KIWI SPRINTER GETS HIS SHOT IN MELBOURNE

Passing Shot kicks off his Australian campaign at Moonee Valley on Saturday

Stephen McKee knows there's an element of the "taking coal to Newcastle" with Passing Shot's (NZ) (Swiss Ace) pending sprint campaign in Melbourne but he believes the stallion prospect has the talent to succeed.

Australian sprinters are regarded as the best in the world so taking them on at home is never easy for a New Zealand sprinter.

However, McKee has confidence that five-year-old entire Passing Shot can measure up to a multitude of opportunities that will present themselves in the coming weeks in Melbourne.

"This race is more to get a line on him," McKee said of Passing Shot's first-up assignment in Saturday's Listed Carlyon Stakes (1000m) at Moonee Valley.

"We know it's never easy taking on the Aussie sprinters at their own game but he deserves his shot. This is a nice race to kick him off in.

"Over 1000m, he should be able to run it pretty hard all the way. He's coming out of winter and hasn't had a trial so that should suit. It's a pacy sort of field, I guess because it suits everyone to kick off over 1000m."

A winner of nine of his 24 starts, including the Gr.3 Mr Tiz

Trophy at Ellerslie, Passing Shot hasn't raced since his Listed double of the Lightning Stakes at Trentham and NZB Sprint at Hastings in March and April.

"He flew to Melbourne on Wednesday night and settled well into his stabling with Russell Cameron at Flemington," McKee said.

"He had a canter this morning and he seems to have taken it all in his stride. Hopefully he can run well on Saturday and if his form is good, there's a race every week for him."

Most Australian bookmakers have Passing Shot at $14 in markets headed by Gr.2 Rubiton Stakes winner and Gr.1 Oakleigh Plate-placed Heatherly (Lonhro) at $3.50.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Jack Romanov (NZ) (Ustinov)

Hunt Cup outing will improve top jumper

Mark Brooks believes Jack Romanov (NZ) (Ustinov) might be vulnerable in the defence of his Pakuranga Hunt Cup title at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The Cambridge trainer said the eight-year-old, who was recently crowned the joint champion jumper of last season with Sea King (NZ) (Shinko King), would definitely improve with the run in the Tractor Centre-sponsored 4900 metre feature.

The winner of the Hunt Cup and the Great Northern Steeplechase last year, Jack Romanov subsequently suffered a tendon injury that kept him out of action until July.

He then had a run on the flat before a third placing over the big fences at Te Aroha and he impressed when schooling at Ellerslie last week.

"Richard Cully came over to ride him and he was happy," Brooks said. "He'll ride him again on Saturday."

Hello M'Lady (NZ) (Shocking)

Taupo stepping stone to Guineas

Talented three-year-old filly Hello M'Lady (NZ) (Shocking) will be out to break maiden ranks when she steps out in the Cambridge Stud 1200 at Taupo on Friday.

Prepared by Matamata trainer Vicki Prendergast, Hello M'Lady made an encouraging start to her career with a debut fourth in April at Rotorua behind the subsequent stakes winner Ugo Foscolo (NZ) (Zacinto) and a second to Jon Snow (NZ) (Iffraaj) at New Plymouth.

The daughter of Shocking then stepped up to stakes company and was narrowly beaten into fourth in the Listed Great Northern Foal Stakes at Ellerslie behind Ichiban (NZ) (Swiss Ace).

"She had a short spell after her two-year-old campaign and although she is not 100 per cent fit, I'd be disappointed if she didn't finish in the placings at Taupo," Prendergast said. Full story here.

Emily Farr

Family set to cheer Farr home

Welsh jockey Emily Farr is eagerly looking forward to riding at Ellerslie on Saturday.

Not only does the versatile twenty-five-year-old have five promising rides at the Pakuranga Hunt Club meeting but her parents will be on hand to support her following an impulse decision to traverse the globe.

"They always said they weren't going to come out because my Dad is seventy-seven and he said he was too old to go travelling around the world," said Farr.

"They emailed three weeks ago and said they were considering coming out and then a week later they had booked their tickets and now they're here."

Farr's parents Ross and Shan are no strangers to the racing scene back home in Wales, both were champion amateur jockeys who went on to train point to point horses. Full story here.

Ulrika Holmquist

Holmquist heading home to Sweden

Apprentice rider Ulrika Holmquist is hoping to sign off her current New Zealand riding stint with a win on the Stephen Ralph trained Admiral (NZ) (Align) at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The softly spoken Swedish native is heading back to her homeland to take up an opportunity for higher education after obtaining a scholarship which will allow her to undertake study to qualify as a veterinarian.

For the 23 year-old it is the chance to expand her passion for animals although she is sad to be leaving the country she has come to love since arriving in New Zealand back in 2012.

"I'm really sad to go as I have so many friends here in New Zealand and I just love it here but the opportunity I have is one I could never turn down," she explained.

