JOB WELL DONE IN PATRON'S BOWL

Glen Boss guides Well Done (centre) to a narrow but deserved Group One win at Kranji on Sunday

Local trainer David Kok described the victory of Well Done (NZ) (Falkirk) in Sunday's $500,000 Group One Patron's Bowl (1600m) as "the best day in his trainer's career".

The Singaporean handler, who was at only his eighth season, could barely hide his emotions when he was asked to compare that second Group One triumph with his very first one, Cash Luck (Bradbury's Luck) in the Panasonic Kranji Mile (1600m) in 2013.

Though both will go down as the ultimate prize any trainer can dream of, Well Done's Group One win had that distinct taste of "ownership" that Cash Luck did not quite have.

Kok took over Cash Luck from Michael Freedman and just developed him further while he has fashioned Well Done into what he is from the first day he walked into his yard as a very green unraced gelding, purchased by his equally inexperienced owner Jason Goh from the 2013 edition of New Zealand Bloodstock's annual Ready To Run Sale of two-year-olds for $90,000.

"This is my best day in the office. Of course Cash Luck's Kranji Mile meant a lot to me as it was my first Group One win but this one is even more special because I had Well Done right from the start," said Kok.

"We started from zero and I still remember his first race when he just went off the track with Ivaldo Santana. He was still unlucky at his next runs, but when he won his first race, I knew he would become a very good horse for us.

"I've long aimed for the Derby with him. We knew the first Leg (Stewards' Cup over 1400m) was too short for him and the plan was always to target the Patron's Bowl and the Derby.

"To be honest, I thought the Patron's Bowl would be an ideal prep run to the Derby but he's done better and won it.

"It's great for Jason who has been very patient with this horse. He hand-picked this horse himself at the sale and though the beginning was tough, he was very patient and now he has a Group One winner."

Kok did not fail to highlight the major contribution of one man who seems to be cutting a swathe since his arrival at the end of March – jockey Glen Boss.

"Glen called me for the ride. Manoel Nunes (previous regular partner) was committed to Titanium and we had to get a strong rider and you can't get any better than Bossy," said Kok, clearly now one of the No 1 fans of the 2010 Longines Singapore Gold Cup-winning rider (Risky Business).

"It was the perfect ride from Glen. He really is a top jockey."

With his sixth win, Well Done has now taken his record to six wins and five placings from 16 starts for stakes earnings that have now shot past the half-a-million mark for Goh.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Grafton Cup next for Foreign Prince

Two wet track wins have earned Foreign Prince (NZ) (High Chaparral) a tilt at a rich winter race with trainer David Payne eyeing the $160,000 Grafton Cup.

Foreign Prince's win in Saturday's Kensei Handicap at Rosehill, his first at 2000 metres, has his trainer confident he deserves a chance at the 2350m of the Listed Grafton Cup on July 15.

"He is a horse that had a few problems early on but he loves winter racing and the cut out of the ground," Payne said.

"Now that he is in form we have to have a go at a race like that. He deserves it."

Foreign Prince is a half brother to Julinsky Prince (NZ) (Darci Brahma), a dual Group One winner in New Zealand this season.

Although 10 of Julinsky Prince's 11 wins have been over 1600m, Payne believes his younger sibling can handle the step up in distance.

"As long as he is ridden to relax I think we can give him a go at a longer race," Payne said.

PLENTY IN STORE FOR EXCITING RUAKAKA WINNER

Excitement machine Koenigsegg One (NZ) (Swiss Ace) took another step on his development path with a comprehensive winning performance at Ruakaka on the weekend.

The handsome Swiss Ace three-year-old accounted comfortably for another promising type in Bao Shan Magic (Magic Albert) as the pair cleared out from their rating 75 rivals over 1600 metres on Saturday. It was the third win for the Tony Pike prepared gelding from just five starts with the promise of more to come next season.

“He’s a very exciting prospect as he has just got better and better in this preparation,” noted Waikato Bloodstock’s Bryce Tankard who manages the gelding for his Hong Kong based owner, Ben Kwok.

“He has always showed us plenty from day one but it has taken a little while for the penny to drop with him. He is still inclined to do a few things wrong in his races but he really knuckled down in the run home on Saturday and put away a field that had some very promising horses in it.”

The 2014 National Yearling Sales Series graduate was a $130,000 purchase for Tankard who admitted he and father Ginger had been impressed by his athletic nature from the moment they saw him.

“He was just one of those yearlings that caught your eye so once we had taken a good look at him we were keen to get him,” he said.

“We ended up paying a little more than we budgeted but we thought he was worth it. On what he has done to date it looks like he could go right through to the top grade which would be a great result for everyone involved.”

