DANZDANZDANCE TO HIT FIRM DECK

Danzdzandance will shoot for her third Group One win on the trot at Te Rapa tomorrow

Outstanding four-year-old Danzdzandance (Mastercraftsman) could not have been more impressive winning her last two starts, with Group One triumphs in the Captain Cook Stakes (1600m) and Zabeel Classic (2000m) effectively turned into a one act affair.

But the lingering question is whether the ever-improving mare can repeat those performances on a good track, with respective conditions of Slow8 and Heavy10 the scene for those victories.

Saturday's Gr.1 Herbie Dyke Stakes (2000m) at Te Rapa will be an opportunity for the popular grey to quash any doubters, with a Good3 track to offer no excuses for her rivals.

Punters have backed the daughter of Mastercraftsman into the $1.85 favourite with Australian jockey Michael Rodd set to jet in from Singapore to take the reins with Opie Bosson, who has ridden Danzdzandance to her past two wins, suspended.

DANZDANZDANCE TO HIT FIRM DECK

"We're really happy with our mare," said Chris Gibbs, who trains in partnership with Michelle Bradley.

"She was always a fairly light-framed mare and she didn't used to hold her condition as well as we would like, but now she has matured a bit more and mentally she is a lot better."

Gibbs said that Danzdanzdance races well fresh and they have purposely spaced her runs this preparation.

"There's a bit of a routine that we go through where she has a few days off after her runs," he said.

"It depends on how many days in-between runs as to how long we put her out for and just how well she comes through each run. We adjust it accordingly.

"This particular time, she just had a few days in the paddock and then we started off again and hopefully we're alright. But each time we go to the races she is actually doing better and better, so we've got to be a little bit careful."

The Ruakaka conditioner said they had made use of syndicator and part-owner Kylie Bax' property in Cambridge for a bit of down-time for the mare when they had travelled Danzdanzdance for assignments in Hawke's Bay and at Trentham.

"Whenever we have gone down and travelled, like for the Captain Cook (Gr.1, 1600m) and for the Livamol (Gr.1, 2040m), we have always stopped off at Kylie Bax' property. She has got a track there and the mare has been able to do a little bit of trotting and cantering around there for a week and then she comes back to us."

Gibbs said that he did not expect Danzdanzdance to be ridden in a similar manner to her last start victory in the Zabeel Classic, where she raced at the tail of the field before looping her rivals to win by three and a half lengths under a hold.

"I don't think she will get back anywhere near as far as she did last time. That was totally unexpected," Gibbs said.

"You can get away with that on a slower track, but I don't think we would want to get back there on a better track anyway. You can't set yourself that sort of task.

"From barrier five, I'd like to think Michael (Rodd) might be midfield, maybe three-back and one-out.

"It is going to be different this time. The track is going to be totally different, so that is obviously a concern to us.

"We'll find out more on Saturday. I don't see why she wouldn't handle the Good3, but I would have preferred a little bit of rain to be fair."

Gibbs also thought the $1.85 odds were prohibitive.

"I understand why she is at those sort of odds, but I wouldn't be backing her at those odds," he said.

"There is a bit of doubt over the track and it is a bit of a different beast really. There are a couple of new horses coming into it, including a three-year-old (Madison County). We won the race with a three-year-old in Valley Girl a few years ago, so it can be done against good horses.

"You have to show respect for everyone that is in there, but we're happy with our mare."

Gibbs said the mare is proving popular amongst the Ruakaka locals and a good performance on Saturday will see Danzdanzdance embark on a two-start Sydney Campaign.

"It's great for the area. We get a lot of comments from people I don't know just walking down the road, they just love watching her go around and they think she is representing us up here. That is quite cool from a Northland point of view," he said.

"Safely through Saturday she will go straight to the paddock for a few days again at Kylie's. It's only just down the road and she will do the same routine, but we will be flying to Sydney on March 18 and running in the Ranvet (Gr.1, 2000m) on the 23rd."

The A$4 million Gr.1 Queen Elizabeth Stakes (2000m) on April 13 is the other race on the program for Danzdanzdance.

ARDROSSAN READY FOR GROUP ONE TEST

Ardrossan (Redoute's Choice) has got hearts aflutter.

