NZ TRAINERS AFTER MORE AUSTRALIAN SUCCESS

Jon Snow will be the first of a powerful Australian spring team on the track for Murray Baker & Andrew Forsman when he steps out at Caulfield tomorrow.

The first Australian Group One race of the season signals the start of latest assault from the New Zealand training partnership of Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman.

Four horses from the stable arrived in Melbourne on Sunday with Australian Derby winner Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) to be the first to step out in Saturday's Gr.1 New Zealand Bloodstock Memsie Stakes (1400m) at Caulfield.

Group One winners Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) and Lizzie L'Amour (NZ) (Zabeel) begin their campaigns in the Gr.1 Dato Tan Chin Nam Stakes a week later while Victoria Derby hopeful Weather With You (Teofilo) resumes in a Sandown maiden on Wednesday.

"We're lucky to have four really exciting chances to compete over there," Forsman said from New Zealand.

NZ TRAINERS AFTER MORE AUSTRALIAN SUCCESS

"It's never easy. The competition is very tough. But we think we've got four horses that can measure up.

"Jon Snow, Lizzie L'Amour and Bonneval are really over there for the Cups, namely the Caulfield and Melbourne Cups.

"And Weather With You, the Derby."

Jon Snow, to be ridden by Stephen Baster, is expected to take a weight-for-age path to his main targets and Forsman said they couldn't be happier with his preparation.

"He's coming up really well. He's bigger and stronger," he said.

"He improved a lot at the end of his last preparation and he's going to have to improve again up against the older horses, but we're hoping he has."

Forsman said they were not expecting too much first-up but said it was a suitable kick off race for Jon Snow, who is at $41.

"We didn't really want to run him first-up at a mile," he said.

"We thought it would be better to get that run into him and then up to a mile second time I think he's going to be much more competitive."

The New Zealand Bloodstock sponsored Memsie is A$1 million this year and the star-studded field includes some specialist shorter course horses.

"I think there's a few that have really targeted this race, and you can see why with the stake money," Forsman said.

"He's probably a run behind a fair few of them as there's not many that are fresh-up into it. So he's going to need the run a bit.

"He's drawn 10 of 12 so he's going to get an awkward sort of a run, so nothing really points towards him being competitive. Although we wouldn't be surprised to see him run a cheeky race."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Volpe Veloce (Foxwedge)

Favourite pleases ahead of Tarzino

Trainer Graham Richardson won't be losing any sleep worrying about the weather ahead of a Group One tilt for star mare Volpe Veloce (Foxwedge) at Hastings tomorrow.

The Matamata conditioner prepares the ruling $3 favourite for the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy in partnership with Gavin Parker, with the Hastings track currently rated a Slow7 and more rain forecast.

"You start thinking too much and stressing about the weather," Richardson said. "She's well, we've done what we have to do and what will be, will be."

"She galloped on Tuesday at Matamata and did not handle the wet conditions at all, but Matamata is very heavy and Hastings is a different story."

Volpe Veloce has won eight of her nine career starts and commenced her four-year-old season in impressive fashion with a dominant victory at Te Rapa.

Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel)

Waddell out to make amends on Kawi

Jockey Jason Waddell is looking forward to partnering Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel) in tomorrow's Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) at Hastings.

The Cambridge-based rider has ridden the weight-for-age star on two occasions, culminating in a Group One victory at Otaki in February, and a first-up third in the Gr.2 Lisa Chittick Foxbridge Plate.

"He was fantastic in the Foxbridge Plate," Waddell said. "I wasn't overly happy with my ride on him, but I was tracking a couple of horses in the race that I thought would carry me into it and they just didn't do that." Full story here

Tivaci

Tivaci shuttle deal a landmark agreement

An esteemed English breeding operation has come knocking on Waikato Stud's door and the Matamata nursery has been honoured to answer the call with a positive response.

News that the farm's exciting new stallion Tivaci (High Chaparral) has been sought out for Northern Hemisphere shuttle duties at the iconic English National Stud is a feather in the cap of the New Zealand breeding industry.

"It's a great endorsement for Tivaci and demonstrates to breeders just how in demand these horses with Australian Group One success up to the mile are," Waikato Stud principal Mark Chittick said. Full story here

Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj)

Cup hope not expected to trouble sprint stars

The connections of Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) aren't expecting any first-up fireworks from their charge on Saturday.

The Gr.1 Caulfield Cup prospect will begin his spring preparation with an outing in the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy followed by a return to Hastings for the Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate on September 23.

"The 1400 metres will be too short for him on Saturday," said Jamie Richards, who trains in partnership with Stephen Autridge. "He'll get back and be running on at the finish, but it's not his race against the likes of Kawi, Perfect Fit and Volpe Veloce.

