WALLER WARNS DON'T WRITE OFF THEBARMAN

Former Auckland Cup winner Who Shot Thebarman will tackle the Gr. 2 Chelmsford Stakes at Randwick tomorrow

While he believes his stable star Winx (Street Cry) is the best she's been heading into Saturday's Gr.2 Chelmsford Stakes (1600m) at Randwick, Chris Waller has warned punters not to write off another of his runners.

Waller saddles six of the eight runners in the race including Who Shot Thebarman (NZ) (Yamanin Vital).

"He's had the benefit of a first up run and he likes the wet," said Waller. "He's come back probably better than ever and he's in for a good preparation."

"A mile second up is tough but you can never discount horses like him."

Who Shot Thebarman finished sixth behind Winx when resuming in the Gr.2 Warwick Stakes on August 20.

The champion trainer also warned that Winx is not a certain starter should Sydney receive the rain that has been predicted.

"She came through her first up run well and she does handle wet tracks but what people don't see is what comes out the other side," he said.

"She's a fit horse but a heavy 10 track would take a lot out of her.

"Her whole preparation has been designed so that if we miss a run at some stage it will have no effect on her grand final.

"We will make a decision on Saturday morning, there's no use getting too caught up in it. The rain they're predicting might not come."

Four-time Group One winner Preferment (NZ) (Zabeel) will kick off his spring preparation in the Chelmsford with Waller commenting that he will need the run to get back to his best fitness.

TAKE TWO WITH THE BLINKERS FOR SUAVITO

Flemington trainer Nigel Blackiston has made a cautious gear change to Suavito (NZ) (Thorn Park) ahead of Saturday's Gr.2 Dato Tan Chin Nam Stakes (1600m) at Moonee Valley.

"We are going to apply the blinkers," said Blackiston.

"I've always thought she would be a blinker type of mare but I put her in them at Flemington and she stayed in the barriers so I've been a bit gun shy to try them again."

"She had a nice trial in the blinkers last Friday which was pleasing. I was very happy with the trial and how she jumped out of the gates.

"She's in good order she's taken real benefit from her first up run and I'm looking forward to Saturday."

Suavito kicked off her spring campaign with a sixth placing in the Gr.2 Lawrence Stakes on August 13.

Suavito has drawn barrier ten in the fourteen horse field and she will have the services of her regular rider Michael Walker, who has made a speedy recovery from a lower back injury he sustained last Friday.

"I didn't know what the prognosis would be as it was an injury I hadn't had before and I was worried how long I could be out for," said Walker who was suffering from three prolapsed discs and spasms in his back.

While a firm spring plan is yet to be put in place Blackiston has a couple of options in mind.

"After Saturday we will look at the Stock Stakes and then we can work out if we continue on a mare's path or if we take a look at the Cox Plate."

Gr.1 ATC Derby winner Tavago (NZ) (Tavistock) is also an acceptor for the Dato Tan Chin Nam Stakes, however trainers Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young have commented that he's an unlikely starter with the Gr.1 Makybe Diva Stakes at Flemington next Saturday their preferred option.

Outstanding mare Suavito will have the blinkers applied as she tackles Group Two company at Moonee Valley on Saturday

NEWS IN BRIEF

I Am A Star (NZ) (I Am Invincible)

Nichols opts for Furious Stakes

I Am A Star (NZ) (I Am Invincible) will race in Sydney on Saturday with trainer Shane Nichols not prepared to run at Moonee Valley from barrier 16 in the Atlantic Jewel Stakes.

"If she had drawn inside eight or nine we would be running at Moonee Valley but barrier 16 in a fast-run race would leave us out probably three or four wide at least," Nichols said.

"It would make her task almost impossible and the option of going to Sydney is there and it is a Group Two race as well."

Randwick is currently a Soft 6 but severe rain is forecast for Friday, which is likely to push the track in to the Heavy range if it does eventuate.

I Am A Star has never raced on a track rated worse than a Good 4 but Nichols feels his daughter of I Am Invincible should be comfortable in the conditions.

