MONGOLIAN KHAN STAR OF THE SHOW AGAIN

2015 Gr. 1 Caulfield Cup winner Mongolian Khan has been crowned New Zealand Horse of the Year for the second time

A further accolade has been bestowed on Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor) as the multiple Group One winner prepares for the second stage of his career.

Now resident at Windsor Park Stud in Cambridge, he has successfully defended his Horse of the Year title after he was named the winner of the supreme honour on Sunday evening at the New Zealand Thoroughbred Awards in Auckland.

The highlight of Mongolian Khan's final racing season was his hollow victory against Australian and international opposition in the Gr.1 Caulfield Cup. That performance also secured him the Champion Stayer Award.

Trained throughout his career by Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman, Mongolian Khan retired as the winner of eight of his 17 starts with his Group One haul also including the New Zealand and Australian Derbys to earn more than $4.1 million.

“He was pretty quirky and a bit rank on the track early on, he took a fair bit of moulding,” Forsman said.

“He was a very kind horse though and we always knew he was special - the Caulfield Cup win was amazing.”

The son of Holy Roman Emperor was raced by the Inner Mongolia Rider Horse group, whose principal Lang Lin was present to accept the awards.

Mongolian Khan’s former stablemate Turn Me Loose (NZ) (Iffraaj) also enjoyed a double strike when he won both the Champion Sprinter and Champion Middle Distance titles.

“After Mongolian Khan got sick and was out of the Melbourne Cup it was special to go over there and see Turn Me Loose win the Emirates,” Forsman said.

The Champion Two-Year-Old was the Tony Pike-trained Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi) while Xtravagant (NZ) (Pentire) was acknowledged as the Champion Three-Year-Old.

He is trained by Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards and in a memorable first full season together they claimed the premiership with 104 winners to earn the Dunstan Trainers of the Year Award.

Lisa Allpress rode 171 winners, including three at Group One level, to be named the FastTrack Insurance Jockey of the Year and Shaun McKay was the McBeath Apprentice of the Year.

An outstanding season for JML Bloodstock’s Lib Petagna was crowned with the FastTrack Insurance Owner of the Year Award and Sofia Rosa (NZ), his dashing daughter of Makfi, claimed the New Zealand Bloodstock Filly of the Year crown.

The FastTrack Insurance Jumps Jockey of the Year is Shaun Fannin while Jack Romanov (NZ) (Ustinov) and Sea King (NZ) (Shinko King) couldn’t be split for the honour of the Champion Jumper and the Media Award was presented to Dennis Ryan, editor of The Informant.

Gerald Fell accepted the NZTR Award for Outstanding Contribution to Racing on behalf of himself and his late brother Rex, both successful breeders and administrators. They jointly operated Fairdale Stud before Rex established Goodwood Stud with his son William and Gerald continues at Fairdale with his son Duncan.

Following his record-breaking season that included 169 metropolitan winners, 15 Group Ones and over $A30 million in prize money, expatriate New Zealander and champion Sydney trainer Chris Waller accepted the NZTR Award for Outstanding Global Achievement.

Sir Patrick and Lady Justine Hogan (for Tarzino, Tavago and Preferment) were the Breeders of the Year, Bagallolies (the mother of the Hong Kong Horse of the Year Werther) was the Broodmare of the Year and Waikato Stud were presented with the Grosvenor, Dewar and Centaine Awards won by their champion resident sire Savabeel.

GENERAL MANAGER AVONDALE JOCKEY CLUB

The Avondale Jockey Club was established 123 years ago to generate a focus and public interest in the sport of racing. The challenge remains the same today, albeit with a well-used facility enjoyed by the wider general public.

The AJC is offering an opportunity to a highly skilled and experienced General Manager to continue to further the planned development of the club in a number of areas.

Knowledge of racing would be a significant asset, but notwithstanding such expertise, we require positive and proactive leadership in planning, project management, systems, and staff management.

