

GROUP ONE TILTS COULD AWAIT BUSUTTIN-YOUNG PAIR

Predator will test his New Zealand Derby credentials at Ellerslie tomorrow

Cambridge trainers Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young will get a better idea on their firepower for upcoming Group One features when they saddle runners at Ellerslie and New Plymouth on Saturday.

The partnership will produce Predator (NZ) (Savabeel) in the Gr.2 Auckland Eye Avondale Guineas (2100m) at Ellerslie as a potential lead-up to the Gr.1 BMW New Zealand Derby (2400m) at the same track on March 5, while promising two-year-old Caorunn (NZ) (Showcasing) steps out in the Phoenix Park 2yo Classic (1200m) at New Plymouth, with success sure to thrust him into calculations for the Gr.1 Sistema Diamond Stakes (1200m) at Ellerslie on March 12.

Savabeel gelding Predator has won two of his three starts and finished second in the other - behind subsequent Gr.1

Herbie Dyke Stakes winner Valley Girl (NZ) (Mastercraftsman) at Ellerslie on Karaka Million night.

"The Avondale Guineas is as good a three-year-old race as you'll see. With the exception of Valley Girl, it's basically the Derby field," Busuttin said.

"We've got all the main protagonists from the Waikato Guineas plus Predator and Provocative (NZ) (Zabeel), so they are all there. He's drawn a good barrier and he should get a nice run in behind them. He's had to lead through circumstances, but he'll definitely be taking a sit this weekend.

"He'll run well but it's a good field and we'll find out where he stands in the Derby pecking order."

Palmerston North jockey Jonathan Riddell takes the ride.

Busuttin said Caorunn had prepared well for the Phoenix Park 2yo Classic, having come through his brave fourth in the Karaka Million in good order.

"He's done very well and he'll be hard to beat on Saturday," said Busuttin, who has booked Palmerston North jockey Masa Tanaka for the mount.

"Tennessee has gone under the radar a bit, but her form is very good and she'll be hard to beat along with Kingsman and Leading Role. But we're going down there thinking we've got the right horse to win."

FEATURE MEETINGS CLASH CAUSES FRUSTRATION

Leading trainers and administrators are calling for the clash of feature race Saturday meetings to end.

Cambridge trainer Trent Busuttin has vented his frustration with this weekend's clash of the premier meeting at New Plymouth, which hosts the Gr.3 Platinum Homes Taranaki Cup (1800), the Gr.3 Phoenix Park 2yo Classic (1200m) and the Listed Bob Sharrock Memorial Oaks Prelude (1800m), and the Ellerslie meeting featuring the Gr.2 Auckland Eye Avondale Guineas (2100m) and the Gr.2 Go Racing Syndications Avondale Cup (2400m).

The main concern is the lack of jockey resources through leading riders being spread between the two meetings. Of the top 15 riders on the premiership, only eighth-placed Jonathan Parkes is riding at the premier New Plymouth meeting.

The Avondale Guineas and Avondale Cup are key leadup races to the lucrative Gr.1 New Zealand Derby and the Gr.1 Auckland Cup respectively and understandably leading jockeys are keen to attend the Ellerslie meeting to secure their future mounts, just as others are for leading two-year-olds and New Zealand Oaks prospects at New Plymouth.

"It's affecting owners and trainers and consequently it's going to affect punting turnover through lack of punter confidence," Busuttin said.

"I'm sure Taranaki want their Saturday meeting, just as any Central Districts club would want to race their meeting on a Saturday, but the result is there's not the depth of jockeys to support two good quality meetings.

"It's disappointing for the Taranaki club too because I'm sure they would rather avoid the clash."

Busuttin and training partner Natalie Young struggled to find a suitable jockey for leading two-year-old Caorunn (NZ) (Showcasing) but have eventually plumped for Awapuni jockey Masa Tanaka.

Taranaki Thoroughbred Racing chief executive Carey Hobbs described the clash with Ellerslie as "extremely frustrating".

"It needs to be fixed. I've been talking to NZTR about this for five years," Hobbs said.

