BOSSON CLOSING IN ON JOCKEY GREAT'S TALLY

Opie Bosson (pictured aboard Melody Belle) is just one win shy of joining Hall of Fame jockey Lance O'Sullivan on 62 career Group One wins

Opie Bosson is just one win shy of joining Hall of Fame jockey Lance O'Sullivan on 62 career Group One wins and he has a gilt-edged chance of levelling up to his former great rival at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The South Auckland jockey racked up his 61st Group One win when he guided the Jamie Richards-trained Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands) to success in the Haunui Farm WFA Group One Classic (1600m) at Otaki last month.

He again takes the ride on the Commands mare in Saturday's Gr.1 Bonecrusher New Zealand Stakes (2000m) at Ellerslie as well as teaming up with favourite Yourdeel (NZ) (Dundeel) in the Gr.1 Sistema Stakes (1400m) and Melbourne visitor Vengeur Masque (Monsun) in the Gr.1 Barfoot & Thompson Auckland Cup (3200m).

"It would be nice to get there. Lance ranks as one of our best-ever jockeys, to level up to him would be a great feat," Bosson said.

"It would be nice to do it on Melody Belle too but I won't be thinking about that on Saturday. I'll be just out there doing my job, trying to win nice races."

Bosson began his career in the mid-1990s and rode against O'Sullivan for the best part of eight seasons, forging a great friendship to match their rivalry.

He gets his first opportunity to level up with O'Sullivan aboard Yourdeel, a runaway six-length winner of the Listed Waikato Stud Slipper (1200m) at Matamata last month, having opted for the Dundee gelding ahead of stablemates Aotea Lad (NZ) (Savabeel) and Equinox (NZ) (Exceed and Excel).

However, drawing the outside barrier of 11 has added an unwelcome obstacle towards success.

"It just makes things a little more difficult from out there. We just have to hope for luck in running. I would have preferred to have drawn four or five but we can't change that now," Bosson said.

"He was very impressive at Matamata. Once he balanced up and quickened, nothing was going to beat him. He worked really nicely with Aotea Lad on Tuesday and I can't fault him. It's a good field though and I rode Equinox on Tuesday and he worked well. He's the big improver with blinkers on."

Bosson has a soft spot for glamour mare Melody Belle after she carried him to his first Karaka Million 2YO (1200m) win earlier in her career and he's looking forward to seeing her step up to 2000m for the first time.

"She's working nicely but she's such a professional and always does. But she's working as well as she was going into Otaki anyway," Bosson said.

"The way she's racing, she's well capable of running out a strong 2000m and she's drawn well in barrier five, so she should get a cosy run from there which helps."

Bosson was excited to ride Vengeur Masque in the Auckland Cup, a race he first won in 1998 on Jezabeel (NZ) (Zabeel).

"Mike Moroney rang and asked if I'd be interested and on form he looks a really good ride," Bosson said.

"He won well under a big weight at Moonee Valley last start and he's placed over 3200m in Melbourne at Group Two level so that's good form for this."

STERN TEST FOR IN-FORM MARE

The Roger James and Robert Wellwood-trained Rondinella (NZ) (Ocean Park) is taking a solid formline into Saturday's Gr.1 Bonecrusher New Zealand Stakes (2000m) at Ellerslie, but her connections believe she will have her work cut out for her in the star-studded field.

The Ocean Park four-year-old has won three of her six starts this season, placing in a further two, including a last-start runner-up performance in the Listed Kaimai Stakes (2000m) at Matamata last month.

"I thought it was a good run, she certainly didn't get every favour, but she was very close on what wasn't a suitable track for her," Wellwood said.

There are a number of horses the Cambridge trainers didn't foresee competing in Saturday's contest, but they remain excited to have her competing in her first Group One assignment in any case.

"She is taking a good formline in, but the race has come up very strong," Wellwood said. "I think there are eight Group

One winners and a further two Group One placegetters.

"There are probably two or three that we didn't think were going to be there when we decided that was a race on our radar.

"But we are happy with her and we are going to get a good line on her from how she does perform on the weekend."

Rondinella has drawn gate three and Wellwood said jockey Vinnie Colgan will likely settle her midfield from that barrier.

"She's drawn three, that's a nice barrier to find her feet and settle somewhere midfield and hopefully she can find the line as strong as anything else," he said.

"It's a very strong field, but we are happy with her and very excited to have her there."

