PROBABEEL RACES TO KARAKA MILLION FAVOURITISM

Probabeel cements favouritism for the rich Karaka Million 2YO with a game win at Ellerslie on Sunday (Trish Dunell)

The intrigue around the upcoming Karaka Million 2YO (1200m) took another twist at Ellerslie on Sunday where exciting filly Probabeel (NZ) (Savabeel) laid claim to the favourite's tag for the rich two-year-old dash on January 26.

The Brendan and Jo Lindsay-owned Savabeel youngster launched a devastating late sprint to take out the NZB Insurance Pearl Series sponsored 1200m contest, in the process downing stablemate Yourdeel (NZ) (Dundeel), also a Karaka Million candidate.

Trained by Jamie Richards from his Matamata base, Probabeel had been impressive when winning at Ellerslie at just her second race-day start last month. Sent out the warm favourite for Sunday's contest off the back of that run, Probabeel looked to be in a little trouble approaching the home turn when still a fair way off the pacemakers in the eight-horse field.

Bosson took the filly to the outside to make her challenge, where she joined in over the last 100m to storm to victory by a head from Yourdeel with Hasstobegood (NZ) (Per Incanto) a neck further back in third.

Bosson was impressed by the performance of Probabeel although it has left him with a dilemma on which horse he will ride in the Karaka Million, as he is also the regular pilot of Aotea Lad (NZ) (Savabeel) who tops the order of entry for the event.

“We got a bit off them and it took a bit to wind up but that last 100m was awesome,” he said after the race.

“I wasn’t too worried as I managed to get out into the three-wide train just before the turn.

“She just took a little while to wind up so maybe a set of blinkers might be going on for the Karaka Million.

“There are some lovely horses I get to have the choice of (for the Karaka Million) so it’s exciting times.

“I think this one is right up there as she has done nothing wrong so far.”

Owner Brendan Lindsay admitted he was left a little dumbfounded by the win after believing his filly had too much to do in the concluding stages of the race.

“I thought she had no show as she looked like she might run third at best with 50m to go,” he said.

“Opie sort of waited until his moment, which he had to, but I will have to watch it again as you know what it’s like

The Lindsays could have two runners in the Karaka Million with Louis Luck, who was successful on debut at Trentham on Saturday, also likely to make the final field for trainer Jamie Richards.

Richards has six two-year-olds qualified for the Karaka Million, a race he has taken out for the past two years with Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands) and Avantage (Fastnet Rock) respectively, when training in partnership with Stephen Autridge.

Bookmakers reacted swiftly to the result as they installed Probabeel as the $2.60 favourite for the Karaka Million on their Fixed Odds book, ahead of the unbeaten Whiskey Neat (Denman) ($3.60), Aotea Lad ($6.50) and Yourdeel ($6.50).

PROTEST DECIDES THREE-YEAR-OLD FEATURE AT ELLERSLIE

Less than a neck separated the first four runners' home in an exciting finish to the three-year-old feature at Ellerslie on Sunday, however the final result was ultimately decided in the Inquiry room.

Race favourite Prise De Fer (NZ) (Savabeel) was first past the post but appeared to shy at something on the inner of the track at the 50m mark which resulted in him moving sharply outwards where he connected with Rippa Eagle (NZ) (Rip Wan Winkle), who was challenging on his outer.

Rippa Eagle was shunted onto In A Twinkling (Fastnet Rock) and Tolemac (Camelot) who were both finishing hard out wide with all four horses going to the post locked in a desperate four-way finish.

The preliminary result had Prise De Fer beating Rippa Eagle, Tolemac and In A Twinkling but a protest from each of the three runners behind Prise De Fer saw the Judicial Committee determine sufficient interference had occurred to warrant a change of placings.

After lengthy deliberations the final result was posted with Rippa Eagle awarded the victory ahead of Prise De Fer with Tolemac and In A Twinkling remaining in their original positions.

Trainer Tony Pike was pleased to get the final result with Rippa Eagle, who he believes is a big chance to measure up over more ground in the future.

“He’s a big, scopey horse who we’ve had a bit of time for, but he has been a bit of a slow learner along the way,” he said.

