HALE UP FOR THE CHALLENGE

Shelley Hale believes her Tarzino Trophy winner Close Up is primed for another big run in tomorrow's Gr. 1 Windsor Park Plate

No horse has ever won the Hawke's Bay weight-for-age triple crown, but Cambridge trainer Shelley Hale is keen to keep the dream alive with upset first leg winner Close Up (NZ) (Shinko King).

The eight-year-old gelding was an $18 outsider when he won the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) at Hastings three weeks ago under jockey Grant Cooksley, having only gained a start on race morning when connections of Stolen Dance (NZ) (Alamosa) decided to scratch in reaction to the heavy track.

As a Group One winner, Close Up was assured of a start in Saturday's Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate (1600m) and success would almost certainly spur Hale and her co-owners into making a late entry payment for the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m) at Hastings on October 7.

"We'd definitely have a look," Hale said.

"At nominations time, I thought 1600m might see him out, but if he runs a strong mile on Saturday, we'll definitely consider the last leg. It all depends on how he's hitting the line on Saturday."

Only Starcraft (NZ) (Soviet Star) and Seachange (NZ) (Cape

Cross) have contested the third leg of the triple crown having won the first two legs, with Starcraft outfinished by Balmuse (NZ) (Lord Ballina) in 2004 and Seachange finishing third in 2006 and fourth in 2007.

Kawi (NZ) (Savabeel) won the first two legs last year, but didn't contest the Livamol Classic, while Jimmy Choux (NZ) (Thorn Park), Wall Street (NZ) (Montjeu) and The Message (NZ) (Gold and Ivory) were others to win two of the three legs.

"He's in pretty good nick. He seems to be every bit as good going into this one as he was before the Tarzino Trophy," Hale said of Close Up.

"He's only had two goes at weight-for-age for a second in the Foxbridge Plate and his Group One win. You can't get much better than that.

"We have a little query with him at the mile, but I don't think it's going to be a problem. He's never got the opportunities over longer trips before because we've tended to give him light preps.

"He's jarred up on firm tracks so we'd always ease up on him. His family have all gone over 2000m so we'd like to think it won't be any issue."

Despite his Tarzino Trophy win, Close Up remains an outsider with TAB bookmakers for the Windsor Park Plate, rated a $15 equal seventh favourite in a market headed by Kawi and Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaf) at $4.50 and Volpe Veloce (Foxwedge) at $4.80.

"You've got to be realistic. It's a Group One race and they are blinking hard to win," Hale said.

"But I couldn't be any happier with him. His work this week has been super and he looks a treat. Everything is going 100 per cent with him. I don't get confident for any race, even a maiden, but I know he's in good order."

Hale said she was overwhelmed by the reaction to Close Up's Tarzino Trophy win.

"It's been pretty huge. I've been trying to get back to everyone who sent me a message and over the last couple of weeks I reckon I've talked myself silly," she said.

"Everyone was fantastic. They were quick with their congratulations and well-wishes."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj)

Gingernuts' Caulfield Cup campaign goes up another gear

Leading Caulfield Cup hope Gingernuts (NZ) (Iffraaj) is set to start favourite in Saturday's Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate (1600m) at Hastings.

The winner of the Gr.1 NZ Derby (2400m) and Gr.1 Rosehill Guineas (2000m) last season returned to racing as a four-year-old when finishing an eye-catching fifth in the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) at Hastings on September 4.

The Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards-trained gelding rounded out his preparations for Saturday in a track gallop at Matamata on Tuesday morning.

Gingernuts is likely to remain in his homeland for his next two starts before crossing the Tasman for the A$3 million Gr.1 Caulfield Cup (2400m) on October 21.

The chestnut's final lead-up to Caulfield is set to be the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m) at Hastings on October 7.

Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi)

Little to choose between stablemates

Stephen Marsh finds it hard to split his Group One-bound runners Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi) and Thee Auld Floozie (NZ) (Mastercraftsman).

They will give the Cambridge trainer a strong hand in tomorrow's Windsor Park Plate (1600m) at Hastings.

"They're both in good order and have got a lot of class," Marsh said. "It might come down to the barriers and the luck in the running."

Sofia Rosa turned in an eye-catching run when she got home late for seventh in the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) while Thee Auld Floozie finished one spot further back.

Volkstok'n'barrell (NZ) (Tavistock)

Trainers keeping all options open

Domestic Group One challenges await the well-performed Volkstok'n'barrell (NZ) (Tavistock), although a return to Australia hasn't been ruled out for the six-year-old.