The Committee set targets and goals to take the club forward and this role is essential in achieving such benchmarks. You will have overall responsibility for creating and executing all aspects of the Business Plan and meeting those targets and goals.

You need to bring leading management and staff guidance skills, along with computer knowledge and expertise. The digital age should be familiar to you along with a large quantity of common sense.

ZANTECO TOO STRONG IN NATIONAL HURDLE

The icy cold waters of Warrnambool's Lady Bay are not just therapeutic for racehorses.

Jumps jockey Brad McLean also took advantage of the salt water ahead of his win in the Grand National Hurdle at Sandown on Sunday aboard the Darren Weir-trained Zanteco (NZ) (Zabeel).

Warrnambool trainers, including record-breaking Weir, swear by the benefits of the sea water.

It was McLean's first day back race riding after a fall from Gold Spur (Jet Spur) at Warrnambool on July 10.

McLean suffered a lower left leg injury in the tumble before riding in a steeplechase the race after, but under sufferance.

He tried to ride on the following week but eventually had to visit Racing Victoria's doctor, Gary Zimmerman.

"He put me on the right direction," Mclean said.

"I was a little worried about the Achilles. It might have been the end of the season if it was no good.

"The icy cold waters of Lady Bay have done wonders."

Coming from off the pace Zanteco scored by two lengths from Tremec (NZ) (Zabeel) with the favourite Gingerboy (Elvstroem) and Slowpoke Rodriguez (NZ) (istidaad), sharing third place, a half-neck away.

McLean was having his second ride aboard Zanteco on Sunday having ridden the gelding to second place at Casterton early last month when he didn't settle.

He said a lot of work had gone into Zanteco since that performance which has resulted in wins at Bendigo and then again on Sunday.

"I've reaped the rewards today for all the hard work the team has done," McLean said.

"He switched off well, he jumped terrific apart from the last which he made a bit of a mess of but he came out of it really quick and didn't lose any ground.

"It was a terrific effort."

McLean said he should have gone close to claiming a jumps double after his mount Zed Em (NZ) (Zed) was softened up by the riderless stablemate Sea King (NZ) (Shinko King) in the Crisp Steeplechase.

"If we had our own time in front we would have been right, but that's racing," McLean said.

"Straightening up I didn't have a lot of horse left but it was a brave effort to finish it off"

I'LL'AVA'ALF WINS INCIDENT-PACKED STEEPLE

There are many ways for punters to lose their money on a horse race.

At Sandown on Sunday another was added to the list.

Sea King (NZ) (Shinko King), the $2.70 favourite in the Crisp Steeplechase, lost his rider Steven Pateman when a section of rail struck the gelding in the chest.

Nearing the 1000m mark on the first occasion, King Of The Forest (Elvstroem), ridden by Jarrod Lynch, brushed the rail dislodging a section into the path of Sea King.

While Pateman was picking himself up off the ground, Sea King continued riderless, eventually becoming a nuisance to the well-backed $3 second favourite Zed Em (NZ) (Zed).

The race was incident-packed with Gold A Plenty (New Approach) and Marlo Man (Elvstroem) falling and Underground Fighter (Shinzig) being brought down.

All horses and riders were uninjured.

I'll'ava'alf (NZ) (Lucky Unicorn) took out the feature steeplechase by three-quarters of a length from New Zealand visitor Lucky Tonight (NZ) (Lucky Unicorn) with Zed Em eight lengths away.

It was only I'll'ava'alf's second start over the bigger jumps.

He lost his rider, coincidentally Steven Pateman, at Casterton last month.

Trainer Patrick Ryan junior said it

I'll'ava'alf (outer) gains the upper hand as he wins an action packed Crisp Steeplechase at Sandown was touch and go whether the gelding lined up on Sunday.

I'll'ava'alf races in the same colours as Melbourne Cup winner Prince Of Penzance (NZ) (Pentire) with Sandy McGregor involved in the ownership of both horses.

