WEXFORD TEAM TAKES AIM AT THREE WEEKEND FEATURES

Matamata galloper Glass Slipper looks a leading chance in tomorrow's Gr. 1 gavelhouse.com 44th NZ 1000 Guineas at Riccarton

Wexford Stables has strong candidates for three features this weekend, though trainer Lance O'Sullivan has revealed only moderate expectations.

O'Sullivan and his co-trainer Andrew Scott will produce Glass Slipper (NZ) (Pins) in Saturday's Gr.1 gavelhouse.com 44th NZ 1000 Guineas (1600m) at Riccarton, Gentil Tonton (Yeats) in the Gr.3 Christchurch Casino 153rd New Zealand Cup (3200m) on the same programme and Sound

Proposition (NZ) (Savabeel) in the Gr.2 Preston Rowe Paterson Property Valuers Tauranga Stakes (1600m).

O'Sullivan shares in the ownership of Pins filly Glass Slipper, who has yet to win in six starts. Her four placings include a third in the Gr.3 Eclipse Stakes at Ellerslie, second in the Gr.3 Gold Trail Stakes at Hastings and last-start second in the Listed Soliloquy Stakes at Ellerslie.

"We're really happy with her. But let's not get carried away because she's still a maiden and that South Island filly [La Diosa] will probably give them a flogging," O'Sullivan said.

"But the placings are up for grabs and if she could do that, then we'd be very happy. Andrew has travelled down with her and he's really happy with her. She's bright and she's improved a bit since that Ellerslie run."

O'Sullivan said Gentil Tonton hadn't handled the firm conditions at Riccarton when he finished eighth in the Listed Metropolitan Handicap (2500m) on the first day of the carnival.

"The track was too hard for him the other day. He's down there so he'll run on Saturday and any rain will help his chances, but if those races had been up here, he probably wouldn't be going around again this weekend."

At Tauranga, Sound Proposition meets a quality field of Group One-performed gallopers.

The five-year-old gelding was a fast-finishing fourth at Ellerslie last month in his first run since winning the Gr.1 Easter Stakes (1600m) at Ellerslie in April.

"It was a good first-up run. He usually takes a few runs to hit his best form and he's still on the up," O'Sullivan said.

"He's a funny horse in that the more racing he gets, the more weight he puts on. I'd like to see him a bit heavier myself. When he won the Easter, he was 15 kilos heavier than at any other point of his preparation.

"I can see him running on into the first four on Saturday - and I'd be happy with that. We're aiming him at the 2000m weight-for-age [Zabeel Classic] at Ellerslie on Boxing Day and this should be a good stepping stone."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Volkstok'n'barrell (NZ) (Tavistock)

Inter-island features lure Logan-Gibbs pair

Northland trainers Donna Logan and Chris Gibbs will chase an inter-island stakes double on Saturday.

At Tauranga, three-time Group One winner Volkstok'n'barrell (NZ) (Tavistock) kicks off his five-year-old season in the Gr.2 Preston Rowe Paterson Property Valuers Tauranga Stakes (1600m), while last-start Listed Soliloquy Stakes winner Astara (NZ) (Dalghar) tackles the Gr.1 gavelhouse.com 44th NZ 1000 Guineas (1600m) at Riccarton.

Logan was excited to have Volkstok'n'barrell back racing but had no expectation of a winning return in a strong weight-for-age race.

"He's well but he's a bit on the big side. He'll definitely take a lot of improvement from the race and any rain won't help him either," Logan said.

"But unless it's really heavy, we'll be running because we need to get the racing under his belt." Full story here.

Who Shot Thebarman (NZ) (Yamanin Vital)

Kiwi stayer chasing another Zipping crown

Who Shot Thebarman (NZ) (Yamanin Vital) will defend his Gr.2 Zipping Classic title at Sandown on Saturday.

The New Zealand-bred and owned stayer won the race 12 months ago after running 11th behind Prince Of Penzance (NZ) (Pentire) in the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup.

