DEBT COLLECTOR TAKES OUT THE RAFFLES CUP

Debt Collector finds the line brilliantly to secure another major title in Singapore

Singapore's new racing sensation Debt Collector (NZ) (Thorn Park) again showed he knew where the winning post was when he came with his trademark surging run to secure his fifth feature race, this time in Sunday's $700,000 SGP Gr. 1 Raffles Cup (1800m).

Three weeks after notching the first Leg of the Singapore Triple Crown series, the SGP Gr. 1 Panasonic Kranji Mile (1600m), the son of Thorn Park made it two-from-two with another scintillating performance, albeit a little more industrious this time.

But any hopes of seeing history being rewritten with a first Triple Crown winner this year had long been ruled out, as trainer Cliff Brown had made it clear from the outset that Debt Collector would not be going the whole hog into the third Leg, the Dester Singapore Gold Cup (2200m) on November 20.

Brown is giving the four-year-old gelding a well-deserved break straight after his Raffles Cup heroics, with the Australian handler just saying he would wait for next month to decide what is the next step for the Barree Stable-owned galloper.

The astute horseman was first of all relieved the second Leg – along with a bonus of $50,000 – was in the bag as he admitted to losing a fair bit of sleep in the build-up to Sunday’s anticipated rematch with his unlucky Kranji Mile runner-up Well Done (NZ) (Falkirk).

But he was also worried about the other five contenders. He reasoned that besides Well Done, most of the horses he accounted for in the first Leg, such as War Affair (NZ) (O’Reilly), Mr Spielberg (NZ) (Pentire) and Majestic Moments (NZ) (Darci Brahma), had all made further headway, not to mention the 1800m was still uncharted waters for Debt Collector.

To his delight, his fears proved unfounded. Brown was simply speechless after the former top 3YO again stood up to be counted at the business end, even when the race was not run to suit, a real testament to his sheer class.

“This horse is an absolute freak. All week, I was not that confident he would win, but he’s done it again,” said Brown.

“I genuinely thought he would run third or fourth in the last 200m. It’s only in the last 50m that he found again.

“To do what he did today was just amazing. He never puts a foot wrong.

“It’s mission accomplished for him now. As I said, he’s not running in the Gold Cup and will go for a break now. We will in due course let you know what is next for him.”

Rodd echoed Brown’s sentiments that he was also in an “oh no” moment when Debt Collector was taking a month of Sundays to go through his gears, but just when he thought he would bail out on him, he rose to the occasion and in the most brilliant fashion.

“There was a slow pace to the race early. When I saw Danny wanted to go forward on War Affair, I thought I would just stay three lengths clear,” said the Australian jockey.

“I didn’t want to get caught on the fence and I was quite happy to be where I was. Those weight-for-age races are very tactical and you have to be a bit careful of how the speed unfolds.

“Down the back, Well Done was one length off me and Mr Spielberg was on my inside, and War Affair was still cantering, and I was thinking this was just an unknown scenario to us.

“But from the 600m, they quickened up, and I thought we were in trouble today. He ran off around the turn and changed his legs.

“He was still making ground steadily, but probably not putting in as brilliantly as I wished he would.

“But that is his make-up, he can just go through his gears at the right time. He’s just an incredible horse, he’s such a winner.”

Debt Collector, who was rated 102 points before the Raffles Cup, may not yet be an idol in the same bracket as Rocket Man (Viscount) or even War Affair, but he is slowly but surely creeping his way up the ladder. He has now amassed close to $1.4 million in prizemoney for the Victorian-based Barree Stable.

AUCKLAND BREEDERS THANK THEIR LUCKY STAR

Hours an Auckland couple spent trawling through pedigrees and devouring catalogues were rewarded during a fabulous three hour window at Flemington on Saturday.

Long time Hallmark Stud client Christine Wilkinson and her husband Craig Gray saw their mare Star Band (Dixieland Band) add significant black type to her pedigree through her Gr.1 Myers Stakes winning daughter I Am A Star (NZ) (I Am Invincible).

Earlier in the day the family also earned a boost through the Darren Weir-trained Tiamo Grace (Monaco Consul) winning the Gr.2 Wakeful Stakes. The Monaco Consul filly is out of Sicile (Anabaa), a half sister to Star Band.