Nichols has mapped a plan that will see I Am A Star contest the Thousand Guineas Prelude on September 24 before progressing to the Thousand Guineas.

The Chris Waller trained Awoke (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) will also contest the Furious Stakes. The graduate of Windsor Park Stud's 2015 NZB yearling draft has won both of her two starts and is also nominated for the Thousand Guineas in October.

Cosmic Cube (NZ) (Dehere)

Cosmic Cube expected to bounce back

Champion trainer Chris Waller expects Cosmic Cube (NZ) (Dehere) can bounce back from a poor ride which saw him finish sixth at Rosehill last start.

"He was a touch disappointing last start but it wasn't a flash ride," said Waller of the ride by Rory Hutchings.

"He got caught three wide with no cover first up and it was a bit tough."

Hutchings gets the chance to redeem himself, retaining the ride for Saturday's Gr.2 Tramway Stakes (1400m) at Randwick.

"He's drawn gate four so he won't get caught wide this time. He'll get a lovely run."

The John Sargent-trained Gust of Wind (NZ) (Darci Brahma) kicks off her spring campaign in the same event.

Loophole looking for a change of luck

Trainer Chris Waller is hoping Loophole (NZ) (Lonhro) has better luck in today's Listed Wyong Gold Cup (2100m) than he had in last Saturday's Listed Premier's Cup.

"He was just flushed out deep," said Waller. "Tommy Berry went forward on him and he doesn't race well like that. Hopefully he gets a better run on Friday."

"It was similar with Beyond Thankful last year. He failed to some degree on the Saturday and came out and won the Wyong Cup and went on to win the Newcastle Cup."

Waller also saddles Sacred Master (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) in the Wyong feature.

Passing Shot (NZ) (Swiss Ace)

Improvement expected from Passing Shot

Trainer Stephen McKee believes Passing Shot (NZ) (Swiss Ace) will show improvement from his first up run when he contests the Listed SAJ Fruit Supply Stakes (1200m) at Moonee Valley on Saturday.

"He shot to the front but faded last start over 1000 metres," said McKee.

"This race should suit him better as should the 1200 metres. He is far better off in weight, dropping from 58 kilos to a comfortable 54.5 kilos."

"He galloped well on Tuesday morning and his first up nerves and stress from the trip have settled."

The Go Racing runner has drawn barrier one and he will be ridden by Ben Melham.

Luna Rossa (NZ) (Written Tycoon)

Wanganui to determine duo's spring paths

The performances at Wanganui of Luna Rossa (NZ) (Written Tycoon) and Highlad (High Chaparral) will have a major bearing on the future directions of their three-year-old campaigns.

The highly-regarded pair are potential Melbourne spring carnival candidates and their prospects of crossing the Tasman will be significantly boosted if they turn in bold showings on Saturday.

Top filly Luna Rossa will resume in the Listed The O'Leary's Fillies' Stakes while Highlad takes aim at the Listed H. S. Dyke Wanganui Guineas.

Last season's Gr.1 Manawatu Sires' Produce Stakes winner, Luna Rossa was a trial winner at Te Teko earlier this month and she will again be ridden by champion jockey Lisa Allpress. Full story here.

Whitney (NZ) (Showcasing)

Simpson's stakes hopes rest with filly

Ryan Simpson is showing no fear with the first black type runner of his fledgling training career.

The Cambridge-based horseman will run the lightly-ried filly Whitney (NZ) (Showcasing) in the Listed H. S. Dyke Wanganui Guineas on Saturday.

"She's good to go and she's ticked all the boxes so far, I'm not scared to be taking on the boys at this stage," Simpson said.

One of seven maidens in the contest, Whitney will be making her second visit to

Amanood Lad (NZ) (Germano)

Foot hoping variety spices up Jumper

Amanood Lad (NZ) (Germano) has gone bush in the build-up toward his third Great Northern Steeplechase.