Who Shot Thebarman finished a meritorious fifth in the Flemington feature behind Almandin (Monsun) last week and he came through the race in top order.

"From his barrier in the Cup and from where he was on the turn, he was super," trainer Chris Waller said.

Age no barrier to Kiwi sprinter's success

Durable New Zealand-bred sprinter Famous Seamus (NZ) (Elusive City) will chase consecutive wins in Saturday's Gr.3 Kevin Heffernan Stakes at Sandown.

The eight-year-old son of Elusive City earned himself a trip to Melbourne to defend his title with a last-start win in the Listed Ladies' Day Cup on his home track at Hawkesbury.

"The only thing that has changed with this horse is that each year he's got a year older," trainer Noel Mayfield-Smith said.

"His attitude is the same. His work is the same. His times are the same. Everything is the same. He looks the same as when he went into his last race and nothing has worried him since."

Shillelagh (NZ) (Savabeel)

Another crack for Shillelagh

Kiwi mare Shillelagh (NZ) (Savabeel) has had anything but the luck of the Irish in her spring campaign.

The Christopher and Susanna Grace-owned five-year-old looked a winning chance when she met heavy interference in the Gr.2 Tristar Stakes (1400m). She then produced a brilliant performance, aided by the 'magic man' Joao Moreira, to finish second in the Gr.3 Maybe Mahal (1400m) after missing the start on Melbourne Cup Day.

She will get another chance at Australian success in Saturday's Gr.3 Summoned Stakes (1500m) at Sandown.

"It's unfortunate that she's drawn wide (barrier 15) but the long Sandown straight will suit her," said Brad Taylor, racing manager for her trainers Steven Autridge and Jamie Richards.

"She's been very unlucky in Australia and it would be great to get a black type win with her."

Shillelagh will be ridden by Damien Oliver.

Tucanchoo liked in Eclipse Stakes

Tucanchoo (NZ) (Pentire) is a favoured runner in Saturday's Gr.3 Eclipse Stakes (1800m) at Sandown.

The Hawkes Racing-trained seven-year-old hit the line strongly when second to Fabrizio (High Chaparral) in the Listed Boag's Premium Stakes (1800m) at Flemington on Melbourne Cup Day.

Jockey Dwayne Dunn continues his association with Tucanchoo and he'll have to work some magic from the wide barrier of 15.

Tucanchoo is at $6.50 alongside Lidari (Acclamation) with Cool Chap (High Chaparral) the $4.80 favourite, Alaskan Rose (NZ) (Encosta de Lago) is at $8.50 while Puccini (NZ) (Encosta de Lago), who finished second in the 2015 edition of this race, is at $18.

Mystery Show (NZ) (Sakhee's Secret)

Bridge runners in top order for southern tests

The hard work for Riccarton is over and now James Bridge is hoping to savour the rewards.

The Byerley Park trainer has two high profile runners on the closing day of New Zealand Cup and Show Week with Mystery Show (NZ) (Sakhee's Secret) to step out in the Gr.1 gavelhouse.com 44th NZ 1000 Guineas while Gilhoolie (NZ) (Guillotine) will tackle the Listed Barneswood Farm Stakes.

"I'm really happy with both of them and I've done my job – it's up to them now," Bridge said.

"They flew down on Wednesday morning without any problems and they've settled in really well down here." Full story here.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Nymph Monte (NZ) (Tavistock)

Johnson confident of Cup win

Glamour jockey Danielle Johnson is confident Nymph Monte (NZ) (Tavistock) is the horse to give her a first win in the New Zealand Cup.

Johnson guided the Grant Nicholson-trained five-year-old to a comfortable two and a-half length win in last Saturday's Listed Metropolitan Trophy (2500m) at Riccarton to ensure favouritism for this weekend's Gr.3 Christchurch Casino 153rd New Zealand Cup (3200m) at the same track.

Despite drawing out at 17, TAB bookmakers have made Nymph Monte a $2.20 favourite for the Cup in the wake of his Metropolitan win and Johnson was just as confident.

"It was huge, his win," she said.