The spring focus for the gelding is firstly on tomorrow's Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate (1600m) at Hastings, but it is the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2000m) a fortnight later that he is tipped to be even more competitive in.

"We certainly want to go back for the Livamol," said Donna Logan, who trains at Ruakaka with Chris Gibbs. "We think that is the best race for him." Full story here

Bonny O'Reilly (NZ) (O'Reilly)

Bonny O'Reilly draws well for Gr.2

Bjorn Baker is hopeful of a big run from Bonny O'Reilly (NZ) (O'Reilly) at Rosehill this weekend when she lines up in the Gr.2 Golden Pendant.

The stakes-winning five-year-old mare was fifth in the Gr.3 Sheraco Stakes (1200m) at her last start, and her trainer is hoping she can improve on that effort from barrier three on Saturday.

"She is drawn ideally, she should be able to get a really good run from there," Baker said.

"She is in tip top order. I am very happy with her and she has proven that she goes well at Rosehill."

Imposing Lass (NZ) (Makfi)

Imposing Lass steps up campaign

Imposing Lass (NZ) (Makfi) will have her fourth run of this preparation in Saturday's Gr.2 Shannon Stakes (1500m) at Rosehill.

Bjorn Baker said Imposing Lass, who is targeting next month's Gr.3 Angst Stakes (1500m) at Randwick, had recovered well from her fifth in the Gr.2 Tibbie Stakes (1400m) at Newcastle last Friday.

"She's fit and well," he said.

"I don't think running her in the Shannon will be too much of a negative."

Imposing Lass has drawn wide and will jump from barrier 11 with Tim Clark to ride.

Belle Du Nord (NZ) (Reliable Man)

Group One filly continuing to improve

Belle du Nord's (NZ) (Reliable Man) trainers are behind the eight ball with their gifted filly, but they are far from panicking.

"She's very well, but we haven't been able to get as much work into her as we might have liked," said Emma-Lee Browne, who prepares the daughter of Reliable Man with husband David.

"Like everyone else, we're hoping the tracks improve, but at this stage we're happy with her and her main aim is Riccarton."

She was referring to the Gr.1 gavelhouse.com New Zealand 1000 Guineas at Riccarton on November 18 with Belle du Nord due to take another step toward Christchurch when she runs in Saturday's Gr.3 Hawke's Bay Breeders' Gold Trail Stakes. Full story here

Greenpark Gem (NZ) (Highly Recommended)

Guineas plan with gem of a filly

Greenpark Gem (NZ) (Highly Recommended) will be a force to be reckoned with next year, but she might still rise to a more immediate Group One challenge.

The talented filly remains in the mix for November's gavelhouse.com New Zealand 1000 Guineas, a race her trainers Mandy and Matt Brown claimed last year with La Diosa (NZ) (So You Think).

The latter also won the Listed New Zealand Bloodstock Canterbury Belle Stakes prior to her classic success and on Saturday trainers Mandy and Matt Brown are hoping for a repeat from Greenpark Gem. Full story here

Classic start for Charles Road

Group Three winner Charles Road (Myboycharlie) will have his next start in Sunday's Listed Haunui Farm Karaka Classic (1600m).

"Whether he gets to the Livamol Classic we'll see, but he needs to run this weekend even if the track's heavy," said Lance O'Sullivan, who trains at Matamata with Andrew Scott.

Charles Road won twice last season, including a victory in the Gr.3 Manawatu Classic (2000m) and was runner-up in both the Gr.2 Avondale Guineas (2100m) and in the Gr.2 Championship Stakes (2100m).

Cauthen's Power (NZ) (Road To Rock)

Weight sways Munce with Cauthen's Power

A difference in weights enticed trainer Chris Munce to dodge yesterday's Lismore Cup with Cauthen's Power (NZ) (Road To Rock) in favour of running at Ipswich on Saturday.

Cauthen's Power, who is part-owned by Australian cricket captain Steve Smith, has been gradually working into top form since joining Munce's stable from Sydney's Chris Waller five months ago.

Munce believes the City of Ipswich Spring Stayers Cup (2150m) will suit Cauthen's Power perfectly.

"He had 61 kilos in the Lismore Cup and with Matt McGillivray's claim at Ipswich he should carry 52.5 kilos," Munce said.

"It is a big difference and there wasn't that much between the two races," Munce said.

"I liked the way he hit the line last start and with a light weight he should give Saturday's race a good shake."

The New Zealand-bred Cauthen's Power was a Warwick Farm 1600m race winner in January and has been placed up to 2000m.