Although a winner on a soft track at Rotorua two starts ago Tankard is convinced the best will be seen from the gelding on top of the ground.

“He probably got away with the win on a slow track at Rotorua due to his class as he seems best suited on a good surface,” said Tankard.

“At this time of the year there isn’t much around for him so we will sit down and talk it over with Tony but it might be he heads for a spell before we bring him back in the spring. If he can make the same sort of improvement he has done so far then he could be in for a very good summer as a four-year-old.”

AWAPUNI DOUBLE CAPS TOP WEEK FOR MANNING

Cambridge trainer Ralph Manning has had a week to remember with a double at Awapuni on Saturday capping a week where he produced four individual winners.

Manning's winning roll started with Houghton (Haradasun) at Te Teko on Wednesday which was closely followed by In a Minute (NZ) (Spartacus) at Wanganui on Thursday before Tranky Doo (NZ) (The way you are) and experienced campaigner Pump Up The Volume (NZ) (Savabeel) doubled his tally on the weekend.

Manning was delighted with the week's achievements although he was quick to pay tribute to leading rider

Lisa Allpress who rode both of his Awapuni winners.

"Lisa is a top rider and she had done plenty of homework on the track before I legged her aboard them both," he noted.

"She told me where the best strip of ground was and how she would like to ride them both and she was spot on with her judgement."

Allpress, who currently leads the race for the National Jockey's Premiership with a nine win margin over Matt Cameron, produced a similar display on both runners as she made her finishing run in the middle of the Awapuni home straight to power home in convincing fashion.

"They both seemed to handle the tricky conditions well although Pump Up The Volume is just an old warhorse who gives his best every time he goes around," said Manning.

"It's just a shame there's no money in these winter staying races now as he's going around and slogging his guts out for $30,000 which is a bit of a joke really.

"The other mare is another very honest galloper who always tries hard. She seems suited on any type of track as she won on a Good 3 at Waipa to kick this preparation off and she's also won three now on heavy tracks.

"She has a few more wins in her yet although we'll try and take her through the grades before we attempt something a bit better for her. I do think she is good enough to win a nice race but we would crucify her with weight if she ran in the money in a stakes race at this stage of her career."

HOME TRACK ADVANTAGE PLAYS OUT FOR LOGAN

Promising apprentice Sam Weatherley guides Silencer home as he makes it a riding double for the Logan/Gibbs stable

Local trainer Donna Logan took full advantage of racing on her home patch at Ruakaka on Saturday as she and training partner Chris Gibbs picked up a winning treble on the day.

Rocknrolla (NZ) (Towkay), Cambridge (NZ) (Tavistock) and Silencer (NZ) (Falkirk) all saluted the judge for the Logan/Gibbs team with two of the three ridden by promising apprentice Sam Weatherley who made good use of his four kilogram claim in a display that impressed Logan.

"I thought he showed a lot of initiative with Rocknrolla as originally I had said to him to settle her back and come with one run in the straight," she explained.

"When she started over-racing he let her slide up to them rather than fight with her and with the light weight she just raced away at the finish.

"He also handled Silencer beautifully as he let the horse bring him into the race as I instructed and again that four kilograms was worth its weight in gold in a close finish so he did a super job for us."

Logan was quick to acknowledge the role that the excellent Ruakaka surface had played in their results.

"I thought the track was in superb condition and played very fairly during the day," she said.

“The track really comes into its own at this time of the year and is a real asset for all trainers. The fact we don’t have to load up a team on the truck and head south is a big factor for us so we always look forward to racing here with a lot of anticipation.”

Logan also reported that one of her stable stars in Volkstok’n’barrell (NZ) (Tavistock) had been turned out for a winter spell in the Queensland sun before returning home to be prepared for the local summer weight-for-age features next season.

CARNABY CRUISES HOME AT AWAPUNI

Athletic three-year-old Carnaby (NZ) (Danroad) showed he could be a force to be reckoned with in some of the better staying contests next season with a comprehensive display to claim victory in the last race at Awapuni on Saturday.

The leggy Danroad gelding made it back to back wins with another powerful display as he bided his time at the rear of the rating 65 1600 metre event before looping his rivals on the home bend and dashing away in the run home.

For trainer Tony Bambrly it was another step on the path to redemption for the gelding who proved more than a handful as a young horse.

“He was a real rogue in his early days and very hard to handle,” he admitted.

“At his first three jumpouts he came back riderless which didn’t augur well but we persevered with him and he has slowly started to get the hang of what it is all about.

“Steven Barlow has done a lot of work with him and really turned him around so he deserves a lot of the credit for how well he is going now.

Bambrly has always had an opinion of his charge although he felt he would show his best over a middle distance and beyond.