"He couldn't have been any more impressive and I'm looking forward to the Cup on Saturday. If he turns up in the same form, he's going to take some beating. Full story here.

Julinsky Prince (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Choice pair set to shine again for Parkes

Johnathan Parkes will head back to Tauranga on Saturday to continue his association with two of his favourite horses.

The Wanganui rider will be aboard

Julinsky Prince (NZ) (Darci Brahma) in the Gr.2 Preston Rowe Paterson Property Valuers Tauranga Stakes and the unbeaten

Volpe Veloce (Foxwedge) in the Mainfreight Tauranga 3YO.

Parkes has won two Group One races on the Fraser Auret-prepared Julinsky Prince, the Windsor Park Plate and the Captain Cook Stakes, who hasn't raced since he was out of the money in the Gr.1 Livamol Classic.

"He's had a jump-out since then. I didn't ride him but he went well from the report I had," he said. Full story here.

Waller turns to Irish apprentice Magorrian

Premier trainer Chris Waller has compared utilising apprentice Lee Magorrian's three-kilogram claim to a drop in grade for Wine Tales (Tale Of The Cat).

The Irish-born Magorrian is with Waller's stable on a scholarship from New Zealand which in the past has been awarded to Danielle Johnson, Jason Collett, his sister Alysha and Chris Dell.

Magorrian has ridden 96 winners in New Zealand reducing his claim to one kilogram, but because of the way the races are classified he is still eligible to claim three in Australia.

"That's a massive thing. Six ratings points, it's basically like dropping a horse in grade so it's a big plus," Waller said on his weekly video update.

Magorrian rode Wine Tales when the horse was second first-up at Rosehill over 1200m on October 29 and gets another chance on her in Saturday's Club Marconi Armatrice Handicap at the same track and distance.

Quintessentially (NZ) (High Chaparral)

Well-bred mare back in action

Unbeaten mare Quintessentially (NZ) (High Chaparral) will make a belated start to her four-year-old season at Dargaville today.

The Steven Ramsay and Julia Ritchie-trained grand-daughter of the champion mare Ethereal (NZ) (Rhythm) returns to racing in the Nauman Insurance Brokers Northland Cup.

"She's been ready to go for a while, but the tracks have been too wet so she's been held up until now," said Garry Cossey, racing manager for Quintessentially's owner and co-breeder Sir Peter Vela.

The daughter of High Chaparral was successful at Te Aroha on debut in March and she was put aside after winning again at Dargaville a month later.

"She's only won two midweek races so we're not getting carried away at this stage. It's a step up for her, but Steven and Julia think she's forward enough to be competitive," Cossey said.

Pengelly gets reward for trackwork

Brad Pengelly's decision to move his base back to Brisbane has paid off with the prime ride on Cylinder Beach (NZ) (Showcasing) at Doomben on Saturday.

Pengelly is one of the most experienced jockeys in Brisbane but his weight has limited him since he returned to riding three years ago. He was based in Brisbane after his original comeback but then elected to move to the Sunshine Coast for better opportunities.

Pengelly has been aboard Cylinder Beach in his work in recent weeks.

Cylinder Beach won the Group Three Gunsynd last season and ran third in the BRC Sires' Produce Stakes as a two-year-old.

Trainer Desleigh Forster believes this will be Cylinder Beach's best season yet.

"He has come back a much bigger and stronger horse. This is the perfect race for him and Brad has been getting to know him in trackwork," she said.

Battle Time (NZ) (Battle Paint)

Battle Time wins the war at Riccarton

Consistent top level performer Battle Time (NZ) (Battle Paint) gained a deserved stakes victory with a commanding front-running performance at Riccarton.

The four-year-old trumped his rivals in Wednesday's Gr.2 Coupland's Bakeries Mile when a pre-race plan to use his early pace and light weight was flawlessly executed by rider Sam Spratt.

"I wanted Sam to be positive and I knew the horse had plenty of gate speed and she did a marvellous job on him," said Cambridge horsewoman Margaret Carter, who trains Battle Time with her husband Tim.

