DEATH OF HAUNUI FARM STALLION A LOSS FOR BREEDING INDUSTRY

Ferlax winning the 2013 Gr. 1 Australian Guineas

The local thoroughbred breeding industry suffered a major loss over the weekend when the Haunui Farm based Gr. 1 Australian Guineas winner Ferlax (NZ) (Pentire) was euthanized after sustaining a paddock injury on Thursday afternoon.

On the eve of transporting his first crop of yearlings to the annual National Yearling Sales series at Karaka, the death is a bitter pill for his connections to swallow.

"We are quite devastated," said Haunui Farm's Managing Director, Mark Chitty. "We were privileged to have had the opportunity to stand Ferlax on behalf of his owner, Jonathan Munz, and have worked closely with him and his Bloodstock Manager Dean Hawthorne to give Ferlax the best possible opportunity at stud. For something like this to happen before he's even had a yearling go through the ring, let alone a runner on the track, is pretty tough.

"I'd like to thank everyone involved with giving their advice in regard to the injury Ferlax sustained. We certainly explored all of the options and there are vets all around the world who have been providing their thoughts and opinions over the past few days which we very much appreciate. In the end, the difficult decision was taken to euthanize Ferlax on Saturday morning.

"I'd like to personally thank Jonathan and Dean for giving Haunui the opportunity to stand Ferlax and there's no doubt in my mind that from the quality of the two crops we have on the ground and the one left to come, we will see some very good racehorses in the years ahead. Jonathan put his full support behind the New Zealand industry by choosing to stand Ferlax here and to lose him at this early stage is certainly a blow not only to Haunui, but to our entire breeding industry as we can ill afford to lose promising young stallions like this."

A son of Pentire, Ferlax won his first four starts on the racetrack including the Gr. 1 Australian Guineas where he defeated You're So Good and Sheer Talent. Retired to stud after suffering an injury during a brief four-year-old campaign that included a runner-up finish to outstanding mare Atlantic Jewel in the Gr. 1 Memsie Stakes, Ferlax served his first book of mares at Haunui Farm in the 2014 breeding season.

He will be represented at the 2017 National Yearling Sale by 23 individuals including three in the Premier Sale which commences on Monday January 30.

Ferlax has been laid to rest overseeing the Haunui Farm parade ring.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Humidor to debut for Weir this week.

Ex-New Zealander Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo) will make his debut for the Darren Weir team in Thursday's John Dillon (1400m) at Caulfield. Formerly trained by John Benner and Hollie Wynyard, Humidor has won four of his 10 starts including last year's Group Three Manawatu Classic and was narrowly beaten in the Group One Livamol Classic (2040m) in New Zealand last spring. He finished ninth in the Group One Cantala Stakes at Flemington before being transferred to Weir.

"He's a new horse to us. He's just a good galloper," Weir said.

"He and Real Love are on an Australian Cup path, and Tosen Stardom will join in a fortnight later in the Carlyon Cup at Caulfield." The Carlyon Cup (1600m) is on February 11 while the Australian Cup (2000m) is at Flemington on March 11.

FIRST CROP SIRES SET TO MAKE MARK AT KARAKA

Karaka 2017 will showcase the first yearling crops of 18 exciting new sires. Among the first crop sires are the New Zealand-based quartet – Shamexpress, Ferlax, Jakkalberry, and Sweet Orange. Below is a brief synopsis on each of the new sires represented, commencing with the NZ domiciled stallions.

Shamexpress
(O'Reilly x Volkrose by Volksraad)
19 Premier, 18 Select, 1 Festival
2014 Stud Fee: $16,000+GST

With 19 yearlings catalogued at the Premier Yearling Sale, Shamexpress, has the highest representation of the first-time sellers. His offspring have already been well received at the Gold Coast sales where three yearlings by the Group One winning son of O'Reilly went through the ring. His top priced lot, a filly out of Burlesque, was knocked down for A$300,000 to former Kiwi trainer Trent Busuttin. The three Shamexpress yearlings sold averaged A$156,666.

"We identified two fillies that we thought would suit that market and we are very pleased with the outcome," Windsor Park Stud general manager Steve Till said.

"It was gratifying to see the acceptance in the market and it has set a good tone for Karaka."

Out of the Volksraad mare Volkrose, a half-sister to the Group One placed O'Reilly Rose, Shamexpress competed at the highest level in Australia's elite sprints. In addition to winning the Gr.1 VRC Newmarket Handicap, he also ran second in the Gr.1 VRC Sprint Classic and Gr.1 Lightning Stakes and finished third in the Gr.1 VRC Coolmore Stud Stakes.

Sure to be a head-turner among the Shamexpress yearlings is the white colt out of the Zabeel mare, The Opera House. Lot 449 will be among the most photographed yearlings on the Karaka complex.