Trainer Ben Foote has varied the 12-year-old's preparation to have him in the best frame of mind for Saturday's Meadow Fresh-sponsored feature at Ellerslie.

"He's been working over the hills on a mate's farm for the last 10 days," the Cambridge horseman said.

"He seems bright enough and it keeps his brain fresh."

The winner of the Northern in 2014 and third 12 months ago, Amanood Lad has mixed his form this time around. Full story here.

Thenamesbond (NZ) (China Cat)

Great day for Gordon at Ellerslie

Visiting jockey Will Gordon can hardly believe his luck since he arrived in New Zealand.

The 20-year-old was encouraged to come here by fellow jumps riders Shaun Phelan and Emily Farr, having ridden for the latter's parents in England.

Gordon has posted three wins from 14 starts and he is now preparing for a watershed day at Ellerslie this weekend with confirmed mounts in two of the country's premier jumps events.

He will continue his association on Saturday with the last-start winner Thenamesbond (NZ) (China Cat) in the Schweppes Great Northern Hurdles and he will also partner Old Redfeather (NZ) (Generous) in the Meadow Fresh Great Northern Steeplechase. Full story here.

Tarzino (NZ) (Tavistock)

Tarzino Caulfield Cup Fav

Jockey Craig Newitt believes Tarzino (NZ) (Tavistock) can give him his biggest win this spring and bookmakers agree with the Victoria Derby winner retaining favouritism for the Caulfield Cup after the release of weights.

Newitt is the regular rider of the Mick Price-trained Tarzino and has combined with the trainer to win 18 Group One races, although neither has won one of Melbourne's three biggest races - the Melbourne Cup, Caulfield Cup or Cox Plate. "I think if we're going to win a Cup it will be with this horse," Newitt said.

"He's got Cups written all over him. We've just got to get him there in one piece I think and he'll be very competitive."

Tarzino was given 54kg when Caulfield Cup weights were announced on Wednesday and is the $13 favourite with the TAB.

Tarzino and Australian Derby winner Tavago (NZ) (Tavistock) are the highest-weighted four-year-olds on 54kg, with Tarzino out to become just the fourth horse and first since Elvstroem (Danehill) in 2004 to win the Caulfield Cup a year after winning the Victoria Derby.

Tavago will be striving to become the second-straight Australian Derby winner to win the Caulfield Cup after Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor) last year.

Melbourne options for Group One stayer

A trip to Melbourne remains in the mix for What's the Story (NZ) (Savabeel), who is progressing well after an early setback to his spring campaign.

The Group One performer, who was laid low by a blood infection, furthered his preparation when fifth in a 1000 metre trial at Avondale on Tuesday.

What's The Story (NZ) (Savabeel)

"He's well and it's good to have him back trialling," said Stephen McKee, who prepares the Savabeel gelding with Eddie Chippendale.

"The track was far too heavy for him so he just cruised around and he made some steady ground late in the piece. Full story here.

Xtravagant to return at Flemington

A minor setback has delayed Xtravagant's (NZ) (Pentire) return to racing in Melbourne.

The Stephen Autridge and Jamie Richards-trained colt left some feed on Sunday morning and had a slight temperature prompting connections to bypass Saturday's Listed Chandler McLeod Stakes at Moonee Valley in favour of the Gr.3 Bobbie Lewis Quality at Flemington a week later.

"Be assured that this is a disappointment, not a serious problem, just a frustration and an untimely one," Te Akau Racing said.

"He will remain on target. Instead of having three weeks until his next race after his fresh-up run, he will have a fortnight which should not have any significant impact at all."

he goes has yet to be determined.

Breeder, owner and trainer Linda Laing has confirmed her intent to send the promising youngster to Australia.

"He's been back in work for more than a month and I want him to do a bit here first," the Cambridge horsewoman said.

"He will go over, but there's absolutely no hurry to get him to Melbourne just yet. He'll probably have his first bit of fast work this weekend." Full story here.