Christine who said she and Craig read sales catalogues "as entertainment" was still "over the moon" on Sunday afternoon as she headed to the Mercer sheep and beef farm which is now home to the dam of the newly minted Group One winner.

She was also delighted for I Am A Star's trainer Mornington-based Shane Nichols with whom she is regularly in contact.

"I was looking back at our texts and laughing at some recent ones where he was disappointed with her third placing last week. I had said to him that she would redeem herself as she was certainly capable of winning a group one - we just didn't know how quickly!" she said.

Recalling how she and Craig came to purchase Star Band, an unraced daughter of Dixieland Band and the winning Common Grounds mare Spenderella, Christine said it was only by chance she saw the supplementary catalogue which included Star Band at New Zealand Bloodstock's 2014 May sale.

"I said to Craig, 'look at all these wonderful pedigrees' and we then had a great debate about what we should buy," she said.

Three-year-old filly I Am A Star captures the Gr. 1 Myers Stakes at Flemington

"She (Star Band) was a typical Northern Dancer type - quite small and unassuming - and I said, 'I've got to have that mare!'"

To their surprise Star Band, in foal to Shocking (Street Cry), was knocked down to them for $2,000. "We were pleasantly surprised. I would have expected to pay $20,000 at least."

I Am A Star went through the same sale as a weanling, being sold for $12,000 to Llanhennock Trust before later being sold in Australia for $40,000. Her subsequent owner Matthew Sandbolm also purchased Star Band's resulting Shocking filly from Christine and Craig.

"We were already quite a way down the track with a Civics filly from one of Don McLaren's old mares, Azure Belle and couldn't afford to race the Shocking filly as well, so we initially looked to lease her," Christine explained. With no takers on that front, they then offered her for sale.

They currently have a 2015 Thewayouare (Kingmambo) filly from Star Band which they intend keeping and are currently on foal watch as the mare is due to foal any time now to Haunui Farm's Iffraaj.

PIKE UPBEAT DESPITE NARROW DERBY MISS

Trainer Tony Pike was remarkably upbeat 24 hours after narrowly missing success in one of Australia's most iconic racing events, the Gr. 1 VRC Derby.

Pike saddled race favourite Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi) but had to settle for second behind Sydney colt Prized Icon (More Than Ready) who had tracked Sacred Elixir throughout the race before dashing past him in the closing stages of the contest.

"We gave it our best shot and he went a super race," he said.

"He had a good run early in the race but Zac (Purton) was worried he might get boxed in by the tiring runners so he had to bump his way into the clear when the pressure was going on. That didn't really help him in the end as he got to the front far too early and it is a very long way home down that Flemington straight.

"He got left a bit of a sitting duck and the other horse got to slingshot off him which was the winning of the race.

"To his credit our guy never gave up and went to the line strongly so he has done us proud."

Pike reported the Pour Moi gelding had pulled up in superb shape after the gruelling challenge.

"He was very bright this morning and bouncing around like he had hardly had an outing," he said.

"He is booked on a flight home on Wednesday so he will go straight into the paddock for a quick break before we decide what to do with him next.

"At this stage the New Zealand Derby is an option so if he spells well we could see him resume in the Karaka Mile in late January before tackling one of the Derby lead-up races and then the Derby itself."

In the meantime Pike will turn his attention to Eilerslie on Tuesday where he has a number of runners engaged.

"We've got a good team in on Tuesday so hopefully we can get some success," he said.

"Skyweka is coming in fresh after some good form in her last campaign so we are keen to see how she has progressed while Nomisma is also in that race.

"Nomisma will have the blinkers on and is on trial for a start in the Couplands Mile. She would have to win well to contemplate going to Riccarton but I'm happy with where she is at so I'm hoping for a good performance."

Other Pike runners on the day include promising mare Hollywood Lass (NZ) (Swiss Ace) who kicks off her four-year-old season while the enigmatic Abaddon (NZ) (Stravinsky) resumes in the 7th race on the card.

