PITMAN GIVEN THE GREEN LIGHT

Trainer Michael Pitman will make the trip to Australia today to be with son Matthew as they tackle the Gr.1 Cox Plate with top mare Savvy Coup

A cautiously excited Michael Pitman has been given the green light from his surgeon to travel to Melbourne today to watch Savvy Coup (NZ) (Savabeel) contest the Gr.1 Cox Plate (2040m) at Moonee Valley on Saturday.

"I get out of the hospital this afternoon and I'm on a flight first thing tomorrow morning," Pitman said from Hospital on Thursday.

"I'm not sure whether it's the right thing to be doing but that's what I'm doing. I've just got to take it easy and pace myself a bit, but I'll be right.

"It's an opportunity not to be missed, it's just massive." Pitman, whose battle with bowel cancer has been well publicised, had surgery on Monday and he has been recuperating in hospital since.

"They kept me in on purpose for an extra couple of days just to make sure that I was okay and all my vital signs were good, and they are."

The Christchurch-based trainer is realistic about his mare's chances against a quality field headlined by superstar mare Winx (Street Cry).

"Honestly a pass mark would be running fifth. All up it cost about A$65,000 for acceptances, fifth money is A$200,000, sixth and seventh is A$100,000 and eighth is A$75,000," he said.

PITMAN GIVEN THE GREEN LIGHT

“We’re going into it eyes wide open and this isn’t really our grand finale because we were always going across for either the MacKinnon Stakes or the Matriarch Stakes and it just so happens that the perfect lead in race happens to be a 2000m race at Moonee Valley two weeks before which is the one we are contesting.

“She’s come through her work the other day fantastic and we really couldn’t be happier with her. We know it’s a massive task but we’re going into it with a horse that we are very happy with.”

When asked how he would feel if the unfathomable did happen, Pitman was quick to show his competitive nature is still intact.

“I wouldn’t be embarrassed to beat Winx,” he said. “I know it won’t happen but you do think about it and man I’d love to beat Winx, of course I would, you would never be forgotten in the history of the game.”

Pitman will be joined on the flight to Melbourne by his son and co-trainer Matthew, however, his wife Diane is returning to Christchurch to take care of things on the home front.

“Diane’s been over there for the last eight days but she’s flying home because we have a big team in at Riccarton as well,” Pitman said.

Amongst Pitman Racing’s nine runners at Riccarton is last start winner Elfee (NZ) (Iffraaj) who is the top-weighted horse in the Listed Christchurch Casino Spring Classic (2000m).

“She’s just been a revelation since she arrived at our place, she’s had 29 starts for us for 28 cheques,” Pitman said.

“We stepped her up over ground for the first time the other day and she won well enough.

“I’m not going to moan about the fact that she’s the top weight because she’s the best horse in the race. It probably doesn’t help her but that’s a reflection of the calibre of horse she’s racing against rather than her.”

MELBOURNE CUP DREAM STILL ALIVE

Jan Smith with her pride and joy, Patrick Erin

New Zealand-owned galloper Patrick Erin (NZ) (Gallant Guru) currently sits in 47th position in the order of entry for the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup (3200m), but regardless of whether he makes the final field co-owner Janice Smith and her daughters will be at Flemington to mark a special occasion.

Smith planned the trip earlier this year to celebrate the 50th anniversary of her wedding to the late Patrick Erin Smith, who sadly died in May.

“At the beginning of the year we thought it would be a chance to celebrate, but we thought we would all go anyway and we will all be together,” said Smith referring to her daughters Lauren, Vicki and Jackie.

To have a runner in the Cup was a pipe dream when the trip was planned, but now it’s a possibility with Patrick Erin the horse, staking his claim for the race with a win in the Gr.1 Metropolitan (2400m) on September 29.

The Smiths will be joined in Flemington by Patrick Erin’s other owners - twins, Tony and Graeme Handisides - who are responsible for naming the son of Gallant Guru.

“We have raced horses together before, Tony and Graeme and Pat were at St Bede’s college together and they’ve been friends since then,” Smith said.