Julinsky Prince (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Dual Group One winner set for title defence

The most notable absentee from the opening leg of the Triple Crown series at Hawke's Bay will join the action on the second day of the carnival.

Proven top level performer Julinsky Prince (NZ) (Darci Brahma) is on target to defend his crown in the Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate at Hastings on September 17.

"It was always going to be pretty tight to have him fit and ready for the Makfi," trainer Fraser Auret said.

"After he ran in the Easter I was determined to give him a good spell, which he had, and he was just a bit heavy when he came back so it was always likely the first day at Hastings was going to come up too soon."

The Darci Brahma gelding has proved time and again that he is a potent force in a fresh state - he won last year's Windsor Park Plate first-up - and he is progressing well toward a repeat performance.

"He's 110 percent and he won a jump out at Levin last Wednesday so he's on target for the second day at Hawke's Bay," Auret said.

Stable happy with Group One hopefuls

Mime (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) and Our Vergara (Snippetson) pleased their connections with their resuming runs in the Gr.1 Makfi Challenge Stakes.

The former was eighth, after being blocked for room in the straight, at Hastings in her first start for new owners, the China Horse Club, while the Australian-bred Our Vergara finished one place better in her New Zealand debut.

"Our Vergara just hit a flat spot when they sprinted for room and she got going again late while Mime was very unlucky," said Andrew Forsman, who trains the pair with Murray Baker.

Both horses will return to Hawke's Bay for the Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate on September 17.

Unbeaten 4yo closing in on return

Valuable mare Let Me Roar (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) is likely to open her spring campaign next month.

"She's ready to do some fast work and she'll be seen out again in about a month or six weeks," co-trainer Andrew Forsman said.

By Rip Van Winkle, the half-sister to the ill-fated dual Group One winner Lion Tamer (NZ) (Storming Home) won all four of her starts last season.

Meanwhile, her promising stablemate Get That Jive (Street Sense) will trial again at Cambridge next week to further his return to racing. He has only won one race, but he has also been black type placed four times in his brief career.

Sonorous back in the fold

Highly-regarded galloper Sonorous (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) has re-joined the Byerley Park stable of Scott Lucock and Sally Gillespie this week.

"We picked him up on Thursday morning

- he's had a good spell at Hallmark Stud, they've got a great environment there for colts," Lucock said.

Sonorous won his maiden at Te Aroha last season and finished third in the Gr.2 Championship Stakes at Ellerslie at his next start before two below par efforts in Sydney.

"In hindsight, we should have come home after his first start when he got galloped on," Lucock said. "We thought he had come right, obviously he hadn't and he took a while to get over the trip, but he's thriving now."

Promising mare to speed up

Quintessentially's (NZ) (High Chaparral) spring preparation will begin in earnest later this month.

The unbeaten grand-daughter of the champion mare Ethereal (NZ) (Rhythm) won both of her autumn starts for trainers Steven Ramsay and Julia Ritchie and the four-year-old's breeder-owner Sir Peter Vela.

"She's a promising mare and she's about three weeks away from a return to the track," Pencarrow Stud's racing manager Garry Cossey said.

Quintessentially is a daughter of High Chaparral and Uberalles (NZ) (Giant's Causeway).

Stayer making good progress

Wellington Cup winner Mister Impatience (Hernando) has returned to work with trainers Michael Moroney and Pam Gerard after undergoing surgery since last racing.

"He's been back for about three weeks," racing manager Nick Fairweather said. "He had a chip removed from his fetlock after the Auckland Cup.

"Mike decided to have the operation done here and target some of the spring and summer cups and then he might go back to Australia."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Valley Girl (NZ) (Mastercraftsman)

Huka Falls (NZ) (Align)

Group One-winning mare to stud

Injury has forced the premature retirement of the leading mare Valley Girl (NZ) (Mastercraftsman), who will be sent to an Australian-based stallion in the spring.

Co-trainer Donna Logan ordered a raft of veterinary tests following the four-year-old's failure in Saturday's Gr.1 Makfi Challenge Stakes at Hastings with connections worst fears subsequently realised.