"He will go back to run in the mile and then, all going well, he could go to Melbourne but that will be decided after the Windsor Park." Full story here

Perfect Fit (NZ) (Elusive City)

New look for Perfect Fit

The connections of Perfect Fit (NZ) (Elusive City) are hoping a gear addition at Hastings will bring out the best in her in Saturday's Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy.

Trainers Ken and Bev Kelso have decided to put the blinkers on the mare in the wake of her unplaced run in the Gr.2 Foxbridge Plate.

"It was Bev's suggestion, the same as it was when Xanadu beat Mufhasa in the Windsor Park Plate, so I'm happy to run with it," Ken Kelso said.

"We've been happy with her all the way through, but we feel that by adding blinkers it will just sharpen her"

Mare given green light for Tarzino

Fraser Auret can't find a reason not to give Aide Memoire (NZ) (Remind) the opportunity this Saturday to double her Group One tally.

The Marton trainer has confirmed his Captain Cook Stakes winner will run in the Tarzino Trophy at Hawke's Bay.

Auret has been playing a waiting game with the lightly-raced six-year-old following

Ecuador (NZ) (High Chaparral)

Age no barrier for Ecuador

Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott's stable stalwart Ecuador (NZ) (High Chaparral) has proven age has not slowed him down, placing behind Winx (Street Cry) first-up and is 'thriving' heading into Saturday's Gr.2 Tramway Stakes at Randwick.

The eight-year-old lines up for his 36th start and his co-trainer Adrian Bott couldn't be more pleased with the gelding heading into the A$200,000 event.

"We were very happy with his run first-up," Bott said. "He's come through the Warwick Stakes in good order.

"He's an eight-year-old now, but just by looking at the horse and his training and racing he's a horse that's still really thriving and enjoying his work so, that gives you a lot of confidence going forward. Full story here

Chocante thriving ahead of Chelmsford

Brisbane Cup winner Chocante (NZ) (Shocking) is primed to give a strong account of himself in Saturday's Gr.2 Chelmsford Stakes (1600m) at Randwick.

While trainer Stephen Marsh acknowledges they are running for second at best behind the champion mare Winx

Chocante (NZ) (Shocking)

(Street Cry), he has been thrilled with the progress of the five-year-old who trialed in fine style at Taupo earlier this month.

"His trial was great. It was full of black-type horses and for him to do that was great," he said.

After the Chelmsford, Chocante will step up to 2000m a fortnight later in the Gr.3 Kingston Town Stakes at Rosehill and on to the Gr.1 Metropolitan over 2400m at Randwick on September 30.

Marsh said they were then hoping the horse's form warranted a tilt at the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup.

Joyfully Ours (NZ) (Highly Recommended)

Smart Kiwi filly a joy for new stable

New Zealand Group One performer Joyfully Ours (NZ) (Highly Recommended) will make her Australian debut in Saturday's Gr.2 Furious Stakes (1200m) at Randwick.

The Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes placegetter continues to impress trainers Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott after crossing the Tasman in the autumn.

"They are really happy with her, she's settled in well and she's a fit and happy horse," racing manager Emma Pearce said.

The three-year-old daughter of Highly Recommended has trialed twice this month on her adopted home track in preparation for a return to racing this Saturday.

"All of the jockeys that have ridden her have made good comments about her," Pearce said.

"She's going to run in the Furious Stakes first-up. Gai thinks that the filly will stretch out in trip later on, but this is a nice starting point for her."

Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto)

Saracino to step out for new stable

Mixed showings from Saracino (NZ) (Per Incanto) in recent jump-outs at Flemington has his new trainer Mike Moroney unsure exactly what to expect from the multiple Group winner in his first start for the stable.

Formerly trained by Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman, last year's Danehill Stakes winner resumes in Saturday's Gr.3 The Heath (1100m) at Caulfield.

Saracino did not go back to New Zealand after he ran sixth in the Gr.2 Arrowfield Sprint (1200m) at Randwick in April.

He spelled in Sydney before entering Moroney's Sydney stable and then later travelled down to his Melbourne base. Full story here

Legless Veuve (NZ) (Pins)

Veuve could bubble fresh at Caulfield

Legless Veuve (NZ) (Pins) caught punters unaware when resuming last time in but trainer Stuart Webb admits he has also underestimated the talented mare in the past.

Webb is likely to start Legless Veuve's spring campaign in the Gr.3 The Heath (1100m) at Caulfield tomorrow.

Spieth (NZ) (Thorn Park)

Spieth on Everest trial

High-class sprinter Spieth (NZ) (Thorn Park) will kick off his campaign with a start in the Gr.3 Concorde Stakes (1000m) at Randwick tomorrow.

The Bryce Heys-trained entire finished a narrow second in both the Gr.1 Darley (1200m) and the Gr.1 Black Caviar Lightning Stakes (1000m) last season, and his trainer believes a victory this weekend could gain interest from slot holders for The Everest (1200m).