BAHANA LANDS EL DORADO AND GOES FOR GOLD

Emerging stayer Bahana (NZ) (Elusive City) earned his ticket to the Dester Singapore Gold Cup after running his heart out to a hard-fought victory in the $150,000 SGP Gr. 3 El Dorado Classic (2200m) on Sunday.

Jumping from barrier No 2, the Elusive City five-year-old travelled in the box-seat from the start before staking his claim upon straightening. The race was anything but a walk in the park for Bahana from that point onwards, though, with surprise guest Guru-Guru (NZ) (Faltaat) charging through for a strong challenge at the 300m while Gilt Complex (NZ) (Gold Centre) was also chiming in on the outside.

Jockey Vlad Duric was not loafing with his usual strong whip riding and Bahana lunged at the line to finish locked together with Guru-Guru. With the naked eye, it looked like Guru-Guru might have just held on for a most incredible story but the photo print gave the verdict to Bahana by a short head.

Gilt Complex peaked on his run to finish third another three-quarter length away. The winning time was 2min 14.19secs for the 2200m on the Long Course.

Gray said the El Dorado Classic was a race that sprang up only after Bahana started to cement his status as a potential Gold Cup contender.

“Nothing was actually planned for

Despite the deceptive angle Bahana (orange jacket) clings on for a gritty win at Kranji him. We just took it step by step, and today he’s won the El Dorado and he’s running in the Gold Cup next,” said Gray.

“I thought he was a bit out of the handicap today, stepping up to that level, but everything went good. He had a great run on the rails from barrier two.

“It’s great he won in a photo as we didn’t have much luck earlier with Bayu running third in Race 4. He was caught wide and he should have won, but this is much better.

“I told Untung (Joesoef) that this horse was a nice staying type with a speed sire out of a staying family.

“Whether he will win the Gold Cup or not, I don’t know, but I do know his preparation has been just perfect for such a race.”

With that sixth win, Bahana has now brought his stakes earnings close to the $320,000 mark for Joesoef’s Dago Stable.

ST JEAN A TRIP INTO THE UNKNOWN FOR LOGAN & GIBBS

Trainer Donna Logan is quick to admit it has been a voyage of discovery with stable debutant St Jean (Teofilo) who will make his first New Zealand appearance at Ellerslie on Tuesday.

Logan and co-trainer Chris Gibbs received the well travelled seven-year-old entire into their Ruakaka stable earlier in the year after being sent an e-mail from part-owner James Purcell. Purcell was acting on behalf of the large group of owners in the horse who had won four of his eight Australian starts after being exported from Ireland where he had commenced his racing career.

"I've actually never met James but he sent me an email out of the blue one day," explained Logan.

"He said he had followed our stable and was impressed with what we had achieved so was keen to send us a couple of horses. One was a hurdler and the other was St Jean.

"Chris and I had a talk about it and agreed to take them although we did have some trepidation about having a stallion in the stable as they can be quite disruptive at times.

"Those worries have never eventuated though as he is just the perfect gentleman and a delight to have around."

Logan is keen to see what the entire is capable of on Tuesday when he tackles the Gr.3 OMF Stakes (2000m) after trialling satisfactorily at Avondale last month.

Trainer Donna Logan

"He is a dead set stayer so I'm not really sure what to expect from him first-up," she said.

"His long term aim is the Auckland Cup in March but on what we can see from his record to date he should be competitive over a middle distance if he can get back to his best form."

Logan won't be on hand to witness the run as she is currently in Melbourne leading 120 Kiwis on her annual Melbourne Cup tour.

"We have a ball each year and this year will be no exception," she laughed.

"We are heading down to Brighton Beach today (Sunday) and will be at a special luncheon in the Myers ballroom on Monday.

"Our guest speaker will be James McDonald so it will be fascinating for our group to get his insight into the Cup and the pressure he is feeling riding one of the main chances for the race.

"To be able to get someone like James to give his time to us is very special so I know he will have a new group of fans who will be cheering him on for the big race."

AUTUMN TARGETS BECKON FOR ART DECO

A seven day back-up proved no problems for improving mare Art Deco (NZ) (Road To Rock) as she justified her warm support with a comprehensive victory at Awapuni on Saturday.