Adored by his connections, the Redoute's Choice four-year-old stallion will shoot for Group One success in Saturday's BCD Group Sprint (1400m) at Te Rapa.

He showed he was worthy of a crack at the weight-for-age feature with a brilliant win in the Gr.3

Concorde Handicap (1200m) at Ellerslie on Karaka Million night last month, his fourth win in as many starts in New Zealand.

However, the prospect of Ardrossan racing in top level company seemed remote when he returned from a failed stint with Melbourne trainer Mick Price last September, unplaced in three starts and diagnosed with an irregular heartbeat.

Speaking to Trackside after the Concorde win, part-owner Waikato Stud's Mark Chittick said: "He came back with a few heart problems. Chris Phillips, our vet, has done a wonderful job with him. It's early days yet but it certainly looks like he's going to get back to his best. Chris left no stone unturned. He went world-wide to find the best treatment he could."

Having consulted with cardiology experts from England and the United States, Phillips began a course of treatment that involved oral therapy and repeat electrocardiography (ECG) and blood tests.

"It was a problem that had no quick-fix like for example a fibrillation. We were told the prognosis was only 50-50 that he would ever race at the top level again based on the ECG reports," said Phillips, who gave credit to Waikato Stud pre-trainer Sam McLeish for efforts in getting Ardrossan back to full fitness during that period.

Working on the treadmill at Waikato Stud, Ardrossan could be monitored and Phillips found his heart had repaired and his heartbeat was normal again, a diagnosis backed up by clean ECG and blood tests.

Cambridge trainer Stephen Marsh was rapt to get Ardrossan back in the stable and in the buildup to the BCD Group Sprint said it was as though there had never been any issue with the horse.

"He's perfect. He's got no issues at all. He's happy as and his work has been brilliant. He's as sound as you could get any horse and an absolute pleasure to do anything with.

"He wanders onto the track each morning, does whatever time you want him to run, then wanders back home, eats, sleeps and waits to do it all again the next morning. Before the Concorde, all those horses were jig-jogging about but he just walked onto the track with his head down, as composed as anything.

"He's a beautiful entire. A stable full of him and you couldn't go wrong."

Marsh accepted that Saturday's BCD Group Sprint was a step up from the Concorde, run under handicap with Ardrossan carrying the 53kg minimum, but expected his charge to measure up.

"It's definitely a step up at weight-for-age against those more seasoned campaigners but we expect him to foot it with them. I wouldn't swap him for any other horse in the race."

Marsh said he and jockey Jason

Waddell wouldn't waver from plans to race on speed, though he wasn't sure if Ardrossan would lead with stablemate Ugo Foscolo (NZ) (Zacinto) in the field.

"Ugo's good. He could jump, lead and, with the rail out 5m on Saturday, prove hard to run down. We've seen it at Te Rapa before," Marsh said.

Ardrossan is the TAB's $5 third favourite for the BCD Group Sprint behind Melody Belle at $2.90 and Volpe Veloce at $4, with Ugo Foscolo a $71 rank outsider.

Marsh has eight runners at Te Rapa on Saturday, including Crown Prosecutor (Medaglia D'Oro) in the Gr.2 Warren Storm Lifebrokers Waikato Guineas (2000m) and Kiwianna (NZ) (Cape Blanco) in the Gr.2 Cambridge Stud Sir Tristram Fillies Classic (2000m).

He expected last-start Tauranga winner Tightlign (NZ) (Align) to run well in the last race and was looking for a bold run from last-start Dunstan Feeds Stayers Championship Final winner Starrybeel (NZ) (Savabeel) to confirm an Australian campaign.

HARRIS SEEKING TO BREAK GROUP ONE DROUGHT

It has been more than a decade since Troy Harris rode his last Group One winner and the Cambridge jockey has the opportunity to break that drought at Te Rapa on Saturday.

Harris will be aboard three-time Group One winner Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands) in the Gr.1 BCD Group Sprint (1400m) and he said he is lucky to be riding the Jamie Richards-trained runner after receiving a stay of proceedings for a recent suspension.

"I got a stay of proceedings, so I will have my hearing next Wednesday at Te Aroha," Harris said.