Aloisia (NZ) (Azamour)

Ciaran Maher aims for Oaks number three

Ciaran Maher knows how to train a VRC Oaks winner and reckons Aloisia (NZ)

(Azamour) has the galloping action and the determination to become his third winner of the 2500m Group One race.

Maher has won the Oaks with Set Square (Reset) (2014) and Jameka (Myboycharlie) (2015) and has set $13 second favourite Aloisia for the November feature.

Aloisia will resume in Saturday's Aquis Farm Supports Pinchapoo Plate (1400m) in the first plank of a four-start spring campaign which will include the Thousand Guineas and culminate in the VRC Oaks.

It will be the first time Aloisia has been seen on race day since she ran a cracking second behind Capital Gain (Ad Valorem) in the Gr.1 JJ Atkins (1600m) during the Queensland winter carnival.

"She comes to hand pretty quickly and while she will take improvement out of this run, she has real quality about her and is drawn to get a nice run in a pocket just behind them," Maher said.

"She wintered really well in Queensland and has trialled up nicely for this.

"I wouldn't be at all surprised if she won."

Impressive debut win for Naantali

The Ciaran Maher-trained Naantali (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) defied a tough run to score in maiden company at Cranbourne on Wednesday and looks destined for better things.

The three-year-old daughter of Rip Van Winkle was no closer than four-wide throughout yet continued to find on debut over 1200m.

"I probably couldn't have had a worse run in the race, but today she's just won on class," rider Michael Dee said.

"She's still very new and got a lot of learning to do. I think she's got a lot of ability."

Out of the Zabeel mare Zaloot, Naantali was a $180,000 purchase by Maher from Windsor Park Stud's draft at the 2016 New Zealand Bloodstock Premier Yearling Sale.

Colt scores for notable owners

A high-profile Australasian ownership group have enjoyed success with a promising New Zealand-bred three-year-old prospect.

Higher honours now await Rellson (NZ) (O'Reilly) who, at his second appearance, was an impressive winner at Wangaratta on Tuesday over 1400m.

The son of O'Reilly, a $580,000 Ready to Run Sale purchase, travelled easily and when rider Luke Nolen asked him for an effort on the turn he bolted clear to score a hollow victory.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"He's a colt with loads of scope," said David Eustace, assistant trainer to Ciaran Maher. "He will get further, he might even stay a mile-and-a-half. There's a lot of ability there."

Rellson is raced by a syndicate that includes breeders Mark and Garry Chittick (Waikato Stud), Lib Petagna (JML Bloodstock), Dato Yap Kim San (Raffles Racing), Max Whitby and Neil Werrett.

Te Akau Shark (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle)

Shark shows some bite on debut

Well-related three-year-old Te Akau Shark (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) may have drawn attention to his short-term prospects with a stylish debut at Te Rapa, but it's next year that those closest to the colt are most excited about.

The son of Rip Van Winkle crushed any pre-race doubt that he might be out-paced when he came from the tail of the field to win Wednesday's Skycity Hamilton Waikato Cup 16th December 17 Maiden.

"He's a pretty promising sort of horse who trialled well and had improved at home, but we were a little unsure what to expect over 1100m," said Jamie Richards, who trains Te Akau Shark with Stephen Autridge. Full story here

Descendant (NZ) (O'Reilly)

Longshot delivers surprise homecoming win

Descendant (NZ) (O'Reilly) celebrated his return to New Zealand with a hollow first-up victory at Te Rapa on Wednesday.

The lightly-raced son of O'Reilly was at odds of 20-1 and surprised his trainer Todd Mitchell with an easy front-running win in the Te Kauwhata Tavern Bar & Restaurant 1200.

"He trialled as a two-year-old for Stephen Marsh and the owners sent him to Hong Kong," Mitchell said.

"He had one start there and was sent home and I've had the horse for about six months. He had one trial at Te Teko, but it was a bit wet for him and while he has been working nicely that was very surprising."

Xbox (NZ) (Niagara)

Promising 3YO picture perfect

Xbox (NZ) (Niagara) cut the prettiest of pictures on Wednesday for equine photographer Trish Dunell.

The three-year-old was bred by the recent Media Award winner at New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing's Horse of the Year evening and she was on hand at Te Rapa to capture his runaway win in the Flagstaff Café & Sports Bay 1100m.

