NOVA STRIKES IN SINGAPORE FEATURE

Nova Strike steams home for victory at Kranji

Honest miler Nova Strike (NZ) (Red Giant) recorded a well-deserved second feature win when he took out the S$200,000 Moonbeam Vase (1600m) on Sunday.

After losing his way a little earlier in the year, Nova Strike regained his spark with Olivier Placais jumping aboard.

Placais kept the faith in Nova Strike even if their last partnership in the Jumbo Jet Trophy (1400m) three weeks ago was a big dampener (seventh to Predator).

To the French jockey, it was a race to forget as he could not be ridden quiet as he wanted.

However after a smart jump this time, Nova Strike was able to settle in the first few, running more relaxed and just in need to be produced at the right time for his challenge.

But when favourite Lim's Magic (Manhattan Rain) drew on level terms at the 400m, with jockey Glen Boss hardly flexing a muscle, the race looked all sewn up. Stephen Gray's galloper was jogging, all poised to toy with his rivals whenever he felt like it.

However, that impression of ease can be deceptive. It was all turned on its head as Lim's Magic laid in under pressure, unable to muster any acceleration when Boss got busy.

It was Nova Strike, who instead found another length, as he shook Lim's Magic off to make a beeline for the winning post well clear, turning the tables on Predator (NZ) (Savabeel) who ran on well for second one and a quarter length away.

Tan said the Moonbeam Vase was a race tailor-made for Nova Strike and Placais also deserved kudos for his 10-out-of-10 handling.

"I've just been waiting for this race for Nova Strike. He's a top class horse, and it's very hard to find a race for him," said the Singaporean handler.

"Oli did a good job on him. He judged the race very well.

"I will probably give him a small break as his body weight always goes up and down, but I might run him in the Raffles Cup next."

To be run in three weeks' time on September 23, the Raffles Cup is the new first Leg of the revamped Singapore Triple Crown series and has been dropped from 1800m to 1600m for the first time this year.

"He's actually a nice horse, has been running very good paces like in the Kranji Mile where he showed he could fight against the best. He's a horse who races with all his heart every time I ride him," said Placais.

"In the Jumbo Jet Trophy, I had to ride him out too early and it didn't suit him. We had to ignore that race and I think the mile is also better than 1400m.

"From the way he won today, he can definitely run over longer distances."

With that 10th win from 45 starts, including a handy record of 16 placings, Nova Strike has now amassed in excess of $1.2 million for the Nova Racing Stable. He was a $60,000 purchase from the Kiltannon Stables draft at New Zealand Bloodstock's 2014 Ready To Run Sale of two-year-olds.

CHARLES ROAD ON THE RIGHT PATH TO MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS

Recently crowned New Zealand Champion Stayer for 2017-18, Charles Road (Myboycharlie), showed he was ready for some big spring assignments when he downed a talented field over 1600m at Hastings on Saturday.

The Gr.1 Sydney Cup (3200m) placegetter made an emphatic statement as he charged home carrying top-weight of 60.5kgs to down the free-going lightweight Big Mike (NZ) (Don Eduardo) at a distance well short of his best. The performance confirmed he is building nicely as his connections look to options that include the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m) in October and possibly the Gr.1 Melbourne Cup (3200m) on the first Tuesday in November.

Rider Sam Weatherley was emphatic in his assessment that the Myboycharlie five-year-old was ready to step up over the next few months.

"He's a very good horse," he said.

"For him to do what he has over a mile today means there are exciting times ahead once he gets up to two miles.

"That's his real go as he is a genuine stayer."

Co-trainer Andrew Scott was pleased with the effort off the back of a tidy first-up performance in the Gr.2 Foxbridge Plate (1200m) at Te Rapa last month.

"It was encouraging today to see he is coming up in the right manner," he said.

"It was a really good effort with all the weight as the leader had very little.

"The main thing is that he is coming up in a manner that gives you confidence that he can go somewhere."

