WYBORN ALL SMILES DESPITE DERBY DEFEAT

Group One Queensland Oaks winner Provocative

Despite going within a length of achieving his cherished Derby dream and a unique Group One winning double, Auckland businessman Mark Wyborn was all smiles after a stunning day at Eagle Farm on the weekend.

Wyborn shares in the ownership of Queensland Oaks winner Provocative (NZ) (Zabeel) with his friend Robin Peel-Walker, with the duo also combining to race Queensland

Derby runner-up Rodrico (High Chaparral) who had to bow to eventual winner Eagle Way (More Than Ready) in a driving finish to the Group One feature.

"We went pretty close didn't we," he said ruefully on Sunday morning as he reflected on the results of the previous day.

"Rodrico tried his heart out and for a moment looked like he might come back at the winner but in the end we had to settle for second. It was a fabulous day though, just marvelous and such a thrill to win with Provocative.

“I’m so happy for Tony Pike and his team. To win a Group One like that is very special and they have done a marvelous job with her.”

Wyborn makes no secret of his Derby ambition with his bloodstock portfolio specifically geared towards winning the cherished blue riband event.

“We buy four to five yearlings each year with the express purpose of getting them to a Derby if that is at all possible,” he said.

“To win a Derby is my burning desire so we look for types that we believe will be suited to that aim.

“Paul Moroney bought Provocative for me at the 2014 Karaka sale just a few lots after Guy Mulcaster had bought Rodrico for us. We generally don’t buy fillies but she was such a beautiful rangy type as a yearling and being by Zabeel she looked a likely stayer in the making so we were very keen to secure her.”

Although delighted to grab the prestigious Group One win with the Zabeel filly, Wyborn was disappointed the fickle Brisbane weather had halted their plan to tackle the Oaks/ Derby double.

“We thought if she could get a run in the Oaks when it was originally scheduled she was a real chance to tackle the Derby a week later,” he admitted.

“Of course that all depended on how she came through the Oaks but when they called the day off due to the weather that plan went up in smoke. We will never know how she might have gone but that win on Saturday was very dominant so you would like to think she would have been competitive against the boys.”

Provocative will now head to the spelling paddock with Wyborn keen to see her progress next season before eventually heading to the breeding barn.

“She will have a nice break in the Queensland sun before we bring her back as a four-year-old,” he said.

“Her value as a broodmare is assured with that win but it will be interesting to see how much further she can go as an older mare.”

Applications close June 27 and will be treated in the strictest confidence.

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON FOR CAMBRIDGE STUD DYNASTY

The stunning performance by three-year-old filly Provocative (NZ) to claim Saturday's Gr.

1 Queensland Oaks provided great cause for celebration at the home of her remarkable sire Zabeel (NZ) as he equalled his illustrious father Sir Tristram (Sir Ivor) as the sire of fourty five individual Group One winners.

For Cambridge Stud supremo Sir Patrick Hogan it was a poignant moment that he took time to mark in his own special way.

"We've been waiting some considerable time for this victory as it had been awhile since Preferment took him to just one win short of Sir Tristram," he remarked.

"To think that he could emulate his father is something very special and when I saw the filly poised to win at the top of the straight on Saturday I knew that day had finally come.

"We have a special red rose that is officially known as the Sir Tristram rose and this morning I went and placed one on Zabeel's grave to acknowledge just what he has achieved."

Despite being thrilled by the win it has provided Hogan with one small dilemma.

"Now that he has emulated his father I'm a little torn in that I'm not that sure I want him to go past old Paddy," he quipped.

Sir Patrick Hogan with super sire Zabeel

"For them to stay locked together would be good in many ways, not the least in that they have remarkable similarity in their records.

"I don't have the official figures but I'm pretty sure that of the 90 individual Group One winners between them it is nearly an even split of both males and females. Often a stallion will have a skew to one sex or the other but for these two it has been quite amazing how even it has been."

As always Hogan was also quick to point out other results from Saturday's Brisbane feature meeting held special significance for the New Zealand racing and breeding industry.

"Not only was I delighted with Provocative's win but I was thrilled with Tony Pike's other winner, Sacred Elixir, who is a son of Pour Moi," he said.

"To me that two-year-old has quality stayer written all over him. With the remarkable season that Tavistock has had and now another son of Montjeu in Pour Moi producing such a smart individual, I believe both stallions have a major role to play in shaping our future staying progeny."

BOISTEROUS BEHAVIOR CAUSES CHANGE IN PLAN FOR IMPRESSIVE TE RAPA WINNER

After discarding the notion of a Queensland winter campaign, Cambridge trainer Tarissa Mitchell was content to see stable star Call Me Royal (NZ) (Civics) spend a few weeks in a lush paddock as reward for a solid summer season.