"A horse of his profile and the quality that he is it's only natural there's some intrigue and interest in how he returns to the races," Heys said.

"It will be perceived as (an audition) but whether the Everest is there or not I'm focused on getting him back to the races and running well."

"I want to be in it. As it stands now he's not in it. Hopefully we are in a position where we are talking about being in it on Sunday."

Corey Brown has been booked to ride Spieth through the spring and took him through his paces in winning an 800m trial at Warwick Farm on August 14.

Dee I Cee aiming to back-up surprise win in Wyong Gold Cup

The Gai Waterhouse and Adrian Bott-trained Dee I Cee (NZ) (Istidaad) surprised many at long-odds at Rosehill last Saturday but is out to prove it was no fluke in today's Listed Wyong Gold Cup (2100m).

The six-year-old had not won since January 2015 before greeting the judge first in the Listed Premier's Cup (1900m).

However, he had placed on a number of occasions including a narrow second in the

Dee I Cee (NZ) (Istidaad)

2016 Newcastle Cup and co-trainer Adrian Bott hopes that Saturday's win will be the turning point.

"That win should give him some confidence to hopefully go on with it and prove that it wasn't a fluke," Bott said.

Bott believes the quick back-up only enhances the gelding's chance.

"He did plenty of work going into that race so, I don't think the quick back-up will be an issue," Bott said.

"He seems to be doing well and we think we've got him right and it looks another suitable race for him."

Bostonian (NZ) (Jimmy Choux)

Unbeaten 3YOs kick off Guineas campaign

Cambridge conditioner Tony Pike has two big chances in the Listed El Roca - Sir Colin Meads Trophy (1200m) at Hastings on Saturday with his unbeaten three-year-olds Bostonian (NZ) (Jimmy Choux) and Sacred Rebel (Sepoy).

"They should both go well," Pike said. "Obviously everyone has been held up with the weather and they will probably improve a touch with the run."

"They have both been to Te Rapa for a solid jump out about three weeks ago, so they are definitely forward enough." Full story here

Sophie's Choice (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Sophie's Choice in tribute race to Sir Colin

Sophie's Choice (NZ) (Darci Brahma) will run at Hastings on Saturday in a race fittingly dedicated to the late Sir Colin Meads, who recently lost his battle with pancreatic cancer.

Part-owned by Sir Colin and his wife Lady Verna, the filly will race in the Cancer Society colours and will wear saddlecloth five, which was the All Black icon's playing number, in the Listed El Roca Sir Colin Meads Trophy.

Sir Colin and Lady Verna enjoyed success as racehorse owners, most notably as part-owners of Group One-winning filly Ruud Awakening (Bernardini) who was purchased, syndicated and managed by Go Racing's Albert Bosma. Full story here

Griffin (NZ) (Iffraaj)

Guineas hopes ready for action

Griffin (NZ) (Iffraaj) and Summer Monsoon (Stratum) will begin their quest for age group honours at Hastings on Saturday.

They will resume for trainers Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards in the Listed El Roca - Sir Colin Meads Trophy.

"They are both nice three-year-olds on their way to the Guineas races, hopefully ending up at Riccarton," said Richards referring to the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld New Zealand 2000 Guineas.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A brother to Gingernuts (NZ), Griffin won his only start last term and he will be ridden by Michael Coleman while Sumer Monsoon will be handled by Cameron Lammars, who won on the colt at Te Rapa last year.

Swissta (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Smart 4YO on trail of stakes success

Swissta (NZ) (Swiss Ace) claimed notable scalps as a three-year-old and plans are in place for him to chase further Group Two success this term.

The son of Swiss Ace put together a winning hat-trick last season, which culminated in a victory in the Great Northern Guineas at the expense of the capable Tiptronic (NZ) (O'Reilly) and the subsequent Gr.1 Australian Derby winner Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj).

Swissta was spelled after two further unplaced outings and he will resume at Ruakaka tomorrow in the Polwarth Design 1200. Full story here

Bella Gioia (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Class could take mare close

Bella Gioia (NZ) (Swiss Ace) isn't fully tuned up just yet, but she is still expected to give a bold account of herself when resuming at Ruakaka tomorrow.

"She was a genuine Group One three-year-old last season and her class will take her a long way," trainer Shaune Ritchie said. "She's not a 1200 metre horse, but we still expect her to go a cheeky race."

Runner-up in the New Zealand 1000 Guineas, Bella Gioia will be ridden in the Polwarth Design Handicap by Sam Weatherley.

Flamingo to work toward further black type

Flamingo (NZ) (Pins) will be kept to her own grade in the immediate future before sterner tests are put to the talented daughter of Pins.