“They had said several times, we need to call one Patrick Erin and this was the last colt or gelding from our mare Mega Babe so we thought if we’re going to do it we better do it now.”

MELBOURNE CUP DREAM STILL ALIVE

Patrick Erin's dam Mega Babe (NZ) (Personal Escort) was bred by the Smiths who had raced her dam Red Diamond (NZ) (Faith Guest). Mega Babe died in 2013, having left six winners from as many foals to race.

The Smith family still have Gallant Babe (NZ), a sister to Patrick Erin and Erin's Babe (NZ), a half-sister by Raise The Flag, based at White Robe Lodge. Gallant Babe has a Ghibellines foal at foot and Erin's Babe, a maiden winner at Wingatui in November, has been served by Ghibellines.

Patrick Erin began his race career in New Zealand with Brian and Shane Anderton as a four-year-old. He won 10 races for them including the Listed Riverton Cup (2147m), but due to his high rating the decision was made to send him to Chris Waller in Australia.

"We would have like to have seen him carry on here but as Brian Anderton suggested he'd just been weighted out of everything so it was best to let him go over there," Smith said.

"We enjoy having him with Chris and even though we're not living over there we get plenty of updates on what he's doing and very good service from the staff. It's quite exciting watching the other horses he has in the stable like Winx too."

Patrick Erin is likely to continue his Melbourne Cup preparation at Moonee Valley on Saturday where he will jump from barrier 14 in the Gr.2 Moonee Valley Gold Cup (2500m).

The wide draw has Waller in two minds with the possibility he could reserve Patrick Erin for the Gr.3 Bendigo Cup (2400m) on Wednesday for which he also holds a nomination.

SHARROCK PRODUCES STAKES RUNNERS AT THREE VENUES

Allan Sharrock is stretching his resources like never before but is hoping for a landmark weekend of success as he produces runners in stakes races at three different venues for the first time in his career this weekend.

The New Plymouth trainer is in Melbourne putting the finishing polish on Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) winner Ladies First (NZ) (Dylan Thomas) ahead of Saturday's Gr.2 Moonee Valley Gold Cup (2500m), while back home London Express (NZ) (Shamexpress) tackles the Gr.3 Partners Life Soliloquy Stakes (1400m) at Ellerslie and Art Deco (NZ) (Road To Rock) contests the Gr.3 Gee & Hickton Thompson Handicap (1600m) at Trentham.

"We're a bit stretched and Kane [Sharrock's son and stable foreman] is under the pump but they've all worked well this week and we're hoping to make our presence felt everywhere," Sharrock said.

Former stable apprentice and champion jockey Michael Walker takes the ride on Ladies First in the Moonee Valley Gold Cup from barrier one and was aboard in her trackwork at Tuesday's Breakfast with the Stars session at Moonee Valley.

"Michael had no knock on her work at all. She handled the Valley just fine. She looks really good and she's fit," Sharrock said.

"I'd liken her condition to how she was before the Auckland Cup. We think she'll be at her optimum for Saturday but whether that's good enough, we'll find out.

"We've just had the misfortune to come up against one of the strongest she could run in the top five we might back up (in the Hotham Handicap) on Derby Day and then get her home for another Auckland Cup preparation in the autumn.

"I couldn't be any happier with her. We'll see where she sits on Saturday."

Sharrock was pleased with Listed winner London Express ahead of the Soliloquy Stakes at Ellerslie, the Shamexpress filly's first start at Group level.

"She won a jumpout at Hawera and she worked right-handed on Tuesday and we reckon she goes that way more comfortably than what she does left-handed," Sharrock said.

"Media Sensation will be hard to beat but we'll be more than competitive."

Safely through Saturday's race, London Express will prepare for the Gr.3 Lucia Valentina Wellington Stakes (1600m) at Otaki on November 30.

Art Deco is nearing the end of her preparation but Sharrock is expecting a typically bold performance from the Road To Rock mare in the Thompson Handicap after Group Three placings at her last two starts.

"She's super. She could have done with drawing a better barrier [than gate 12] but there's a bit of rain coming and that would help her too," Sharrock said.

"She never fails to please us. She probably won't do much more after this. She's had a long campaign but we'll get her back for the autumn and she'll probably be off to a stallion next spring."