The Cambridge trainers will wait until after Saturday's race before deciding on further autumn targets with Rondinella, however, Wellwood said a trip across the Tasman is a possibility for the mare.

"We'll run Saturday and make plans from the result and how she goes there," he said.

"She may head to Sydney for a race. There are a few different options around."

Bred in partnership by Haunui Bloodstock, Garry Cranny and Cathy Franich's Frantic Bloodstock, Rondinella is raced by Haunui Farm and Franich.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Brutal (NZ) (O'Reilly)

Shillelagh (NZ) (Savabeel)

Brutal looking for Sydney Group One

The Hawkes Racing-trained Brutal (NZ) (O'Reilly) will be out to substantially enhance his value when he contests Saturday's Gr.1 Canterbury League Club Stakes (1300m).

The son of O'Reilly lost his unbeaten record but no admirers when finishing a close third in the Gr.3 Southern Cross Stakes (1200m) at Randwick on February 16 after being forced to race wide throughout.

John Hawkes, who trains Brutal with sons Wayne and Michael, said the colt is in good order as he looks to add to his record of three wins from four starts.

"He's good, he came through the run well and we're happy with him," Hawkes said.

"He's a colt by O'Reilly and will be worth a lot of money with a Group One win on his record and it would be good to do that on Saturday for his owners.

"We've always liked running the younger horses against the older horses at weight-for-age."

Brutal, is part-owned by prominent owner Rupert Legh, a well-documented fan of Waikato Stud's late sire O'Reilly.

From the final crop of O'Reilly, Brutal is out of the Group Three performer Alberton Princess and was sold from the draft of Mapperley Stud for $220,000.

Williams buoyed by Shillelagh ahead of Cup

A keen form student, jockey Craig Williams says the Gr.1 Australian Cup (2000m) is an intriguing race with a number of different form lines meeting at Flemington.

Williams rides the Chris Waller-trained Shillelagh (NZ) (Savabeel), the only mare in Saturday's Group One race, and said he had chased the ride after watching her at Flemington last spring.

"I wanted the ride on her because of her performance in the Mackinnon Stakes last spring," Williams said.

"I thought that run showed that Flemington, over 10 furlongs, at weight-for-age, she could mix it with our best horses."

Shillelagh has had two runs in her autumn campaign, beating one home in the Gr.1 C F Orr Stakes (1400m) at Caulfield on February 9 before running sixth to Avilius (Pivotal) in the Gr.2 Peter Young Stakes (1800m) two weeks later.

Williams saw in that run she was on track towards the Australian Cup.

"I thought her last run at Caulfield showed me she was right on the mark," Williams said.

"Her piece of work on Tuesday I was very happy with and when you go back through her form her two Group One wins have both been at Flemington.

"She does appreciate the big straight so she's a ride I'm looking forward to, but there's a lot of intrigue in the race."

Shillelagh is raced by her Hunterville breeders Christopher and Susanna Grace.

Vin de Dance (NZ) (Roc de Cambes)

Vin de Dance on Cup trial

Group One winner Vin de Dance (NZ) (Roc de Cambes) will contest Saturday's Gr.1 Bonecrusher New Zealand Stakes (2000m) on route to Australia for the Gr.1 Sydney Cup (3200m) held at Randwick on April 13.

Prepared by Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman, Vin de Dance was a tough winner of the Listed Kaimai Stakes (2000m) at Matamata last start.

"We will bring Vin de Dance over to Sydney – he won the New Zealand Derby (Gr.1, 2400m) last year and he ran second in the Rosehill Guineas (Gr.1, 2000m) but was relegated to fourth. Then he was fourth in the Australian Derby (Gr.1, 2400m)," Baker said.

"We brought him back over for the spring in Melbourne, but he wasn't right. He only had two starts and then we took him home.

"But he's come back well and I think he's on the improve now. The Sydney Cup looks like it will suit him."

Raced by OTI in conjunction with breeder Luigi Muollo and Kilted Taniwha Syndicate, Vin de Dance has won in excess of $800,000 in his 15 career starts.

Charles Road (Myboycharlie)

Charles Road chasing higher honours

Charles Road (Myboycharlie) will earn another trip across the Tasman if he can run up to expectations in Saturday's Gr.1 Barfoot & Thompson Auckland Cup (3200m) at Ellerslie.

Third in last year's Gr.1 Sydney Cup (3200m), the Lance O'Sullivan and Andrew Scott-trained five-year-old again has the Randwick $A2 million April 13 feature on his programme.