"There's only been one day these two meetings didn't clash and that was when there was a motor show or something at Ellerslie on Saturday and they moved to the Sunday. Michael Dore [TAB racing manager] told me there was $150,000 extra betting over that weekend so that speaks volumes.

"I've had countless calls this week from trainers saying they were planning to bring horses to our meeting but had chosen not to because they hadn't been able to get a suitable jockey. I've been banging my head against a concrete wall."

New Zealand Thoroughbred Racing chief executive Greg Purcell said the issue of feature meetings clashing wasn't a new one but he was eager to find the appropriate solution.

Cambridge trainer Trent Busuttin has called for more thought to go into the scheduling of New Zealand's feature race meetings

He said NZTR was working through the calendar identifying the best ways to avoid clashes while still trying to optimise betting turnover, though he warned the issue of feature meetings clashing - which again happens on Saturday week with Gr.1 Haurangi Farm Weight-For-Age Classic day at Otaki clashing with the Gr.2 J Swap Contractors Matamata Breeders' Stakes meeting - might take a few years to completely resolve.

"One of the processes we are going through at the moment is trying to get the optimal result we can from wagering - and what's there at the moment is not optimal," Purcell said.

WERTHER PRIMED FOR CLASSIC CUP MISSION

Werther (NZ) (Tavistock) posted arguably the most concrete HKG1 BMW Hong Kong Derby (2000m) trial of any contender so far when a strong-closing, somewhat unfortunate, second to the laudable Sun Jewellery (Snitzel) in last month's HKG1 Hong Kong Classic Mile. On Sunday (21 February) at Sha Tin, trainer John Moore's great hope will attempt to confirm that impression with victory in the HKG1 Hong Kong Classic Cup (1800m).

"Werther should have won the other day, in my opinion," said Moore. "It was smart riding by Ryan Moore on Sun Jewellery. He put him back inside and Werther had to loop back around then he came outside and finished off well."

Jockey Hugh Bowman found himself in an untimely pocket, took a rough bump on straightening for home and didn't find clear running until the 200m mark, by which point Sun Jewellery - re-opposing on Sunday - had quickened a length ahead of him. That was cut back to a neck at the post.

Moore is delighted with the former New Zealand galloper that finished second in both the G1 South Australian Derby (2500m) and G1 Queensland Derby (2200m) pre-import. Werther hit his stride immediately upon arriving in Hong Kong, winning first-up in a Class 2 handicap over 1600m in December before that Classic Mile second.

Former kiwi galloper Werther will be back in action at Sha Tin this weekend as he builds towards the Gr. 1 BMW Hong Kong Derby

"After his work along the back straight on Monday he was kicking his brand off, he was having a real buck, he's that well," said Moore, referencing the gelding's workout on the turf track, during which he clocked 57.2s (30.8 26.4) for 800m. "He's pulled up clean-winded and he's done what he needs to do, he'll just go out again on Friday morning but he won't do much.

"It's been said that you only need a good miler to win the Derby here in Hong Kong, well I haven't got a good miler I've got a good 1800/2000-metre horse! He'll hit the line really strongly."

And Moore believes the Tavistock gelding has what it takes to make the grade in the major open Group 1 races: "He's a decent acquisition and I think he's a horse that can go on after the Derby and compete in those Group 1 races like the QEII Cup. I think he might be one that could do Hong Kong proud."

EARLY BIRD PEARL SERIES CLOSING!

Last week three lucky sets of owners had their winning stakes increased by $11,500 when they won NZB Insurance Pearl Series fillies and mares races.

And the timing couldn't be better for the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Association who are the promoters of the scheme.

"Right now is the time to register your current yearling fillies in the scheme," according to NZTBA Administration Manager Nicola Griffiths, "as Early Bird entries close on February 28th."

"Happy owners winning $18,500 for a maiden race is the best publicity we can get for the scheme, and we are pleased with the steady flow of entries we have for the 2016 Series".

The NZB Insurance Pearl Series was introduced for yearling fillies in 2013, with $2.6 million worth of bonuses available for each new group of yearlings as they race in their two, three and four-year-old years.

