WERTHER STORMS TO GROUP ONE GLORY

Werther with Hugh Bowman in the saddle dash away from their international rivals to claim the Gr. 1 Audemars Piguet QEII Cup

Werther (NZ) (Tavistock) trounced what had been billed as the best field ever assembled for the Gr. 1 Audemars Piguet QEII Cup with a performance at Sha Tin on Sunday afternoon that left winning trainer John Moore and jockey Hugh Bowman elated yet surprised at the manner of victory.

Last month's HKG1 BMW Hong Kong Derby winner powered away from world-class rivals to clinch a first international Group One triumph in the HK$20 million 2000m showcase, stretching four and a half-lengths clear on the rain-softened ground, a margin of success second only to Quicken Away's (General Assembly) seven-length demolition back in the pre-Pattern race days of 1990.

"I was never expecting that," said a beaming Moore. "We did know he handled the heavy track in New Zealand and that it wouldn't be a problem today – but that was beyond my expectations."

Bowman said: "I had a suspicion after the Derby we would see a better horse against better opposition but I certainly didn't expect him to perform to the level he did this afternoon."

Moore is now eyeing further Group One targets at home and abroad. "Next we'll go to the Champions & Chater Cup over a mile and a half here in a month's time and Hugh will be back to ride him," he said, adding with a hopeful smile and raised eyebrows, "then we'll give him a break and I'll be trying to pull the owner's leg to go back to Australia for the Cox Plate!"

WERTHER STORMS TO GROUP ONE GLORY

A frantic rush into the first turn saw half a dozen of the 13-strong field pressing for the lead in this year's star-studded AP QEII Cup, enabling Bowman to position Werther mid-rank, one spot off the fence with race favourite Lovely Day (King Kamehameha) within his sights.

That early pace and a subsequent solid tempo played into Werther's hands with the going rated officially yielding. The Tavistock four-year-old had already won a 2100m G2 contest on heavy ground in his homeland and placed second on soft ground in the Gr. 1 South Australian Derby (2500m).

"What I loved was the consistent speed," said Bowman. "We've seen before in Hong Kong the pressure early but then the pace comes off, but when that speed was sustained throughout it allowed me to give him every chance to be in a great rhythm throughout.

"We've gone a good gallop, but that's what happens when you get a world class field. I basically picked them off. I was able to get on the back of Lovely Day, although I had to go back to the inside to do that, I felt I was travelling well enough to follow the rhythm wherever that was. He was certainly breathtaking when he went to the front.

"I thought we saw a great turn of foot over a trip, a turn of foot we haven't see him give since he ran here first-up at the 1600 metres on international day.

"The reason you haven't seen that turn of foot is because I've been riding him more tactically aware. I've had him up close; I've had him travelling a bit stronger than I did today. Today I allowed him to really relax throughout the race and we've seen the best of him."

PLAUDITS FOR SCHOFIELD AFTER QUEEN MOTHER MEMORIAL CUP TRIUMPH

A jubilant winning trainer Richard Gibson credited young jockey Chad Schofield for the victory with Ambitious Champion (NZ) (Zed) in the HKG3 Queen Mother Memorial Cup (Handicap) at Sha Tin on Sunday. "It was a peach of a ride," was Gibson's description of the performance, which garnered the 22 year-old Schofield his biggest win in his first season riding in Hong Kong. "His quick, early and bold decision to go forward won us the race," added the trainer.

Schofield elected to push on from the second widest gate to stalk the front-runner Basic Trilogy (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) and with the mid-race sectionals for the mile and a half test only moderate (26.36s and 26.21s from the 1600m), was able to steal a march on the Tony Cruz-trained minor place-getters Anticipation (Fastnet Rock) and Giovanni Canaletto (Galileo) who were respectively beaten three-quarters and two and a half lengths.

"He went very well," Schofield said, "We went forward today and in the last two starts I've been on him he has been quite keen. But today he relaxed well and dropped the bridle. As soon as I switched him back on at the 600 metres, he ran on very strongly. It's a good day to get a Group win for Richard. He's been so good to me and I'm so happy I can repay him with a Group win."

Gibson said he was surprised that his New Zealand import was dismissed in many pre-race discussions. "I thought he had little luck in running at his previous start and should have finished closer. Couple that with the prospect of him really appreciating the yielding ground and the drop in weight and I expected him to run well. It's a huge win for the stable," Gibson said.

Gibson said that Ambitious Champion, who carried 115lb in today's nine-runner handicap, was likely to proceed to the G1 Standard Chartered Champions & Chater Cup at the course and distance next month but acknowledged that would be a more difficult assignment.

"He's been very consistent all year and won't let us down but he had the weight advantage today and conditions to suit. It'll be tougher next time but we're entitled to give him his chance," he said.

Ambitious Champion was bred by well known Central Districts bloodstock agent Bruce Perry and his wife Anna. He did his early racing in New Zealand where he won twice and was placed 4 times from just six starts before heading to Hong Kong after finishing seventh in the Gr. 3 Grand Prix Stakes at Doomben in his only other Australasian start.