"He's entered for Sydney but he's first got to show that he warrants going," Scott said.

However, stable confidence is high that Charles Road will earn his trip, a flashing last-start fourth in the Listed Kaimai Stakes (2000m) at Matamata under 60.5kg convincing TAB bookmakers to install him a $3.30 favourite for Auckland Cup.

"It was a really pleasing performance," Scott said.

"It indicated to us he's coming up really well and racing in a manner that suggests he's looking for the two miles. We were very pleased.

"His body weight indicates that he's spot on, he's hitting out freely in training and his fitness levels look to be very high. He's going in a manner that suggests he'll put in a really good performance."

A winner of six of his 28 starts for owners Archer Equine Investments, Charles Road will attempt 3200m for the fourth time on Saturday, having most recently finished seventh in the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup (3200m) at Flemington last November after challenging for the lead with 400m to run.

Madison County (NZ) (Pins)

Madison County on target for Guineas

The seven-figure sale for star three-year-old Madison County (NZ) (Pins) may have fallen through, but the Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained galloper will now get the opportunity to add an Australian Group One to his tally on Saturday.

The son of Pins will contest the Gr.1 Randwick Guineas (1600m) and Forsman believes his charge will be competitive in the mile feature despite an interrupted preparation caused by the failed sale.

"Everything looked good from our end (for the sale), but the vetting went through to Hong Kong and they pulled pin at the last minute, which has messed his preparation up," Forsman said.

"In an ideal world, if we were going to be running in a Randwick Guineas he would have run in the Hobartville (Gr.2, 1400m) and that would have given him a much better preparation going into it."

Madison County will head into the Guineas fresh-up after placing behind Long Leaf in the Karaka Million 3YO Classic (1600m) last start at Ellerslie in January, but Forsman is taking some solace from Madison County's fresh-up win in the Gr.1 Levin Classic (1600m) in January.

Bavella (Snitzel)

Lindsay youngsters on trial for Sydney features

Events from this week will have a huge bearing on the strength of Brendan and Jo Lindsay's assault on the major juvenile races at the Sydney Autumn carnival.

The prominent owners have already enjoyed a momentous highlight with their filly Probabeel (NZ) (Savabeel), trained by Jamie Richards, winning Ellerslie's Karaka Million 2YO (1200m) and on Saturday they will be represented in the Gr.1 Sistema Stakes (1200m) at Ellerslie with the Lance Noble-trained Bavella (Snitzel).

The Cambridge Stud principals will also have an eye on Sydney where their debutante Get Hitched (Lonhro), a $520,000 Karaka purchase, will be thrown in the deep end in the Gr.2 Reising Stakes (1200m) at Randwick. Full story here

Glory Days (NZ) (Red Giant)

Thurlow aiming for Auckland Cup glory

Waverley trainer Bill Thurlow has experienced a stellar season with his talented galloper Glory Days (NZ) (Red Giant) and he is hoping she can continue her good run of form in the Gr.1 Barfoot & Thompson Auckland Cup (3200m) at Ellerslie on Saturday.

The six-year-old daughter of Red Giant has hardly put a foot wrong this season, winning five of her last seven starts, including the Listed Wanganui Cup (2040m) and the Gr.2 Avondale Cup (2400m) at Ellerslie last start.

"I'm really happy with the way she is going," Thurlow said. "She has been doing a good job and everything is ticking over nicely. Full story here

Blue Breeze (NZ) (Bullbars)

One-horse trainer gets Cup opportunity

Allan Morley has a bit of inside knowledge on what it takes to win a Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) as he prepares for his first tilt at the Ellerslie feature on Saturday.

A blacksmith and saddler by trade, the Byerley Park trainer prepares just the one horse, Blue Breeze (NZ) (Bullbars), who is rated a $16 chance on the TAB's Fixed Odds betting for the Barfoot & Thompson-sponsored feature, and he has been using some of his vast experience with horses to have the five-year-old son of Bullbars at his peak for the Saturday's test.

Morley has an equestrian background, but his experience with thoroughbreds goes back many years and includes a stint working for Neville Atkins, a trainer at Waiuku whose stable included multiple Group One winners Ring The Bell (NZ) (Rangong) and Secured Deposit (NZ) (Kirrama). NEWS IN BRIEF

Gundown (High Chaparral)

Gundown armed for Auckland Cup tilt

Cambridge galloper Gundown (High Chaparral) could break through for his first victory at black-type level on Saturday when he lines-up in the Gr.1 Barfoot & Thompson Auckland Cup (3200m) at Ellerslie.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained gelding has been runner-up at Group level in the Gr.3 Manawatu Classic (2000m) and Gr.2 Championship Stakes (2100m) last season and his connections are hoping he can go one better on Saturday.