“The penny has dropped of late and he was good winning his maiden last time at Tauranga although he still did a fair bit wrong.

“A few gear changes have sorted that out, however it was a big step up today from a midweek maiden to a small but quality field.

“He was very brave over the concluding stages as he got a decent bump from the winner and then cannoned off the one outside him, so to stick on augurs well for his future.

“Once we got in the (judicial) room and saw the footage it was pretty clear-cut that there would be a change of placings.”

Pike has the Rip Van Winkle gelding nominated for the Gr.1 Vodafone New Zealand Derby at Ellerslie in March and is keen to press on with a campaign to get him to the race.

“I think he will only get better over ground,” he said.

“There is plenty of staying blood in his extended family and he has always appealed as the type to go over ground.

“We have him nominated for the Derby back here in March, so if he comes through this race well, we will press on with that in mind.”

Rippa Eagle is the second foal of O’Reilly mare Penny Whistle who is also the dam of Treasure (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) who won at Listed level for Pike over 1800m last season. His grand-dam is useful staying mare Seraphic (NZ) (Imposing) who won eight races and was Group One placed in the New Zealand Stakes (2000m) at Ellerslie.

A Reliable Man filly out of Penny Whistle will be offered as Lot 291 from the Hallmark Stud draft during Book 1 at the National Yearling Sale at Karaka commencing January 27.

CAUTIOUS APPROACH WITH DAWN PATROL

Trainer Frank Ritchie is taking no chances with stable star Dawn Patrol (NZ) (Dawn Approach) in the build-up to the rich Karaka Million 3YO Classic (1600m) at Ellerslie later this month.

Ritchie had the Dawn Approach gelding down to contest a three-year-old 1600m event at Ellerslie on Sunday as his final lead-up event before the Classic but withdrew him after he spiked a temperature following some light work at Cambridge on Saturday morning.

"We worked him in the morning and when he came off the track, he just hadn't put in like we thought he should," Ritchie said.

"It wasn't anything major, but we got the vet to him and he found the horse had a slightly elevated temperature.

"We got some blood tests done as well and they didn't show anything, so I guess in layman's terms, you could just call it a stomach ache or similar.

"He was as good as gold by the afternoon, so I don't believe it was anything serious, but it was enough to see him withdrawn from Sunday's race."

Classy three-year-old Dawn Patrol is on target for the Karaka Million 3YO Classic despite a slight hiccup over the weekend (Trish Dunell)

While disappointed in missing the race, Ritchie is confident he will have Dawn Patrol at peak for his major assignment at Ellerslie on January 26.

"It would have been nice to see him run as he was going to get a good track, which he needs, and I think he was pretty close to being at his peak," he said.

"There is no race suitable for him between now and the Karaka Million so I will most likely take him to Ellerslie for a work-out on the Monday before the race.

"Ellerslie has opened their track that day for horses racing on Karaka Million night, so I am keen for him to get another gallop going right-handed before he tackles what looks likely to be a cracking field."

An Ocean Park half-brother to Dawn Patrol will be offered through the Monovale Farm draft as Lot 1064 during Book 2 at the New Zealand Bloodstock National Yearling Sale that starts at Karaka on January 27.

APPRENTICE SET FOR LENGTHY RECOVERY FOLLOWING FALL AT KUMARA

A nasty incident at the Kumara race meeting on Saturday saw Wingatui-based apprentice jockey, Zubair Bholah suffer serious injuries after his mount clipped heels and fell in the second race.

The Mauritius-born Bholah was having his first ride for the day on his employer Steve Tyler's horse, Morena Roc (NZ) (Roc De Cambes), and got into difficulties when attempting to restrain his mount shortly after the start of the contest.

Bholah, who lay unconscious on the track for several minutes, was transported to the Grey Base Hospital in Greymouth before being air-lifted to Christchurch. He has been diagnosed with three fractures in his neck, a broken collarbone and shoulder along with suffering a severe laceration around his jaw and chin, however, there has been no spinal cord damage.

Tyler was one of the first on the scene and described his feeling of dread as the apprentice lay on the track.

"We were watching the start of the race and when he fell, I just sprinted down to try and get to him," he said.