Moonee Valley Cup fields in years. They had seven last year but this year it's a full field of 15 and three emergencies.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo)

Humidor ready to tackle Winx

Multiple Group One winner Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo) pushed Winx (Street Cry) close in last year's Gr.1 Cox Plate (2040m) and his connections are hoping he can go one better this year.

The New Zealand-bred and part-owned gelding has had a solid preparation leading into Saturday's feature at Moonee Valley for trainer Darren Weir, which included victory in the Gr.1 Memsie Stakes (1400m) at Caulfield in September.

"He's had a beautiful preparation heading in towards Saturday's Cox Plate," Weir Racing stable foreman Jarrod McLean said.

"He has been running in weight-for-age and running well, come Saturday we will see the blinkers come back on. He's really good and I can't wait for Saturday."

Humidor has only had the one prior start at Moonee Valley, where he was runner-up in last year's Cox Plate, and his connections are pleased with him heading into the big race.

"He appears to be going well, he's racing true and his work has been terrific. He has just developed into a good weight-for-age horse," McLean said.

"He's only had the one run at Moonee Valley, where he ran second in the Cox Plate, so hopefully it's a track he does like and appreciate."

Meanwhile, regular rider Damian Lane couldn't be happier with the six-year-old heading into Saturday.

"He's going really well, he has definitely improved since his last run and hopefully he can give her (Winx) a shake again," Lane said.

"He's racing a lot more tractable, he seems a really happy horse at the moment, so he's probably going a little bit better."

Tulip (Pierro)

Big task for Tulip

Tulip (Pierro) will have to produce a career best if she is to win the Gr.1 Manikato Stakes (1200m) at Moonee Valley tonight according to co-trainer Ben Hayes.

Tulip, who was sold through Curraghmore's 2016 New Zealand Bloodstock draft, has won twice at Moonee Valley, including the Gr.3 Typhoon Tracy Stakes (1200m) last February.

"She'll have to run a career-best but her work is good," Hayes said.

"She has run fifth in an Everest last year, so if she's at her best she can definitely mix it with them. She's got an awkward barrier in ten but if they go quick she might get into a good position."

Botti (NZ) (Jakkalberry)

Classics still in-mind for Cambridge pair

Cambridge trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman will find out in the next week if they will contest classic spoils over Melbourne Cup week with stable three-year-olds Botti (NZ) (Jakkalberry) and Rubira (Lope De Vega).

Botti pleased his connections with his last start fifth-placing at Moe and they are hoping he can earn himself a spot in the Gr.1 Victoria Derby (2500m) field with a good performance in the Gr.2 Drummond Golf Vase (2040m) at Moonee Valley on Saturday.

"His last run was very good, we were rapt with how he went," Forsman said. "He had no luck being down on the rail.

"I thought to his credit for an inexperienced horse against older horses, to pick himself up and still get going again showed a lot of character and I think he is really making it as a racehorse.

"Hopefully he can get a little bit more prizemoney to help him get in the Derby the following week."

Meanwhile, the training duo remain undecided on whether Rubira will contest the Gr.1 VRC Oaks (2500m) after she finished fifth behind Verry Elleegant (NZ) (Zed) in the Gr.3 Ethereal Stakes at Caulfield on Saturday.

"She was just fair the other day, so we'll give it a week or so and see whether we press onto the Oaks or bring her home.

"The Oaks will fall away a little bit and she'll tell us in a week how she is feeling heading into it. I can't fault her, she's probably just a touch weak at this stage."

Magic Condor (Magic Albert)

Black-type option for smart maiden winner

Cambridge trainer Shaune Ritchie doesn't know where maiden winner Magic Condor (Magic Albert) sits in the pecking order of three-year-old fillies but is happy to find out in Saturday's Gr.3 Partners Life Soliloquy Stakes (1400m) at Ellerslie.

"She's going to run in the Soliloquy and she's going to be competitive," Ritchie said.