The son of High Chaparral heads into the two-mile feature in winning form after taking out the Nathans Memorial (2200m) at Ellerslie last weekend and his trainers believe he will be well suited to the 3200m distance of Saturday's contest.

"He looks like a horse that might get the Auckland Cup distance," Baker said. "He is a promising young stayer and he's bred to stay."

"He's had a good background this season, so he's done the mileage, he's very fit."

Baker said Gundown will likely be ridden off the pace and is hoping his charge can get some luck in the run home.

"He gets back in running and when you are a back runner you run into problems and he has had a bit of bad luck throughout his career," Baker said.

"But that's the way it goes, that's his racing pattern."

Latta looking forward to Cup

Trainer Lisa Latta is looking forward to lining up Five to Midnight (NZ) (Domesday) in the Gr.1 Barfoot & Thompson Auckland Cup (3200m) at Ellerslie on Saturday.

Latta said the six-year-old gelding has pulled up well after his placing in the Gr.2 Avondale Cup (2400m) last month and believes he will benefit from the set weights and penalties conditions of the race.

Five To Midnight (NZ) (Domesday)

"He's very well," she said. "He had a couple of days in the paddock after the Avondale Cup and worked well on Friday morning."

"It will be the lightest weight (56kg) he has carried in a very long time."

Luvaluva (NZ) (Mastercraftsman)

Group Three test for Luvaluva

Sydney trainer John Sargent is expecting a solid showing from New Zealand-bred mare Luvaluva (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) when she competes in the Gr.3 Aspiration Quality (1600m) at Randwick on Saturday.

The Group Two winner heads into the race off the back of an unplaced run in the Gr.2 Millie Fox Stakes (1300m) and Sargent is looking forward to stepping his mare up in distance.

"I think she will go well," he said. "It was a good first-up run, but well short of her best."

"We are well in at the weights at 53.5kg. She's won over a mile at Randwick before, I think it should suit her nicely."

"She's about 20kg heavier than she was in the spring. In the last couple of months she has probably matured a lot more."

A potential tilt at the Gr.1 Fiber Fresh New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Stakes (1600m) at Te Aroha next month could be on the cards for Luvaluva, but Sargent said a decision won't be made until after Saturday's run.

Lanciato (NZ) (Per Incanto)

Lanciato on track for Newmarket defence

Lanciato (NZ) (Per Incanto) will have to overcome a wide barrier and significant weight rise if he is to become the first horse in 35 years to go back-to-back in the Gr.3 Newcastle Newmarket (1400m).

The Mark Newnham-trained backmarker has drawn the outside in the field of 13 and has 58kg, four kilos more than he carried to victory in the corresponding race 12 months ago.

"I would have preferred him to draw in a bit and be in front of two or three but he is a get-back horse so it's not the worst," Newnham said.

"He's in good shape. He goes very well second-up. It's the ideal distance for him, 1400, and he won the race last year and is going equally as well. He's just got to carry a bit more weight."

The last horse to win consecutive runnings of the Newcastle Newmarket was Manuan (Koryo) in 1983-84.

Canterbury ahead of his autumn campaign.

The son of Frankel has won three of his 11 career starts, including the Gr.2 Prix Guillaume d'Ornano (2000m) and Gr.3 Craven Stakes (1609m), Eminent is now trained by dual gold medal-winning Olympian Sir Mark Todd and is currently in the care of former New Zealand jockey Bruce Herd until Todd arrives in Sydney later this week.

Herd said Eminent had handled the trip well and has settled into his new surroundings.

"He only lost about eight kilograms on the trip, he's eating well and drinking well," Herd told Racing NSW.

"It didn't seem to affect him at all. He's a beautiful moving horse who will really appreciate the speed on over here."

Eminent is on a course to clash with superstar mare Winx (Street Cry) in both the Gr.1 Queen Elizabeth Stakes (2000m) next month and possibly the Gr.1 Ranvet Stakes (2000m) shortly after his stint in quarantine.

Rory Hutchings

Hutchings returns

Talented rider Rory Hutchings has returned to New Zealand after being based in Sydney for the past four years.