"It was a bit touch and go of whether I could ride her or not. I only got the decision on Tuesday that I could ride her. Once I got the okay I was pretty rapt."

Harris is delighted to get the ride and be reunited with a stable he spent so much of his career riding for.

"It's an awesome opportunity, I jumped at the chance to ride her," Harris said.

"I was apprenticed to Te Akau, so it's good to get back on one of theirs in a big race. I worked there for a good seven to eight years. They have given me a few big winners, so it's good."

One of those big winners was Tell A Tale (Tale Of The Cat), who Harris rode to win the Gr.1 New Zealand 2000 Guineas (1600m) in 2008 for Te Akau's New Zealand trainer at the time, Mark Walker.

It was a standout year for Harris, who just one month prior won his first Group One with Dezipna (NZ) (Volksraad) in the Gr.1 Captain Cook Stakes (1600m) at Trentham.

Tell A Tale's victory in the Guineas was Harris' last at Group One level and after riding Melody Belle in work and drawing barrier two, he is upbeat that he can add another to his tally on Saturday.

"I galloped her on Saturday and Tuesday and on her work on Tuesday I really think she is one of the ones to beat for sure in that race," he said.

"We've got the barrier draw too. She's always quite nice to ride, so she will just put herself right there and with a soft run I think she will be really hard to beat.

"From (barrier) two I can pretty much ride her from wherever I want, so I'll just wait until I talk with Jamie and see how he wants her ridden."

Melody Belle finished third in the Gr.1 Sistema Railway (1200m) on New Year's Day at Ellerslie and was unplaced in the Gr.1 Telegraph (1200m) at Trentham last start and Harris believes his charge is back on track for Saturday.

"I know she failed last start (in the Telegraph), but I went over and galloped her and I couldn't fault her at all, I thought her work was great," Harris said.

"If she drew a barrier she wouldn't have been beaten in the Railway and I would put it down to an off day last start down at Wellington."

Harris has experienced a resurgence in his flat riding career after being forced to ride over fences for a period of time after struggling with his weight.

But he is winning that battle and a Group One victory on the weekend would be a rewarding result for those efforts.

"My weight is great at the moment, I have been riding 56 kilos," he said.

"I'm not wasting at all, I'm having dinner every night. I feel great going to the races now, after previous years where I had to waste to drop a few kilos. You just feel terrible and you don't want to be there, but it's good now.

Melody Belle is looking to bounce back after a last-start disappointment when she tackles the Gr.1 BCD Group Sprint at Te Rapa on Saturday

NEWS IN BRIEF

Moss 'n' Dale (NZ) (Castledale)

Moss 'n' Dale to tackle Group One

Consistent galloper Moss 'n' Dale (NZ) (Castledale) will line up at the elite level for the first time on Saturday when he contests the Gr.1 Orr Stakes (1400m) at Caulfield.

The son of Castledale has been beautifully placed throughout his career by trainer Peter Gelagotis, who will finally get to test his theory that he is a Group One horse.

The six-year-old has won just shy of A$1 million with 14 wins and a further nine placings from 31 career starts, but his consistency has meant the handicapper has caught up with the last start Group Three winner.

"He's got a high rating of 108, so there's nowhere to hide now," Gelagotis told the Herald Sun.

"I think he belongs at that level and that's where I think he'll be doing his racing from here on in.

"I don't think I've placed a horse better, and I think if he was in another stable he would have already had a crack at Group One level, but I wanted to take my time."

Moss 'n' Dale is resuming after a productive spring that saw him win three races on the bounce, including wins at Moonee Valley, Morphettville and the Gr.3 Craven Plate (2000m) at Randwick.

"In the Craven Plate he defeated several Group One winners, which to me shows he belongs at that level," he said.

Gelagotis said it was a heavy track that day, which was in Moss 'n' Dale's favour, but he doesn't believe he's just a wet tracker.

"He ran a quick time when he won at Flemington over 1400m," he said.

"Also he finished second to the subsequent Group Two winner Magic Consol in the Winter Championship and all of those runs were on firm tracks."

"He'll go into that race second-up and he's undefeated second-up," Gelagotis said.

"He's not in the race for the sake of it. He has the ability to mix it with the best.

"I think over 2000m he will be a Group One horse. On Saturday it wouldn't surprise me if he finished in the placings.