"Eight or nine days ago I rang Sandy and thought that might be the end of his prep," Ryan said.

"He got dumped at Casterton. He ran through a running rail, flipped over a wing and he got a few lacerations to his leg and I thought that might be enough for him.

"I just poked around with him off the pony at the beach and he's hardly been ridden since.

"I think he's better on a wetter track and not having to go down a hill, so to win today was a big relief."

Ryan said I'll'ava'alf was likely to back up into the Grand National Steeplechase at Ballarat on August 21.

Where Winning Begins

LOGAN AND GIBBS DOMINATE AT HOME AGAIN

The Donna Logan and Chris Gibbs juggernaut rolled on at their home patch on the weekend as the duo picked up another five victories on the eight race card at Ruakaka.

While exciting prospects Mongolian Falcon (Fastnet Rock) and Valley Girl (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) showed they are in for a stellar spring with comprehensive performances, it was underrated mare Rocknrolla (NZ) (Towkay) who displayed just how tough she is when scoring a gritty win over 1400 metres following a bumping duel with stablemate In Flight (NZ) (NZ) (Fully Fledged) in the home straight.

“They were both going for the same gap and I thought ‘what are you doing,’” exclaimed Logan after the race.

“He’s such a big horse it meant she had to get out of his way but that was probably the winning of the race as the inside of the track looks gone and he was definitely struggling down there.

“She got out in the better going and that paid dividends.”

It was the Towkay mare’s seventh win from 34 starts and sits alongside ten minor placings which has seen her take her stakes earnings to in excess of $100,000 in her career to date.

“She’s ultra consistent and tries her guts out,” noted Logan.

“That’s all you want in a racehorse, the ones that try and put their best in every time.”

Logan also had praise for the ride of apprentice Ulrika Holmquist who made good use of her 2kg allowance.

“When the tracks are testing like this and you have older

Gutsy mare Rocknrolla (outer) grabs another determined victory on her home patch at Ruakaka horses that know their way around then the claim of the kids works well,” She said.

“It gives them an opportunity and gets some weight relief for those horses that need it.”

The five win haul saw Logan and Gibbs head to the top of the National Trainer’s Premiership at the conclusion of the first week of the new season, just one victory ahead of Kevin Myers who claimed three wins at Riccarton on the day.

SHERPA FINDS HIS WAY TO WINNING FORM AT RUAKAKA

A frustrating run of injury, illness and bad luck came to an end on Saturday when rugged gelding Sherpa (NZ) (Chinese Dragon) returned to the winner's enclosure with a dominant performance at Ruakaka.

Trainer Alan Tait had experienced any number of frustrations with the five-year-old gelding who was greeting the judge for his first win since March 2015. Tait admitted his patience had been tried on numerous occasions over the past year as he fought to restore the gelding to full health.

"We've had nothing but frustrations with this horse since late last year," he admitted.

"He has plenty of ability but he wasn't producing his best so we put him aside after he started missing the start in his races. When we brought him back in we found he had two splints so that meant he went back in the paddock for another spell.

"I thought he was coming right but he got a virus that was going around late in the summer so he went back in the paddock again.

"Thankfully he seems to be over all of that now and he showed on Saturday that when he is right he has got plenty of ability."

Tait had been confident of a good showing after the horse excelled in trackwork last week.

"I came home and said to the higher authority, my wife, that he would win on Saturday" he laughed.

"His work was outstanding and I thought the track would be just what he wanted. He can't really go on the heavy stuff but a dead to slow surface is perfect for him.

"Mark (Hills) rode him nicely and thankfully he did what we had hoped he would."

Tait is hoping he can produce a similar result this coming weekend as stable star Southern Icon (Big Brown) takes on the biggest challenge of his career when he lines up in the Gr. 2 Lisa Chittick Foxbridge Plate at Te Rapa.

"He hasn't raced against that calibre of horse before but I think he's ready for it," he said.