The 23-year-old, who last rode on raceday on January 12, has battled with his weight in recent years after winning the Sydney apprentice jockeys' premiership in 2016.

"I put a timeline of around a month before I am back riding," Hutchings said. Full story here

Princess Jenni faces stakes test in Kewney

Lightly raced Princess Jenni (NZ) (High Chaparral) is set for a belated start to her autumn campaign and will be out to make up for lost time in the Gr.2 Two Kewney Stakes (1400m) at Flemington.

The David Brideoake-trained three-year-old won a 1400m fillies' maiden at Geelong by six lengths at her second start on November 1 last year before being given a break.

The filly made her next public appearance when she won a Cranbourne barrier trial on February 4 but her return to racing was delayed.

"We just had a couple of hiccups after that trial but they seem to have resolved itself," Brideoake said.

"She developed a foot abscess so we had to deal with that.

"You don't like to have things happen but it did. But she's back now and I thought she trialed nicely on Monday at Cranbourne."

Brideoake will be guided by Princess Jenni's performance but believes if she keeps progressing she should be able to get over further than Saturday's 1400m.

She holds nominations for Sydney races while the Gr.1 Australasian Oaks (2400m) is also an option.

Brideoake said he hoped Princess Jenni could get to that level but he will be guided by her race performance before making plans.

Ladies First (NZ) (Dylan Thomas)

Ladies First side-lined

Last year's Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) winner Ladies First (NZ) (Dylan Thomas) has suffered a set-back that will see her autumn campaign shelved.

The Allan Sharrock-trained mare had been on a path to the Gr.1 Sydney Cup (3200m) but pulled up sore after finishing tenth in the Gr.1 Haunui Farm WFA Group One Classic (1600m).

"It's a minor strain in a tendon, so she will probably have three months to get over it," Sharrock said.

"With three months off, she will be fine.

"She had come up really, really well and I was quite excited.

"Her run at Otaki was probably a little bit bemusing. It was a pass, but it wasn't what I wanted. Then on Sunday she was sore and I thought it might have been a stone bruise but it turns out it was a slight tear in the tendon."

Ladies First has won nine of her 24 starts to date including three at stakes level.

Zacada (NZ) (Zabeel)

Sydney next target for Zacada

Last year's Gr.1 Sydney Cup (3200m) runner-up Zacada (NZ) (Zabeel) is being aimed to replicate his autumn exploits of last year when he heads across the Tasman to compete in the A$2 million feature next month.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained six-year-old finished runner-up behind stablemate Gundown (High Chaparral) over 2200m at Ellerslie on Saturday, his last start in New Zealand before his Sydney campaign.

"He needs rain, just to slow them up a wee bit," Baker said. "Last year he got beaten by a nose in the Sydney Cup on a very good track.

"He is probably better suited over there on a big track like Randwick and he won't have any weight.

"He will probably go to Rosehill and run in a 2600m race, then into the Chairman's (Gr.2, 2600m) and Sydney Cup."

Group One target for Supera

Group three-winning mare Supera (NZ) (Savabeel) will head to Te Aroha next month in an attempt to add a Group One victory to her resume.

The Ken and Bev Kelso and Mark Donoghue-trained four-year-old will line-up in the Gr.1 Fiber Fresh NZ Thoroughbred

Supera (NZ) (Savabeel)

Breeders' Stakes (1600m) off the back of an unplaced run in the Gr.1 Haunui Farm WFA Group One Classic (1600m) at Otaki last month.

Ken Kelso cited the state of the Otaki track as the main contributor to that last start result, but said he is pleased with how his mare has pulled up after the run.

"I don't think it was a good enough track for a Group One race," Kelso said. "It was terrible across the top. Lance Robinson walked it on the Friday night and he told me across the top he thought it was a heavy 11 and they were posting a slow 7.

"If we had known that we probably wouldn't have been there.

"She has come through the race well, she had a week in the paddock. She will go straight to the Breeders at Te Aroha.

"We have won it a couple of times with Xanadu and Perfect Fit."

Ardrossan out of Sydney Group One

Group One performer Ardrossan (Redoute's Choice) has been withdrawn from the Gr.1 Canterbury Stakes (1300m) at Randwick on Saturday after recording an elevated temperature upon arrival in Sydney earlier this week.

"He travelled over on Monday night and had a bit of a temperature and his blood wasn't 100 percent," trainer Stephen Marsh said.

"It doesn't look to be major. The vets are pretty confident he is going to bounce back really quickly.