"She rated him perfectly and they got the job done." Full story here.

Reilly Lincoln (NZ) (Pins)

Latta plunders another Riccarton feature

Lisa Latta rarely goes home empty-handed from Riccarton and she snared another major prize on Wednesday with

Reilly Lincoln (NZ) (Pins).

The Awapuni trainer also moved a step closer to a century of winners on the South Island's principal course when the five-year-old outsped her rivals in the Gr.3 Lindauer Stewards' Stakes Handicap.

It was Latta's 86th success on the track and her first of New Zealand Cup and Show week.

Reilly Lincoln was a month between runs when she finished fifth in the Listed Pegasus Stakes on Saturday, a race she derived benefit from. Full story here.

First Serve (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Mare makes her own luck to claim title

First Serve (NZ) (Swiss Ace) produced a dominant performance at Riccarton on Wednesday to continue her climb up the rankings.

The locally-trained mare went into the Gr.3 Valachi Downs Canterbury Breeders' Stakes as a warm favourite and she was untroubled to deliver a popular winning result.

First Serve had also been the market elect in Saturday's Listed Pegasus Stakes and co-trainer Michael Pitman was unhappy no action was taken after the mare finished in behind the dividend payers.

"She was whacked over the head twice and nothing was done about it," he said.

Pitmans looking to strike further afield

Michael and Matthew Pitman have tentative plans to campaign a team in the North Island later this season and possibly across the Tasman.

The Tavistock five-year-old Night Nurse (NZ) is in the running for a place in the travelling party and she further pressed her claims at Riccarton on Wednesday with a strong performance to win the Farmers Mill Premier.

"She's a lovely mare and she could be part of a team we may have in the North Island and maybe Australia in the autumn," Michael Pitman said.

Night Nurse settled off the pace in a small field and she came with a well-timed run in the hands of Chris Johnson, whose pre-race thoughts proved on the money.

"I spoke to Chris before the race and he was very informative. He said he would get cover down the back into the head wind and then present her at the right time," Pitman said.

She is raced by Ray and Jill Coupland, whose colours were later carried to victory in the Amicus Insurance Brokers Premier by Night Nurse's stablemate Another Coup (NZ) (Darci Brahma).

Rae's run continues

Terri Rae collected her third success of New Zealand Cup and Show week when Aspen Lass (NZ) (Alamosa) continued her winning form.

The Riccarton horsewoman celebrated the victories of Bloodstream (NZ) (Duelled) and Margarita Mover (Captain Sonador) on Saturday and she didn't have to wait long to add to the tally on Wednesday.

Aspen Lass enjoyed a good run on the fence in the Bidvest New Zealand Premier and she rounded off well in the straight to peg back Tarihira (NZ) (Nom Du Jeu) close to home.

"She's a good, honest mare and she really clicks with Chris Johnson," stable representative Ryan Thistoll said.

Crozier cashes in on home turf

Riccarton trainer Danny Crozier has continued his good run of form on his local course.

The former top jumps jockey saddled In Danger (NZ) (Danger Looms) to claim the opening event, the Perfect Packaging Premier Maiden, on Wednesday to follow the winning lead of stablemate Suzerain (NZ) (Keeper), who took out the closing event on Saturday.

"To do it on my home track during cup week is a buzz," Crozier said. "He should probably have won a race before now, but it's a blessing in disguise he didn't with this one worth $30,000."

In Danger finished off strongly to down the northern visitor Petite Midas (Congrats), who looked set for victory when she kicked clear 200 metres from home.

Kevin Hickman

Golden Guineas outcome

Many owners dream of having a horse good enough to line up in a Group One race. Having two, one of which you bred, and then having them quinella the event would qualify as an ultimate fantasy.

Add into the mix the fact you are also a shareholder in the stallion which sired the winner and you have a result of Lotto jackpot dimensions.

Prominent owner Kevin Hickman cracked that jackpot at Riccarton on Saturday when Ugo Foscolo (NZ) (Zacinto) and Savile Row (NZ) (Makfi) ran 1-2 in the Sothys 2000 Guineas.