"From what I'm reading through the press, Melt's not certain to run and with Xpression campaigning in the South Island, all of a sudden it looks like a race that's within the range of these types of fillies." Full story here

NEWS IN BRIEF

Emily Margaret (NZ) (Pins)

Emily Margaret primed for Zacinto

In form three-year-old filly Emily Margaret (NZ) (Pins) already has one stakes victory to her name this spring and she will be looking to add the Listed Zacinto Stakes (1600m) to that tally at Riccarton on Saturday.

The Kevin and Pam Hughes-trained runner has won two races this spring, including the Listed Canterbury Belle Stakes (1200m) two starts back, and finished a creditable third last-start in the Guineas Trial (1400m) at Riccarton.

"The pace went on and then it came off and she was trapped on the fence and it took her a while to relax," Kevin Hughes said.

Sword Of Osman (NZ) (Savabeel)

Sword Of Osman back to winning form in Te Rapa feature

Former top juvenile Sword Of Osman (NZ) (Savabeel) was back in the winning groove at Te Rapa where he took out the Gr.2 James & Annie Sarten Memorial Stakes (1400m) with a bold front-running performance.

A Group One winner during his two-year-old season, the Savabeel gelding had been slow to find his feet in this campaign with two unplaced efforts preceding Monday's much improved showing.

Aided by an inch-perfect ride by Opie

Bosson, Sword Of Osman dictated the speed throughout before repelling a strong challenge in the run home by Qiji Express (NZ) (Shamexpress), who failed by just a nose to topple the winner. Race favourite Madison County (NZ) (Pins), the stablemate of the runner-up, made ground late to finish third without threatening the first two home. Full story here

Rhinestone Cowboy (Teoflo)

Rhinestone Cowboy on best behaviour at Te Rapa

Talented galloper Rhinestone Cowboy (Teoflo) was on his best behaviour at Te Rapa to land his first career victory.

The talented but headstrong Teoflo four-year-old had finished third at his only start as a three-year-old before being put aside to mature further by trainers Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman.

Set to resume on the last day of the Hawkes Bay spring carnival, Rhinestone Cowboy put on a display of buck-jumping and the like that saw him scratched at the barrier. Full story here

Our Sea Goddess (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

First victory for daughter of Seachange

Our Sea Goddess (NZ) (Darci Brahma), the daughter of seven-time Group One-winning mare Seachange (NZ), recorded her first victory at Geelong on Wednesday.

The Lindsay Park-trained four-year-old was bred by The Oaks Stud principal Dick Karreman and carried the farms' colours to victory over 1400m in just her second start.

The Darci Brahma mare jumped away well from the outside barrier in the 11 horse field and crossed easily to take an early lead under jockey Regan Bayliss.

The pair dictated terms throughout and held off a late challenge by Boltoutoftheblue (Lord Jim) to win by a head.

"It was fantastic, it was a really good effort because she got taken on early. She was really strong to the line, so it was good to see," co-trainer Ben Hayes said.

"I just loved how she pinged the barriers and Regan just crossed very easily and he did dictate, but when she got taken on she really picked up and it was a really great effort."

Zubair Bholah with Flicka Of Gold

First NZ win for Bholah

Apprentice jockey Zubair Bholah picked up his first win in New Zealand on Wednesday when he rode Flicka of Gold (NZ) (Bachelor Duke) to victory in the Clair Anderton (1400m) at Wingatui for boss Steve Tyler.

The nine-year-old gelding jumped well from the ace barrier and Bholah made it a staying test for the 12 horse field, setting a strong pace throughout to win by six lengths.

"I judged the pace and it paid off," said Bholah, who previously rode in Mauritius.

"It was a big stress (trying to get my first winner), but now I feel the pressure has gone.

"I am very happy, it is my first win here in New Zealand. I have to thank the Tyler family, they have helped me a lot, along with Mr (David) Walsh my riding master.

"It is a good experience to be here in New Zealand, I am very happy."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Cody Cole

Young gun firing with winners

Cody Cole's rise in the training ranks could include a Group One contender next month.

After being a successful weight-lifter whose highlight was representing New Zealand at the 2014 Commonwealth Games in Scotland, Cole (28) has followed in the race horse training footsteps of his father, Tony.

