndicate

Her ownership ranks might include All Blacks legend Stephen Donald, but the naming of social racing's latest filly will not be left to Beaver.

Stephen Donald, best known by his nickname Beaver, has joined the ownership of a two-year-old Darci Brahma filly out of Evana (NZ) (Entrepreneur), raced on a shared lease between her breeder The Oaks Stud and the Social Racing No 3 Syndicate.

The filly will be trained at Cambridge by Brendon Hawtin. Full story here.

Prizes galore on offer on Breeders' Stakes Day

Members of the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Association have the opportunity to win a host of prizes at the upcoming Gr.1 Fiber Fresh NZ Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes race-meeting at Te Aroha on April 8, including a nomination to proven top-class sire Pins.

Thanks to the generosity of Waikato Stud, the Waikato Branch of the NZTBA have been donated a service nomination for the 2017 season to the versatile son of Snippets to offer as the highlight prize on race day.

"Anyone who is a financial member of the Association from any branch is eligible to enter in the draw on the day, and have the chance to win this super prize and other prizes," announced Lisa Dunbar, Secretary of the Waikato Branch who host the day.

At Te Aroha there is a specially designated area complete with mini marquees below the public stand, where a light lunch will be served for members. On entering the marquee area, members will be given a glass of champagne and their details will be put into the prize draw.

A Sweepstake whereby members' names will be drawn against a horse in the race will be held on the races throughout the day, with a variety of prizes on offer. The Pins nomination will be up for grabs on the feature race the Gr.1 Fiber Fresh NZ Thoroughbred Breeders Stakes.

Other prizes on the day, from a host of generous sponsors, include vouchers for a lunch at Mills Reef Winery, Mills Reef Wines, Fibre Fresh products, and Gavelhouse goodies.

Aloisia (NZ) (Azamour)

Aloisia to join Maher's stable

Promising filly Aloisia (NZ) (Azamour) has been sold to Terry Henderson's OTI racing operation and she will do her future racing out of Ciaran Maher's Caulfield stable.

"It's always nice to race a good one, but there was very good money offered," said Kelly Price, who shared in the ownership with her husband and trainer Jason. "She's still with us and she'll go over next Wednesday."

By Azamour out of the Group performer Queen Bourdicca (NZ) (Perfectly Ready), Aloisia finished fifth on debut before she rattled home to finish second at Trentham behind Gr.1 Courtesy Ford Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes contender Belle du Nord (NZ) (Reliable Man).

Pacorus' Australian plans shelved for now

A tilt at the $A2 million Gr.1 Sydney Cup has been ruled out for Pacorus (NZ) (Tavistock), but he remains in contention for an overseas trip later in the year.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The talented Tavistock five-year-old will run in this weekend's Gr.2 Courtesy Ford Awapuni Gold Cup, after which trainer Chris Wood will lock in a programme for the stayer.

NZ Group One winner taking it easy

Ugo Foscolo's (NZ) fledgling Australian career has been put on hold.

"He's out spelling after that one run on a very, very heavy track," racing manager Emma Pearce said. Full story here.

Shorter goal for Group-winning stayer

Stephen Marsh believes Chocante (NZ) (Shocking) is capable of adding a feature mile to his burgeoning record.

The Cambridge trainer has already bagged the Gr.3 Counties Cup over 2100 metres with the lightly-tried stayer, who has since been freshened with a shorter target in mind.

found 'the gelding's condition had improved since Saturday and whilst the gelding is a poor mover in front, there was no discernible favouring of either foreleg'.

Tavago still has to continue to show he has overcome the lameness that cast doubt on his autumn campaign, but a crack at the A$2m two-mile feature on April 8 has now been touted as one option.

The next hurdle for Tavago will come at the Gosford trials on Tuesday, where Dr Suann will examine him pre- and post-trial as the final litmus test before a crack at the Sydney Cup.

Dunlop all smiles with unexpected result

Janine Dunlop was celebrating after the Gr.1 Vinery Stud Stakes, despite the Group One feature not delivering the result the Phoenix Park principal had been expecting.

"One of my clients, Terry Archer, had La Bella Diosa in so I was principally watching her," she said.

The New Zealand-trained filly floundered in the Rosehill mud on Saturday and it was instead left to two graduates of Phoenix Park's 2015 NZB Premier Yearling Sale draft to fight out the finish. Full story here.

Group winner in deserved break

Nicoletta (NZ) (Savabeel) has been put aside after a completing a rewarding summer and autumn campaign.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained Savabeel filly won the Gr.3 Desert Gold Stakes, finished runner-up in the Sir

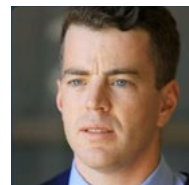

Tristram Fillies' Classic and ran fourth in both the Gr.3 Lowland Stakes and the Gr.1 New Zealand Oaks.

"She's been very good all the way through and she's spelling now," said owner Lib Petagna's racing manager Bruce Perry.

Sydney Cup possible for Tavago

Tavago (NZ) (Tavistock) underwent a vet inspection on Thursday morning, and after getting a pass mark, his co-trainer Trent Busuttin is weighing up throwing the Australian Derby winner into the Gr.1 Sydney Cup on Saturday week.