"He's done well after his trial win at Te Teko so if we want to tackle the big guns at Hastings later in the month then this will tell us if that's just a dream or a reality."

Sherpa put bad luck and injury behind him to score handsomely on the weekend

STARVOIA BRILLIANT ON DEBUT

A spur of the moment decision when collecting a horse bought at auction paid dividends for trainer Karen Parsons when flying filly Starvoia (Starcraft) started her career in the best possible fashion at Riccarton on the weekend.

Parsons recounted the story the day after the Starcraft filly rewarded her large group of owners with a debut victory when she took out the Echoes Of Heaven at Linwood Park sponsored 1200 metre dash on Saturday.

“We had bought an Anacheeva colt through Bloodstock Auctions and I was collecting him from Kathryn Picton-Warlow’s place when she asked me if I would like to take a look at a filly she had there,” she recalled.

“She had been entered for the sales at Karaka but had cut her fetlock and had to be withdrawn. She was a lovely filly so I decided to take her home and try her although I wasn’t sure how John would react as he hates it when I do things like that.”

Parsons needn’t have worried as husband John liked the cut of the filly when he saw her and they set about the task of finding a group to race her after agreeing to lease her from Picton-Warlow.

“She has a great group of owners now with some of them racing their first horse,” she said.

“It did mean there was plenty of pressure on the weekend as she had done well at the trials so expectations were high.”

Despite the pressure Parsons was confident although she admitted the rain that set in prior to raceday had her concerned about the footing the filly would strike.

“She really needs it much better than that so I was thinking about scratching,” she admitted.

“We took the punt that it was one of the first races and the ground would be at its best. In the end she did what we hoped and was aided by a brilliant Chris Johnson ride. He cuddled her up and held her together all the way and that was the winning of the race.”

Impressive debutant Starvoia is in control at Riccarton

The well related filly is the granddaughter of Gr. 1 South Australian Oaks winner Dowry (NZ) (Bahhare) and includes Group One performers Our Sophia (NZ) (Noble Bijou) and Carnegie Express (NZ) (Carnegie) in her extended pedigree.

Starvoia will tackle the Listed New Zealand Bloodstock Canterbury Belle Stakes (1200m) back at Riccarton on the 17th of September before Parsons decides on any future assignments beyond that.

EADE LOOKING FOR FURTHER RICCARTON RICHES WITH PROMISING STAYER

Riverton trainer Graham Eade is hoping the winning run of giant gelding Stokers Rock (NZ) (St Reims) can continue at Riccarton next Saturday after his charge scored an impressive victory on the first day of the Grand National Carnival on the weekend.

It was the five-year-old gelding's third win from just four starts for Eade since he took him over after receiving him from Ross Beckett's Yaldhurst stable earlier in the year.

"Ross had him originally but the person who owned him was in poor health so he agreed to lease him to Catherine Stalker," he explained.

"She asked me if I would like to take him on so we got him from Ross and he had his first start for us at Wingatui back in June. He won nicely that day and has just gone from strength to strength since then."

The late maturing St. Reims gelding has Eade excited about his future prospects while the tracks retain moisture in them.

"He still hasn't fully developed yet which is typical of the sire so I think he could really be something next season," he noted.

"He does need the cut in the track though as he just doesn't handle it when it's firm. The way the seasons are these days it's liable to stay wet down here for a couple of months yet so we will be looking at what opportunities there are for him before they really dry out."

Those plans include another run at the Grand National Carnival with Eade hoping he can produce a similar result to the weekend.

"We're staying up here for another week as there is a 2000 metre race this Saturday so that's where we will go next," he advised.

"You wouldn't have thought he'd had a race on Saturday he was so bright on Sunday morning so it certainly didn't take as much out of him as we thought it might.

"Safely through his weekend he can have a short break and then we will take a look around our local circuit during the early spring. I think he is really going to make it as a stayer so next winter we are hoping to step up and tackle some of the bigger events if things can go to plan."