Cole has been turning heads with his horses and his strike rate, so much so he has been forced to up his status from a permit to train license to a public trainers' license. Full story here

Dawn Patrol (NZ) (Dawn Approach)

Dawn Patrol Guineas-bound

Unbeaten three-year-old gelding Dawn Patrol (NZ) (Dawn Approach) will now head to Riccarton next month to contest the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai New Zealand 2000 Guineas (1600m) after pleasing trainer Frank Ritchie in his 1200m trial at Te Aroha on Thursday.

"We've had a trial and we're happy," Ritchie said. "He just had a trial at Te Aroha and ran third to Passing Shot I'm very happy with it."

"At this stage we are going. We are happy with the run and I needed to give him something between his last run and the 2000 Guineas. Unless something arises in the next couple of weeks we will be going."

The son of Dawn Approach has won both of his career starts and while Ritchie would have liked to have a little more time to educate the youngster, he believes his charge has the ability to be a major player in the 2000 Guineas.

"I think he has got all the talent you probably need, however he doesn't have a lot of ringcraft," Ritchie said. "He wants to over-race from time-to-time, but he was pretty good today in the trial."

"It would be nice to have the race another couple of months away, but it's only education, I'm not worried about fitness and I am pretty sure he is up to them."

Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto)

Saracino impresses in WA trial

Multiple Group Two winner Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto) has recently joined the stable of Chris Gangemi and the five-year-old impressed the Western Australian trainer with his first outing in the Golden State.

The son of Per Incanto won his 950m trial comfortably by two and a half lengths at Lark Hill on Monday and will now be set towards black-type assignments.

"It was what we wanted to come here and see," Gangemi said.

"He was a horse that Michael (Gangemi) picked up cheaply in an online auction a few months ago. His form had gone off, but he was a very nice three-year-old, he won the Gr.2 Danehill Stakes (Gr.2, 1200m) down the straight (at Flemington)."

"From the time we have had him, he has done nothing but impress us. We just gave him a spell and started from scratch. He has been working like a top-class horse for the last month or so now, so it was good to see him do it at the trials, now he has got to do it race day."

"Saturday-week he will start in the Prince of Wales (Gr.3, 1200m) and all going well he will start in the Winterbottom (Gr.1, 1200m)."

Bred and formerly owned by Lib Petagna under his JML Bloodstock banner, Saracino was initially trained in New Zealand by Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman for whom he won three Group Two races and placed in the Gr.1 NRM Sprint (1400m) and Gr.1 Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes (1400m).

Seabrook (NZ) (Hinchinbrook)

Myer next target for Seabrook

Caulfield trainer Mick Price has elected to bypass the Gr.1 VRC Oaks (2500m) in favour of the Gr.1 Myer Classic (1600m) at Flemington on Saturday-week with three-year-old filly Seabrook (NZ) (Hinchinbrook).

It will be three weeks between runs for the New Zealand-bred filly who finished third in the Gr.1 Thousand Guineas (1600m), and her trainer thinks that will be a huge aid for his runner.

"I think she also goes better with a bit of time between runs, she's that sort of filly," Price said. "I think she went super in the Thousand Guineas, I'm not saying she would have won, but certainly she should have run second."

"Seabrook worked super at Caulfield on Tuesday morning and she will run in the Myer with Dean Yendall to ride, who has won the last two."

"I thought the Myer would be safer for her and three-year-old fillies have won the last two Myer Classics, so crossed fingers on that one."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Embellish (NZ) (Savabeel)

Embellish back on track

Embellish (NZ) (Savabeel) showed a glimpse of his talent at last week's Te Awamutu trials, but he won't be part of the Te Akau Racing Stables squad competing at the New Zealand Cup meeting at Riccarton next month.

Winner of the Gr.1 New Zealand 2000 Guineas (1600m) last November, the son of Savabeel hasn't raced since finishing midfield in the Gr.1 Australian Guineas (1600m) at Flemington in March.

In the meantime he has had just two trials, the first when unplaced at Cambridge earlier this month and the other when beating Caprikosa (NZ) (Alamosa) over 1150m last Thursday. Full story here

"Bursting through the gates (before the