Ribchester a new Group One winner for Iffraaj

Haunui Farm shuttle stallion Iffraaj (Zafonic) has been represented by his sixth individual Group One winner when his northern hemisphere-bred son Ribchester turned in a commanding performance to land the Gr.1 Prix Jacques le Marois at Deauville on Sunday.

A high-class three-year-old trained by Richard Fahey, Ribchester had previously been Group One placed in both the Sussex Stakes and the English 2000 Guineas.

Iffraaj's other leading performers include New Zealand's Champion Sprinter and Champion Middle Distance galloper Turn Me Loose (NZ).

Highlad (High Chaparral)

Highly-regarded 3YO delivers

Highlad (High Chaparral) took a winning step toward a possible Melbourne spring campaign with a successful debut over 1200 metres at Avondale on Wednesday.

"He covered a fair bit of ground in the run so it was a very good effort," said Andrew Forsman, who trains the son of High Chaparral with Murray Baker. "He still did a bit wrong and I think he beat some handy horses."

"Right from when he was an autumn two-year-old we've had the VRC Derby in mind so we'll see how he goes in his next two or three starts and we'll try and get him there if we can."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Out of the stakes winning mare My Lady's Chamber, Highlad is raced by long-time stable client Scott Richardson.

Sydney winner for Richard Collett

Pukekohe trainer Richard Collett enjoyed a trans-Tasman double on Wednesday with Untamed Diamond (Snitzel) successful in Sydney and Son Taari (NZ) (Perfectly Ready) a winner at Avondale.

Collett was on hand to see talented mare Untamed Diamond scoot to an on-pace victory at Canterbury in Sydney in the hands of apprentice Deanne Panya at her fourth start in Australia.

"She left New Zealand a 72 rated horse and turned up rated 76 in Australia so she really couldn't be placed that well here until she had the three runs," Collett said.

Despite boasting a fourth placing in a Listed race in New Zealand and a fifth behind Xtravagant (NZ) (Pentire) at Group Three level, Collett said Untamed Diamond was "a shade off the better ones."

"It's good to get Deanne on her. We were riding her positively in New Zealand but we had bad draws at her first three runs here so we were holding her up a shade," Collett said.

Zacinto (Dansili)

Derby colt for Zacinto

Promising young stallion Zacinto (Dansili) has a Victoria Derby prospect with the Matthew Ellerton and Simon Zahra trained Odeon (NZ) showing his staying prowess with a facile five length victory at Geelong on Wednesday.

Odeon sat handy to the speed and gradually upped the tempo over 1700m in a well-judged ride from Chris Symons.

"He's a very, very promising horse," said Zahra. "I think we'll run him in the Derby after that!"

A son of Dansili based at Inglewood Stud in Canterbury, Zacinto will cover a full book of mares this breeding season on the back of stakes winning two-year-olds Zigwig

(NZ) and Ugo Foscolo (NZ), with the latter favourite for the Gr.1 Sothys New Zealand 2000 Guineas.

Heroic Valour (Fastnet Rock)

Unbeaten colt to trial at Taupo

Group One winner Heroic Valour (Fastnet Rock) will step out in a 1000 metre heat for black type performers before the opening event of today's Taupo meeting.

Heroic Valour's unbeaten two-year-old campaign was crowned by his success in the Diamond Stakes and trainers Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards have the Gr.1 Sothys NZ 2000 Guineas at Riccarton as his primary aim this term.

Heroic's trial will also feature last season's Gr.2 Hawke's Bay Guineas winner Amarula (NZ) (Thorn Park) and the talented Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained quartet of Coldplay (NZ) (Savabeel), Saint Emilion (NZ) (Mastercraftsman), Maygrove (Authorized) and Get That Jive (Street Sense).

Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi)

Kiwi Oaks winners clash

Racing fans will get an early look at how Group One Oaks winners Sofia Rosa (NZ) (Makfi) and Provocative (NZ) (Zabeel) are shaping up for spring at Flemington on Friday.

The two New Zealanders, who are towards the pointy end of the Caulfield Cup market, are down to compete in a jumpout over 800m on the inside grass track.

Sofia Rosa, who is prepared by Stephen

Marsh, has not started since winning the ATC Australian Oaks at Randwick in April, while the Tony Pike-trained Provocative announced herself to Australian racing fans with a dominant win in the Queensland Oaks in late May.

The Kiwi mares are not the only well-performed types in the second jumpout, with improving Lee and Anthony Freedman-trained import Tom Melbourne (Dylan Thomas) engaged along with Standish Handicap winner Durendal (Medaglia D'Oro).

O'Reilly Cyrus on Golden Rose mission

O'Reilly Cyrus (NZ) (O'Reilly) will have another start in Brisbane in an attempt to ensure she makes the field for the Group One Golden Rose.

O'Reilly Cyrus is at $101 to win the Golden Rose and at the moment is an outsider to gain a start.

O'Reilly Cyrus was an unlucky fifth first-up at Doomben and then came from last to finish third at Eagle Farm last week.

Birchley said to increase O'Reilly Cyrus's chances of making the field she would start in a Plate race at Doomben on Saturday week.