ALL IN VOGUE SCORES TIMELY WARSTEP STAKES VICTORY

A touch of divine intervention could well have been at play on Saturday when Central Districts raider All In Vogue (NZ) (Pins) proved her recent form all wrong with a powerful performance to take out the Listed New Zealand Bloodstock Warstep Stakes (2000m) at Riccarton.

Popular Manawatu thoroughbred breeder Rex Fell, who passed away during the week, was involved in breeding the three-year-old Pins filly through the Fell family-owned Fairdale and Goodwood Stud operations, with many passing comment that he would have been watching down with great satisfaction at the victory.

Trainer Kevin Gray recalled viewing the filly during the 2014 National Yearling Sales Series where he advised longtime stable clients, Peter and Min McDonald, to purchase the daughter of top class racemare Tall Poppy (NZ) (Kaaopstad).

"She had been passed in when she went through the auction ring but Peter had asked me to take a look at her and I liked what I saw," noted Gray.

"I asked Rex what he wanted for her and he said it wasn't a penny less than $50,000 so that's what Peter paid for her.

"She's not a very big filly but she is a well balanced, athletic type who has got better and better as she has matured."

Punters had overlooked the filly's chances leading into Saturday's contest after she had finished well back at her most recent runs.

"She's a filly that has to have good ground so I wasn't that worried about her form as she had struck a couple of wet tracks lately," explained Gray.

"She didn't have much luck last week where she copped a couple of checks so I said to Chris (Johnson) to make sure she went around them rather than try for an inside run as she just isn't robust enough to make her own luck.

"She was basically the widest runner for the last 600 metres of the race but Chris was very kind to her and she showed she could be a pretty promising stayer with an effort like that."

The victory provided All In Vogue with seven points in the New Zealand Bloodstock Southern Filly of the Year Series which enabled her to finish in a four-way tie for the title with Canterbury Belle Stakes winner Windborne (NZ) (Darci Brahma), NZB Airfreight Stakes winner Honor That (NZ) (Darci Brahma) and NZB Insurance Stakes winner No Pushover (NZ) (Pins).

NIGHT VOYAGE PROVIDES UPSET IN VRC TROPHY

A stunning finishing burst from what looked a hopeless position set tongues wagging at Ellerslie on the weekend when promising three-year-old Night Voyage (NZ) (Bachelor Duke) scored at upset odds in the VRC Trophy (1400m).

The last start Waipa maiden winner was sent out at better than $50 on the tote, with that price looking a little lean with less than 600 metres to run as he was dead last and a conservative 15 lengths from the pacemaker. Hooked to the outside of the track the son of Bachelor Duke quickly strode up to the leaders at the 200 metre mark and then held on strongly to score by a neck from the well supported Stradivarius (NZ) (Stravinsky) with Shot In The Dark (NZ) (Any Suggestion) flashing home late for third.

Co-trainer Graeme Sanders, who prepares the gelding with daughter Debbie Sweeney, was delighted with the performance although a little bemused with the lack of support for his charge amongst the betting public.

“I couldn’t believe what he was paying as a last start winner but I guess people just didn’t rate that midweek form,” he said.

“We knew it was a decent step up in class but the improvement in him in the last three months has been immense so we were pretty sure he wouldn’t disgrace himself.”

Raced by his breeder, The Oaks Stud principal Dick Karreman, Night Voyage was recording his second win from seven starts with Sanders confident there was more in store.

“He’s really just coming to it now as he was quite weak early on,” he said.

“We took him to Waipukurau and New Plymouth before Christmas and then tipped him out for a short break. Those trips were the making of him and I’m sure he has more to offer as he gets older.

“He is definitely better going right-handed and will handle a little cut in the ground so we will take a look now at what might be on offer over the next few weeks before we put him aside for a spell.”

A heady ride from apprentice Alyssa Schwerin made it a double for the Sanders/Sweeney team when she guided Naughty Knuckles (NZ) (El Hermano) to a comprehensive victory in the last race of the day.

“Alyssa had ridden him at his last start and what she learned that day paid off as she rode him perfectly to get the win,” noted Sanders.

“We were confident of a big run as we did have the Easter Stakes in mind for him at one stage but we ran out of time to get him up the ratings enough to get a start.

“He has a big future in front of him now he’s worked out what the game is all about so he shouldn’t be hard to place in the coming weeks as well.”

HEADY RIDE GETS SNOWDROP HOME IN CONVINCING FASHION AT ELLERSLIE

Promising apprentice Ryan Elliot produced a copybook performance to guide smart sprinter Snowdrop (NZ) (Pins) to a convincing victory at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The three-kilogram claimer followed trainer Tony Pike's instructions to the letter as he made good use of the four-year-old mare's blistering gate speed to gain a trailing position in the early stages of the Dream Beds sponsored 1200 metre contest.