An $85,000 purchase at the 2016 Ready to Run Sale out of Kilgravin Lodge's draft, Xbox is the second winner for Niagara and Dunell has remained in the ownership of the gelding, who is from the family of the dual stakes winner Waldorf (NZ) (Highly Recommended). Full story here

Riccarton feature Pacorus' spring target

Well-performed stayer Pacorus (NZ) (Tavistock) is back on track and on a path to Christchurch.

The six-year-old is in the early stages of his build-up toward the Gr.3 Christchurch Casino New Zealand Cup (3200m) at Riccarton in November.

Pacorus enjoyed a profitable autumn and winter campaign that netted him victories in the Gr.3 Rotorua Cup (2200m) and the Kiwifruit Cup (2100m) before illness counted him out of the Listed Taumarunui Gold Cup (2200m).

"He had a blood disorder before that,

Pacorus (NZ) (Tavistock)

nothing major, and he's back and well now," trainer Chris Wood said. Full story here

Waiting game for Lizzie

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained Lizzie L'Amour (NZ) (Zabeel) will need a little luck on her side if she is to join her stablemates Bonneval (NZ) (Makfi) and Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) in the Gr.1 Caulfield Cup (2400m) field next month.

The Zabeel mare is currently ranked 41st in the order of entry, but Baker is not overly concerned at her low standing at this stage.

"It's early days," he said. "They drop out a lot, so we'll just wait and see what happens."

Chocante (NZ) (Shocking)

Brown chasing father-son Group One double

Corey Brown enjoyed one of his finest racing moments in 2009 when he guided Shocking (Street Cry) to victory in the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup (3200m).

The vastly-experienced jockey will now have an opportunity to taste Group One glory aboard a son of the now Rich Hill Stud-based stallion when he teams up with Chocante (NZ) in The Metropolitan (2400m) at Randwick on September 30.

Cambridge trainer Stephen Marsh confirmed Brown's booking in the wake of the stayer's seventh placing in the Gr.3 Kingston Town Stakes (2000m) last Saturday. Full story here

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr Mor (NZ) (Corrupt)

Loyal stable servant earns his retirement

The connections of Mr Mor (NZ) (Corrupt) have resisted the opportunity to give the well-performed jumper one more outing.

The 13-year-old has been a winter stalwart of Evan and J. J. Rayner's Wanganui stable for several seasons and his brave last-start fifth in the Great Northern Steeplechase (6400m) in testing conditions at Ellerslie closed out his career.

"We brought him home after that and put him out on the hills behind the stable and he's been bucking and kicking," Evan Rayner said. Full story here

Swampland (NZ) (Redwood)

Group One target for Swampland

Caulfield trainer Henry Dwyer is targeting the Gr.1 Myer Classic (1600m) with his talented mare Swampland (NZ) (Redwood).

The daughter of Redwood followed a hat-trick of winter wins with luckless runner-up finishes behind Oregon's Day (Domesday) and Sword Of Light (New Approach)- the latter in Saturday's Gr.2 Let's Elope Stakes (1400m) - to announce herself as a legitimate spring contender in mares' grade.

"She came out of the [Let's Elope] run in great order," Dwyer said.

Swampland, who has been in work for the best part of nine months, will now enjoy a brief freshen-up before a tilt at the Gr. 2 Tristarc Stakes (1400m) on October 21.

"We're lucky she's really clean-winded, we don't have to do much work between races. We can send her for a week in the paddock followed by two weeks on the water walker," Dwyer said.

"If she runs alright in the Tristarc, you're two weeks into the Myer, step her up to a mile, which I think she's probably looking for, and you just have to have a crack with these mares that are in form."

Sound Proposition (NZ) (Savabeel)

Epsom next for in-form Kiwi

Former New Zealand galloper Sound Proposition (NZ) (Savabeel) will take his chance in Saturday week's $A1 million Gr.1 Epsom Handicap (1600m).

Trainer Kris Lees confirmed a crack at the Randwick feature with the son of Savabeel in the wake of his runner-up finish in the Gr.3 Cameron Handicap (1500m).

Sound Proposition had won his previous two starts and he is in the Epsom with 53.5kg.

"It looks to be a weight that Sound Proposition can be very competitive with and he'll definitely line up in the Epsom," Lees said.

Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock)

Light Cup preparation to Gobstopper's liking

Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock) will make just one more appearance before the Gr.3 Christchurch Casino New Zealand Cup (3200m).

The brother to the multiple international Group One winner Werther (NZ) is best served with his races well-spaced.

"He's such a clean-winded horse and he'll go to the Egmont Cup and then into the New Zealand Cup," trainer Andrew Campbell said. "He's needed to strengthen up and he's done that this year and 3200m will be right up his alley."