"I'm sure he'll finish off strongly, and then it's into the All-Star Mile."

Moss 'n' Dale will be ridden by his regular rider, apprentice Jack Martin, who has won seven races on him including his past three starts.

Magnum (NZ) (Per Incanto)

Magnum back to ideal distance

Former Singapore galloper Magnum (NZ) (Per Incanto) will step back to his ideal distance on Saturday after finishing unplaced in the Gr.1 Thorndon Mile (1600m) at Trentham last month.

The Lauren Brennan-trained six-year-old didn't settle in the mile feature and his trainer believes he is better suited to the 1400m distance of Saturday's Gr.1 BCD Group Sprint at Te Rapa.

"He was a little keen early, Matt (Cameron, jockey) said he fought him a little bit," Brennan said.

Latta quartet on Classic path

Lisa Latta will have a far better idea about her Classic chances after three-year-old racing at Te Rapa on Saturday.

The Palmerston North trainer has Lincoln Falls (NZ) (Dundeel) and Lincoln Sky (NZ) (Savabeel) contesting the Gr.2 Warren Storm Lifebrokers Waikato Guineas (2000m), while her talented fillies Secret Allure (NZ) (Zacinto) and Sentimental Miss (NZ) (Reliable Man) will tackle the Gr.2 Cambridge Stud Sir Tristram Fillies Classic (2000m).

Lincoln Falls will race in blinkers for the first time but faces an awkward draw of barrier 11 in his first start past 1600m.

"Johnathan [Parkes, jockey] has felt he's needed them for the last couple of starts but I'm just hoping that from that draw he doesn't get too keen in them," Latta said.

"He's a horse with a lot of raw ability and I'm hoping for a truly-run race so he gets his best opportunity."

Lamborghini (NZ) (Shinko King)

Hobart Cup for Lamborghini

New Zealand-bred and owned galloper Lamborghini (NZ) (Shinko King) will contest Sunday's Gr.3 Hobart Cup (2400m), with owner Tony Rider hopeful the eight-year-old can continue his rich vein of form.

Originally trained by Guy Lowry and Grant Cullen in New Zealand, the talented stayer has been in the care of Victorian trainer Patrick Payne since mid-2017 and has won three of his past four starts, including a dominant win at Caulfield last weekend.

"We campaigned him in Adelaide with a view to qualifying for the Melbourne Cup, but he ran below par in the 2017 Port Adelaide Cup and we had an offer on the horse," Rider said.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Flamingo (NZ) (Pins)

Flamingo flies in Breeders' Stakes

Foxton-trained mare Flamingo (NZ) (Pins) produced a career-best performance when she took out the Listed Property Brokers Wairarapa Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (1600m) at Tauherenikau on Wednesday.

Bred and raced by Waikato Stud principal Mark Chittick, the five-year-old Pins mare is performing on borrowed time after being confirmed in-foal to the Stud's champion stallion Savabeel.

Already a prized breeding prospect as the daughter of stakes-winning Danasinga mare, Bird, Flamingo added plenty of extra value to any future offspring with her first victory at stakes level.

Backing up from a comfortable win at Trentham at her last start, Flamingo was backed into favourite for the contest and didn't let punters down as she swooped on her rivals at the 300m mark before racing away for a clear-cut victory.

Artiste (NZ) (Mastercraftsman)

Cambridge raider too strong in Wairarapa Cup

Cambridge visitor Artiste (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) added another tick in her career win column when she capitalised on a perfect run in transit to take out the WCM Legal Wairarapa Cup (2050m) at Tauherenikau.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained mare has been in sparkling form of late with two wins and a further two placings from her last four starts. That consistency saw her installed as a warm favourite for the contest, with her many supporters never having cause for concern courtesy of a picture-perfect ride from pilot Rosie Myers.

Myers had the Mastercraftsman five-year-old idling along nicely in mid-field behind a solid speed set by Awatane (NZ) (Per Incanto) before easing into contention with 600m to run. Myers tracked her main rival Peso (NZ) (Colombia) into contention and when she angled off his back at the 400m mark, Artiste produced a telling sprint that carried her clear of her rivals and on to a comfortable victory.