Ferlax
(Pentire x Legs Akimbo by Marscay)
3 Premier, 14 Select, 7 Festival
2014 Stud Fee: $7,000+GST

Haunui Farm's Ferlax (who tragically had to be euthanized after a paddock accident last week) will be well represented at Karaka with 24 yearlings catalogued across the Premier, Select and Festival sales.

"We are very happy with the way they are coming to hand," Haunui Farm managing director Mark Chitty said. "They have nice scope and presence and mentally they are handling it well. The proof will be in the sale ring."

The winner of four races from 1200m to 1600m, the pinnacle of Ferlax's racing career came when winning the stallion making Gr.1 Australian Guineas in 2013. He also finished second behind Atlantic Jewel in the Gr.1 Memsie Stakes.

A son of champion sire Pentire, Ferlax is out of the Marscay mare Legs Akimbo, herself a daughter of the multiple stakes winning Tights mare, Leggings.

Haunui Farm will sell three Ferlax yearlings at the Premier sale, including a colt from Gondola Girl, a winning half-sister to multiple Group One winner Show A Heart.

Jakkalberry

(Storming Home x Claba Di San Jore by Barathea)

2 Premier, 6 Select, 8 Festival
2014 Stud Fee: $6,000+GST

Novara Park's foundation sire Jakkalberry will be represented by 16 yearlings at Karaka.

A son of the Machiavellian stallion Storming Home, the well-travelled Jakkalberry is a half-brother to four stakes winners, including the Italian Group One winners Crackerjack King and Awelmarduk.

Jakkalberry is the Group One winner of 12 races, with his successes coming in Italy, Dubai, the United States and Great Britain. He is best remembered in this hemisphere for his third placing behind Green Moon and Fiorente in the 2012 Melbourne Cup.

"The feedback from the parades has been very positive," Novara Park's Ray Knight said. "I am really looking forward to the sale. They are lovely, athletic horses and I couldn't be happier with the two we have in Premier."

The first Jakkalberry colt to go through the Karaka ring is a three-quarter brother to VRC Derby winner Lion Tamer, while his other Premier sale representative is a half-brother to Gr.1 Melbourne Cup and VRC Derby winner Efficient.

Sweet Orange

(War Front x Good Vibes by Unbridled's Song)

4 Select, 2 Festival
2014 Stud Fee: $5,000+GST

Highview Stud's Hong Kong Group One winner Sweet Orange will be represented at Karaka by a modest selection from his first crop. A son of champion American sire War Front, Sweet Orange is a four-time winner, including the HK-G1 Hong Kong Classic Mile, while he also placed in the Hong Kong Derby and Queen Elizabeth II Cup.

"They have created a huge impression," Highview Stud's Brent Gillovic said. "The potential purchasers who have been here for the last two or three parades have been blown away."

"They are sound, tough looking horses and I expect them to sell very well," he said. "Sweet Orange was a stakes winning two-year-old in Ireland and there are plenty of these that are going to be two-year-olds, they look like runners."

OWNERS HAVE A BLAST AT TRENTHAM

Scenes of unbridled jubilation greeted the return to the birdcage of Waverley galloper Sergeant Blast (NZ) (Darci Brahma) after he triumphed in the last race on the programme at Trentham on Saturday.

The Sam Lennox trained galloper put his small but boisterous group of owners into party mode when he overhauled race favourite All Roads (NZ) (Road To Rock) in the closing stages of the John Turkington Forestry sponsored Duoro Cup (1600m) to register his fourth career victory.

Lennox, who also owns a share in the Darci Brahma gelding, was anticipating an eventful evening as he was swamped by well-wishers as he waited for his charge to return to scale.

"I'm just over the moon as he's such a neat little horse," he exclaimed.

"To pull off a win like that is just a massive thrill. His owners have come over from Australia to watch him so there was a bit of pressure, but they are a great bunch of guys."

Lennox admitted he had his doubts about a victory as the race unfolded.

"I didn't like it as there wasn't much pace on and he was travelling a bit strong," he said.

"He is a great finisher though and with the weight off his back we knew he was going to be hard to beat."

The victory by Sergeant Blast, who was a $20,000 purchase by Lennox at the 2014 National Yearling Sale, brought up a winning double for rider Johnathan Parkes who had taken out the first race on Abbey Road (NZ) (Tavistock). Parkes went within a whisker of claiming the feature race on the day when beaten in a photo finish on Start Wondering (NZ) (Eighth Wonder) in the Gr. 1 J.R. & N. Berkett Telegraph behind upset winner Signify (NZ) (Perfectly Ready).

MISS WILSON IGNITES MEMORIES OF PAST CHAMPION AT TRENTHAM

A tried and true combination turned back the clock on Saturday when Miss Wilson (Stratum) emulated an illustrious older sibling with a comprehensive victory at Trentham.