That idea went out the window fairly quickly as the four-year-old Civics entire began tearing around his paddock barely a week into the planned winter hiatus.

“Once we couldn’t see much on offer for him in Queensland we decided to give him a break and then bring him back for the spring,” explained Mitchell.

“He’d only been out just over a week and he was bucking and tearing around like a mad thing so I thought it was safer to have him back in the stable in case he hurt himself.”

That meant Mitchell had to quickly look for an appropriate target and she found that in rating 85 company at Te Rapa on the weekend. Despite not having raced since finishing a gallant second against the open handicappers at Riccarton in early May, Call Me Royal was sent out a warm favourite and didn’t let his backers down as he ground out a narrow but impressive victory in the 2100 metre contest.

“I was pretty confident he could win as he was in good shape despite not having raced for over a month,” said Mitchell.

“My only worry was the track as he doesn’t really like it too wet despite winning his maiden on a heavy surface. I scratched my other runner Irish Call as he does need a good track so I was pleased that we could get away with this one.”

Mitchell will now pick and choose her options over the coming months as she eyes up some of the late spring features for her charge.

“I think he has the class to win one of those nice spring Cup races so that’s what we will plan for. We will just tick him over through the winter as we look for wherever we can get a semi decent track. I know the Kiwifruit Cup at Tauranga is coming up but that would only be an option if the track wasn’t too deep.

“I would love to think he could get back to Riccarton during New Zealand Cup Week as he just thrived down there last time.

“I also haven’t given up on taking him to Australia but that won’t be until next year.”

BAKER/FORSMAN STABLE SCORES LATE DOUBLE AT TE RAPA

A winning double with Blue Wagon (NZ) (Keeper) and Scamp (NZ) (Perfectly Ready) provided a fulfilling end to the day for the powerful Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman training partnership at Te Rapa on Saturday.

The Cambridge based duo produced six runners at the venue on the weekend and came away satisfied with a haul of two wins and three minor placings from their days work. Despite being low on firepower during the winter months the stable moved to within eight of the magical 100 winner mark with seven weeks of the racing season still to come.

"We were pretty happy to grab those wins as it was a nice reward for a very consistent day for the team," noted Forsman.

"We only had one finish out of the money and that was our two-year-old filly who ran a close fourth so we were competitive with the whole team which was very pleasing."

Forsman had been confident of a good showing from the winning pair after they had both put in good runs at their previous starts.

“Scamp has come up well in this preparation and was ready to win after finishing a nice third at Ellerslie,” he said.

“He had to carry topweight and fought like a tiger to come back when he looked beaten so it was a top effort.

“We put the blinkers back on Blue Wagon and that did the trick as it sharpened him up nicely. He also had to carry a big weight so again it was a good effort to hold them all out in a driving finish.

Despite the brace taking the combination to within six wins of the Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards partnership at the head of the National Trainer’s Premiership ladder, Forsman was realistic about their chances of retaining the title they won in 2014/15.

Scamp emulates his stablemate with another narrow victory margin to cap off a top day for his stable

“We don’t have that many in work at this time of the year and we don’t travel them much so I doubt whether we could catch Stephen and Jamie,” he said.

“We will keep plugging away though so it would be nice if we could get a little closer and make it a good finish to the season.”

Tarzino getting ready for spring

Group One-winner Tarzino (NZ) (Tavistock) is stepping up his preparations ahead of major spring targets.

The Victoria Derby winner is in pre-training at Limitless Lodge on the NSW Central Coast with trainer Mick Price to aim him at the Cups.

After winning the Rosehill Guineas, Tarzino was odds-on favourite for the Australian Derby at Randwick but finished fourth behind Tavago (NZ) (Tavistock).

Tarzino and Tavago are $15 joint favourites for the Caulfield Cup in October.

"He's spelled really well," Price said.

"He's had eight or nine weeks off and I left him up there for the better weather.

"It's where some of the nice horses get pre-trained and he's happy, he's healthy and he's sound."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Last races for Hutchings as an apprentice

Rory Hutchings heads to Canterbury today for his final day as an apprentice hoping to consolidate his lead in Sydney's junior premiership.

Hutchings rode three winners at Randwick on Saturday to take his tally to 32 and has five scheduled rides on Monday, four for his boss Chris Waller and one for Paul Perry.

He is 14 wins ahead of Koby Jennings in the race for apprentices' title with the latter mounting a late charge with six winners over the past two Saturday meetings.

The two are Sydney's heaviest apprentices with both on a 56kg minimum riding weight but Hutchings hopes to reduce that.

"I hope to get that down to 55-1/2 but I am doing it gradually," Hutchings said.

"It makes the job easier riding for Chris but I hope I can get more rides outside the stable and I'm looking forward to the transition to senior rider."