Miss Federer (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Breeders' Stakes likely for Miss Federer

Dual stakes winner Miss Federer (NZ) (Swiss Ace) was set to head to the spelling paddock after Saturday's Gr.3 Woburn Farm 2YO Classic (1200m), but her brave victory in the race altered those plans.

It was a great result for trainer Andrew Carston, who entered his filly in the race as an alternative to the Karaka Million 2YO (1200m) last month after she tailed the field home in her previous start at Ellerslie.

"I felt like she deserved her chance to have a crack at a race like the Karaka Million. We went up there and the first run around Ellerslie was a complete disaster," Carston said.

Verry Flash on target for two-mile feature

Trainer Nick Bishara is confident his progressive four-year-old stayer Verry Flash (NZ) (Zed) will put in a good performance in the Rating 82 Risk Management Group Premier (2100m) at Te Rapa on Saturday as he heads towards loftier targets.

The full brother to Verry Elleegant (NZ) finished fifth at Counties last start, his third run of the current campaign, and he will again be ridden by Rowena Smyth on Saturday.

"We're very happy with him," Bishara said. "We took him out and galloped him with one of Nigel Tiley's on Tuesday morning, just to bring him on a bit."

Former Kiwis on the move

Prominent New Zealand owner John Carter, who races under the banner of Jomara Bloodstock in conjunction with his brother Mark and sister Rachel, has confirmed that talented three-year-old filly Verry Elleegant (NZ) (Zed) will continue her career with Chris Waller.

The winner of the Gr.3 Ethereal Stakes (2000m) last spring, Verry Elleegant had been in training with Darren Weir, who was disqualified for four years earlier this week after not contesting Victorian stewards'

Grunt (NZ) (O'Reilly)

Grunt on track for All-Star Mile campaign

Four-year-old Grunt (NZ) (O'Reilly) is prominent in All-Star Mile voting and trainer Mick Price is convinced the dual Group One winner is on track to be a force in the inaugural $5 million race.

Grunt's Group One wins have both been over the All-Star Mile course and distance of 1600m at Flemington in last year's Australian Guineas and Makybe Diva Stakes.

His spring campaign was cut short after he put in below-par runs in the Underwood Stakes and Turnbull Stakes after winning the Makybe Diva, but Price is happy with how the entire is preparing for his autumn campaign.

Kinshasa (NZ) (Tavistock)

Promising filly has sights on Oaks

Kinshasa (NZ) (Tavistock) may not be as clearly focused as other horses, but that isn't stopping the promising Matamata filly from being a deserved candidate for the Gr.1 Al Basti Equiworld Dubai New Zealand Oaks (2400m) at Trentham.

"She's only partially sighted in one eye, but you would never know it if you weren't told," trainer Cody Cole said.

"That's how I got her. Justine Sclater, who owns her and set up the syndicate to race her, approached me because she wanted her in a small stable for that reason.

"Justine had to go through a lot to get her cleared for racing, but it was worth it. She's a very intelligent filly and keeps improving."

Spring Heat (More Than Ready)

Spring Heat passes test

Smart Matamata sprinter Spring Heat's (More Than Ready) racing career is back on track.

The More Than Ready four-year-old was expected to be a strong chance in the Gr.3 Concorde Handicap (1200m) at Ellerslie last start after winning at Matamata, but she started to buck soon after the start and lost all chance.

Ryan Elliot

Elliot hoping for speedy recovery

In-form apprentice jockey Ryan Elliot has set himself a Group One target for his return to raceday riding.

The Hamilton rider fractured both of his thumbs in a trackwork incident on the morning of the Karaka Million twilight race meeting last month and as a result missed out on riding Group One performer Hypnos (NZ) (Reliable Man) in the Karaka Million 3YO Classic (1600m).

Blondlign (NZ) (Align)

Blondlign sidelined

In-form galloper Blondlign (NZ) (Align) has suffered an injury at trackwork that will see the five-year-old mare sidelined for a lengthy period.

Prepared at Foxton by Chrissy Bambyr, Blondlign won four races in succession this campaign before finishing second to Hanger (NZ) (O'Reilly) at her most recent outing.

"She has pulled a bit of her sesamoid bone off with her suspensory, so she will be out for probably 12 months," Bambyr said.