Elliot eased the daughter of Pins and multiple Group One winner Daffodil to the lead rounding the home turn before asking for a serious effort at the 200 metre mark. The mare bounded clear and held out all challenges by a comfortable two length margin in a blistering 1.08.88 for the journey.

It was Snowdrop's fifth win from 10 starts to date and the first on her return from a brief summer break after scoring in fine style at Trentham back in January.

"She's a very handy mare and the race suited her down to the ground with a solid tempo on all the way," noted Pike.

"She has brilliant early speed and Ryan made good use of that to get her across from a wide draw. He held her up nicely and the benefit of his claim was fairly evident in the closing stages where she held them out quite comfortably."

Pike will now speak with owners Garry and Mark Chittick before deciding on the next steps for his charge.

"She can't cop a wet track so we might end up sending her to the paddock if the rains come," he said.

"I will have a chat with Garry and Mark as there is a stakes race for the fillies and mares at Rotorua next month but we would only press ahead for that if it stays dry for another few weeks."

Pike will next turn his attention to the upcoming

Snowdrop and Ryan Elliot are well clear at the winning post on Saturday Queensland Winter Carnival with stable runners Raghu (NZ) (Showcasing), Rangipo (Stryker), Sacred Star (Flying Spur) and Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi) all set to head across the Tasman in the next seven days.

BAKER SEEKING FORM REVERSAL FROM GUSTAVO

Co-trainer Murray Baker is looking for a form reversal from consistent gelding Gustavo (NZ) (Savabeel) when he tackles the Listed Manawatu ITM Anzac Mile at Awapuni on Monday.

The five-year-old Savabeel gelding won or placed in fourteen of his first seventeen starts but hasn't quite lived up to those impressive credentials in his last few runs.

"It's going to be his last run before he heads out for a decent winter break so I'm hopeful he can put in a good performance to finish off this prep," said Baker.

"He hasn't had all the luck of late and at his best he would be very competitive. He doesn't mind a little cut in the track and has run second at his only three starts at Awapuni so he does like it there.

"He's been right around the money throughout his career so deserves to get a win at this level!"

Baker was also delighted with performance of another stable runner on the weekend with St Emilion (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) snaring his ninth career win at Ellerslie.

"He's done a superb job this season and can go out for a well deserved spell now," he said.

"We were going to tip him out after his last run but he came home from Hastings bucking and squealing so we decided to give him one more and he did us proud again."

Baker wasn't as happy to report that promising galloper Verdi (NZ) (Zabeel) is on the easy list after banging a tendon during his run for second at Pukekohe recently. The strapping son of Zabeel, who is a half-brother to multiple Group One winners Puccini (NZ) (Encosta De Lago) and Sir Slick (NZ) (Volksraad), will now have an enforced break although Baker is confident the time off will only benefit the gelding who he rates as a high quality stayer of the future. – NZ Racing Desk

Consistent performer Gustavo will be looking to head to the spelling paddock on a high note at Awapuni today

ALL NEW ZEALAND FINISH IN SINGAPORE THREE-YEAR-OLD CLASSIC

Debt Collector (NZ) (Thorn Park) unleashed an explosive turn of foot to land the $350,000 SGP Gr. 2 Singapore Three-Year-Old Classic (1400m) and give his jockey Michael Rodd a fitting comeback win.

The son of Thorn Park settled in midfield and showed an inclination to over-race at times, but Rodd's silky skills still had him poised in a perfect spot at the top of the straight, just sweating on a gap to appear.

None came up for a while but once Rodd yanked him out towards some galloping room right on the heels of Magnum (NZ) (Per Incanto), the race was all over in the twinkling of an eye. Though hanging in badly, Debt Collector extended the best inside the last 100m to emerge an impressive 1 ½-length winner from Nova Strike (NZ) (Red Giant).

Magnum who drew a horror gate, two berths in from the outermost alley in the big 16-horse field, lost no friends in the way he loomed as the winner at the 300m after being caught five deep. Though the early effort took its toll in the end, the son of Per Incanto still battled on gamely to hang on for third place another half-length away.

But all honours to Debt Collector, who had slipped under the radar a little in spite of his sound record of two pulverising wins at his last two starts.

"I'm very pleased with that win. The other two also ran well," said trainer Cliff Brown who also saddled Magstock (NZ) (Tavistock) and Fitzroy (NZ) (Swiss Ace) in the second Leg of the Singapore Three-Year-Old Challenge.

"Debt Collector has always shown ability from Day One and the way he finished today did not surprise me. He'll be a definite starter in the Guineas.

"Fitzroy was pretty keen early and did well to finish sixth considering he was wide throughout.

"Magstock (12th) had a break and was fresh early. He should be going to the Guineas too, we'll see."

The Group 1 Singapore Guineas (1600m) is the third and final Leg of the Singapore Three-Year-Old Challenge and will be run on May 15.