Scott was unsure of just what the next opportunity would be for Charles Road as he, co-trainer Lance O'Sullivan and owner David Archer mull over their options.

"We'll just have to get home and have a chat to Lance and David," he said.

"We can then form a plan. We've got to this point and now we'll have a bit of a board meeting to work out where we go.

"Everything is pretty open at the moment as we will see how he pulls up then work a path forward. It's exciting and we just have to hope he can keep going in an upward spiral."

The victory was the sixth in a 21-start career to date for Charles Road who was a $90,000 purchase for Archer from the Wentwood Grange draft at the Premier session of the 2015 National Yearling Sale.

BIG WATCH ON CAULFIELD CUP BID

The sights of Night's Watch's (NZ) (Redwood) connections remain firmly set on the Gr.1 Caulfield Cup (2400m), after a dominant win over 1400m at Caulfield on Saturday.

Darren Weir's Warrnambool foreman Jarrod McLean confirmed that remains the spring target - which is good news for followers of Nic Ashman's Sectional Stars, as the form expert had singled him out at $101 on August 22.

Now $26 across the board with the corporates, Night's Watch has loomed large for the mile-and-a-half handicap after his two very forward runs over 1400m this preparation.

McLean confirmed on Sunday the OTI Racing-syndicated galloper has his eyes firmly on the Caulfield feature worth $5million in 2018 and is set to back up at Moonee Valley this week for the feature Gr. 2 Dato' Tan Chin Nam Stakes (1600m).

"The form gurus were saying yesterday that it mapped a bit messy for him, drawing inside. They expected him to be back in the second half of the field," McLean reflected.

"He got the luck, but he got a 10/10 ride from Damian Lane, he was able to get out at the right time and put them away late.

"If he has a good week, he'll go to the Dato next week at Moonee Valley.

"That's his first test at weight-for-age but a good test for him.

"The plan is to hopefully get him to a Caulfield Cup, there's a long way to go to get to a race like that, he has to qualify, so it's an interesting few weeks ahead for him."

On the challenge of racing off the seven-day back-up, McLean said: "I'd be surprised if he didn't cop the back-up. He's half-mad, so he's got the toughness in that way.

"We've still got plenty of time [to get to the Cup].

"If he ran well on Saturday, there's two weeks to the Naturalism, and if you're lucky enough to win that, that gives you a free hit [ballot exemption]."

Meanwhile, New Zealand Bloodstock Memsie Stakes (1400m) winner Humidor (NZ) (Teofilo) has pulled up in fine order and will next be sighted on September 15 for the Gr. 1 Makybe Diva Stakes (1600m).

"I think he possibly is [better this prep]. Obviously he hasn't won at Caulfield before, so to see him do that, it certainly shows that he is possibly going better," he said.

"Obviously his two runs this time in, he went straight [didn't lay in].

"We've had a really good muscle man [physio] working on him, and he's happy he's got everything right, and onwards and upwards to the Makybe Diva and hopefully a tilt at another Cox Plate with him.

"Obviously you've got Winx there going for four in a row, and she's going to be hard to beat.

"But he gave her a fright last year, and hopefully he can do the same this year."

PRICE PAIR ON TARGET FOR VALLEY ASSIGNMENT

Trainer Mick Price will take Mighty Boss (Not A Single Doubt) to gallop at Moonee Valley ahead of his next start in the Dato Tan Chin Nam Stakes (1600m).

The Group Two race will be run on Saturday and Price says it is his intention to give the Curraghmore Stud's 2016 National Yearling Sale graduate a look at the track on Tuesday morning.

Mighty Boss finished fourth behind Showtime (Snitzel) in the Gr. 2 Bill Stutt Stakes (1600m) last year at his only Moonee Valley outing before going on to win the Gr.1 Caulfield Guineas (1600m).