"I got there and he was just lying in a terrible position and looked like he was gone.

"I had this dreadful feeling in my stomach but thankfully he started to come around after a few minutes."

The 29-year-old Bholah joined the Tyler stable in February last year after arriving in New Zealand from New Caledonia where he had begun his riding career. He lives in the Tyler household and is considered a member of the family.

"It was pretty quiet at home last night as everyone is really shaken-up with what happened," Tyler said.

"He has become one of the family here and my girls just love him.

"I've been with him at the hospital as much as I can and he has been drifting in and out of consciousness as he took a decent bang to the head when he hit the ground.

"He does remember a little bit of what happened as he said he thought the horse in front of him has just eased up a little and he had nowhere to go.

"The best news we could get is that there is no spinal cord damage as you just don't want to think about the ramifications of what that would mean otherwise.

"He is in for a long recuperation period once they have operated on his injuries, but I think we are all very thankful for it could have been so much worse."

Tyler also reported that Morena Roc had come through the fall in one piece despite suffering abrasions and bruising in the incident.

CAMBRIDGE STUD PRESENTS FIRST YEARLING DRAFT OF NEW ERA

Cambridge Stud owners Jo and Brendan Lindsay celebrate their recent Pukekohe stakes win with classy two-year-old Bavella. (Trish Dunell)

With the first breeding season under new ownership nearing completion, the next important stage in Cambridge Stud's evolution is set to take place at New Zealand Bloodstock's Karaka sales complex.

This time last year the news of Sir Patrick and Lady Justine Hogan's decision to sell their iconic nursery to Brendan and Jo Lindsay was being digested by the thoroughbred breeding world.

Forty years after establishing Cambridge Stud with a foundation stallion who would rewrite breeding history in this part of the world, the Hogans had made the decision to sell up. In April the Lindsays – like the Hogans a self-made Kiwi couple took ownership, and much has changed already.

The appointment of renowned bloodstock expert Henry Plumptre to the role of chief executive was followed by a complete rebuild of the administration block and other extensive renovations around the farm were the most obvious, while the established pair of Tavistock and Burgundy were joined in the stallion paddocks first by emerging former South Canterbury sire Highly Recommended, and then by the champion European galloper Almanzor.

Thus the 2018 breeding season swung into gear and now it's the turn of the class of 2017, an amalgam of the best bloodlines from Cambridge Stud's long-established broodmare band and the Lindsays' own quality selection, to go before buyers.

The 56-strong draft catalogued

in Karaka's Book 1 comprises exactly half that number by star resident stallion Tavistock complemented by the progeny of Burgundy, former Cambridge Stud shuttler Power and a range of New Zealand sires.

The bonus is yearlings bred by the Lindsays prior to their acquisition of Cambridge Stud.

Prominent amongst these is the colt by champion Australian stallion Redoute's Choice from the Lindsays' Gr. 1 ATC Galaxy winner Griante, while other top-shelf Australian stallions represented in the draft include Snitzel, Zoustar, More Than Ready, Sebring, So You Think and Dissident.

"Cambridge Stud's draft is split fifty-fifty into colts and fillies and we are very pleased with the quality of the individuals and the stallion representation," Henry Plumptre said.

"The draft is quite diverse. There are a number of Australian stallions represented as well as some notable New Zealand sires, but the strength of our draft will depend on our premium stallion Tavistock.

"It's no secret that his two best crops are currently in the development stage – both two-year olds and yearlings – and we anticipate five very strong years ahead for him.

"Tavistock yearlings from Karaka 2018 have gone to a range of top trainers in New Zealand, Australia and further abroad to Asia, which is a great endorsement of his international capabilities."

Under the revamped Cambridge Stud management team, which includes long-time Hogan employee Marcus Corban in his continuing role as general manager, much thought has gone into the make-up of the 2019 Karaka draft.

"We are selling exclusively at the Book One Sale and we are not taking any yearlings overseas," Plumptre added. "This is firstly to cement our position as being part of the New Zealand breeding scene and supporting the domestic sales.

"It is also a statement of support for the New Zealand industry at a time when huge changes are being considered to head in a direction which will be beneficial to all stakeholders."

