DEBT COLLECTOR FLIES HOME IN NICK OF TIME IN RAFFLES CUP

Debt Collector (outer) was back to his brilliant best in Sunday's Raffles Cup at Kranji

The old saying that form is temporary but class is permanent couldn't have rung truer after Debt Collector (NZ) (Thorn Park) came from nowhere to land the $1 million Raffles Cup (1600m) by a whisker on Sunday.

The 2016 Singapore Horse of the Year, who actually captured the same feature race that year, but when run over 1800m as the second Leg of the Singapore Triple Crown series (now it's the first Leg and shortened to a mile), was sent to Australia for a five-month rejuvenation after his form dipped last year.

It was therefore a bit of poetic justice that the Thorn Park six-year-old owned by the Barree Stable picked that event to show he had lost none of those stellar qualities that had previously seen him bag eight wins, including five at Group level.

Fans, including trainer Cliff Brown and connections, however, had their hearts in their mouths upon cornering. Dropped out to last as he does, he was still last with 500m to go, and with about a dozen lengths to make up on leader

Countofmontecristo (NZ) (Echoes Of Heaven), who had opened up to what looked like an unassailable lead at the 400m – and said catch me if you can.

But rider Michael Rodd had timed the champion galloper's run with clockwork precision. In a scene reminiscent of his past grandstand finishes from the ruck, Debt Collector ravenously gobbled up the ground like time had come to a standstill. Though he was lugging in badly, a trait he sometimes showed in the past, he almost floated to the line once reined back in line, to finish in advance of Circuit Land (Mizzen Mast) by a short head, with Jupiter Gold (Congrats) in third.

In the Brown camp, it was sheer relief and euphoria after their undisputed champion irrefutably answered all those questions whether that motor would roar back to life following that spell in Newhaven Park, New South Wales.

"This is amazing. It was a phenomenal win," he began, struggling for words.

"Of course, I was concerned when he was so far back. We always have doubts, especially with the way this horse runs, but he was just fantastic in the straight.

"The horse went back to Australia, and we weren't sure if it would pay off. The boys and girls at the stable have done an amazing job with him.

"I'll just savour that moment. I will open that bottle of red with my wife tonight."

Though just as overwhelmed as Brown by the unreal occasion, Rodd was still able to describe the race to a tee while waxing lyrical about his special horse at the same time.

"When I saw Cliff just now (at winner's circle), I got quite emotional and had to hold it together," said Rodd.

"I can't believe what this horse has done today after his spell. It feels like a dream.

"I rode him like he was the best horse in the field. They went solid in the last 600m, and I was quite surprised with that. I tacked onto Predator, and I knew they would come back to us on the Long Course."

The Raffles Cup win – his ninth in 19 starts - has now taken Debt Collector's stakes earnings to the $2.2 million mark for the Barree Stable.

He is a product of Windsor Park Stud and was purchased out of their draft at the 2014 National Yearling Sale before making his way to Brown's stable after the trainer outlaid $120,000 for him at the New Zealand Bloodstock Ready To Run Sale later that year.

FAVOURITE SCORES IN KARAKA CLASSIC

Consistent mare Tomelilla (NZ) (Tavistock) put further value into her future breeding prospects when she added the Listed Haunui Farm Karaka Classic (1600m) at Pukekohe to an already impressive career record.

The six-year-old Tavistock mare made it eight victories from just 25 starts as she cruised home in the day's feature by a comfortable two length margin. Three of her wins have now come in black-type contests including the Gr.3 Rotorua Stakes (1400m) back in May.

Sent for a brief let-up after finishing third in the Listed Opunake Cup (1400m) in July, the Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman trained galloper tuned up for her raceday return with a handy run over 935m at the Cambridge trials 10 days ago.

Punters saw enough in the trial to send her out favourite on Sunday and were on good terms throughout as rider Matt Cameron produced a gem of a ride to secure the victory.

Handy stayer Excalibur (NZ) (Tavistock) made up good ground after an interrupted run in the home straight to finish second while He's Cavalier (NZ) (Castledale) continued his purple patch of form with a gritty third.

"She's had five black-type races now with a Group Three win, two Listed and two thirds so she is a very honest mare," co-trainer Murray Baker said.

"We gave her a big show today as the track suited her with a bit of give in it.

"We'll have a look at what's next now, maybe a mile, but we'll give it some thought in the next couple of weeks."

A $15,000 yearling purchase, Tomelilla has now earned more than $200,000 in prizemoney for her owners, Greg Jones and Baker's wife Maryanne.

Trainer Shaune Ritchie was delighted with the effort of Excalibur as he looks to step his charge up in distance at short notice.

"It's obviously well short of his best, the mile, but I told Bridget (Grylls) to ride him cold and pick a path through them," he said.

"She did a good job and he certainly looks like he's coming back to his best.

"Races like the Egmont Cup and Hawera Cup will be perfect for him and then perhaps races like the Counties and Waikato Cups.

"It's nice to have a horse like him in the stable."

LATTA DOUBLES UP AT HASTINGS

Promising filly Princess Amelie (Snitzel) provided an impressive first leg of a premier day double for trainer Lisa Latta when she opened a new campaign with an eye-catching victory at Hastings on the weekend.