Gobstopper has won his last two races over ground at Tauherenikau and at Awapuni, both times with dominant front-running displays.

Phelan side-lined after fall

Shaun Phelan is facing a lengthy period of recovery after a fall at Wanganui yesterday.

The leading jumps jockey suffered broken ribs and AC joint damage when he parted company with Joking (NZ) (Lucky Unicorn) with 700m to run in the Jolt Coffee House Open Steeplechase (4100m).

The race also saw the unfortunate demise of Nell's Belle (NZ) (Istidaad), who lost jockey Emily Farr when she went down on her nose at the penultimate jump. The Neil O'Dowd-bred, owned and trained mare suffered injuries in the incident that resulted in her being humanely euthanised.

High hopes for promising stayer

A trial at Foxton next week will be the launching pad to loftier heights for Boxachocolates (NZ) (Alamosa).

"He's doing well and hopefully we'll be looking at some cup races for him around Christmas time," Awapuni trainer Mike Breslin said.

The son of Alamosa won twice during the autumn and was spelled after an unplaced effort on an unsuitably heavy track at Tauranga in June.

Meanwhile, a bad barrier may count stablemate King Cougar (NZ) (Alamosa) out of Saturday's Trinity Hill 1300 at Hawke's Bay.

"He's doubtful - he drew wide on the first day and finished a game third, but I wouldn't do it again unless there was a lot of rain and the draw wouldn't matter so much," Breslin said.

Son Of Maher (Al Maher)

Summer Passage (Snitzel)

Bridget Grylls

New heights beckon highly-rated 5YO

Son Of Maher's (Al Maher) connections are hoping the Group One performer can realise his full potential as a new look five-year-old.

"He's been gelded since his last preparation and he's coming up really well," said co-owner Michael Pitman, who trains with his son Matthew.

"He looks super, he's in great condition. I still believe he's the best horse I've ever trained." Full story here

NZ First gets Hogan's tick of approval

Sir Patrick Hogan is urging racing participants to vote New Zealand First in reaction to the party's announcement that it is backing the establishment of an all-weather track.

New Zealand First's associate spokesperson for racing Clayton Mitchell announced the additional policy in a press release late last week, saying the racing industry was being "held back with too many meetings cancelled due to poor weather conditions".

"Each year more than 30 meetings are abandoned which is not only costly financially but it also hugely inconvenient for the public, trainers, jockeys and all those working in the industry," Mitchell said. Full story here

Hannam injured in India

New Zealand jockey Robert Hannam has suffered a broken ankle following an incident at the starting gates in India over the weekend.

Hannam has been riding in India for trainer Vittal Reddy since early July and has ridden 17 winners to date.

The 50-year-old Group One-winning rider requires surgery on a broken fibula, but no decision has been made as yet regarding a return to New Zealand.

Colt booked for Prelude

Summer Passage (Snitzel) will make his next Australian appearance in the Gr.3 Caulfield Guineas Prelude (1400m) on October 1.

"After that we will make the decision as to whether he goes to the Caulfield Guineas or the Coolmore," said Lance O'Sullivan, who trains the Group One winner with Andrew Scott.

Summer Passage finished a close eighth in Saturday's Gr.2 Danehill Stakes (1200m) at Flemington.

"The run was a lot better than it looked," O'Sullivan said. "He was a bit lost down the straight and Mark Zahra had to take a hold of him when that other horse fell.

"He's come through the race very well and he will improve with it."

Monarch Chimes (NZ) (Shinko King)

Hurdle hero on easy list

The jumping find of the winter is now enjoying his time in the paddock.

Monarch Chimes (NZ) (Shinko King) won his first three starts over fences before he finished fourth in testing conditions in the Great Northern Hurdles (4190m).

"He struggled in the ground at Ellerslie," co-trainer Emma-Lee Browne said. "He came a long way in a short time though and did a super job."

Grylls bound for Melbourne

Expatriate Kiwi jockey Bridget Grylls is trying her luck in Melbourne.

The 24-year-old was a leading apprentice in Brisbane following her move from New Zealand in 2014 and has since ridden 123 winners.

Grylls is from a well-known New Zealand racing family of jockeys, including her grandfather John Grylls, father Gary and brother Craig.

"A few of the horses I have been riding for John Meagher are in Victoria and he asked me to come down for a look," she said.

"At this stage I am going for a look and will only stay a few weeks. I will have to weigh things up then."