“Originally I thought he would be a dry tracker but would need ground to be competitive,” he said.

“He won his maiden over 2000 metres on a decent track but when you examine his pedigree his dam’s family are all wet track runners.

“We decided to try him on the winter tracks and he has really blossomed with those last two wins. I do think though that it is his staying ability that makes him competitive over the mile as it’s more like 2000 metres when the track is deep like it is at this time of the year.”

Rosie Myers has Carnaby humming as he heads for the winning post on the weekend

Bambrly will now sit down with Carnaby’s owners to discuss his immediate plans although indications are he may have a month in the paddock with an eye on a spring campaign.

“We talked briefly on Saturday and his owners indicated they would like to see him have a break now,” he said.

“The way the weather has been the last few years it could mean the tracks stay quite wet well into the spring which would suit him if he comes up well again. If we could get his rating right he’d be a good chance in one of those intermediate races during the Hawkes Bay carnival so I think that’s where we will be heading.”

HILL HOPES IT WON'T BE ONCE IN A BLUE MOON

Former Singapore juvenile champion Onceuponatime threw up his first winner anywhere in the world when Moonraker (NZ) made it barrier to box on Sunday.

A three-year-old filly out of Full Moon mare Manasari, Moonraker is from the first crop of the David Hill-trained Onceuponatime (NZ) (Van Nistelrooy) who carved out a stellar career at Kranji in only 18 starts, being crowned champion two-year-old after landing the Magic Millions Juvenile Championship (1200m) in 2007.

He also won the former (before it became the final Leg of the Singapore Three-Year-Old Challenge) Group 3 Singapore Guineas (1600m) in 2008, but one of his most acclaimed runs probably came in defeat, at his very last race on April 24, 2009 when he stormed home from last in the 2009 Group 1 Lion City Cup to run a super third to Singapore's icon Rocket Man (Viscount) at long odds of $289.

Onceuponatime was then sent for stud duties in New Zealand to stand at Belmont Park Stud in Timaru, a port city which is about 150km south-west of Christchurch on the South Island.

Only a handful of his progeny have raced, mostly in barrier trials in New Zealand, with Moonraker the first to hit the ground running at Kranji on February 19 in a 1200m race on Polytrack. She ran last but showed significant improvement at her next outing to run sixth on the turf before Sunday's outing when successful at long odds in an Initiation race over 1200m.

Hill was absolutely over the Moon, pun fully intended.

"It's a great thrill to see the first winner from Onceuponatime here or anywhere in the world for that matter," said Hill.

"That one was probably the more backward of the first two 3YOs (the other one is Moon Charm) by Onceuponatime who came to me, but she's the quick one. She was always nervous and you could tell from today how she sweats up.

"But she has really improved and we thought she raced better over the turf than Polytrack. She's really quick and we told the rider to go forward and hold a good position and it's worked out good.

"If she wasn't drawn so badly, I think she would have been better-fancied. She's very quick out of the gates and that helped, as well as the Long Course."

MR SPIELBERG BACK IN THE DERBY PICTURE

Back-in-form stayer Mr Spielberg (NZ) (Pentire) gave a stark reminder of his ability when he dashed away to an emphatic win on Sunday.

The Pentire four-year-old has been a shadow of his former promising self since the last of his four wins more than a year ago. At the time, trainer Laurie Laxon had no hesitation in labeling him a Gold Cup hope.

Race	Singapore TC Ghozi S. 1400m.
Winner	Mr Spielberg (NZ) 2011

Sales	2013 National Yearling Sale - Premier Sale; V: Blandford Lodge, P: LK Laxon; $85,000

Unfortunately, things went pear-shaped soon after, with Laxon being none the wiser about the sudden downturn.

Mr Spielberg was brought back to training this year after yet another disappointing prep, and even though he ran out of the placings, Laxon had reasons to hope the old Mr Spielberg was back. In two runs over 1400m, trips obviously too short for him, he charged home late to finish closer to the placegetters.

The step-up to the mile in Sunday's $100,000 Super Easy 2013 Stakes, an Open Benchmark 89 race, has turned into the perfect platform for Mr Spielberg's revival – and revived hope towards the goal Laxon had all along earmarked for him, the Group 1 Emirates Singapore Derby (2000m) on July 10.

"He's a good stayer and showed promise early. I don't really know what went wrong with him though he did have some heart fibrillation issues, but he's back," said Laxon.

"The Derby was always his goal. He needs to earn enough points to make it and I think after today's win (chief handicapper) Mike Wanklin will give him two to three points."

Mr Spielberg has now brought his handy record to five wins from 18 starts for stakes earnings past the $210,000 mark for the Oscar Racing Stable.