Trainer Allan Sharrock had produced the four-year old daughter of Road To Rock to win in rating 75 grade just seven days earlier at Trentham. A model of consistency having never finished outside a placing in her career to date, Art Deco found the step to the rating 85 grade no problems as she dashed away from her rivals in the home straight to record her fourth win from just 11 starts.

Sharrock was playing his cards close to his chest after the win although he did advise the mare's immediate future involved a well earned break.

"She's going to the paddock in half an hour as she's off to Wellfield Stud for a break," he said.

"She'll come back in the autumn a better mare.

"I actually said to her owners she had improved off her last run. She looked bouncier and a bit tighter and certainly didn't need a heavy track today.

"She's just a good mare."

Sharrock was alluding to Art Deco's record to date which had been built on the wet winter tracks with Saturday's victory her first on a surface rated better than Heavy.

The New Plymouth mentor was also pleased with the ride of stable apprentice Alfred Chan who made good use of his three kilogram claim on his mount.

"His error rate is starting to drop although he's probably too scared to make any errors but that doesn't hurt them," he explained tongue in cheek.

"I'm really happy with the way he is going."

The victory took the Hong Kong apprentice's winning tally to eight from 50 rides for the season at a very respectable 6.25 strike rate.

PROMISING STAYER ROCKS HOME AT AWAPUNI

Promising stayer Rock On (NZ) (Road To Rock) got a well deserved reward for some consistent form of late when he scored handsomely on his home track on the weekend.

The Awapuni galloper endured plenty of bad luck in the first three runs of his spring campaign but put that all behind him with a powerful display in the hands of senior rider Jonathan Riddell. Although fractionally slow away at the 1600 metre start of the rating 65 contest, Riddell soon had his charge handily placed in midfield as pacemaker Centre Attention (NZ) (Gold Centre) slowed the tempo to a crawl through the first part of the contest.

Riddell bided his time before angling Rock On into the clear for his finishing burst with 300 metres to run. The four-year-old Road To Rock gelding sprinted impressively to reel in the leaders and clear out from his rivals over the concluding stages.

Trainer Gary Vile has always held a high opinion of his charge and considered him a Derby candidate during his three-year-old campaign. Immaturity put paid to those plans however Vile is convinced this time in he is ready to show all his best qualities.

“He is a serious horse but just has to learn a few more manners,” he said.

“Once he comes to it I think he could be a decent type of Cup horse.

We freshened him up after he raced all three days at the Hastings carnival and he’s got the job done today.

“It was a great ride by Jonathan and hopefully he can stick with him.”

The win by Rock On completed a double for both his sire Road To Rock and part-owner Bill Gleeson who stands the stallion at his Wellfield Lodge base. Both Rock On and Art Deco (NZ), who won the previous race, carried Gleeson’s colours and were co-bred by him.

GOLDEN PENINSULA EMERGES A WINNER AT FOURTH START

Trainer Michael Clements was glad the raw ability he detected in Golden Peninsula (NZ) (Sakhee's Secret) from the first day has translated into a maiden win on Sunday.

The Zimbabwean-born handler also saw a lot of greenness in the son of Sakhee's Secret, and could only hope it would be ironed out with more racing practice.

Raced by Thai outfit Pupetch Racing Stable and ridden by Corey Brown for the first time, Golden Peninsula proved Clements right at his fourth run. He still did a few things wrong but managed to overcome a chequered run to finish best.

"He was still very green in the running and Corey confirmed that as well. He mis-strode a few times and was all over the place," said Clements.

"He's very unsure of himself and still very inexperienced but we thought the 1400m would be a good chance to get him up to more distance.

"After his last spell, he's strengthened up and improved and has come on further from his last run (first-up fourth to D'Great Bullet).

"I'm very pleased with that win today as I've always felt he had ability. He's just a slow-maturing sort who needed more time."

Brown said he was suitably impressed by Golden Peninsula and expected him to make further headway in the future.

Golden Peninsula breaks his maiden status at Kranji

"It was my first time riding him. He bounded away quite well, and did a good job to keep up with the pace, even if he was still quite green," said the Australian jockey.

"He's a nice horse and the further he goes, the better he will get."