Price decided to run Mighty Boss in the Dato Tan after he finished 11th in the Gr. 2 P B Lawrence Stakes (1400m) first-up at Caulfield last month.

"He needs a mile now and Michael Walker is adamant he'll get 2000 metres and beyond," Price said.

"He's getting better and better but he needs racing. He's a gross horse.

"I think the horse is going well and is ready to show up."

Price says he is working towards a Gr.1 Caulfield Cup (2400m) start with Mighty Boss but his lead-up form will determine whether he runs.

"A horse like him you'd need to see a reasonable amount of form to put him in the race," Price said.

"The Turnbull Stakes is going to be one of the toughest races of the spring but it's the Caulfield Cup lead-up.

"The softish race might be the Caulfield Stakes but Grunt may turn up in an Underwood Stakes and then go to the Caulfield Stakes."

Price will need a new rider on Saturday with Walker suspended following his victory on Comin' Through (Fastnet Rock) in the Gr.2

Tramway Stakes (1400m) at Randwick.

Stablemate Hiyaam (NZ) (High Chaparral) is also to run following her first-up sixth over 1519m on August 25.

Price said the Dato Tan Chin Nam suited her program towards the Caulfield Cup.

"Two 1400-metre races didn't suit, a 1500-metre handicap didn't suit but a mile at weight-for-age, they'll sit up a bit and she'll get off the bridle and chase home," Price said.

"She might run in the first three but she's getting fitter and she's not a mare that wants too much racing."

CRACK ME UP TRIALS WELL AHEAD OF MELBOURNE

Multiple stakes winner Crack Me Up (NZ) (Mossman) has trialled well in the lead-up to an attack on the Melbourne spring carnival.

Crack Me Up won a trial at Deagon on Thursday over 1000m in handy time for the morning.

The five-year-old is listed in the market for the Gr.1 Epsom Handicap (1600m) at Randwick later this month but his trainer Liam Birchley is operating on a stay from a 12-month disqualification for his alleged role in the Aquanita race day treatment case.

Birchley is allowed to race horses in Queensland and Victoria pending his appeal but Racing NSW stewards have kept their ban in place.

After the NSW ban was imposed, Crack Me Up was transferred to Warwick Farm trainer Bjorn Baker for three starts in the autumn and then returned to Queensland.

The gelding is likely to be entered for Moonee Valley on Saturday but will probably make his Melbourne debut in the Gr.2 Bobbie Lewis Handicap (1200m) at Flemington on Saturday week.

Birchley said he had been pleased with the way Crack Me Up had come back from a winter campaign in which his last start was a fourth in the Gr.1 Stradbroke Handicap (1350m) at Doomben.

Crack Me Up in winning action (Bradley Photographers)

“At this stage his main mission in Melbourne will be the (Group One) Cantala Stakes at Flemington on Derby day,” he said.

Crack me Up is in line to be named Queensland’s Horse of the Year after a good last season in which he won the Gr.2 Villiers Stakes (1600m), the Gr.3 Liverpool City Cup (1300m) and Listed Recognition Stakes (1350m).

DANZDANZDANCE BACK IN FINE STYLE AT RUAKAKA

Local galloper Danzdanzdance (Mastercraftsman) showed she has come back in fine fettle for her four-year-old campaign with an impressive first-up win on her home track at Ruakaka on the weekend.

The Mastercraftsman mare performed with distinction last season where she finished third in the Gr.1 New Zealand Derby (2400m) before proving highly competitive in two runs in Sydney during the autumn.

Unsung since finishing sixth in the Gr.1 ATC Oaks (2400m) Danzdanzdance stepped out over 1400m on Saturday where she led throughout to down Contessa Vanessa (NZ) (Bullbars) in a thrilling finish to the rating 82 contest.

Co-trainer Chris Gibbs, who is currently enjoying a brief holiday in the South Island, was delighted by the performance as he considers tackling elite company with his charge at her next start.

"That was really pleasing to see as it was a tough field for her first-up," he said.