A $300,000 purchase by Latta from the Little Avondale Stud draft at the 2017 National Yearling Sale at Karaka, Princess Amelie had impressed in three starts as a two-year-old that including a win at Tauherenikau over 1000m to close out her juvenile season.

The rangy Snitzel filly had strengthened markedly during her winter spell, with a quiet run at the Foxton trials last month fitting her for Saturday's 1200m assignment. The addition of blinkers proved the masterstroke by Latta as the only filly in the eight-horse field burst to the lead at the 100m mark to upset the well fancied local runner King Louis (NZ) (Equiano) with Star Performance (NZ) (Per Incanto) finishing strongly for third.

"We've put the hood on her for her work the last two or three weeks and she has improved lengths with it," Latta said.

"She's really stepped up from a two-year-old to now, but we've just sat and waited for a decent track.

"I'll take her home now and see how she gets through this as she's quite a big filly. She holds a nomination for the 1000 Guineas, but there are also a lot of options up here for her."

Latta was back in the winner's enclosure later in the day when last season's Gr.3 Waikato Cup (2400m) winner Five To Midnight (NZ) (Domesday) proved too tough in a desperate finish to the day's open 2000m contest.

Driven to the line by in-form rider Johnathan Parkes, who was also aboard Princess Amelie, Five To Midnight claimed outsider Peso (NZ) (Colombia) in the final few strides to register his seventh career victory.

“He’s come up good this time and had trialled up well,” Parkes said.

“He needed his first-up run and was better for it.

“I got all the runs at a good time and he took advantage of them to stick his head out at the right time to win.”

Latta was impressed by the effort after the six-year-old gelding had over-raced during his first run of a new campaign on the opening day of the Hastings spring carnival.

“I didn’t think he could win but as long as he was hitting the line okay I would have been happy.

“I’m very happy now as he stripped looking very good.”

Five To Midnight will now be set for the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m) on the final day of the carnival on October 6.

BEAUTY DIVA TOO SWIFT IN PUKEKOHE OPENER

Speedy filly Beauty Diva (NZ) (Showcasing) proved too quick for her juvenile rivals in the opening event at Pukekohe on Sunday.

The Clinton Isdale trained two-year-old had impressed when winning a 620m trial at Te Teko last month after blundering badly out of the barrier that day.

The Showcasing filly dwelt at the start again on Sunday, but soon powered along the inner to dispute the pace with the well fancied Maybeashowoff (NZ) (Showcasing) and race favourite Jager Bombed (NZ) (Charm Spirit), who was forced to race three-wide throughout.

Beauty Diva hugged the rail to establish a break on her rivals early in the run home, which she clung to bravely, to hold out the fast finishing runner-up First Rock (NZ) (El Roca) in a slick 44.61 seconds for the 800m dash.

"She was slow away in her trial but she finished off strong and was a bit slow away again today," Isdale said.

"There's plenty of upside to her as the things she does on the track at home are just unbelievable. We don't gallop her hard but she's always had plenty on good horses that we've got.

"I'm just glad to get that out of the way so we can put her away now and hopefully get her into the Karaka Million."

Isdale was quick to praise former Te Awamutu trainer Graeme Sanders who had provided him with some sage advice regarding his intentions with the filly. Ironically it is Sanders' daughter,

Beauty Diva ran out an easy winner of the two-year-old scamper at Pukekohe (Trish Dunell)

Debbie Sweeney, who prepares runner-up, First Rock

"I've got to pay a big tribute to Graeme Sanders," he said.

"He told me to have her ready but to just wait. I was going to go to Wanganui with her but held off for this race as I knew it qualified her (for the Karaka Million).

"I just had those words ringing in the back of my head, to be patient with her, so I'd like to thank him for that piece of advice."

Beauty Diva is the grand-daughter of Gr.3 Centaine Stakes (2000m) winner Ketchikau who was the dam of useful South Island sprinter Ketchiben. She was an $11,000 purchase from the Book 3 session at the 2018 National Yearling Sale.

The $14,000 winning stake from Sunday's contest has her well placed to qualify for the Karaka Million (1200m) that will be run at Eilerslie on January 26.

AWARDS RECOGNISE LENGTHY CONTRIBUTION TO THOROUGHBRED RACING

Decades of service to the thoroughbred industry were celebrated at the Windsor Park Plate meeting at Hastings on Saturday.

The central districts trio of Paul Claridge, Tom Fraser and Dick Hunt were the first recipients of the New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing (NZTR) Service Awards.

The awards were introduced this year, to recognise long-serving volunteers and contributors to the thoroughbred code.

Hunt has been a familiar figure around central districts racecourses for more than 45 years and his calls from the judge's box have either delighted or disappointed generations of punters.

Hunt's judging career dates to 1972, when he began working as an assistant-judge, and he did his first meeting as a raceday judge in August 1978, at Foxton.

He took over the judging duties at Trentham in 1983 and still judges at Trentham, Tauherenikau, Awapuni, Otaki, Woodville, Waipukurau, Hastings, Wairoa and Gisborne.