"If she can win or run a place it should just about put her in the Rose. Some years it isn't a full field but we can't take that chance," Birchley said.

Matost (NZ) (Keeper)

Wright opts to stay closer to home

Shelley Wright is hoping she has pulled the right rein with her promising jumper Matost (NZ) (Keeper).

The Glen Massey, near Ngaruawahia, horsewoman has elected to take the tougher option and start the 11-year-old in Saturday's Harrison Lane Hurdle at Ellerslie rather than head south for Sunday's Wanganui meeting.

"Maybe I should have gone to Wanganui, but it's a long way and Auckland is just up the road," Wright said.

"It will be a very good field and it will be good experience for him - it won't do him any harm at all."

Tinsley booked for Ryan Mark in Makfi

Hayden Tinsley has picked up the ride on Gr.1 Railway Handicap winner Ryan Mark (NZ) (Thorn Park) for Saturday week's Gr.1 Makfi Challenge Stakes (1400m) at Hastings.

The Palmerston North jockey answered the call from Taupiri owner-trainer John Morell after Ryan Mark's regular rider Michael Coleman opted to ride last Saturday's Gr.2 Foxbridge Plate runner-up No More Tears (NZ) (Darci Brahma) in the Hastings feature.

"Hayden should suit him," Morell said.

"But it is a Group One race and the horse is going to have to step it up a bit from his first run." Full story here.

Bond bringing Gold To Hawke's Bay

Gold medalist Hamish Bond will be the guest of honour at the Makfi Challenge Stakes Daffodil Raceday on Saturday week.

Bond and rowing partner Eric Murray secured New Zealand's first gold medal at Rio, smashing the rest of the field by 2.8 seconds.

Hawke's Bay locals will get a chance to see Bond's gold medal in the flesh, he'll sign autographs and pose for photographs before attending a High Tea event for Cancer Society volunteers.

"I'm excited to be heading down to Hawke's Bay to help raise money for such an incredible cause. As someone who spends most of the day training in the sun, the danger of skin cancer is something that weighs heavily on my mind and the Cancer Society does an incredible job of spreading the sunsmart message," Bond said.

Now in its third year, Daffodil Raceday is a fundraiser for the Hawke's Bay Cancer Society and entry to the racecourse is by donation.

Jumper wins his case for the Northern

Mr Mor (NZ) (Corrupt) has convinced his connections that he deserves another crack at Ellerslie's premier steeplechase.

The Wanganui jumper has arrived home from his latest trip to Christchurch in such good order that his trainers have now confirmed a second tilt at the Meadow Fresh Great Northern Steeplechase on September 3.

Mr Mor (NZ) (Corrupt)

Mr Mor finished runner-up in the Grand National Steeplechase 12 months ago before he was pulled up in the Northern and he will be looking to turn his Auckland fortunes around next month off another second placing at Riccarton.

The gelding was withdrawn from the Koral Steeplechase with 500 metres to run, but with a gear switch and a change of jockey to Matthew Cropp he beat all but Upper Cut (NZ) (Yamanin Vital) in the National.

"We put a tongue control bit on him and it made a difference," said Evan Rayner, who prepares the 12-year-old with his daughter J. J.

"We were a bit half-hearted about going to Ellerslie, but he's come home so well and there's nothing else for him so we'll have a go.

"He won't race again before the Northern and he'll be doing a lot of work at the beach."

Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo)

Lofty goal set for talented Humidor

Otaki trainers Johnno Benner and Hollie Wynyard have their eyes on a Group One spring prize for Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo).

The son of Teofilo looked a serious staying prospect during a light campaign last season and he made a bold start to his current preparation when he got home well for third over 1400 metres at Te Rapa last weekend.

"He was massive and he didn't have a jump-out or a trial before that," Benner said.

"He's getting better all the time and he was making ground, which was against the pattern of the day."

The winner of two of his five starts last term including the Gr.3 Manawatu Classic, Humidor will make his next appearance in a Rating 75 mile on Saturday week on the opening day of the Hawke's Bay carnival.

"We're looking at the Livamol Classic with him, but he's got to win his way into it," Benner said.

Infantry (NZ) (Tavistock)

South Korea beckons Kiwis

A pair of New Zealand-bred gallopers feature among the invitees to compete in the inaugural $US830,000 Keeneland Korea Cup (1800m) and $US600,000 Keeneland Korea Sprint (1200m) at Seoul Racecourse on September 11.

The Singapore-based Infantry (NZ) (Tavistock), trained by Alwin Tan, is in the cup as is the NZB Ready to Run Sale graduate Gun Pit (Dubawi), prepared in Hong Kong by Caspar Fownes.

Super Jockey (NZ) (Sandtrap), trained in Hong Kong by Tony Millard, has been selected for the sprint.

Infantry is a four-year-old son of Tavistock who has won four of his 11 starts, Gun Pit is a Dubawi six-year-old and the winner of eight races while Super Jockey is a four-time winner by Sandtrap.