"Contessa Vanessa is a pretty classy customer who has already had a run this time in so to hold her out in a tight finish was a top effort.

"She is a lightly-framed mare who doesn't carry any extra condition and she was pretty ready to go first-up.

"We know her best runs are generally the second or third in a prep so if she can sneak into the Livamol Classic field at Hastings then I'm keen to take her there without another run.

"She doesn't cope with wet tracks

Danzdanzdance opens her season with a win at Ruakaka (Kenton Wright)

which means there is no point trying to get another run into her before the Livamol.

"We just need the field to drop away a little now so she gets a start in the race."

Training partner Michelle Bradley, who was on deck at Ruakaka with the large team the pair had in on their home turf, was thrilled with the way the mare had come through the race.

"She pulled up really well and was in good spirits this morning," she said.

"She had a tough run but she seems to have bounced through it nicely.

"We had been looking forward to getting her back to the races and she certainly didn't disappoint."

Danzdanzdance currently lies 19th equal with stablemate Hello It's Me (NZ)

(Darci Brahma) on the order of entry for the Gr.1 Livamol Classic (2040m) that will be run at Hastings on 6 October.

TILEY IN NO RUSH WITH EXCITING FILLY

Outstanding juvenile Melt (NZ) (Iffraaj) is back bigger and better if Saturday's winning performance at Ruakaka is anything to go by.

The Group One placed youngster treated her rivals with disdain over the closing stages of the 1000m dash for three-year-olds as she opened a new campaign with a hollow two and a half-length victory.

In the hands of Sam Spratt, who was having her first ride on the filly, Melt showed her customary top-end speed to cruise clear when asked to quicken through a gap in the home straight. The display was just what trainer Nigel Tiley was looking for as he contemplates a raft of options available to his charge to ready her for a Group One assignment at Riccarton in November.

"To be honest I wasn't sure just what to expect from her as she has only had a limited build-up so far," Tiley said.

"Her coat is a long way from where it should be and she looked like a little woolly bear before the race which was a little embarrassing.

"She doesn't take a lot of work though and with her natural speed the 1000m was a perfect way to kick her off."

An unplaced run in a 1000m trial on a heavy surface at Avondale last month worked well for the Iffraaj filly who came on in leaps and bounds following the run, her first real hit-out since finishing second to Avantage (Fastnet Rock) in the Gr.1 Manawatu Sires Produce Stakes (1400m) at Awapuni in March.

"She had hardly had a gallop before we took her to the trials last month," Tiley said.

"She just cruised around that day although Leith (Innes) told me she was ready to jump through the bridle if he had asked her for an effort.

"Saturday's track was perfect for her as she could get her toe into the ground, so we were hoping for a good run.

"Sam came back in afterwards and said that when she asked her to take the gap in the straight she just went through her gears fairly effortlessly, so all in all it was just what we were looking for."

Tiley will now take a few days to monitor how the filly pulls up before thinking about what comes next on her schedule.

"Thankfully we have plenty of options for her depending on how she comes through this one," he said.

"I don't really know what the plan is exactly but the main aim is to get her to Christchurch for the 1000 Guineas in November.

"She could go to the Gold Trail Stakes at Hastings in three weeks or back to Ruakaka for the Northland Breeders Stakes in a fortnight.

"Track conditions will play a major role in our decision but whatever we do it will be in the best interests of furthering her preparation for Christchurch."

The Gr.1 Gavelhouse.com New Zealand 1000 Guineas (1600m) is one of the feature events on the last day of the New Zealand Cup Carnival at Riccarton on 17 November.

TE AKAU STARS ON DISPLAY AT HASTINGS

Champion two-year-old Avantage (Fastnet Rock) and stakes winner Chance To Dance (Teofilo) took the opportunity of an exhibition gallop between races at Hastings on Saturday, a day that saw the powerful Te Akau Racing team produce a notable winning double.