"She hung very badly in the Makfi and she's never done that in her life," she said.

"We've found she's got a stress fracture of the radial bone, which is the bone between the knee and the shoulder.

"Obviously that will heal, but we're not prepared to risk her so she has been retired."

Huka Falls to rise again in NZ

Laurie Laxon's grand warrior Huka Falls (NZ) (Align) has fought his last battle at Kranji and will now head to New Zealand where a new career awaits him.

The Align seven-year-old last ran in the Kranji Stakes A race over 1200m last Sunday, running out of the placings for Glen Boss and unfortunately bled upon pulling up.

Nothing in the lead-up to the race had suggested his farewell race was about to come as the bold sprinter did score a nice barrier trial win the week before, a sign he might be on the upswing again after a few ordinary runs. Just a few weeks earlier, Laxon even thought he was good enough to be invited to the inaugural 700 million won Gr.1 Keeneland Korea Sprint (1200m) at Seoul on September 11. Full story here.

Carradine ends frustrating run for Alton

An exasperating run of minor placings was finally ended for Cambridge trainer Gary Alton when moody four-year-old Carradine (NZ) (Keeper) broke maiden ranks at his first attempt at Matamata last week.

In a grandstand finish the Keeper gelding powered home along the rails to snatch the victory by a half-head and provide his conditioner with his first win for the new racing season and an end to a lean run in recent months.

While thrilled with the victory Alton was quick to admit he was more hopeful than confident of a good showing by his charge as his racing manners had left a little bit to be desired in the build-up to his first raceday outing. Full story here.

The phone has been ringing hot at Cheval Stud in the wake of El Hermano's (NZ) (Pins) most recent results.

The resident stallion was a major influence when the Hawke's Bay carnival opened at Hastings with his sons El Pescado (NZ) and Farm Boy (NZ) running second and third respectively in the Gr.1 Makfi Challenge Stakes.

A race later, his daughters Meeska Mooska (NZ) and Underthemoonlight (NZ) provided the quinella in the Westbury Club Mile. Full story here.

ARC website racing ahead

The Auckland Racing Cub is upgrading its website to provide further insights for punters.

A specific racing section will include sectional times, pre-race trainer and jockey interviews, post-race jockey comments as well as further background information.

After the success of providing sectional times for all races on premier days and all black type races on non-premier days during last season, the ARC in conjunction with Vince Accardi from Daily Sectionals, will record sectionals for all races (except jumping races) during 2016-17.

"We are living in an age where racing enthusiasts want to digest more and more racing information," ARC executive general manager-racing & operations Craig Baker said.

gavelhouse.com August auction ends on high gavelhouse.com's August online auction concluded last night with the highlight being $100,000 paid for Lot 2, the Tavistock yearling colt from Evanescence.

In total 34 lots successfully sold with the share in Rich Hill Stud's Shocking attracting plenty of attention resulting in an Australian-based bidder securing his piece of the Melbourne Cup winner for $47,000.

Again, the site's diverse buying bench sees horses now destined far and wide including Australia, Asia and in a gavelhouse.com first, Tahiti.

Remembering our Hall Of Fame Heroes

Colin Jillings

The trainer known as much to his friends as the racing public as "Jillo" was regarded as a master trainer of stayers who trained 1327 winners during an outstanding career, 703 of those in partnership with fellow trainer Richard Yuill.

Saddling his first winner, Lawful, while still aged in his 20s, to win the Great Northern Derby in 1958, Jillings was to go on and win a Derby in each subsequent decade up to his retirement.

As well as training five New Zealand Derby winners, he trained three New Zealand Oaks winners, and won four Auckland Cups, a Wellington Cup and two New Zealand Cups.

His versatility as a trainer were also demonstrated in jumps racing where he won three Great Northern Steeples and two Great Northern Hurdles.

Associated with many memorable horses, some of his best performers included Uncle Remus, McGinty and The Phantom Chance,