This season the bonuses have been added to races programmed predominantly on maiden and rating 65 events for fillies and mares, which under NZTR policy carry a midweek stake of $12,000, much to the delight of the winning owners.

Each intake of yearlings are eligible to run in 15

open two-year-old races with an $8,000 bonus, 20 Saturday races with a $20,000 bonus on top of the stake, and 180 mid-week races with bonuses of $11,500 over the three years.

The scheme is open to all fillies born in the spring of 2014 who are currently yearlings, whether they were born in New Zealand or Australia, and they do not have to be sold through a sales company to be eligible for the scheme.

The early bird nomination price for yearling fillies that are registered by February 28 is $690, and those registered afterwards and before 31 July will have to pay $920. Nominations can be done online through the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Association website:

www.nzthoroughbred.co.nz or contact Nicola Griffiths on the Pearl Hotline 0508-222-202.

Alternatively the NZTBA will be hosting a Pearl Series information open day in "The Gazebo" at the Matamata Breeders Stakes meeting on Saturday February 27th and would welcome any last minute nominations and enquiries.

NEWS IN BRIEF

What Choux Want (NZ) (Jimmy Choux)

Carston extends filly's northern campaign

A third start in the North Island has been confirmed for What Choux Want (NZ) (Jimmy Choux).

The Riccarton filly finished an unlucky third in her Ellerslie debut last month before she produced a solid run for fifth, after a tardy beginning, in the Listed Karaka Million.

Trainer Andrew Carston has now set his sights on Saturday week's Gr.2 J Swap Contractors Matamata Breeders' Stakes.

"It's all go," he said. "She had a week off after the Karaka Million, then a week on the water walker and she's worked well since. I'm pretty happy with her.

"She's showing no signs that she's had enough. We'll see what happens and there are still two Group Ones to come, but at this stage I am leaning toward putting her out after Matamata."

Trainer hoping for improved track conditions

John Mason is keen on a return visit to New Plymouth with Guess What (NZ) (Danroad) with the weather his only concern.

The Tokoroa-based horseman has the hardy seven-year-old at the top of his game and is hoping for a drying of the track, rated on Thursday as a Slow 8, in his bid to go one better in the Gr.3 Platinum Homes Taranaki Cup.

"He ran second in it a couple of years ago and the course suits him," Mason said.

"He has won on a soft track, but he's got an opinion about that as he's got older and he can spit the dummy. I'd like to see the track improve."

Guess What has won two of his last four starts with his latest success achieved with a game front-running performance in the Hamilton Cup at Te Rapa. Full story here.

Hasselhoof (NZ) (Tavistock)

Hasselhoof puts a spring in Logan's step

Donna Logan's main focus is on reaping the future benefits of Hasselhoof's (NZ) (Tavistock) current Sydney campaign.

The Ruakaka trainer wasn't downhearted by the boom galloper's first-up defeat in Australia and said the trip would stand the Tavistock gelding in good stead for a return in the spring.

"I couldn't be happier with him – he's settled in really well and adjusting to the lifestyle here.

"He's eating everything put in front of him and it's all a practice run for later on."

Successful in six New Zealand outings including the Gr.2 Rich Hill Mile, Hasselhoof lost his unbeaten record when fourth in an open handicap on a rain-affected track at Randwick earlier this month. Full story here.

Double delight for Forsman

Andrew Forsman savoured success on two fronts when the highly-regarded Okanagan (NZ) (Testa Rossa) delivered on debut at Te Aroha on Wednesday.

He was happy to cash in on a neighbouring Cambridge trainer's race with the Sir Peter Vela-bred and owned three-year-old he prepares with Murray Baker.

"It's a pleasure to train a winner for Sir Peter and obviously a race sponsored by Stephen Marsh makes it doubly sweet!" Forsman said.

"He's a lovely horse with a beautiful nature and while 1200 is as short as he would want, in a maiden race we thought he would be too good." Full story and race replay here

Midnight Gossip impressive on debut

The Nigel Tiley-trained Midnight Gossip (NZ) (Showcasing) will target the Gr.1 Sistema Diamond Stakes at Ellerslie on March 12 following an impressive debut victory at Te Aroha on Wednesday.