Trainer Jamie Richards saddled his first Group One winner since taking sole charge of the Matamata operation when Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands) took out the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m) while Te Akau Shark (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle) scored a scintillating fresh-up victory over 1200 metres.

Galloping 1000 metres in 1:02.5, with the last 600m in 34.5, Avantage travelled well within herself on the rail, with Chance to Dance to her outside as the pair finished locked together at the completion of an eye-catching workout.

"It was nice to get Avantage on a good track, with a day away at the races and some sunshine to bring her coat on," said Richards

"I like the way she was cocking her ears and having a bit of a look around like she used to do last season and I think she's where she needs to be."

Richards was also pleased with the work of Chance To Dance who showed his class last season with a pair of black-type victories.

"Chance to Dance is coming up really well," Richards said. "He's looks terrific, as sound as he's been.

"He's had a trial and a gallop, and we might even give him another gallop somewhere just to have him hard and fit for a mile first up."

Although plans are yet to be finalised Avantage could resume in the Gr.3 Hawke's Bay Breeders Gold Trail Stakes (1200m) on 22 September at Hastings, while Chance to Dance may contest the Listed Haunui Farm Karaka Classic (1600m) on 23 September at Pukekohe, a race he won fresh-up last year carrying 60kgs.

Richards also reported his Hastings winners have pulled up well after their exertions.

"They're good and I'm happy with them," he said. "Obviously, a little bit of feed left in the bin, but we're pleased with how they trotted up this morning.

"We're very lucky to have that mare (Melody Belle). She's very special and has been very good for my career, so I can't thank her enough.

"And I think he's top drawer, Te Akau Shark. He's a Group One horse if we can keep him sound. We'll space his races. He's still immature, still a bit soft, even next year, but he'll be the sort of horse to have only half a dozen runs this season, and he could be the type to win a Foxbridge Plate and the Tarzino next year." - NZ Racing Desk

SKY ROCKET LAUNCHES GOLD CUP TRAIL WITH FIRST-UP WIN

Sky Rocket (NZ) (Darci Brahma) turned on the afterburners at the right time to score a gutsy win first-up from a short let-up in the $100,000 New Zealand Racing Board Trophy, a Kranji Stakes B race over the Polytrack mile on Sunday.

Known for his electric turn of foot, Sky Rocket could not quite finish off with the same dash in the Emirates Singapore Derby (1800m) in July. Dropped at the rear, he passed a few in the run home, but didn't finish anywhere near a position to threaten the winner.

After a freshen-up, the son of Darci Brahma was brought back in a Polytrack race for the first time, but that switch in surface certainly did not undermine his qualities.

Tracking up odds-on favourite King Louis (Medaglia D'oro) a little worse than midfield for most of the way, Sky Rocket tacked on when the Ricardo Le Grange-trained galloper started to improve three-wide from the 800m.

On the swing, King Louis looked a tough proposition to mow down when he shot out of the pack, but an undaunted Sky Rocket gamely stuck to his task under jockey Vlad Duric's hard riding, closing down the gap with every stride. The two duelling horses were a sight to behold inside the last 100m, with Sky Rocket fighting tooth and nail a shade better on the outside to finish in advance of King Louis by half-a-length.

"He trialled very well last week. There was no other race and that's why we put him in this Polytrack race," said trainer Stephen Gray.

"He's a good Singapore Gold Cup horse, but I'm not too sure what I'll do next. The El Dorado Classic was the best lead-up race last time when it was run three weeks before the Gold Cup.

"I may go to the mile race (Raffles Cup) instead. We'll see.

"Daniel Moor told me he ran very well in the Derby. Vlad won on him two starts back, we're good mates and he's a good rider and rides many winners for us.

"He's flying today and it's good for him."

Sky Rocket was a $25,000 purchase from the Pencarrow Stud draft during the Select session of the 2015 National Yearling Sale at Karaka.