The Valachi Downs principal is no stranger to winning Group One races. "I think we've won about five now," he said. "They are hard to win though!"

"We had a good run with Silent Achiever then things went a bit quiet and we seem to have been resuscitated lately," he joked. Full story here.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Injury blow for smart colt

Beaten Gr.1 NZ 2000 Guineas favourite Mongolian Falcon (Fastnet Rock) is facing an uncertain future.

"He came back from the race with a bone chip on his knee," co-trainer Donna Logan said.

"That definitely explains his disappointing performance. Leith (Innes) said he felt brilliant up to about the 600-metre mark, but just couldn't stretch out after that.

"We're consulting with vets from New Zealand and Australia about our options with this chip. Unfortunately it's not in a good location.

"So at this stage we don't really have any prognosis for his return to racing. We'll just have to wait and see."

"Perfect" ride from Chiong sees apprentice's claim reduced to five pounds

Last season's Most Popular Jockey Kei Chiong claimed her 45th Hong Kong win and lost her seven-pound claim in the process with a stellar front-running victory on Packing Dragon (NZ)

Kei Chiong

(Mastercraftsman) in a dramatic Class 3 Sutherland Handicap (1800m) at Happy Valley on Wednesday night.

Chiong led her rivals a merry dance on the Ricky Yiu-trained Packing Dragon, who was coming off a win at the city track's day meeting on 30 October. She controlled the tempo out in front, setting steady sectionals before utilising the advantage of her claim by upping the tempo at the 600 metres and making it difficult for her opponents to catch her.

Packing Dragon's win brought up victory 45 for Chiong since she made her Hong Kong debut in September last year, meaning that from Saturday's Sha Tin meeting, she will now only receive a five-pound allowance on her rides. This will remain until she reaches 70 wins, when her claim will reduce further to three pounds.

"It's exciting, but I know I will now have to try harder to get more winners," Chiong said. "I am working hard now, but I am always trying to improve more and now I will have to try even harder."

Ready To Run Sale next week

The New Zealand Bloodstock Ready To Run Sale of 2YO's kicks off at Karaka on Wednesday.

The two-day sale has attracted a catalogue of 552 horses and selling will begin at 10am on November 16 and 17.

The catalogue including breeze up videos and photos can be viewed at www.nzb.co.nz.

NEW ZEALAND RACING
HALL OF FAME

Remembering our Hall Of Fame Heroes

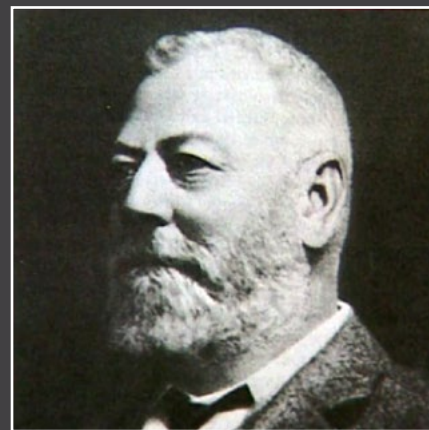

George Gattonby Stead - One of the most successful owners and administrators in NZ

George Gattonby Stead was 12 times leading owner in the 1890s and early 1900s, but this conveys only a part of the influence he wielded on New Zealand racing in the early days.

He was treasurer of the Canterbury Jockey Club for more than 30 years and chairman from the turn of the century, at a time when the strength of New Zealand racing was very much based in Canterbury.

Active in the formation of the Racing Conference, he was much involved in the formation of a uniform set of rules throughout the country, and oversaw the building of a railway line from the main line to Riccarton racecourse.

At first a leviathan punter, he became an enthusiastic supporter of the totalisator and played a leading role in moving New Zealand racing to an all-totalisator structure. With only two trainers – David Jones and Dick Mason – during a 30-year period, Stead raced many of the best gallopers of his era and won all the country's feature races on numerous occasions.