Despite covering extra ground, Midnight Gossip toyed with her rivals to win eased down by three and a half lengths under rider Leith Innes.

"She's a pretty smart filly," Tiley said. "She had to do a little bit of work from the draw and 1000m is probably a bit sharp for her, so I think she's got a pretty good future.

"She's by Showcasing and the Diamond Stakes at Ellerslie appeals with the bonus attached."

Karaka based Haunui Farm is offering a $100,000 bonus to connections of any juvenile by their stallions that can win the juvenile feature. WATCH: MIDNIGHT GOSSIP WIN

Kiwi mare trials well

New Zealand-bred and owned mare Lucia Valentina (NZ) (Savabeel) pleased trainer Kris Lees with her effort at Wednesday's Wyong trials.

"She ran a quiet third and Kris was very happy with her," said owner Lib Petagna's racing manager Bruce Perry. "She's still three or four weeks away from her first run."

A dual Group One winner, Lucia Valentina hasn't raced since she finished fifth in the Hong Kong Cup before Christmas and the Savabeel mare is being prepared for the $A4 million Gr.1 Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Randwick on April 9. WATCH: LUCIA VALENTINA TRIAL

Michael McNab

McNab striving for notable family double

A focussed Michael McNab is enjoying his best season in the saddle and he has high hopes his run of form will see him match one of the riding feats of his father Chris.

The Cambridge jockey has formed a lucrative partnership with the Tony Pike-trained Raghu (NZ) (Showcasing) and they will continue their association in Saturday's

"I couldn't be happier with the way things have been going," McNab said.

Kerrin McEvoy to ride Mongolian Khan in Group One

Kerrin McEvoy has picked up the ride on Caulfield Cup winner Mongolian Khan (Holy Roman Emperor) in the Group One Chipping Norton Stakes.

McEvoy confirmed New Zealand-based trainer Murray Baker had booked him for the plum mount after regular rider Opie Bosson opted to partner Turn Me Loose (NZ) (Iffraaj) in Melbourne on the same day.

"It's only for the one race but it's exciting to be on a Caulfield Cup winner," McEvoy said.

McEvoy will also link with the Baker stable at Rosehill on Saturday when he rides Dal

Cielo (NZ) (Per Incanto) in the Group Two Hobartville Stakes.

Big week sets Mastercraftsman up for classic success

With three stakes winners in less than a week, including a Gr.1 and Gr.2 winner, the progeny of champion racehorse Mastercraftsman (Danehill Dancer) continue to fly.

The Gr.1-winning performance of his second-crop 3YO daughter Valley Girl (NZ), against New Zealand's best older horses in the WFA Waikato RC Herbie Dyke Stakes at Te Rapa on Saturday, has confirmed her position at the head of markets for next month's Gr.1 New Zealand Derby.

Valley Girl becomes Mastercraftsman's sixteenth individual southern hemisphere-born stakes performer from his first two crops to race, thirteen of whom have earned their black-type success as 3YO's.

No less impressive at Te Rapa was the performance of 3YO Mime (NZ) to win the Gr.2 Sir Tristram Fillies Classic, she is now

Gr.1 New Zealand Oaks-bound. Full story here.

A pie and a pint with 'Pumper'

New Zealand racing fans have an opportunity to get up close and personal with jockey Jim 'Pumper' Cassidy on Thursday March 3, when the legendary hoop visits The Waihi Beach Hotel for a candid chat about his remarkable career.

The evening will re-live some of Pumper's biggest wins, including his two Melbourne Cup victories aboard Kiwi (1983) and Might And Power (1997), and get Cassidy's insight into some of racing's most interesting stories of the past and present. The audience will have an opportunity to ask Cassidy questions and a memorabilia charity auction will also take place.

Tickets are $30 including a gourmet pie dinner and a pint of beer (or wine/soft drink).

Tickets can be purchased at The Waihi Beach Hotel, online at www.waihibeachhotel.co.nz or <https://www.dashtickets.co.nz/event/nfqy45zrw>.