He has also judged harness and greyhound meetings and estimates that he has adjudicated on close to 40,000 finishes.

Claridge has been secretary of the Central Districts branch of the NZ Trainers' Association for more than 25 years.

He has assisted a variety of presidents and organises an annual golf tournament, which has raised substantial funds for the CD branch. The branch has also been responsible for a number of charitable donations.

Fraser stepped down from the Feilding Jockey Club committee last year, after 30 years of service. He was a member of the committee which made the landmark decision to sell the Feilding Racecourse and transfer the club's race meetings to Awapuni.

Fraser, whose family has a long racing history, has raced and bred numerous horses, with the best being Gatcombe's Pride (NZ) (Vice Regal), who won 15 races, including three at Group level.

"This was the first of a number of presentations we will be making around the country," NZTR Chief Executive Bernard Saundry said.

"Many racing participants have given years of valuable service without any formal recognition from either NZTR or the wider industry and we wanted to change that.

"These awards acknowledge people who have made a real contribution to our industry and their work can often be essential to the survival of clubs and organisations."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Vale Postponed

Westbury Stud has announced that popular stallion Postponed succumbed to a health issue on Friday and was humanely euthanized.

The 21-year-old son of Summer Squall, fondly known as "Postie", began his stud career at David and Masey Benjamin's Fayette Park Stud and was transferred to Stoneybridge Farm when Fayette Park closed before arriving at Westbury in 2009.

Postponed, who often flew under the radar in official sire's rankings, was a member of a select group of stallions who have produced four or more Group One winners in their careers, with two of these in recent years through 2016 Zabeel Classic (2000m) winner Consensus and the 2017 Livamol Classic (2040m) winner, Wait A Sec.

A Group Two winner in the USA, Postponed has produced 251 winners and 14 individual stakes winners of more than $18,600,000 in prizemoney.

Among Postponed's leading performers were Dorabella, Pasta Post, Consensus, Wait A Sec, Postman's Daughter, and Mr O'Ceirin. - NZ Racing Desk

Mighty effort rewarded at Pukekohe

Local galloper Mighty Me (Choisir) showed his penchant for his home track at Pukekohe when he downed a quality line-up of rating 82 runners over 1200m on Sunday.

The lightly raced eight-year-old held out the spirited challenges of Midnight Runner (NZ) (Jimmy Choux) and Excelleration (NZ) (Exceed And Excel) to record his fifth career victory from just 24 starts and his second from just four runs at the venue.

Trainer Joanne Surgenor noted the improved track conditions, which saw the Pukekohe surface rated a Dead5, had played their part in the victory.

"He's been going some nice races in his last couple although I felt he might need a better track now," she said.

"Nice tracks seem to suit him so we will keep going for a bit longer as normally we would have turned him out for the summer by now."

The race saw the return of one of last season's top three-year-olds in Demonetization (All Too Hard), who was making a fresh start in a new campaign after injury saw him put aside following a victory in the Gr.2 Auckland Guineas (1600m).

The All Too Hard entire was sent out favourite for the race and was seen putting in good strides in the closing stages to finish an eye-catching fourth. - NZ Racing Desk

BE BEE BACK WITH STINGING FIRST-UP WIN

Classy sprinter Be Bee (NZ) (Showcasing) returned an impressive winner in the $125,000 War Affair 2014 Stakes, a Kranji Stakes A Division 2 race over 1200m on Sunday.

Not sighted since his unplaced run in the Singapore Guineas (1600m) in May, the Showcasing four-year-old, who had only 51.5kgs on his back with jockey Matthew Kellady riding him one kilo over, stood out like the winner from a long way out.

Whipping around the field from the 800m, Be Bee let down with a pulsating turn of foot from the top of the straight before quickly putting his rivals to the sword in a few bounds.

Trainer Shane Baertschiger said Be Bee would be the latest addition to his already big team of runners for the Garden City Trophy (1200m) on October 21.

"He's going for the Garden City Trophy. I've already got Bold Thruster, Aramco and Paparazzi in that race," said the current leading trainer.

"I actually ran out of time for his first-up race today. He had just one trial (September 13) and I thought he would be underdone.

"But he won a brilliant race. Matty rode him a treat as well.

"Today, he was down in the weights and he was hard to beat."

Kellady for one was glad his efforts to shed those extra pounds did not go to waste!

"I had to do it the hard way to make the weight but it was all worth it," said the Malaysian rider.

"I normally walk around at 54kgs. I had to put on a few more layers of clothes and go for a few more jogs.

"I still had about 300 grammes to lose today. I went to the sauna for a good sweat and was able to ride him one kilo over.

"I've never ridden him in a race, but we all know what a good horse he is. You can go the extra mile for such good horses, and I'm glad it's paid off.

"I had so much horse under me throughout the race. I just had to keep him out of trouble.

"At the 700m, I let him slide forward and I always knew I had the race won.

"He's a horse who is always on the improve and I have no doubt he has the ability to go on to bigger and better things."

With that fifth win added to his four placings, Be Bee has now amassed close to $600,000 in stakes earnings for the Auric Stable.