Part of the changing of the guard includes a renovation of Cambridge Stud's on-site facility at Karaka, and utilisation of Lindsay Racing's nearby training and agistment operation.

"We have completely revamped the Cambridge Stud hospitality area," Plumptre explained. "We have given it a facelift and obviously we look forward to welcoming all of our clients, both domestic and international, to it at the sales.

"And for anyone who is looking for sales service and support, our Karaka farm will be ready to receive yearlings after the sale. We can provide a service at the farm, which could take those yearlings through to a trial next year if so wished."

MAPPERLEY COUNTS DOWN TO STALLIONS' YEARLING DEBUTS

The countdown to a young stallion's yearling sale debut is a time of great excitement for any stud farm, and Mapperley Stud has double the anticipation in the lead-up to Karaka 2019.

The Matamata farm will unveil the first yearlings by the high-class former Godolphin racehorses Contributor and Complacent.

"It's a hugely exciting time and definitely the biggest feature of Karaka this season for us," Mapperley's Simms Davison said.

"They're two stallions we purchased from Australia and brought over to New Zealand. It was a big commitment, and it's been really exciting watching their progeny develop from foals into lovely, athletic young horses. Both stallions have really stamped their progeny.

"We've started our yearling parades and the response has been terrific. John O'Shea, who trained both horses, came and was rapt with how their yearlings looked. We were thrilled to get that feedback from him.

"The feedback and interest in these two stallions has been immense all the way through. Whenever we've gone to Australia or Australians have come over here, we've had a lot of enquiries about the stallions and how their progeny are coming along. That level of interest has been really encouraging."

Contributer, by High Chaparral out of a Group Three-winning mare, won eight of his 18 starts including the Chipping Norton Stakes and Ranvet Stakes at the elite level. He also placed in the Gr. 1 Mackinnon Stakes at Flemington.

Authorized stallion Complacent won five out of 11 including the Gr. 1 Spring Champion Stakes and three other Group races. He also finished second in the Victoria Derby.

Contributer has 20 yearlings in Book 1, 14 in Book 2 and one in Book 3. Complacent has two in Book 1, 10 in Book 2 and six in Book 3.

In a bittersweet contrast to the exciting debuts of Contributor and Complacent, Karaka 2019 will also mark the final crop of short-lived Mapperley stallion Atlante. The New Zealand 2000 Guineas winner will be represented by one Blandford Lodge yearling in Book 1, three from Mapperley's own draft in Book 2 and 10 yearlings in Book 3.

BOY NEXT DOOR FINALLY PUTS IT TOGETHER

Boy Next Door (NZ) (Showcasing) won his first race by making all in the $75,000 Restricted Maiden race over 1000m with apprentice jockey Wong Chin Chuen attributing the win to experience.

The Tan and Ascot Stable-owned Showcasing three-year-old had eight starts prior to Sunday, including four in New Zealand. From his eight opponents, only Flaunt (Pure Prize) and Broadway Success (NZ) (Alamosa) had some mileage under the hooves – four starts apiece. The rest were either relatively new or were at their inaugural race.

Other than being more seasoned, the barrier was another factor in his favour, said Wong. Drawn in gate one for the first time, Boy Next Door sprang to the front under the pouring rain, never to be re-joined thereafter.

Starting as joint favourite, Boy Next Door ran the Polytrack 1000m in 1min 0.37sec.

“All the while, he’s been running against very strong Restricted Maidens. The nice draw in barrier one also helped,” said Wong who was opening his 2019 account.

“He also had the advantage of having more racing experience than the other horses.

“The boss said to send him forward. There was a little bit of pressure from the start, the pace was quite strong.

Boy Next Door puts it all together to break his maiden status at Kranji

“But I held my ground and he won quite well in the end. Again, that was mostly because of his better racing experience.”

Tan said Boy Next Door has not really applied himself, but he had finally put it together on Sunday.

“He’s been shirking it,” said the Singaporean handler.

“When you need him to do something in a part of a race, he lays in. We’ve changed him around, pushed him forward and he made up his mind today.

“We were a bit worried with the blinkers off, but he had the rails on the left. I think he’ll go further in the future.”