Rider Jonathan Riddell sported the distinctive colours of owner/breeder Richard Wood on the mare who was having her first start following a lengthy stint in Australia for her three-year-old season. With trainer John Bary putting the finishing touches on the mare it ignited memories of the success the trio enjoyed with multiple Group One winner Jimmy Choux (NZ) (Thorn Park) who won three times at Trentham including the Gr. 3 Wellington Stakes on the same day six years earlier.

While the half sister by Stratum to Jimmy Choux has a way to go to match the deeds of the 2010/11 New Zealand Horse of the Year, Saturday's victory certainly brought plenty of joy to her owner.

"It's a good result as she's a pretty good filly," said Wood after the race.

"The pressure's off now and she will improve from that. She's holding her condition and the weight on her which she couldn't do in Australia.

"She's just had that time to grow and mature as she does have a big frame. She was a bit like a wire coat-hanger but now she's filled it all out."

Riddell was also full of praise for the effort as he brought the mare back to the winner's enclosure.

"She showed a hell of a lot of gate speed and she's won as she liked really," he reported.

"She's out of a good family as we all know and it's nice to win one for Richard again. She's a quality animal and it's good to have her back home."

Wood is no stranger to taking on the best in Australia and has ambitious plans for the mare should she continue on an upward path.

"I've got some good mates in Australia who want me to get there for the Stradbroke in Brisbane," he advised.

"If I go, she will be with me!"

Buyers will have the chance to secure a member of the successful family at Karaka later in the month when Lot 98, a Fastnet Rock colt from the Rich Hill Stud draft, goes through

NO PROBLEMS FOR QUALITY FILLY AT TE RAPA

A pleasing trial performance at Cambridge earlier in the month hinted quality three-year-old filly Honey Rider (NZ) (Pins) would be hard to beat at her next racetrack appearance and so it proved at Te Rapa yesterday.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman trained filly hadn't been seen since a dismal performance in the Gr. 2 James & Annie Sarten Memorial Stakes at Te Rapa back in October. Sent to the spelling paddock after the run, the filly had her first serious hit-out at the Cambridge trials on January 10 where she finished close-up behind multiple Group One winners Turn Me Loose (NZ) (Iffraaj) and Xtravagant (NZ)

Race	Waikato RC Speedwall NZ H. 1200m.

(Pentire) over 935 metres.

Sent out a warm favourite at Te Rapa on the strength of that trial, Honey Rider settled beautifully just off the speed in the five horse field before rider Michael Coleman asked her for a serious effort in the home straight. The Pins filly quickly saw off the challenge of the pacemaking Parker's Piece (NZ) (Northern Meteor) before easing clear to win untouched by two and a half lengths in a tidy 1.10.38 for the 1200 metre journey.

Coleman was satisfied with the filly's performance in the tricky conditions that prevailed during the race.

"The way she trialed behind two good horses the other day, and with just 54kgs on her back, we thought she would be hard to beat," he said.

"It was windy out there but not too big a factor although they are copping it as they swing for home, so it was a good effort."

Co-trainer Andrew Forsman was also pleased with the result.

"It can be tricky in a small field but she got the right run and she hit the line well," he remarked.

"We don't have any real plans for her at present. She is a Group Three winner already so we will just look for some more black-type options for her.

"We're still trying to figure out what the go is with her, whether we keep her fresh as a sprinter or whether we try to get her to go further."

The victory was the third for Honey Rider in just six career starts including success in the Gr. 3 Gold Trail Stakes at Hastings to commence her three-year-old campaign.

ELLERSLIE NEXT FOR TRAVIMYFRIEND

A trip north this week is on the cards for impressive Trentham winner Travimyfriend (NZ) (Tavistock) who completed a winning treble on the weekend.

The imposing Tavistock four-year-old had commenced his winning run on his home track at Otaki back in mid-December with a maiden victory over 1200 metres before making it two on end when stepping up to rating 65 company over 1400 metres earlier this month.

Saturday's special conditions event over the same 1400 metre journey saw the gelding installed favourite against a field of mainly maiden gallopers and, despite carrying topweight of 59kgs, he didn't disappoint after a peach of a ride from regular pilot Hayden Tinsley.

Tinsley made good use of an inside barrier draw as he settled his charge directly behind the speed before angling into the clear shortly after the field straightened for the run home.

Although forced to bullock his way between runners at the 200 metre mark, Travimyfriend quickly put the issue beyond doubt as he raced clear to win by a neat length.

Trainer and part-owner Rachel Frost admitted she did have some minor doubts about her charge's prospects on the day.

"I actually said he'd never win a race with a name like that," she laughed.

"In reality though I was a bit worried by the weight he had as he is still a little weak in behind so he's done well."

Frost indicated she may trek north with the horse for his next assignment.

"He may go to Ellerslie next week for another special conditions event," she said.

"He will only carry a kilo more with both a 1400 or a mile event as an option so we will just have to see what we do. I think he will stay later in his career but he just likes to pull a little at the moment so we will stick to the shorter distances at this stage."