Flamingo (NZ) (Pins)

The aptly-named mare created a good impression last season when she won her first two starts and was then given a break after finding the line strongly from the back to finish third in the Gr.3 Cambridge Breeders' Stakes.

Flamingo is trained by David and Emma Haworth for her breeder, Waikato Stud principal Mark Chittick. Full story here

Trainer in Astroturf's camp

Michael Daly is bullish about the chances of Astroturf (Encosta de Lago) at Ashburton today.

The Timaru trainer also has Mystic Power (NZ) (D'Cash) in the Talleys Handicap, but given reasonable luck in the running he fancies the chances of the stablemate.

"Hopefully, Mystic Power will go to the

Kiwi continues perfect form line

New Zealand-bred Melbourne Cup entry Night's Watch (NZ) (Redwood) has retained his unbeaten status in Australia.

The four-year-old son of Redwood was a debut winner at Bendigo over 1300m earlier this month for champion trainer Darren Weir and the gelding followed up at Sandown on Wednesday with success over 1400m.

Night's Watch, who also holds Group One nominations for the Caulfield Cup and the Cox Plate, won once from four starts for Peter and Dawn Williams before he was transferred to Victoria by his owners, the international syndication company OTI.

Reliable Man

First Australian winner for Reliable Man

Westbury Stud resident Reliable Man, a Group One winner in both hemispheres, has opened his stallion account in Australia.

Expatriate New Zealand trainers Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young produced his promising son Sully (NZ) to win over 1400m at Wangaratta on Monday.

Nominated for the Gr.1 Caulfield Guineas, Sully had placed at his previous two starts including a third behind the boom colt Royal Symphony (Domesday) at Flemington in June.

Casey-Mae Waddell aboard Look Out

Elated apprentice breaks her duck

Casey-Mae Waddell sported a smile a mile wide at Woodville yesterday after riding her first winner.

The 20-year-old saluted the judge aboard the Gary Freeman-bred and owned Look Out (NZ) (Nom du Jeu), who is trained by the apprentice's employer Kevin Gray.

"I'd like to thank Mr Gray and Mr Freeman for putting me on the horse," Waddell said. "It's just awesome to get the job done for them." Full story here

Kiwis among Melbourne Cup entries

Reigning Melbourne Cup champion Almandin (Monsun) is among 140 entries for the 2017 Melbourne Cup (3200m), which will take place at Flemington on November 7.

Trainer Robert Hickmott has a further 11 entries for the race as he aims to deliver a sixth Cup to owner Lloyd Williams.

Australia's leading trainer Darren Weir has entered 17 horses including the former Kiwi Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo), who went on to win the Australian Cup for Weir, in addition to South Australian Derby winner Volatile Mix (NZ) (Pentire) and Japanese import Admire Deus (Admire Don). ### Laxon extends Singapore stay Champion trainer Laurie Laxon may have already decided to leave Singapore, but he has now requested to slightly extend his stay.

After a stellar career at Kranji where he claimed nine titles, Laxon is returning to New Zealand. The Kiwi had officially relinquished his trainer's licence effective from this Friday, September 1, and had already bade farewell with his final runners last Sunday.

Sadly, the 71-year-old mentor could not give his fans a last hurrah, but he will now get another chance to pad up his current 2017 score of 31 winners – and overall tally of 1,263 winners – next week. Full story here

Industry mourns passing of accomplished jockey

The thoroughbred industry is mourning the loss of Grand National Steeplechase-winning jockey Cody Singer, who died on Tuesday.

The talented horseman successfully turned to jumps racing after weight issues and partnered Graeme Rogerson's Cape Kinaverl (NZ) (Cape Cross) to claim top honours in the 2012 Riccarton feature.

Other prestige victories included the 2010 Wellington Steeplechase aboard Brushman (NZ) (Bahhare) for Mark Oulaghan, the 2012 Waikato Hurdles on Borrack (NZ) (Black Minnaloushe) for Adrian Bull and on the Rudy Liefing-trained Just Got Home (NZ) (Storming Home) in the 2014 Wellington Hurdles. Sharrock enjoying dual role success

Group One-winning trainer Allan Sharrock also has a flourishing boutique breeding operation running alongside his New Plymouth stable.

He will shoot for four consecutive victories in Saturday's Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy at Hastings with Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel) in prime order to complete a hat-trick of wins in the feature after Sharrock's first success in the race, then the Makfi Challenge Stakes, came in 2014 with I Do (NZ) (No Excuse Needed).

The No Excuse Needed mare was raced by Sharrock and Waikato Stud principal Mark Chittick and the partners continue to enjoy success with her. Full story here

A well-related recent arrival by Iffraaj could be worth a whole lot more in the coming weeks.

She was foaled at Attunga Stud in the Hunter Valley just days before the arrival in Melbourne on Saturday of her older Gr.1 Australian Derby-winning brother Jon Snow (NZ).
